THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XIX. ATLANTA, GEORGIA, SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 5, 1888.—TWELVE PAGES. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

BLAINE WILL RUN.

If He Gets the Nomination at Chicago.

PARTY LEADERS HARD AT WORK

A Letter Received From Mr. Blaine Giving His Consent to Use His Name as a Candidate for President.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—The Times will publish tomorrow the following triple-leaded special from New York, which it will indorse as coming direct from an authentic source:

NEW YORK May 4.—I have entirely reliable information that friends of Mr. Blaine have, within the last three days, received direct from him his assent to an aggressive movement for his renomination for president, and the assurance that if nominated in the face of his Florence letter of declination, he would not feel at liberty to decline. A general and systematic effort has been made by Mr. Blaine's closest friends, such as Chairman Jones, William Walter Phelps, Whitelaw Reid, Charles Emory Smith and others, for two months past to get Mr. Blaine into the attitude of a passive candidate.

INFLUENCES BROUGHT TO BEAR.

The Washington conference was only a part of the methods by which influence has been brought to bear upon Mr. Blaine, and the publication of his portrait, freshly taken from life in Italy, and issued by the "Judge" this week, was decided on more than a month ago, as the starting point for an avowed effort to make Mr. Blaine a candidate. Every possible pressure has been put upon Mr. Blaine to get from him the direct assurance that he will not decline if nominated, and that assurance has been received, in this city, from Mr. Blaine within the last three days.

In a very few days it will cease to be a secret that Mr. Blaine is as Mr. Blaine's leaders will at once come to the front and make an aggressive campaign for his renomination. This movement has been pretty clearly foreshadowed for some weeks in such Blaine organs as the Tribune, of this city, and the Philadelphia Press, and all affectation about Mr. Blaine's candidacy will now soon be thrown off and the battle made an aggressive one.

IN THE HANDS OF HIS FRIENDS.

Part of the original programme was the election of Charles Emory Smith as delegate-at-large from your state, and the failure was a great disappointment to the Blaine junta in this city; but Mr. Smith gives assurance that Mr. Blaine can command a majority of the Pennsylvania delegation under any circumstances, and that if Mr. Blaine's nomination shall seem assured the delegation will be solid for him. The expressions in Massachusetts and Vermont were not accidental, nor are they unexpected to Mr. Blaine's friends.

CAPTURING NEW ENGLAND DELEGATIONS.

When all of the anti-Blaine men were reposing on their arms because they regarded Mr. Blaine as out of the fight, the friends of Mr. Blaine were most energetic in their work in two anti-Blaine New England states, and they got possession of Vermont and Massachusetts while the others were sleeping in fancied security. It was the expression of the three hitherto anti-Blaine New England states that made Mr. Blaine cast aside his objections and assent to the importunities of his friends for his renomination. It is now a positive fact that Blaine is in the field, his friends have his assent to the movement in his favor, and that he will be nominated at Chicago if hard work and plenty of enthusiasm can accomplish it.

SHALL WOMEN BE QUALIFIED

As Delegates to the Methodist General Conference.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Methodist conference spent a large part of the day in discussing the report of the committee on the eligibility of women as delegates to the conference. There was a large audience present. An effort was made to pass a resolution closing the debate at 12 o'clock, but failed. Among the speakers were Rev. Dr. Leonard, of Cincinnati, in favor of admitting women; Rev. John Miltey, president of Drew theological seminary, and Rev. J. R. Day, of the New York conference, against their admission, and several laymen's opinions were very much divided, and a good deal of feeling was manifested.

Two clergymen, in the course of debate, interrupted other speakers, who had referred to these clergymen's utterances and asserted that that they were being misrepresented. Rev. F. B. Neely, of Philadelphia, said he was in favor of submitting the question to the annual conference. He offered the following amendment to the report of the committee.

But since there is great interest in this question, and since the church generally should be consulted in regard to such an important matter,

Resolved, That we submit to the annual conference a proposition to amend the said restrictive rule by amending the words "and said delegates may be men and women" after the words "two lay delegates for an annual conference," so that it will read:

"Nor of more than two lay delegates for an annual conference, and said delegates may be men or women."

The amendment was seconed by D. C. Puxson and will be voted on at the close of the debate.

Governor P. C. Lownsbury, of Connecticut, moved that a vote be taken on the amendment on Monday at 12 o'clock.

The motion was voted out of order

Dr. Buckly, who had seconded it, got the floor. There were objections on the ground that he had already spoke to the question. He said that he had not spoken to the amendment and was permitted by the chairman to proceed. Then numberless points of order were raised with the object of shutting Dr. Buckley off. The effort was successful and he could not get an opportunity to speak before the hour of adjournment arrived.

Not Good for Blaine.

PORTLAND, Oregon, May 4.—The Washington territory republican convention met today at Yakama. C. C. White, B. Hyde, T. T. Miller, W. O. Thompson, Ward Whitson and T. U. Cavanaugh were chosen as delegates to the national convention. The delegates go uninstructed. The convention refused to adopt a resolution which was introduced complimenting James G. Blaine.

SOUTHERN IMMIGRATION.

The Secretary of the Convention Mailing Matter to the States and Cities.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 4.—The southern immigration convention, which assembled at Hot Springs, N. C., April 25th, last, instructed Secretary L. A. Ransom, of this city, to forward copies of the resolutions adopted by the convention, providing for the organization of the Southern Immigration association, to the governors of eleven southern states, east of the Mississippi river, to presidents of railroads and to mayors of towns, having a population of 1,000 or more, located in the same states. The resolutions are being mailed today to the various officials mentioned. The convention also requested the co-operation of trade, industrial and other organizations in immigration work, and provided for the admission of such organizations into the association upon the same terms as states, railroads, cities and towns. The secretary will mail copies of the resolutions and furnish any other information in regard to this work to all such industrial or immigration associations.

Ordered by the Governor.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Governor Scales has instructed Adjutant-General Jones to order an encampment of the state guard at Wrightsville, near Wilmington, July 17th, to continue one week.

The governor has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $200 for the arrest of Jas. Chavis, charged with the murder of Angus Prevatt last month in Richmond county. It is charged that others besides Chavis were concerned in the crime. Chavis is in hiding in South Carolina.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

An Important Meeting Held in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, May 4.—[Special.]—The business managers of the Farmers' Alliance met in private convention in New Orleans, commencing May 1st, and lasting two days.

The different states were represented by the following gentlemen:

Dr. C. W. Macune, of Texas, state business manager, who is president of the Farmers' Alliance of America; R. B. CarlLee, of Arkansas; Osmond Wilson, of Florida; W. D. Clarke, of Tennessee; H. P. Bone, of Alabama; S. B. Erwin, of Kentucky; R. H. Jackson, of Georgia; A. T. Hatcher, of Louisiana; R. T. Love and C. T. Smithson, of Mississippi.

The meeting was held in a private room of the hotel Vanderbank. Recommendations for plans of business were discussed and adopted for the various states represented, also plans for establishing an exchange.

The meeting was not public, and the details of business will not be made public until the different state representatives return home and report to their business meeting, when the plans formulated by this body will be presented and adopted.

By special invitation, Mr. E. Van Winkle, of Atlanta, Georgia, was present to inform the body as to the cottonseed-oil and fertilizer business, and a vote of thanks was voted unanimously for the information given by him.

The cotton seed oil and fertilizer business will be one of the most important things this body will have to deal with, and it was the spirit of this meeting that the planters should put their barrels of crude oil on the market same as bales of crude lint, and retain all the meal and hulls for home uses for feeding and fertilizing.

This meeting represented one of the most noted industrial movements that has ever agitated the country. Arrangements were also perfected where the states of the northwest will also be organized on the alliance plan with the cotton states of the south.

There are hundreds of thousands of members already, which is very rapidly increasing. In Texas the order is running large flour mills and ginneries, and expect to establish local oil mills all over the state.

The Texas alliance headquarters in Dallas already do a monthly business of over $200,000 in filling orders for co-operative members. The alliance was originally started in Taylor county, Texas, a few years ago, and is now rapidly spreading all over the cotton states, and starts out with a new impetus from this important meeting of the business managers, and is proving to be the strongest and most important organization that has ever been formed in this country, as the principles on which it is built are solid as a rock.

The Farmers' Federation.

TOPEKA, Kas., May 4.—A charter was filed yesterday called the "Farmers' Federation of the Mississippi Valley." The capital stock is $20,000,000, with 2,000,000 of shares at $10 each. The charter is signed by citizens of fourteen states and three territories.

CONSIDERABLY SCARED.

The Richmond Terminal Company Propose to Check the Seaboard and Roanoke.

NEW YORK, May 4.—A meeting was held in the executive office of the Richmond Terminal company which was generally believed to be a conference of the parties now fighting for control, E. P. Alexander, president of the Georgia Central railroad; Isaac L. Rice and August Belmont, Jr., of the stockholders' committee; George S. Scott, president of the Richmond and Danville; John H. Inman, president of the Richmond Terminal; Calvin S. Brice, vice president of the East Tennessee, and W. P. Clyde, being the parties present. The meeting was in session about two hours, but on adjourning it was announced that it was a meeting called simply to protect the interest of the Richmond and Danville and Georgia Central roads from the threatened Seaboard and Roanoke company. Isaac L. Rice said after the meeting that the Seaboard and Roanoke company sold bonds in London for the purpose of acquiring money to extend its line to Atlanta, cutting directly into the territory of the Georgia Central and Richmond and Danville companies, and for this reason the meeting was called. It was necessary to take immediate action, and all parties agreed to unite in building a parallel road to the Seaboard and Roanoke. Mr. Rice stated positively that there was not a word said in regard to the compromise in the Richmond Terminal fight, and that the railroad business referred to was the only subject discussed.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Road.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—[Special.]—At Fayetteville yesterday the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railway was held. The net earnings for the year just ended were $140,000, an increase of 28 per cent over those of the previous year. Two hundred and forty miles of track are in operation now, and the extension to Mount Airy will be complete by the 15th inst. The contract for the construction of the extension from Fayetteville to Wilmington was ratified unanimously. The old directors and the old officers were all re-elected.

BATTLING WITH FIRE.

The Terrible and Fatal Situation of a Young Girl.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Wednesday, Lizzie Ingle, a young woman aged twenty-one, was burned to death in Mecklenburg county, the cause being the accidental ignition of her dress from a burning pile of corn stalks. It was a most shocking affair. She tried to smother the flames, but soon became aware of her helpless condition, and screamed for assistance. Her cries attracted the attention of a colored man, who attempted to tear away the burning clothes, but was only partially successful. Becoming horrified at the condition of the girl, he went to secure assistance, leaving her already crazed with pain battling with the burning fragments of her clothing. About twenty minutes afterwards a man named Kerns reached the scene and found the poor girl, all of her clothing burned away, and her body scared and blackened by the flames, and in some spots burned to a crisp, standing erect and alone in the field in an agony of suffering. In a little while she was dead.

Storms in the Northwest.

CHICAGO, May 4.—A violent storm is raging over a large territory in the northwest and many points are cut off from telegraphic communication. At Saint Paul there was a considerable snowfall this morning. The temperature suddenly dropped to the freezing point, this morning at that city and at Bismarck, and at Fort Sully a northwestern is blowing and indications are that the thermometer will reach the freezing point by tomorrow morning. In the past twenty-four hours there have fallen at LaCrosse almost two inches of rain, at Davenport abont the same amount, and at Alpena, Mich., something over one inch.

The Elyton Land Company.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 4.—The Elyton Land company held its annual meeting yesterday. The board determined to build mammoth water works and draw water from the Cahaba river seven miles distant. Forty-two representative business men of the Business Men's association of Evansville, Ind., are in the city prospecting.

Thrown Off by a Cow.

ASHVILLE, Tenn., May 4.—[Special.]—Near Ashville yesterday afternoon as a construction train was running up a steep grade on the Blue Ridge, a cow got on the track and was struck. The train was thrown from the track. Several laborers were badly, but none seriously hurt. Physicians went on a special train to the scene of the accident.

A Collision in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—A disastrous collision occurred on the Jacksonville Southeasterly railroad early yesterday morning, near Sorento, between a north bound passenger and a south bound freight. Two men, names unknown, were killed, and several badly injured. The passenger train is a total wreck.

SENATORIAL COURTESY

Stronger on the Race-Course Than in the Senate.

INGALLS AND BLACKBURN TREAT

Presidential Indications on the Republican Side Again Point to Blaine—Georgians Returning Home.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—[Special.]—Senator Voorhees did not leave the city yesterday, but is sick at his home here. It is said that when he is able to resume his seat in the senate he will make an apology to the senate, but not to Senator Ingalls. Senator Blackburn, who recently made a corpse out of Ingalls in his first bitter speech against Cleveland and Generals Hancock and McClellan, was out at the races yesterday, and there met Ingalls, with whom he acted as judges of the horse races. Between the races the two drank together, and seemed on very friendly terms. It now appears that courtesy is seen to better advantage on the race track than in the senate. The Indiana democratic club here were very much pleased with Senator Voorhees's course in defending himself against Ingalls' attack, and will tender him a rousing banquet next week.

Robert G. Blaine, a brother to the man from Maine, who for several years has held a lucrative position in the agricultural department, has been removed. He was removed to make room for a democrat, but his successor has not yet been appointed. Mr. Blaine somewhat resembles his brother, but is very unfortunate in that he is unable to retain his position under a democratic administration. Mr. Blaine will now wait for his big brother to succeed Cleveland, but will wait in vain.

SPEAKING ON THE TARIFF.

Mr. Clements is the next man of the Georgia delegation to speak on the tariff. He will be followed by Mr. Candler, and then Mr. Turner. It is hardly probable that the remainder of the delegation will have an opportunity to express their views to the empty seats and galleries, unless they should desire to do so at a night session.

Mr. Clements today introduced a bill to grant a pension to Wm. H. Reynolds, late apprentice in the training squadron of the United States navy.

Mr. Candler introduced bills for the relief of Mathias Bates and Adaline M. Hutchins.

Mr. Blount introduced a petition from the board of trade, of Macon, to reduce postage from two cents to one cent per ounce.

Clifford Anderson left for Atlanta this morning in company with Mrs. Justice Lamar. Senator Colquitt and Judge Crisp also left for Atlanta on the same train.

Mr. Candler today had John B. Self, of Towns county, put on the pension roll. He will get $12 for wounds received in the late war.

The debate on the tariff bill has grown perceptibly weak within the past few days. Aside from those who make speeches there is little interest manifested. The seats and galleries are alike empty.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.

The forthcoming national conventions are absorbing all political interest. The expressions in the various conventions throughout the country relative to the choice in the Chicago convention, which indicates more plainly than ever that Blaine is the favorite, has struck terror to Senator Sherman and his followers here, For the past week there has been considerable betting indulged in, and big odds are laid on Blaine. Aside from Sherman and his few friends, the republicans very generally concede that the nomination of Blaine is, to all appearances, a foregone conclusion. The action of the republicans in Indiana yesterday, instructing for Harrison, is looked upon as a joke. The strength developed in the west in favor of Gresham has had the effect to create the impression that in event of it not being Blaine, the nomination will go to Gresham rather than Allison. Many of Blaine's friends are equally as favorable to Gresham as they are to Allison. E. W. B.

THE TRUST INVESTIGATION.

How the Standard Oil Company Intimidated Dealers.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—George Rice, of Marietta, O., was recalled at the beginning of the investigation by the house committee on manufactures today. The witness produced statements showing the difference in tariff rates on coal oil and cotton seed oil on the Missouri Pacific and Queen and Crescent railroads, coal oil going south and cotton seed coming north. Louisville and Nashville railroad officials had absolutely refused to give witness rates south from Nashville and he was obliged to ship it in a round about way and pay a heavier tariff than that charged to other dealers. For the past five or six years he has received letters from persous buying oil of him, in which they complained that they had been threatened by the Standard Oil company for purchasing oil from him. He had large numbers of those letters and would produce them before the committee.

Witness did not think the interstate commerce act was radical enough. There were two important amendments needed, namely, that the fines and penalties provided by the act should apply to the shipper as well as to the carrier, and that these fines and penalties should go to the informer instead of to the government.

A number of letters from various persons, on which Mr. Rice had his statement that the Standard had attempted to intimidate dealers who did not buy oil from it, were next put in evidence. Their general tenor was that the Standard had reduced, or threatened to reduce temporarily, the prices of oil below cost production wherever merchants bought oil from Mr. Rice.

Following are the most striking sentences in the letters read:

Chess, Carley & Co. are threatening to ruin us in business if we do not stop selling oil.

We have been threatened with annihilation, but so far the coal oil war has not begun, and they would come here and ruin us in business, by fair means if they can, but underhand, if necessary.

This closed the investigation for the time being at least, and the committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. It cannot be stated as yet whether the inquiry will resume or not. The committee has made quite an extensive examination into the sugar and oil trusts, and some of the members think it has secured sufficient information on which to base its report to the house.

After the stenographic report up to date has been received, the committee will determine what further steps to take.

Adverse Report on the Fisheries Treaty.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The republican members of the foreign relations committee of the senate held a meeting in the judiciary committee room today to hear the majority (adverse) report on the fisheries treaty, which has been prepared by Senator Edmunds, and is now complete. The report takes the ground that the treaty secures nothing of value to the United States, except what belongs to the United States by natural rights. The treaty will probably be reported next week and taken up as soon as the Chinese treaty is disposed of.

Accepted the Invitation.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Jeff Long, colored, has accepted an invitation from Jno. A. Kirk, principal of the Payne High school, colored, at Cuthbert, to deliver the annual address at the commencement excises, June 2. The invitation was very urgent, as the board of trustees stated one should be invited who sustained a reputation as a public speaker, and Long was unanimously elected.

THE TALK ON THE TARIFF.

Several Speeches Made in the House Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The private business having been dispensed with, the house went in committee of the whole (Mr. Springer, of Illinois, in the chair), on the tariff bill.

Mr. McDonald, of Minnesota, spoke in opposition to the protective system, and expatiated upon the injuries resulting to the people by the locking up of vast surplus in the treasury.

Mr. Caswell, of Wisconsin, criticised the method of tariff reduction proposed by the committee on ways and means, declaring that it did not provide for the substantial decrease upon articles of general consumption.

Mr. Gunther, of Wisconsin, was in favor of a revision of the tariff, but he wanted it revised by its friends, not by its foes. He wanted to protect everything American. He wanted the standard of wages kept up, not lowered. He was in favor of restoring the wool tariff of 1867. He was a firm believer in a tariff which not only supplied means for the expenses of the government, but at the same time built up and encouraged home manufacture, develop the inexhaustible resources of the country, and gave work to millions of our people. While he deplored the condition of the workingmen of the country of his birth, he did not feel called upon, as an American, to give aid to them at the expense of the laboring people of America. [Applause.]

Mr. Caruth of Kentucky—How are you on tax on empty bottles?

Mr. Gunther—I'm all right. How are you on full bottles? [Laughter.]

Mr. Gunther, proceeding, expressed his willingness to allow the people to bring in a verdict in case of protection against free trade and he prophesied that that verdict would consign the democratic party among the stragglers in the grand national procession of American industries. [Applause.]

Mr. Wheeler of Alabama, in speaking in general commendation of the bill, addressed himself more especially to the provision for the placing of wool upon the free list, arguing that it would result in furnishing cheaper clothing to people without injuring the growing industry of the country.

Turning his attention to merchant marine, he said that the democratic low tariff had raised it from almost nothing to five million tons burthen.

Mr. Buchanan asked if the speaker was in favor of free ships.

Mr. Wheeler said there was nothing about free ships in the bill. I favored free ship materials, however.

He read a report by Mr. Blaine, while secretary of state, which showed that the superiority of American labor in cotton manufacturing fully made up for any excess of pay over the rate in England and contended that a revision of the tariff which would enable our cotton mills to compete with England in Central and South America, China and other countries, would do more than all else to enhance the prosperity of America.

At 5 o'clock the committee rose, and the house took a recess till eight o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension bills.

At its evening session the house passed twenty-seven pension bills. At 10:30 adjourned until tomorrow.

WAITING ON THE TARIFF.

Th Committee on Rules Perplexed About Accumulating Legislation.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Although Mr. Randall's absence prevented a regular meeting of the house committee on rules today, there was an informal discussion among the members who were in attendance upon the advisability of taking some action upon the numerous pending propositions for the assignment of days in the house for the consideration of bills reported by the various committees. There was a general feeling that it would not be expedient to undertake to make any of these assignments until it could be definitely settled when the tariff bill will be out of the way. The disposition seems to be to again give the committees on territories, Pacific railroads and commerce an opportunity to dispose of their business. There was also some discussion in a favorable tone of the Springer resolution to appoint a committee to act in conjunction with one to be appointed by the senate, to set during the recess and endeavor to devise some means to relieve congress of accumulating private legislation.

INVESTIGATING COMMITTEES.

Examination into the Jackson, Miss., Election About Finished.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee, which has been investigating the Jackson, Miss., election riots with closed doors, for several weeks, is reaching the conclusion of its labors. A dozen or more of witnesses have been examined, but a member of the committee is authority for the statement that little of importance in additional to what has already been published has been brought out.

The senate committee on privileges and elections, which has for more than a year, had under investigation election riots of Washington county, Texas, is also nearing conclusion.

A missing portion of testimony, taken by the Texas courts upon the trial of some of the rioters, have just reached Washington, and is being examined by the committee. Senator Evarts will prepare the majority report in the case.

Fast Time in Macon.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The fastest time on record was made by the paid fire department tonight. A few minutes after nine an alarm was turned in from the box at Mulberry street, in front of THE CONSTITUTION office, and in seventy-five seconds the department arrived on the spot. The reel of company No. 1 was the first to arrive, closely followed by the truck engine and other reels. The test was made to show Colonel J. D. Young, of Atlanta, and another insurance agent that were in the city, what a fine department Macon had. There were also present to witness the test, Alexander Brown, Colonel E. C. Machen, Mrs. Gould, Judge Herman and others. They were all pleased with the time, and say it was quite fast.

Banking Relations Established

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The Exchange bank of this city, through Alexander Brown today, entered into an arrangement by which they become agent's of the great banking house of Alexander Brown & Son, of Baltimore, and their associate houses in this country and Europe, by which letters of credit may be issued in Macon, available in all parts of the civilized world. This will be a great convenience to the travelers of the state, and it shows also a stroke of enterprise on the part of Cashier Cabaniss of this bank.

Seven Persons Burned to Death.

OMAHA, May 4.—An Arlington, Neb., special says this morning the farm house of a Mr. Widreez burned. Some of the citizens went out and were horrified at finding the charred remains of seven human beings, only identified by their statues, as follows: An old lady, Fred Grattuschen, his wife and three children and Fred's brother Louis. A daughter, who is away visiting, is the only survivor of the family, but it is reported that a hired man cannot be found. The wife was found under the house. The coroner has been called.

The Bottom Out of Tin.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Early this morning the floor of the metal exchange was covered with brokers, dealers and consumers, but as the tin calls proceeded not a bid was made, and by half-past eleven o'clock, by actual count, only three operators were on the floor, nearly everybody had gone away disgusted. An early cable from London showed a further decline of seven pounds on spot tin.

Business Troubles at Xenia.

XENIA, O., May 4.—There is a very panicky feeling here since yesterday's bank failure. Henry Farrell groceries, and J. L. McCormack, dry goods, assigned today. The former's liabilities are $80,000. The latter's are heavy.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT

To Suppress an Outbreak in Lowndes County, Alabama.

GROWING OUT OF A RECENT LYNCHING

A Sheriff and Posse Attacked by a Mob—Two White Men Wounded and Several Negroes Killed—Other News.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 4.—A special to the Advertiser reports a bad condition of affairs in Lowndes county, growing out of the recent lynching of a negro murderer by white men. The negroes have been threatening vengeance, it seems, and today the sheriff with a posse went to Sand Ridge and arrested fifteen negroes. On the way back to Hayneville, the county seat, the posse encountered a mob of armed negroes. A conflict ensued and two white men were wounded and several negroes killed. After several volleys the negroes dispersed. They are reported to be assembling again in large numbers, and the sheriff telegraphed to the governor for troops. Four companies from Montgomery are now leaving for the scene, including an artillery and cavalry company.

The Greys, Blues and Mounted Rifles, the latter with their horses, left for Lowndes county at 4:30 to night. It was decided not to take the artillery.

In the conflict this afternoon Deputy Sheriffs Rice, Merriwther and D. Cook, whites, were wounded and two negroes were probably killed. It is reported that the negroes have been arming and collecting in large numbers ever since the lynching of Calloway in March. The negroes have been threatening vengeance. In attempting to arrest one of them a few days ago, he resisted and the sheriff wounded him. This infuriated the negroes and precipitated the conflict today.

The present trouble in Lowndes county, where the negroes outnumber the whites six to one, grew out of the murder, in March, of Mitchell Gresham by Theodore Callaway, a negro. Callaway claimed it was in self defense, and when, about one week later, he was lynched at Hayneville, the negroes began threatening and preparing for vengeance. Their demonstrations around Sandy Ridge, where the killing of Gresham occurred, became so open that white citizens applied to the sheriff for protection. They swore out twenty warrants against as many negroes, and the sheriff, in attempting to execute one on Wednesday last, was resisted and wounded a man before taking him.

HIS BROTHER'S BLOOD.

A Murder in Virginia City, Nevada, Over a Quarrel About Property.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., May 4.—John L. Black and Sam B. Black, brothers, who came here from Alabama nearly thirty years ago and had acquired a large amount of real estate in this city had a quarrel today, which resulted in the death of the former. Two shots were fired and Samuel Black emerged from the building with an iron wrench in his hand. He went to the sheriff's office and surrendered. His brother's body was found in the house with the front part of his skull broken and a bullet wound on his person. Samuel claims he killed his brother in self-defense.

Shot by a Woman.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—[Special.]—At Asheville yesterday afternoon, as Ed. Carter, a prominent young lawyer, was walking on Patton avenue, he was shot by Mrs. Clara Deaver. The shot took effect in the thigh, making a bad wound. A few minutes previous to the shooting, Carter had had a difficulty with Mrs. Samantha Wilson, mother of Mrs. Deaver. Mrs. Deaver was arrested and bound over for trial. The affair created a great sensation, as all the parties concerned are of local prominence.

Shot Through the Heart.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—[Special.]—In Rockingham county, the child of J. Thomas Glenn, aged five years, got possession of a pistol, and while playing with the weapon, shot its brother, two years old, the ball tearing through the heart and killing the little one instantly.

The Penalty Lightened.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 3.—[Special.]—Governor Scales today commuted the death sentence of Daniel Biggs to life imprisonment. Biggs's offense was burglary, and he was under sentence to be hanged next Tuesday, There was a strong petition for commutation and excellent reasons for granting it.

VERNE'S GREATEST EFFORT ECLIPSED

A Mammoth Meteor Falls From the Sun and Strikes Kentucky.

LITCHFIELD, Ky., April 28.—Professor John M. Klein, Kentucky's eminent astrologer, was greatly surprised last Sunday evening by witnessing a vertical upheaval on the sun's face. The way it appeared through his telescope was as if one of the huge spots on the sun was projected with great violence beyond the sun's center of attraction, and was coming directly toward the earth. The distance from the sun is about 90,000,000 miles, and Professor Klein estimated the off-shoot from the sun would strike the earth some time this morning, unless it was consumed by friction in its rapid flight. His calculations proved right, however, as the heavenly visitor struck this planet about 10 o'clock last night. Its lurid light and hissing sound startled the citizens of Litchfield and surrounding country as they had never been before. The huge mass fell near Bee Spring, in Edmonson county, on lands owned by John E. Stone, the surveyor of Grayson county. It covers about 140 acres of ground, and is about 4,000 feet in height. It has probably sunk into the earth at least 400 feet. It is a glowing metalic mass, and emits a terrific heat, so that it is impossible to get near it. Its properties are as yet unknown.

Professor Klein's observatory is at Hartford, over fifty miles from where the meteor fell. Every vehicle in Litchfield is in demand, and hundreds of people are flocking to Bee Springs. The following citizens of Litchfield have just returned from there: John A. Bishop, merchant; R. O. Willis, merchant; Judge T. R. McBeath, circuit judge. They fully corroborate all the details herein given and pronounce it as one of the greatest wonders the world ever saw. Bee Springs is nineteen miles from Litchfield and fourteen miles from Mammoth cave.

The Long-Missing Boy.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Yesterday, at Asheville, there was a singular occurrence, which illustrates one of the sensational sides of American life. Five years ago, a lad named Charlie Randolph, then living in Philadelphia, Pa., disappeared. His parents were wealthy, and there was no reason for his act in leaving home. A few months later a sister died and left the boy forty thousand dollars as a legacy, and made special provision for a search for him. Ever since that time the search had progressed. John Krider, a Philadelphian, had literally ransacked the United States for the youth, who is now only seventeen years of age. Krider had a year or more ago passed through Asheville. This time he stopped at the Grand Central hotel. There he found the youth for whom he had for five years sought so faithfully. Randolph had for some time been employed at the hotel. He consented to return with Krider when he was informed of the legacy, and said that his only purpose in leaving home was to make his own living and be independent.

Smallpox Epidemic.

RIO GRANDE, Tex., May 4.—Smallpox is epidemic in Comargo, Mexico, just across the river. People are dying at the rate of ten per day, while a great many are crossing to Texas to escape the epidemic.

TRADE TOPICS.

Review of Business for the Past Week—Failures, Etc.

NEW YORK, May 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade for the week says:

It makes all difference whether the situation is observed by prophet or philosopher. The streets are full of prophets, who see sure indications, favorable or unfavorable, and the prevailing impression regarding the future is exceedingly hopeful. Facts, as they stand, disclose an uncertain state of business, a slight improvement in some branches, increasing depression in others—but hesitation and waiting on all sides. The net result has been a little advance in the prices of securities with considerable decline in prices of commodities.

At interior towns money is generally in ample supply for existing demand. The flurry at Boston carried the rate to six per cent for a day, but it has dropped back, and settlements at Chicago were unusually small for May 1st. Foreign exchange is a little higher, but merchandise exports also improve for five weeks, exceeding last year by 3½ per cent. As last year's excess of imports for April was over $16,000,000, a comparison still indicates that exports of gold are only prevented by foreign investments of capital here. Reports of trade from interior points are not enthusiastic. Inactivity or quiet is the prevailing feature, with more frequent complaints of slow collections. The clearings of banks outside of New York continue to slightly exceed those of last year, but less than a difference in price, which implies the transfer of a slightly smaller quantity of products and the increase in clearings, moreover, is due to two or three cities in which speculation is specially active. Deducting Chicago alone, the latest reports from all other cities outside of New York would show a decrease. Failures in April exceeded those of last year by over 10 per cent, but were smaller than last year in Canada.

Speculation in wheat has been rather active, sales reaching nearly 24,000,000 bushels here, but the net advance in price was only a quarter of a cent, with the same in corn, while oats declined half a cent. Reports of injury to wheat have become more definite, but the telegraph brings news of extensive rains at Denver, Omaha and Milwaukee, and in California rain caused a sudden fall of five cents per cental.

Pork products, hogs and cotton are a little higher, and oil has risen 1⅛ cents. Coffee and sugar are unchanged, holders being confident, but wool and hides are a shade weaker, and the collapse of the tin speculation caused a fall from about 37 to 20 cents. A weakening in copper naturally follows, but it is supposed the syndicate has concentrated efforts in order to control that market.

Lower freights have been obtained by the Lehigh iron producers, but all the benefit goes to the consumers.

No. 1 pig is now quoted at $19.50, with the expectation that $19 will be reached. The market for bar iron, even at ⅛ cent, is unsatisfactory; plate, structural and sheet iron are all reported weaker, and steel rails are quoted at $30.50. The southern supply of iron has increased and it is not yet undetermined at what price in northern markets the large furnaces can afford to sell.

Anthracite coal is stronger, production having diminished.

The dry goods business is more hopeful. Buying for fall trade at this season is regarded as encouraging, though the movement is moderate and prices are unchanged. The general result of trading for the past month has been a decline of nearly four per cent in the prices of commodities as a whole, notwithstanding the strength in grain and produce markets.

Stocks rose rapidly until May 1st, when the average of prices was about $2 per share above last week's, and the reaction within the past three days still leaves prices about 75 cents per share higher than a week ago. Large earnings and foreign buying, with the purchase of bonds, make the advance not surprising.

Business failures occurring throughout the country during the past week number for the United States 209, Canada 25; total 234, against 223 last week.

Working on the Grounds.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The exposition grounds have already assumed a business like appearance. The force of hands will complete the fence this week, with the exception of the entrance, plans for which have not yet been determined upon. The pillars for the grand stand have already been put up, and the lumber is expected to arrive this week. The grand stand will be built at once. It will have an easy seating capacity of 3,500. Plans are also being drawn for the main building, which will be an imposing structure. Work on the race track is also progressing nicely. This will be a perfect mile track, with the same grades as the celebrated Lexington track.

O'BRIEN'S TRIALS.

He is Jerked Up in Court Again—Mr. Dillon on the Pope's Decree.

DUBLIN, May 4.—William O'Brien, who was sentenced at Loughrea yesterday to three months' imprisonment for inciting the people of a proclaimed district to join the national league, was taken to court again today to be tried on the charge of inciting the people to hold a league meeting. The crown counsel announced that this charge would be withdrawn.

Mr. Dillon, in a speech at Kilmurry, county Limerick, today, advised the people to adopt the plan of campaign, and to boycott all persons who take evicted farms. Though the people, he said, were bound to obey the commands of Rome in matters of church discipline, they would not have politics dictated to they by Italians.

MR. PARNELL'S VIEWS.

He Will Make an Important Announcement at the Eighty Club.

DUBLIN, May 4.—The Freeman's Journal says that Mr. Parnell will make an important pronunciamento at the Eighty club dinner, on the 8th instant. Mr. Parnell believes, it says, that the agrarian movement in Ireland may be conducted with sufficient effect without collision with the religious feelings of Irishmen. He desires that the Irish people shall give due weight to the wishes of the vatican in matters of faith and morals, while at the same time insisting on their claim that politically Irish opinion and judgment must be supreme.

Mr. Parnell's health, the paper says, is improved, although it is still necessary for him to be very careful. He hopes to be fully restored in a few months.

Germany's Sick Emperor.

BERLIN, May 3.—The emperor was less feverish this evening. The present favorable symptons give ground to hope that he will soon overcome his weakness remaining from the recent crisis. The weakness, especially, affects his legs. He made a slight attempt to walk today. He passed much time in the lower saloon. The weather still prevents his taking outdoor exercise. The emperor makes himself understood more than formerly by whispers and signs, but he uses no phonetic system.

The Voss-is-che-Zeitung says it has learned from a reliable source, that the local disease in the emperor's throat has increased a little since the emperor left San Remo.

Emperor Frederick this evening dined with the crown prince and princess, the empress and his three daughters.

Denouncing the Copyright Bill.

LONDON, May 4.—At a conference today between representatives of the printing and allied trades and a section of the London chamber of commerce, the international copyright bill now before the United States senate was denounced. Right Hon. Mr. Richie, president of the local government board, who received the deputation, was asked to invite other chambers of commerce to co-operate with them to prevent the adoption of such a law.

The Reports Denied.

LONDON, May 4.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres, says the reports of the suspension of banking houses in that city, are without foundation.

Schurz Dined.

BERLIN, May 4.—Carl Schurz dined this afternoon at the residence of Prince Bismarck. Among the invited guests were Count von Stolberg, Wernigerode, and Count Doenh, of Friederichstein.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

The senate adjourned from Thursday until Monday.

The strikers at the Edgar Thompson steel works have declared the strike off.

The suspension of work at Pratt mines, Alabama, continues. A friendly conference is pending.

A damage suit for $10,000 was entered yesterday afternoon in the United States circuit court, St. Louis, by Connor Brothers, grain merchants, against the Vicksburg and Meridian railroad. They complain of unjust discrimination against them in shipping rates.

ETC.
Summer Novelties
OTHING FOR BOYS
REN.
LOWEST PRICES.
ing an unusually larg
nspection is invited.
s and Furnishers
all St.
We are the only house in Atlanta that carry wire rope in stock, for general hoisting purposes, transmission of power and guy ropes.
LERS
PPLIES,
UBBER
ORGERS, PRESSURE BLOWERS
TTINGS AND BRASS GOODS.
BROS.
EALERS IN—
trical Apparatus & Supplies,
RANDOLPH HARD PATENT IM MEDICAL APPARATUS, the most ttery in the market.
ia, Alabama and Florida for HESS
LL and FIRE ALARM for hotels.
O-PLATERS.
ss Goods of every description, polqual to new.
and other Electrical Apparatus
d to, in the city or out. Send for SONS
Marble Dust
CEMENTS PLASTER PARIS
Fire Clay
STOVE FLUE
Coal
ICE LIST
ODS.
ROS.,
l Street,
TERS THING!

HE WAS DESPERATE.

The Career of a Burly Fugitive From Justice.

Who Escaped From a Convict Farm—A Man Beats His Wife Severely With a Bed Slat—Other News.

ATHENS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—One of the most desperate negro convicts in the state escaped last night from the convict farm of Colonel James M. Smith, in Oglethorpe county. The negro, George Dowdy, alias George Long, has a criminal record which embraces many years and covers many counties. He was at one time a notorious desperado in Jackson county, and served five years there for burglary. When his term had expired he recommenced his criminal practice, and was indicted for burglary and horse stealing. A mounted posse captured him after a hot chase, in which the fugitive was shot several times and severely wounded. He was incarcerated in Madison county jail, but soon after tore up the flooring of the prison, and, burrowing under its walls, liberated himself and all his fellow prisoners. He was recaptured and served the rest of his term in Elbert county jail, where he gave much trouble to the officials. He is now under a ten-year sentence to the chaingang. He has only served three years of the time. In escaping he removed his prison garments, stole a penitentiary mule, and, half clad as he was, galloped off to the woods. George is a six-foot, copper-colored negro and weighs about 180 pounds. A reward $100 has been offered for his arrest, and the woods are being searched by officers, who hope to effect his recapture.

BEATEN WITH A BED SLAT.

The Penalty a Woman Paid For Joining the Church.

ATHENS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Last night, when Neal Taylor, a railroad laborer of the colored persuasion, went to his home he found that his wife had bidden a long farewell to the world, the flesh and the devil, and embraced Christianity. Neal, whose religious precepts are rather lax, endeavored to persuade his wife to forsake her newly formed faith, and upon her refusal to do so, used more effective argument in the shape of a bed slat. The woman's hands were tied above her head, and she was forced to bend herself over a trunk, while her fiendish husband beat her unmercilessly. The woman is dying from the effects of the beating, and her inhuman husband is at large.

Chasing a Negro.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Messrs. R. F. Carter, A. T. Jenkins and others captured a negro named Emanuel Smith at Midland this morning, after an exciting chase, in which five shots were fired at the fleeing negro, one of which made a flesh wound in his leg. Smith is charged with burning the barn of Mr. E. Reese a few months ago. The Reese residence was also burglarized while members of the family were trying to save the barn. The governor has offered a reward of $100 for Smith, who is now behind the bars of Muscogee county jail.

Awaiting His Fate.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Angell, the man who is supposed to be the Missouri murderer who broke jail six days before he was to be hanged, will have his fate decided tomorrow when the sheriff arrives from that state.

Sixty-Two Lashes

ACWORTH, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Quite a sensational affair occurred near this place this morning about 9 o'clock. A negro man notoriously known as the biggest liar in this community, had been circulating some very unsavory and damaging stories about a number of young men of town. He was met just outside the incorporate limits of Acworth this morning by several of the young men, who ordered him to stand, and, our informant states, he remained until the aforesaid young men gave him sixty-two well applied lashes with a horsewhip, when he was told to go and sin no more, or what he had received was only a taste of what was in store for him. He has given trouble before, and the affair meets with general approval and the young men are smoking free cigars for their act.

Social Notes From Athens.

ATHENS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Quite a large delegation of Athenians left for Atlanta today, to see the Kirmess. Among the number are Misses Maud Barker, Cornelia Jackson, Effie Howell, Nellie Inman, Genie West and Leila Venable, of the Lucy Cobb Institute, Mr. Harry Jackson and Professor White, of the university, and Mr. Prince Hodgson.

Mr. Horace Cranford went to the gate city on yesterday, and will also take in the Kermiss.

Miss Lula Veal was married to Mr. Horace E. Martin, at the residence of her father, Mr. J. B. Veal, last night. The bride is one of the most popular of Athens' young ladies, and the groom is a young man of sterling worth.

Fire in Red Clay.

DALTON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—At an early hour this morning the house of James Beardon, at Red Clay, Ga., was entirely consumed by fire. The family was all asleep when the fire broke out, and barely escaped with their lives. The house and contents are a total loss.

R. P. Garner, of Rhea county, Tenn., was arrested today by two United States deputies for violating the revenue laws. He was brought to Chattanooga and had a hearing befor United States Commissioner Hope, who sent him to jail to await trial at the next term of federal court.

Mrs. Miller Dead.

WRIGHTSVILLE, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dr. J. L. Miller, of our town, died last night about seven o'clock. She, together with her husband and little daughter, came to our town about the first of January, and she was taken sick the night after her arrival in our town and ever since has been a painful but patient sufferer with inflamatory rheumatism, and about a week ago took pneumonia, from which disease she died as before stated. Dr. Miller has our deepest sympathy in this his sad bereavement.

The Second Annual Field Day.

ATHENS, Ga., April 4.—[Special.]—The second annual field day of the University of Georgia, will be celebrated appropriately by the students on next Monday. Large sums have been raised to be donated to the successful contestants in the different tests and races, and the day will be made a most interesting one. The business men of Athens have contributed largely to the prize list, and the people of the city will go out to the fair grounds in large numbers to witness the games and contests.

Mallory is Provided for.

BRUNA VISTA, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The superior court adjourned today, after being in session two weeks. Today's proceedings ended with the trial of W. A. Mallory for forgery, an account of which has been reported in this correspondence. Persons in different parts of the state, who were swindled by Mallory, will doubtless be glad to know that he goes to the penitentiary for eight years.

Coming to Atlanta.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The Georgia Hussars will leave tomorrow night for Atlanta, where they will tilt on Wednesday. Two teams, under Lieutenant Pritchard, will go up. Several friends will accompany the tilters, and all who will go with the company will get reduced rates if they travel on the same ticket. The teams will come back next Friday morning.

The Piedmont Rifles.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Certified rolls of the active members of the "Piedmont Rifles" were filed in the offices of the city clerk and clerk of the superior court on May 1st, in accordance with the law claiming exemption from street tax and jury duty for the present year. Thirty-two names were enrolled, and it is gratifying to state that the company is now in a thriving and prosperous condition.

Fire in Perry.

PERRY, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The residence of J. O. Ellis, near Haynesville, this county, was, with contents, totally burned yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. The cause was a spark on the roof. The loss is five thousand dollars. No insurance.

DOUGLASVILLE'S SITUATION.

Its People, Its Business, and Its Future Prospects.

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Douglasville is situated on the Georgia Pacific railroad, about twenty-seven miles west of Atlanta. It is a city duly incorporated, having a mayor, common council and all the machinery necessary for a city government. Moreover, it is the county seat of Douglas county.

Very pleasant is its location, on the crest of a ridge, the country sloping away on either hand; from one side the water runs to the Chattahoochee river ten miles away, from the other it flows to the Tallapoosa forty miles distant. The surface drainage is perfect, and the conditions for health unsurpassed.

Near the center of the town, a bridge, arched like a rainbow, spans the railroad. From the top of this bridge, one gets a good view of the city and the surrounding country. The railroad passes through the town straight as an arrow. Facing this road on one side the stores and shops are arranged, some twenty or thirty in number. Scattered around in all directions are the dwellings, many of them are attractive homes, surrounded by extensive gardens, adorned with trees, shrubbery and flowers, indicating refinement and taste. The surface of the ground is undulating, gentle elevations and depressions, little hillsides and graceful slopes, the whole presenting a scene of rare beauty.

Beyond, as far as the eye can reach the landscape is highly diversified; hill and valley, forest and cultivated field constantly present new and ever changing attractions. Yonder, twenty miles distant, Lost mountain rises cone shaped against the sky; farther on Kennensaw, with his double peaks is plainly seen, while in other directions the far off hills fade from sight in the dim haze of the horizon seventy miles away. One is surprised to find so many stores carrying such an extensive stocks of goods—dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, groceries, furniture, drugs, millinery, jewelry, hardware, books and stationery; besides there are barber shops, shoe shops, blacksmith and wagon shops, a planing mill, cotton mill, corn mill and a canning factory, all indicating a live, enterprising town, and that here is the center of an extensive and prosperous farming country.

The courthouse is a substantial brick structure. There are good school houses, and the church edifices are sufficient for present needs. There is one excellent hotel, built for a private residence. It is attractive because so much like home; but is too small; a hotel to accommodate one hundred guests is greatly needed, and would be a paying institution. The citizens are highly intelligent, hospitable, and they cordially welcome all good people who come to reside in the city or surrounding country.

For the immigrant this region possesses many advantages, especially for those intending to engage in agricultural pursuits. The country is healthy, the climate mild and delightful, the soil fertile, under proper cultivation yielding bountiful crops of widely diversified products. The land is well watered; springs bubble from hillsides, brooks and rivulets are seen in all directions, so that every farm can be abundantly supplied with sparkling fountains. Thousands of acres can be bought at very moderate prices; the industrious farmer, in a short time, can have an attractive home, and, though starting poor, in a few years may become rich.

If he be a stock grower, he can raise cattle, sheep, horses and mules, rivaling those in Tennessee and Kentucky, as cheaply and as easily. Butter and cheese, equaling the best dairy products of New York, can be made here at far less expense. The bottom lands produce fine harvests of wheat, corn, oats, rye, all the vegetable and root crops grown at the north, and some that cannot be grown there, as cow peas, sweet potatoes, and goobers. Apples, peaches, plums, cherries, strawberries yield bountifully, while here is the natural home of the grape, the blackberry and the watermelon.

These products, with intelligent labor and care, amply repay the farmer in rich returns of from fifty to two hundred dollars an acre every year.

The rapidly growing cities and manufacturing towns but short distances away will absorb a large proportion of these products, while numerous railroads will convey the surplus in from twenty to forty hours to the largest and best markets in the wide world.

In this region vast beds of mineral wealth lie beneath the surface awaiting capital and enterprise for development. In addition to magnetic iron ore, copper, asbestos and soapstone known to exist, there are indications of grit rock for grindstones, granite for building, graphite, and traces of gold and silver have been found.

There is water power in the vicinity of Douglasville sufficient to manufacture into cloth all the cotton that can be raised in the great empire state of the south.

Many Charters Granted.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—At the February term of Hall superior court quite a batch of charters were granted numerous enterprises here. Among them were charters incorporating the Gainesville Improvement company, Gainesville Compress company, Gainesville Fair association, "Piedmont Rifles" and the Gainesville Light company. With the exception of the first and last named organizations have been effected and the enterprises are moving along nicely. The Compress and Fair association promise to be great institutions.

To Entertain the Red Men.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The grand council of the improved order of Red Men of Georgia will hold its annual meeting in this city commencing on Tuesday next. Extensive arrangements are being made by our local lodges for the entertainment of delegates to the grand council. On Wednesday night the lodge will have a public meeting at the opera house. Speeches will be made by Mayor Grimes, Captain S. P. Gilbert, Rev. J. B. K. Smith and visiting and local members of the order. An enjoyable time is anticipated.

The Old Officers Re-elected.

TALBOTTON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Talbotton railroad was held in this city. The report of the superintendent, S. W. Thornton, shows a small net earning for the road the past year, after paying off several executions against the road. The meeting resulted in the re-election of the old board of directors and officers, and there will be no change in the management of the road.

The LaGrange Election.

LAGRANGE, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The annual municipal election passed very quietly on Wednesday, and resulted in the election of Colonel H. E. Ware, mayor, with the following aldermen: Dr. F. M. Ridley, Z. T. Gorham, J. D. Edmundson, S. A. Reid, J. E. Dunson and J. R. Broome.

The Middle Georgia College.

JONESBORO, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Middle Georgia college, yesterday afternoon, Professor George C. Looney was unanimously elected president, and Mrs. C. D. Crawley principal of the female department. They were elected for a term of five years, receiving the vote of all present. It is the wish of the whole town that they accept.

Walton's Delegation.

MONROE, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The delegates to the convention on Tuesday next from this county are as follows, towit: Joseph H. Felker, S. H. Brodnox, W. A. Kelly, A. J. Arnold, J. C. Breedlove, Henry Conner, T. J. Robertson and George M. Napier.

The Bond Increased.

LEXINGTON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Judge Lumpkin has increased the bond of Babe Rowe to three hundred and fifty dollars, and as he has not been able to raise the amount he is still confined in jail. Friends here have endeavored to raise the amount, but as yet to no avail.

A Regular Schedule Put On.

MADISON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—A regular schedule has been put on the Covington and Macon today, much to the gratification of the traveling public. A large crowd of our people will go over the new road to Monticello to attend the Sunday school conventoin Sunday.

Removed to Atlanta.

MADISON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Messrs. Cox & Hill, wholesale liquor dealers, have removed their stock of goods to Atlanta. Mr. D. S. Gregory, who had charge of their branch house here, has many friends in our town who regret to lose him. He and his estimable wife will be missed in our town.

IN A STRANGE PICKLE!

The Unfortunate Fate of a Cucumber Farmer,

But Which Helped Along the Widow and Orphans and Saved Funeral Expenses.

From the Griffin, Ga., News.

We stepped into Judge Hammond's office and took our accustomed seat, and waited till he finished drawing up the contract for the building a union passenger depot, which now awaits the signature of the three railroad companies and the contractors. The terms of the contract, when signed, will be given to the readers of the News in full.

The News looked wistfully at the judge, who drew a long breath and said: Well, young man, since fruit and truck farming has assumed such important proportions in this country, there has been a most wonderful development in the resources of middle Georgia. One man in this county raised and gathered one hundred bushels of ruta baga turnip seed and shipped them north. Another realized two thousand dollars from one crop of sugar cane. Several have made handsome sums from the sale of watermelons, fruits and vegetables, and others have converted their fruit into brandy, and of course they had a "high old time." But I wish to call your attention to one of the most remarkable occurrences of this century; but at the same time it was very sad. There was a poor man with a large family, consisting of his devoted wife and many small children, mostly boys and girls. He owned a few acres of land, a small portion of which was in rich bottom. He conceived the idea that by proper drainage and cultivation he might raise large quantities of cucumbers, and by proper management might find a renumerative market for them. So he made his arrangements accordingly, and raised his cucumbers, packed them in salt and shipped them to some northern firm for pickling. The first year he was very successful and sold large quantities of them for fair prices. The second year he felt so much encouraged that he increased his crop and confidently expected a much larger income. During the gathering time he was constantly engaged in cutting, sorting and packing his cucumbers into barrels and shipping them to his customers.

It is well known that when cucumbers are first cut from the vine there is a piece which exudes or bleeds from the stem. One morning the farmer cut his hand and this juice got into the cut, and his hand commenced to inflame, and an eruption similar to erysipelas made its appearance on his hand and extended up his arm, and finally spread over his whole body. Strange to say, there was no pain attending these eruptions of erysipelas, and he continued to gather and pack his cucumbers and prepare them for shipment. To the great surprise of the farmer these little erysipelas pimples assumed the appearance and form of small cucumbers, and continued to grow, although the farmer kept well and hearty, he was compelled to strip himself and take to his bed. Of course, the news of this strange phenomenon spread far and wide, and the doctors and scientific men visited him from various sections of the country. One prescribed one thing, and one another. One wished to bleed him; one wished to cut the cucumbers off; another said not let him have any water and they would dry up; another said stick a hole in each cucumber and they would die and a new skin form; another wished to wrap him up in a mammoth poultice of barnyard manure and draw them all to one head; another said they ought to be scattered. Each had a different remedy, but all disagreed. So there was some hope that the patient would get well. As the summer advanced the small cucumbers grew into big ones, and his whole body was completely covered with them from head to foot, and they commenced to ripen and turn yellow and hang down and the man assumed the appearance of a huge bunch of bananas. When they got ripe they began to shrivel and dry up, and so did the man. His sap was all gone and he died.

The docters procured the consent of the family to permit an autopsy to be made, for the benefit of science, and they cut into him with their knives, and to their amazement found no flesh—no blood—no bones—no muscles—no sinews—no veins—no arteries; but found only one solid mass of cucumber seed. It was so remarkable that it would be useless to have the remains interred and foolish to have them cremated, and she concluded that she would keep them in the house. She had the corpse hung up by the hair of the head and veiled.

The next spring some of the children picked up some of the seed which had dropped on the floor and planted them. They grew rapidly and matured, and instead of being like the parent stock of cucumbers, they were pure pickles and needed no vinegar, no pepper, no salt, nothing but simply packing into barrels and shipping to market and selling. Of course news of the discovery spread rapidly, and multitudes of applications for seed flowed in like the incoming tide, and thus enabled the disconsolate widow and children to turn the cause of their bereavement into a means of maintenance and support. The wind of affliction was thus tempered to these shorn lambs. They sold small packets of seed for big prices, and could not supply the demand. The vine grown from the new seed is a perennial evergreen, and can be propagated from cuttings, blooms in the spring, and bears in the summer a bountiful crop of perfect pickels. The widow sells the seed at $1 a paper and hot grown plants at 25 cents each.

THE COLORED TEACHERS.

They Bring Their Annual Convention to a Close.

ATHENS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The State Colored Teachers convention adjourned tonight, after an interesting three days session. The programme today consisted of devotional exercises, music, reports of committees and a historical sketch by G. A. Goodwin. In the evening the visiting delegates were entertained by literary exercises, in which all the Athens colored teachers participated. The delegates were given a handsome banquet tonight and will tomorrow return to their homes.

Schoolhouse Injunction Refused.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—A bill of injunction was brought before Judge Gustin today by John T. Reed vs. Charles T. Leonard, mayor, et al., both of Eatonton, restraining the issue of bonds to be paid by local taxation for the purpose of constructing schoolhouses in Eatonton. The case was brought before Judge Gustin because Judge Jenkins, of the Eatonton circuit, was disqualified. The injunction was refused. It is thought that the plaintiff will appeal to the supreme court.

Six Hundred Subscribers.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The proprietors of the new Weekly Budget, which is to be published here, are doing finely with their paper. Over six hundred subscribers have pledged, and they hope to get up fifteen hundred before the paper comes out. The first sheet will be issued on the twelfth of this month from the press of J. W. Burke & Co. The company has ordered a complete printing outfit, including the press, which is expected to arrive soon.

The Speakers Selected.

DAHLONEGA, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The following young men have been awarded speaker's places at the approaching commencement of the N. G. A. college: Sophomores—W. R. Chamblee, E. B. Vickery, L. O. Simmons, E. H. Almond, I. G. Walker and O. P. Braselton. Freshmen—J. V. Kelly, J. W. Lamb, J. C. West, C. J. Wellborn, H. B. Carmichael, G. W. Tribble.

Personal Paragraph Points.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Colonel John P. Ross has accepted the invitation to deliver the annual address before the junior class at Gordon institute, Barnesville, this commencement.

Mrs. E. Mayo, of Americus, is in the city visiting relatives.

Miss Sue Dismuke, of Griffin, is visiting friends in Macon.

Last Wednesday evening a delightful reception was given in Griffin, by Mrs. A. O. Bennett, complimentary to Miss Lydia Dickenson, of Macon.

Captain L. W. Roberts, of the C. and M., came down from Madison this morning. Will return tomorrow on the excursion.

Miss Annie Pope is in Atlanta, the guest of Mrs Will Rawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stapleton will, in the future, reside in Americus.

Mr. C. H. Jordan, of Monticello, is in the city at the Hotel Lanier.

Mr. John D. Fred is in the city for a few days.

THOUSANDS OF PICNICKERS,

The Wesleyan Girls at Crump's Park Fort Valley and Marshallville in Macon.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—So many white dresses, straw hats and new spring goods have never been seen on the streets of Macon as there were yesterday. Thursday was selected by all of the Sunday-schools for their annual picnics, and a finer day for the occasion was never registered in an almanac.

Early in the morning a long excursion train on the Southwestern road arrived with about 400 excursionists from different places along the line, but the majority of the crowd was from Marshallville and Fort Valley. The party took street cars and went immediately to Central City park, where they were joined by the Sunday-school from Centenary chapel, which has the largest roll call of any in the city. All out-of-door games were indulged in, and at noon everybody's appetite was in good condition for the bountiful repast that was spread in dining hall. In the afternoon the visitors were given a ride around the Belt line, after which they returned to the depot and took their train for home.

At nine o'clock the Sunday school of the First Baptist church took a special train at the E. T. V. & Ga. depot and left for Adams park, amid the waving of handkerchiefs and shouts of the little folks. At their return to the city this afternoon, they all claim to have had a big time and a better dinner.

But of all the picnic's of the day, the most successful one, and best carried out of the day was the one gotten up by the Sunday school of Mulberry Street church, which took place at Crump's park, three miles from the city. The classes marched from the church to the depot, and took a special train on the Macon and Western, and arrived at the park in fifteen minutes. The great success of the day is due to the presence of the charming young ladies of Wesleyan Female college. Dr. Bass gave the professors that had them in charge instructions to "turn the girl loose, and let them have a good time." The boys all seized their opportunity, and pitched in for a day of fun with them, as it was the first time a liberty of this kind has ever been granted them. They all enjoyed the day very much, and each one thanked the Doctor on their return for the holiday.

LIFTING COATS FOR THE PICNIC.

Some Sharp Work of a Gang of Thieves Saturday Night.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Mr. Geo. P. Barker is proprietor of the Virginia cash store on Cherry street, and among many other things in stock, he keeps a good supply of clothing. While dusting up the goods this morning, he missed several coats and vests, and at once knew that they were stolen Two of his clerks, Messrs. Edging and Baker, offered to go to the Central City park, where a colored picnic was going on, and see if they could "light on to" any of the articles.

As the dusky damsals and the dashing dudes were coming out from dinner, the two would-be detectives saw a cash store coat wrapped around the frame of one of the old acquaintances of the police force. They collared the coon, and turned him over to colored Officer Barnes, who accompanied him to the barracks and locked him up. He gave his name as Monk Brown, and denied stealing the coat, but said that he bought it.

Later in the day as Mr. Baker was coming down from dinner, he saw several negro boys in front of the Stubblefield house, and among them one with one of the stolen coats on. A gentleman passing by assisted him, and carried him to the store of Payne & King, where an officer was telephoned for, who carried him to the barracks. He said that his name was Henry Lucas, and that he bought the coat in Atlanta a few days ago. When he was searched, it was found that his vest and shoes were also stolen from Baker's, and it is thought last Saturday night. Mr. Baker swore out warrants for the pair before Judge Matt Freeman, and Bailiff Menand carried them to the jail.

A party of negro boys were in the store last Saturday night looking at clothing, and it is thought that they tried on the coats, and put their own on over them, and got them away in that manner.

THEY ARRIVE ON TIME.

The Regular Schedule on the Covington and Macon Begins.

MACON, Ga., March 4.—[Special.]—At 6:25 this morning the regular schedule between here and Madison began. At 6:30 the accommodation freight left Madison and arrived here at 11:35. The fast mail left Macon at 7 this morning and arrived at Madison at 10:20, leaving there at 11:20 and arriving here at 3:16, every train on time to the minute. There are no apologies to be made with the first issue of this schedule, and if everything runs as smoothly as it has started all will go well.

On tomorrow and Sunday an excursion will be run to Monticello, giving everybody a chance to attend the union picnic of the Sunday-schools on Saturday and the Sunday-school convention on Sunday. It is expected that a large crowd will go up from this point.

Macon Delegation on the Way.

MACON, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—The Macon delegation consisting of Rev. E. P. Holmes and Layman J. W. Brooks, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, to the general conference of the church which meets at Indianapolis on Monday next, left last night for that place. They were joined by a large delegation while passing through Atlanta.

Diamonds Guarded Ingeniously.

From the London Figaro.

When the French crown jewels were sold by auction last season it was well known that the finest and most historical of the gems, including the famous "Regent" diamond, were reserved, and these may now be seen in the Louvre in the gallery called after the well known statue of Apollo, which is such a prominent object in it. Before these priceless gems were exposed, however, a committee of skilled officials and experts were appointed in order to decide on some plan for rendering their loss by theft virtually impossible. And this is what the committee decided upon: The jewels are exhibited in a show case, the glass plates of which are exceptionally thick and the iron frame work of which is abnormally strong, and an attendant has been appointed to specially keep watch over the precious exhibit all day long. Should he have the slightest cause to suspect any visitor or visitors he has only to touch a button easily within his reach, whereupon the glass promptly disappears from view and sinks into a specially constructed shaft over the top of which the same automatic machinery causes thick covers, formed of thick metal plates, to close with a sharp snap. The ingenuity displayed in carrying out this plan is remarkable and the fact that the clock-work apparatus has cost close upon £800 will convey some idea of its complicated character.

Care for the Children

Children feel the debility of the changing seasons, even more than adults, and they become cross, peevish, and uncontrollable. The blood should be cleansed and the system invigorated by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Last Spring my two children were vaccinated. Soon after, they broke all out with running sores, so dreadful I thought I should lose them. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them completely; and they have been healthy ever since. I do feel that Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my children to me." MRS. C. L. THOMPSON, West Warren, Mass.

Purify the Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

MEDICAL.

IF YOU HAVE

MALARIA OR PILES,

SICK HEADACHE, DUMB AGUE, COSTIVE BOWELS, SOUR STOMACH and BELCHING; if your food does not assimilate and you have no appetite, will cure these troubles. Try them; you have nothing to lose, but will gain a vigorous body. Price, 25c. per box.

Tutt's Pills

Sold Everywhere.

POND'S EXTRACT OINTMENT.

PILES.

It's remarkable specific action upon the affected parts gives it supreme control over Piles, however severe.

Also for Burns, Scalds, Eruptions, Salt Rheum &c. Testimonials from all classes prove its efficacy. Price 50c. Sold by all Druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. Put up only by POND'S EXTRACT CO., 76 5th Ave., N. Y.

D. C. BACON, Pres. M. F. AMOROUS, Gen. Mgr

ATLANTA LUMBER COMPANY,

YARDS, Humphries St., & E. T., V. & G. Railway.

OFICE 48 Marietta Street.

MILLS, On Line C. R. R. & E. T., V. & G. Ry.

Long Leaf Pine,

KILN-DRY DRESSED FLOORING CEILING, WEATHERBOARDING, SHINGLES AND LATHS, BRIDGE AND TRESTLE TIMBERS.

Best in quality, lowest in price. Write for estimates on house bills. jan 21 2p n r m

A little higher in price, but of unrivalled quality.

USE

"OUR CONSTANT AIM IS TO MAKE THEM THE FINEST IN THE WORLD."

LIBBY PRISON.

The United States War Relic Association has been organized for the purpose of establishing a museum of war in the old Libby Prison building after its removal to Chicago. Parties owning relics of the civil or other wars of the United States are invited to communicate with the agents of the association.

MORSE, JAMIESON & CO.,

Bankers and Brokers,

134 Dearborn Street, - Chicago.

WEAK MEN MADE STRONG

ADVICE FREE! HOW TO ACT! Lost Vigor and Manhood Restored. Premature Decline and Functional disorders cured without Stomach Medicines. Sealed Treatise sent free upon application. MARSTON CO., 19 Park Place, New York.

MEDICAL.

THE

PARADISE

—OF—

Health Resorts,

FAMILIARLY KNOWN AS

The Electric Health Resort!

—AT—

HILLMAN, GA.

On the Washington branch of the Georgia railroad.
Two daily trains from Atlanta.
Two daily trains from Augusta.
One daily train from Macon.

UNRIVALED

—BY ANY POINT—

East of the Rokcy Mountains

For Dryness of Climate, Appetizing Atmosphere, Health Restoring Mineral Waters and Beautiful Scenery, and the only place yet discovered where is successfully applied to the HEALING OF HUMAN DISEASE.

Natural Electricity

NATURE

STILL WORKING GREAT CURES

—OF—

Rheumatism,
Kidney Diseases,
Insomnia,
Dyspepsia,
Diseases Peculiar to Women,
Loss of Appetite,
Nervous Prostration,
General Debility,

—THROUGH THE AGENCY OF—

Natural Electricity

—AND—

ELECTRIFIED WATER

TESTIMONIALS.

Editor D. F. McCall in Union Springs, Ala., Herald, March 21, 1888.

The senior editor of this paper has just returned from a visit to the Electric shaft at Hillman, Taliaferro county, Georgia, and publishes his experiences and observations there as an answer to about three score of letters and inquiries about the place, received up to date.

Judging by the logic of results it is impossible not to conclude that it is indeed a wonderful place. We do not assume to say that the mysterious force which apparently cures the maladies of those who try the shaft, is electricity, but in our own personal experience we know that we went to this shaft with a severe attack of rheumatism in the knees and elbows and also acute neuralgia in the eye, and that in six days we were entirely cured of rheumatism and greatly relieved as to the neuralgia. We saw people who were brought to this electric shaft on beds and crutches, unable to walk from rheumatism, who went away rejoicing in renewed health and activity. This was done without the aid of any medicine, the patients sitting in the shaft most of each day, and the theory being that they absorb the electricity, which effects the cure, from the electric rock in the shaft.

Whatever may be the power at work, the above statements are absolute facts, the lame have been made to walk and the sleepless man has again found "tired nature's sweet restorer," at the Hillman Electric Shaft. During the week we spent at the shaft there were patients at the hotel from nearly every state in the union, and out of seventy-five people whom we catechised on the subject, only three said that they had not been benefited.

Everybody knows Colonel D. Pike Hill, of Georgia. He has been as prominent in Georgia matters for thirty years as almost any man in the state. The colonel has been and is now at the electric shaft at Hillman, and sends us the following certificate, signed by himself, J. M. Pruitt, of Mississippi, S. B. Boyd, of Tennessee, Julia F. Wilson, Hancock county, Ga., George Dyson, Washington, Ga., and J. D. King, of Toronto, Canada:

TO THE CONSTITUTION: The undersigned visitors at the Hillman Electric Shaft, while many of us here have been benefited, some have not, and in view of the fact that this strange phenomenon as a curative agent is attracting so much attention, deem it proper to tell what we have seen and felt at this wonderful place. We have seen persons after being in the saft for ten or fifteen minutes, become so affected that they would tremble like aspen leaves for hours after leaving the shaft, and with no ill effects, but on the contrary professing to be relieved from pains and aches. Now that this place will cure all who come we do not believe, but we believe many sufferers of nervous diseases will be healed by the treatment used here. The climate is superb, the water excellent, with slight tinge of iron and other substances, all of which is conducive to health, independent of the shaft. While some have been cured as by magic, others improve slowly, but all who give the place a fair trial believe themselves benefited."

This is signed by the above named parties.

Colonel Hill went down last week. He was a skeptic when he started and was only prevailed on by his family. He has suffered some time with rheumatism, and when he made up his mind to go down he said he was going to investigate the well closely and report what he found out about it, and the certificate is the result of his investigations so far.

Colonel Young L. G. Harris, of Athens, one of the best known and reliable business men in the state, writes to Major B. F. Brown, manager of the shaft, about a niece of his who had suffered some time with rheumatism, and who remained at the shaft for two weeks.

"I consider the effect upon my niece as the most remarkable that has come to my knowledge. I have no hesitation in stating the case to any one who inquires of me about it."

Testimonials are accumulating all the time.

Accommodations.

The recently erected Electric Mound Hotel is a 44 room house, modern in its construction and conveniences, of new and approved equipment, an excellent table and superior service. Bath rooms, provided with hot and cold water, are conveniently ranged on each floor, and a supply of pure free stone water is forced by steam power a distance of twenty-three hundred feet to the summit of the hill upon which the hotel stands.

It is within a few hundred yards of the electric rooms, and about a third of a mile from Hillman station.

Expenses.

—ELECTRIC ROOMS—

Admission, $1.00, which gives privilege for the whole day.

Rates at Hotel

$2.00 per day. $10.00 per week.

Hack Fares

between station and hotel, each way, 25 cents a passenger, 25 cents a trunk. Between hotel and electric rooms, each way 10 cents a passenger. For any other information address

B. F. BROWN, Manager,
fri sun wed nrm Hillman, Ga.

DICAL.

THE ADISE
—OF—Resorts, IRLY KNOWN AS
ric ealth Resort!
—AT—
MAN, GA. n branch of the Georgi from Atlanta.
from Augusta.
from Macon.
IVALED
ANY POINT—
Rokcy Mountains
limate, Appetizing Atmos storing Mineral Waters and
, and the only place yet dis-
Electricity
plied to the HEALING OF ISE.
ATURE
KING GREAT CURES
—OF—
m, Diseases,
Insomnia,
Dyspepsia,
Peculiar to Women, of Appetite,
vous Prostration,
General Debility,
GH THE AGENCY OF—Electricity
—AND—FIED WATER
MONIALS.
Call in Union Springs, Ala., d, March 21, 1888.
tor of this paper has just re-sit to the Electric shaft at Hill-county, Georgia, and pub-nces and observations there as out three score of letters and he place, received up to date.
e logic of results it is impossiude that it is indeed a wonder-e do not assume to say that the s force which apparently cures the s of those who try the shaft, is elec-but in our own personal experience we we went to this shaft with a severe matism in the knees and elbows neuralgia in the eye, and that in e entirely cured of rheumatism eved as to the neuralgia. We were brought to this electric and crutches, unable to walk
m. who went away rejoicing in and activity. This was done of any medicine, the patients aft most of each day, and the
at they absorb the electricity, e cure, from the electric rock y be the power at work, the ts are absolute facts, the lame e to walk and the sleepless man
"tired nature's sweet restorer," n Electric Shaft. During the at the shaft there were patients om nearly every state in the of seventy-five people whom we he subject, only three said that en benefited.
nows Colonel D. Pike Hill, of has been as prominent in Georthirty years as almost any man
The colonel has been and is now shaft at Hillman, and sends us certificate, signed by himself, J.
Mississippi, S. B. Boyd, of Ten-
F. Wilson, Hancock county, Ga.,
Washington, Ga., and J. D.
nto, Canada:
NSTITUTION: The undersigned Hillman Electric Shaft, while re have been benefited, some in view of the fact that this omenon as a curative agent is uch attention, deem it proper e have seen and felt at this won-
We have seen persons after ft for ten or fifteen minutes, be-ed that they would tremble like or hours after leaving the shaft.
l effects, but on the contrary
e relieved from pains and aches.
place will cure all who come we
, but we believe many sufferers cases will be healed by the treat-re. The climate is superb, the t, with slight tinge of iron and es, all of which is conducive to endent of the shaft. While n cured as by magic, others im-but all who give the place a fair themselves benefited."
ed by the aboye named parties.
ll went down last week. He when he started and was only by his family. He has suffered th rheumatism, and when he mind to go down he said he was stigate the well closely and re-found out about it, and the cer-result of his investigations so far.
ung L. G. Harris, of Athens, one nown and reliable business men writes to Major B. F. Brown, he shaft, about a niece of his who some time with rheumatism, and d at the shaft for two weeks.
r the effect upon my niece as the able that has come to my knowl-
e no hesitation in stating the case ho inquires of me about it."
ls are accumulating all the time.

Accommodations.
ly erected Electric Mound Hotel house, modern in its construction ences, of new and approved equipcellent table and superior service. provided with hot and cold nveniently ranged on each floor.
of pure free stone water is forced by a distance of twenty-three hunthe summit of the hill upon which nds.
n a few hundred yards of the elec-nd about a third of a mile from tion.

Expenses.
ELECTRIC ROOMS——
$1.00, which gives privilege for the whole day.
Rates at Hotel
day. $10.00 per week.
Hack Fares
tion and hotel, each way, 25 cents
25 cents a trunk. Between hotel rooms, each way 10 cents a pas-r any other information address
B. F. BROWN, Manager,
ed nrm Hillman, Ga.

THE OUTLAWS OF TUNSTALL FOREST

A Stirring Serial of Romantic Adventure.

BY

Robert Louis Stevenson

Author of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "Treasure Island," "Kidnapped," Etc., Etc.

With Illustrations by Leading Artists for the Century, Harper's, St. Nicholas, Etc.

[Copyrighted, 1888, by S. S. McClure. All rights reserved.]

CHAPTER III.

ST. BRIDE'S CROSS.

ST. BRIDE'S CROSS stood a little way back from Shoreby, on the skirts of Tunstall forest. Two roads met—one, from Holywood across the forest; one, that road from Risingham down which we saw the wrecks of a Lancastrian army fleeing in disorder. Here the two joined issue, and went on together down the hill to Shoreby; and a little back from the point of junction, the summit of a little knoll was crowned by the ancient and weather-beaten cross.

Here, then, about seven in the morning, Dick arrived. It was as cold as ever; the earth was all gray and silver with the hoar-frost, and the day began to break in the east with many colours of purple and orange.

Dick set him down upon the lowest step of the cross, wrapped himself well in his tabard, and looked vigilantly upon all sides. He had not long to wait. Down the road from Holywood a gentleman in very rich and bright armour, and wearing over that a surcoat of the rarest furs, came pacing on a splendid charger. Twenty yards behind him followed a clump of lances; but these halted as soon as they came in view of the trysting-place, while the gentleman in the fur surcoat continued to advance alone.

His visor was raised, and showed a countenance of great command and dignity, answerable to the richness of his attire and arms. And it was with some confusion of manner that Dick arose from the cross and stepped down the bank to meet his prisoner.

"I thank you, my lord, for your exactitute," he said, louting very low. "Will it please your lordship to set foot to earth?"

"Are ye here alone, young man?" inquired the other.

"I was not so simple," answered Dick; "and, to be plain with your lordship, the woods upon either hand of this cross lie full of mine honest fellows lying on their weapons."

"Y' 'ave done wisely," said the lord. "It pleaseth me the rather, since last night ye fought foolhardily, and more like a salvage Saracen than any Christian warrior. But it becomes not me to complain that had the undermost."

"Ye had the undermost indeed, my lord, since ye so fell," returned Dick. "But had the waves not holpen me, it was I that should have had the worst. Ye were pleased to make me yours with several dagger marks, which I still carry. And in fine, my lord, methinks I had all the danger, as well as all the profit, of that blind man's medley on the beach."

"Y' are shrewd enough to make light of it, I see," returned the stranger.

"Nay, my lord, not shrewd," replied Dick, "in that I shoot at no advantage to myself. But when, by the light of this new day, I see how stout a knight hath yielded, not to my arms alone, but to fortune, and the darkness, and the surf—and how easily the battle had gone otherwise, with a soldier so untried and rustic as myself—think it not strange, my lord, if I feel confounded with my victory."

"Ye speak well," said the stranger. "Your name?"

"My name, an't like you, is Shelton," answered Dick.

"Men call me the Lord Foxham," added the other.

"Then, my lord, and under your good favor, ye are guardian to the sweetest maid in England," replied Dick; "and for your ransom, and the ransom of such as were taken with you on the beach, there will be no uncertainty of terms. I pray you, my lord, of your good will and charity, yield me the hand of my mistress, Joan Sedley; and take, upon the other part, your liberty, the liberty of these your followers, and (if ye will have it) my gratitude and service till I die."

"But are you not ward to Sir Daniel? Methought, if y' are Harry Shelton's son, that I had heard it so reported," said Lord Foxham.

"Will it please you, my lord, to alight? I would fain tell you fully who I am, how situate, and why so bold in my demands. Beseech you, my lord, take place upon these steps, hear me to a full end, and judge me with allowance."

And so saying, Dick lent a hand to Lord Foxham to dismount; led him up the knoll to the cross; installed him in the place where he had himself been sitting; and standing respectfully before his noble prisoner, related the story of his fortunes up to the events of the evening before.

Lord Foxham listened gravely, and when Dick had done, "Master Shelton," he said, "ye are a most fortunate-unfortunate young gentleman; but what fortune y' 'ave had, that ye have amply merited; and what unfortune, ye have noways deserved. Be of a good cheer; for ye have made a friend who is devoid neither of power nor favour. For yourself, although it fits not for a person of your birth to herd with outlaws, I must own ye are both brave and honourable; very dangerous in battle, right courteous in peace; a youth of excellent disposition and brave bearing. For your estates, ye will never see them till the world shall change again; so long as Lancaster hath the strong hand, so long shall Sir Daniel enjoy them for his own. For my ward, it is another matter; I had promised her before to a gentleman, a kinsman of my house, one Hamley; the promise is old."

"Ay, my lord, and now Sir Daniel hath promised her to my Lord Shoreby," interrupted Dick. "And his promise, for all it is but young, is still the likelier to be made good."

"'Tis the plain truth," returned his lordship. "And considering, moreover, that I am your prisoner, upon no better composition than my bare life, and, over and above that, that the maiden is unhappily in other hands, I will so far consent. Aid me with your good fellows"—

"My lord," cried Dick, "they are these same outlaws that ye blame me for consorting with."

"Let them be what they will, they can fight," returned Lord Foxham. "Help me, then; and if between us we regain the maid, upon my knightly honor, she shall marry you!"

Dick bent his knee before his prisoner; but he, leaping up lightly from the cross, caught the lad up and embraced him like a son.

"Come," he said, "an' y' are to marry Joan, we must be early friends."

CHAPTER IV.

THE GOOD HOPE.

An hour thereafter Dick was back at the Goat and Bagpipes breaking his fast and receiving the report of his messengers and sentries. Duckworth was still absent from Shoreby; and this was [frequently] the case, for he played many parts in the world, shared many different interests, and conducted many various affairs. He had founded that fellowship of the Black Arrow, as a ruined man longing for vengeance and money; and yet among those who knew him best he was thought to be the agent and emissary of the great kingmaker of England, Richard, earl of Warwick.

In his absence, at any rate, it fell upon Richard Shelton to command affairs in Shoreby; and, as he sat at meat, his mind was full of care, and his face heavy with consideration. It had been determined, between him and the Lord Foxham, to make one bold stroke that evening, and, by brute force, to set Joanna free. The obstacles, however, were many; and as one after another of his scouts arrived, each brought him more discomfortable news.

Sir Daniel was alarmed by the skirmish of the night before. He had increased the garrison of the house in the garden; but not content with that, he had stationed horsemen in all the neighboring lanes, so that he might have instant word of any movement. Meanwhile, in the court of his mansion, steeds stood saddled, and the riders, armed at every point, awaited but the signal to ride.

The adventure of the night appeared more and more difficult of execution, till suddenly Dick's countenance lightened.

"Lawless!" he cried, "you that were a shipman, can ye steal me a ship?"

"Master Dick," replied Lawless, "if ye would back me, I would agree to steal York Minster."

Presently after, these two set forth and descended to the harbor. It was a considerable basin, lying among sand hills, and surrounded with patches of down, ancient, ruinous lumber and tumble-down slums of the town. Many decked ships and many open boats either lay there at anchor or had been drawn up on the beach. A long duration of bad weather had driven them from the high seas into the shelter of the port; and the great trooping of black clouds, and the cold squalls that followed one another, now with a sprinkling of dry snow, now in a mere swoop of wind, promised no improvement, but rather threatened a more serious storm in the immediate future.

The seamen, in view of the cold and the wind, had for the most part slunk ashore, and were now roaring and singing in the shoreside taverns. Many of the ships already rode unguarded at their anchors; and as the day wore on, and the weather offered no appearance of improvement, the number was continually being augmented. It was to these deserted ships, and, above all, to those of them that lay far out, that Lawless directed his attention; of tables. In the middle, and besieged by half a hundred violent draughts, a fire of wreckwood blazed and vomited thick smoke.

"Ay, now," said Lawless, "here is a shipman's joy—a good fire and a good stiff cup ashore, with foul weather without and an offsea gale a-snoring in the roof! Here's to the Good Hope! May she ride easy!"

"Ay," said Skipper Arblaster, "'tis good weather to be ashore in, that is sooth. Man Tom, how say ye to that? Gossip, ye speak well, though I can never think upon your name; but ye speak very well. May the Good Hope ride easy. Amen!"

"Friend Dickon," resumed Lawless, addressing his commander, "ye have certain matters on hand, unless I err? Well, prithee be about them incontinently. For here I be with the choice of all good company, two tough old shipmen: and till that ye return I will go warrant these brave fellows will bide here and drink me cup for cup. We are not like shore men, we old, tough tarry-Johns!"

"It is well meant," returned the skipper. "Ye can go, boy; for I will keep your good friend and my good gossip company till curfew—ay, and by St. Mary, till the sun get up again! For, look ye, when a man hath been long enough at sea, the salt getteth me into the clay upon his bones; and let him drink a draw-well, he will never be quenched."

Thus encouraged upon all hands, Dick rose, saluted his company, and going forth again into the gusty afternoon, got him as speedily as he might to the Goat and Bagpipes. Thence he sent word to my Lord Foxham that, so soon as ever the evening closed, they would have a stout boat to keep the sea in. And then leading along with him a couple of outlaws who had some experience of the sea, he returned himself to the harbor and the little sandy creek.

The skiff of the Good Hope lay among many others, from which it was easily distinguished by its extreme smallness and fragility. Indeed, when Dick and his two men had taken their places, and begun to put forth out of the creek into the open harbor, the little cockle dipped into the swell and staggered under every gust of wind, like a thing upon the point of sinking.

The Good Hope, as we have said, was anchored far out, where the swell was heaviest. No other vessel lay nearer than several cables' length; those that were the nearest were themselves entirely deserted; and as the skiff approached, a thick flurry of snow and a sudden darkening of the weather further concealed the movements of the outlaws from all possible espial. In a trice they had leaped upon the heaving deck, and the skiff was dancing at the stern. The Good Hope was captured.

She was a good stout boat, decked in the bows and amidships, but open in the stern. She carried one mast, and was rigged between a felucca and a lugger. It would seem that Skipper Arblaster had made an excellent venture, for the hold was full of pieces of French wine; and in the little cabin, besides the Virgin Mary in the bulkhead which proved the captain's piety, there were many lockfast chests and cupboards, which showed him to be rich and careful.

A dog, who was the sole occupant of the vessel, furiously barked and bit the heels of the boarders; but he was soon kicked into the

DICK AND LORD FOXHAM.

while Dick, seated upon an anchor that was half embedded in the sand, and giving ear, now to the rude, potent and boding voices of the gale, and now to the hoarse singing of the shipmen in a neighboring tavern, soon forgot his immediate surroundings and concerns in the agreeable recollection of Lord Foxham's promise.

He was disturbed by a touch upon his shoulder. It was Lawless, pointing to a small ship that lay somewhat by itself, and within but a little of the harbor mouth, where it heaved regularly and smoothly on the entering swell. A pale gleam of winter sunshine fell, at that moment, on the vessel's deck, relieving her against a bank of scowling cloud; and in this momentary glitter Dick could see a couple of men hauling the skiff alongside.

"There, sir," said Lawless, "mark ye it well! There is the ship for tonight."

Presently the skiff put out from the vessel's side, and the two men, keeping her head well to the wind, pulled lustily for shore. Lawless turned to a loiterer.

"How call ye her?" he asked, pointing to the little vessel.

"They call her the Good Hope, of Dartmouth," replied the loiterer. "Her captain, Arblaster by name. He pulleth the bow oar in yon skiff."

This was all that Lawless wanted. Hurriedly thanking the man, he moved round the shore to a certain sandy creek, for which the skiff was headiug. There he took up his position, and as soon as they were within earshot, opened fire on the sailors of the Good Hope.

"What! Gossip Arblaster!" he cried. "Why, ye be well met; nay, gossip, be ye right well met upon the rood! And is that the Good Hope? Ay, I would know her among ten thousand!—a sweet shear, a sweet boat! But marry come up, my gossip, will ye drink? I have come into mine estate which doubtless ye remember to have heard on. I am now rich; I have left to sail upon the sea; I do sail now, for the most part, upon spiced ale. Come, fellow; thy hand upon't! Come, drink with an old shipfellow!"

Skipper Arblaster, a long-faced, elderly, weather-beaten man, with a knife hanging about his neck by a plaited cord, and for all the world like any modern seaman in his gait and bearing, had hung back in obvious amazement and distrust. But the name of an estate, and a certain air of tipsified simplicity and good-fellowship which Lawless very well affected, combined to conquer his suspicious jealousy; his countenance relaxed, and he at once extended his open hand and squeezed that of the outlaw in a formidable grasp.

"Nay," he said, "I cannot mind you. But what o' that? I would drink with any man, gossip, and so would my man Tom. Man Tom," he added, addressing his follower, "here is my gossip, whoso name I cannot mind, but no doubt a very good seaman. Let's go drink with him and his shore friend."

Lawless led the way, and they were soon seated in an alehouse, which, as it was very new, and stood in an exposed and solitary station, was less crowded than those nearer to the centre of the port. It was but a shed of timber, much like a blockhouse in the backwoods of today, and was coarsely furnished with a press or two, a number of naked benches, and boards set upon barrels to play the part cabin and the door shut upon his just resentment. A lamp was lit and fixed in the shrouds to mark the vessel clearly from the shore; one of the wine pieces in the hold was broached, and a cup of excellent Gascony emptied to the adventure of the evening; and then, while one of the outlaws began to get ready his bow and arrows, and prepare to hold the skiff against all comers, the other hauled in the ship and got overboard, where he held on, waiting for Dick.

"Well, Jack, keep me a good watch," said the young commander, preparing to follow his subordinate. "Ye will do right well."

"Why," returned Jack, "I shall do excellent well indeed, so long as we lie here; but once we put the nose of this poor ship outside the harbour—— See, there she trembles! Nay, the poor shrew heard the words, and the heark misgave her in her oak-tree ribs. But look, Master Dick! how black the weather gathers!"

The darkness ahead was, indeed, astonishing. Great billows heaved up out of the blackness, one after another: and one after another the Good Hope buoyantly climbed, and giddily plunged upon the further side. A thin sprinkle of snow and thin flakes of foam came flying, and powdered the deck; and the wind harped dismally among the rigging.

"In sooth, it looketh evilly," said Dick. "But what cheer! 'Tis but a squall, and presently it will blow over." But, in spite of his words, he was depresoingly affected by the bleak disorder of the sky and the wailing and fluting of the wind; and as he got over the side of the Good Hope and made once more for the landing creek with the best speed of oars, he crossed himself devoutly, and recommended to heaven the lives of all who should adventure on the sea.

At the landing creek there had already gathered about a dozen of the outlaws. To these the skiff was left, and they were bidden embark without delay.

A little further up the beach Dick found Lord Foxham hurrying in quest of him, his face concealed with a dark hood, and his bright armour covered by a long russet mantle of a poor appearance.

"Young Shelton," he said, "are ye for sea, then, truly?"

"My lord," replied Richard, "they lie about the house with horsemen; it may not be reached from the land side without alarum: and Sir Daniel once advertised of our adventure, we can no more carry it to a good end than, saving your presence, we could ride upon the wind. Now, in going round by sea, we do run some peril by the elements: but, what much outweighteth all, we have a chance to make good our purpose and bear off the maid."

"Well," returned Lord Foxham, "lead on. I will, in some sort, follow you for shame's sake; but I own I would I were in bed."

"Here then," said Dick. "Hither we go to fetch our pilot."

And he led the way to the rude alehouse where he had given rendezvous to a portion of his men. Some of these he found lingering round the door outside; others had pushed more boldly in, and, choosing places as near as possible to where they saw their comrade, gathered close about Lawless and the two shipmen. These, to judge by the distempered countenance and cloudy eye, had lou- since gone beyond the boundaries of moderation; and as Richard entered, closely followed by Lord Foxham, they were all three tuning up an old, pitiful sea-ditty, to the chorus of the wailing of the gale.

The young leader cast a rapid glance about the shed. The fire had just been replenished, and gave forth volumes of black smoke, so that it was difficult to see clearly in the further corners. It was plain, however, that the outlaws very largely outnumbered the rest of the guests. Satisfied upon this point, in case of any failure in the operation of his plan, Dick strode up to the table and resumed his place upon the bench.

"Hey?" cried the skipper, tipsily, "who are ye, hey?"

"I want a word with you without, Master Arblaster," returned Dick; "and here is what we shall talk of." And he showed him a gold noble in the glimmer of the firelight.

The shipman's eyes burned, although he still failed to recognize our hero.

"Ay, boy," he said, "I am with you. Gossip, I will be back anon. Drink fair, gossip;" and, taking Dick's arm to steady his uneven steps, he walked to the door of the alehouse.

As soon as he was over the threshold ten strong arms had seized and bound him; and in two minutes more, with his limbs trussed one to another and a good gag in his mouth, he had been tumbled neck and crop into a neighboring hay-barn. Presently his man Tom, similarly secured, was tossed beside him, and the pair were left to their uncouth reflections for the night.

And now, as the time for concealment had gone by, Lord Foxham's followers were summoned by a preconcerted signal, and the party, boldly taking possession of as many boats as their numbers required, pulled in a flotilla for the light in the rigging of the ship. Long before the last man had climbed to the deck of the Good Hope, the sound of furious shouting from the shore showed that a part, at least, of the seamen had discovered the loss of their skiffs.

But it was now too late, whether for recovery or revenge. Out of some forty fighting men now mustered in the stolen ship, eight had been to sea, and could play the part of mariners. With the aid of these, a slice of sail was got upon her. The cable was cut. Lawless, vacillating on his feet, and still shouting the chorus of sea ballads, took the long tiller in his hands, and the Good Hope began to flit forward into the darkness of the night, and to face the great waves beyond the harbor bar.

Richard took his place beside the weather rigging. Except for the ship's own lantern, and for some lights in Shoreby town, that were already fading to leeward, the whole world of air was as black as in a pit. Only from time to time, as the Good Hope swooped dizzily down into the valley of the rollers, a crest would break—a great cataract of snowy foam would leap in one instant into being—and, in an instant more, would stream into the wake and vanish.

Many of the men lay holding on and praying aloud; many more were sick, and had crept into the bottom, where they sprawled among the cargo. And what with the extreme violence of the motion, and the continued drunken bravado of Lawless, still shouting and singing at the helm, the stoutest heart on board may have nourished a shrewd misgiving as to the result.

But Lawless, as if guided by an instinct, steered the ship across the breakers, struck the lee of a great sandbank, where they sailed for a while in smooth water, and presently after laid her alongside a rude, stone pier, where she was hastily made fast, and lay ducking and grinding in the dark.

CHAPTER V.

THE GOOD HOPE—(continued.)

The pier was not far distant from the house in which Joanna lay: it now only remained to get the men on shore, to surround the house with a strong party, burst in the door and carry off the captive. They might then regard themselves as done with the Good Hope; it had placed them on the rear of their enemies; and the retreat, whether they should succeed or fail in the main enterprise, would be directed with a greater measure of hope in the direction of the forest and my Lord Foxham's reserve.

To get the men on shore, however, was no easy task; many had been sick, all were pierced with cold; the promiscuity and disorder on board had shaken their discipline; the movement of the ship and the darkness of the night had cowed their spirits. They made a rush upon the pier; my lord, with his sword drawn on his own retainers, must throw himself in front; and this impulse of rabblement was not restrained without a certain clamor of voices, highly to be regretted in the case.

When some degree of order had been restored, Dick, with a few chosen men, set forth in advance. The darkness on shore, by contrast with the flashing of the surf, appeared before him like a solid body; and the howling and whistling of the gale drowned any lesser noise.

He had scarce reached the end of the pier, however, when there fell a lull of the wind; and in this he seemed to hear on shore the hollow footing of horses and the clash of arms. Checking his immediate followers, he pressed forward a step or two alone, even setting foot upon the down; and here he made sure he could detect the shape of men and horses moving. A strong discouragement assailed him. If their enemies were really on the watch, if they had beleaguered the shoreward end of the pier, he and Lord Foxham were taken in a posture of very poor defense, the sea behind, the men jostled in the dark upon a narrow causeway. He gave a cautious whistle, the signal previously agréed upon.

It proved to be a signal far more than he desired. Instantly there fell, through the black night, a shower of arrows sent at a venture; and so close were the men huddled on the pier that more than one was hit, and the arrows were answered with cries of both fear and pain. In this first discharge Lord Foxham was struck down; Hawksley had him carried on board again at once; and his men, during the brief remainder of the skirmish, fought (when they fought at all) without guidance. That was perhaps the chief cause of the disaster which made haste to follow.

At the shore end of the pier, for perhaps a minute, Dick held his own with a handful; one or two were wounded upon either side; steel crossed steel; nor had there been the least signal of advantage, when in the twinkling of an eye the tide turned against the party from the ship. Someone cried out that all was lost; the men were in the very humor to lend an ear to a discomfortable counsel; the cry was taken up. "On board, lads, for your lives!" cried another. A third, with the true instinct of the coward, raised that inevitable report on all retreats: "We are betrayed!" And in a moment the whole mass of men went surging and jostling backward down the pier, turning their defenceless backs on their pursuers and piercing the night with craven outcry.

One coward thrust off the ship's stern, while another still held her by the bows. The fugitives leaped, screaming, and were hauled on board, or fell back and perished in the sea. Some were cut down upon the pier by the pursuers. Many were injured on the ship's deck in the blind haste and terror of the moment, one man leaping upon another, and a third on both. At last, and whether by design or accident, the bows of the Good Hope were liberated, and the ever-ready Lawless, who had maintained his place at the helm through all the hurly-burly by sheer strength of body and a liberal use of cold steel, instantly clapped her on the proper tack. The ship began to move once more forward on the stormy sea, its scuppers running blood, its deck heaped with fallen men, sprawling and struggling in the dark.

[To be Continued.]

DILLEY PLEADS HYPNOTISM.

The Pennsylvania Editor's Remarkable Explanation of His Strange Disappearance.

From the New York World.

A new and interesting development has occurred in the history of B. Fred Dilley, the Wilkesbarre, Pa., editor whose mysterious disappearance in this city was chronicled in the World on the 6th instant. A letter, postmarked Denver, Col., was received from the young man by his Wilkesbarre friends Saturday, in which he says he remembers nothing from the time he left home until he came to his senses on the morning of the 23d instant, fancying that he heard his little boy calling "papa." On recovering his reason he says he ascertained that he had been acting as editor of a little paper near Butte City, Montana, and had written many brilliant things, of which he, however, had no recollection. On learning his story the owner of the paper bought him a ticket and started him home, and he got as far as Denver, when he concluded that the disgrace was too much for him to face. He feared to meet his family and friends with such an apparently improbable story, and not having courage to proceed home he retraced his steps to Butte City.

Dilley was editor of the Wyoming Valley Times, of Kingston, a small town adjoining Wilkesbarre, Pa., and also a national officer in the Patriotic Order of Sons of America. He is twenty-five years old and his wife is the daughter of a prominent minister. He left home for New York on March 29, having previously drawn from bank $1,000, and he also had some checks with which he proposed buying a new press. He was seen in this city the next morning, at the corner of Cortland and Church streets, by a young man who accompanied him here. Contrary to his usual custom he did not write to his wife, and after five days, learning that he had not called on the printing press manufacturers, his father, who is prominently connected with Pennsylvania coal interests and a man of means, came here in search of him, and he, too, disappeared for a time.

On the 5th inst., the police of this city, having been notified, sent out a general alarm ordering a search for father and son, as it was feared both had fallen into the hands of crooks and been murdered. J. Hazzard Smith, a friend of the family, had come on from Wilkesbarre, and he hired private detectives to assist in the search. The city police soon came to the conclusion that the young man had either gone on a protracted spree or left the city. The elder Dilley was not found here, but returned to his home all right, and the search for the son continued. All sorts of theories were advanced, and the hospitals, the morgue, the asylums, the jails were searched and the steamship offices visited, but no person answering the description could be heard of in any direction.

Then there were reports that he had been seen in Philadelphia, and that before leaving home he had made inquiries as to the advantages of the southwest as a field for journalism, and these, with other rumors, served to maintain a ray of hope in the breasts of his family. Finally it was announced that he had been heard from in Colorado, and this letter sets at rest all fears, but will not entirely allay anxiety, as the suggestion of his lack of courage may mean a mental relapse. Some people who know the young man said he had shown evidences of dissatisfaction with a new business arrangement he had entered into and predicted that he would be heard from in the west, and the outcome shows there was reason for the suggestion. No explanation is made as to what became of his money or checks, and the story in many respects is so strange as to cause much curiosity to know more about the young man's wanderings, which will probably be forthcoming in time.

That tired feeling and loss of appetite are entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine. Try it and see.

JOHN L. WAS BOISTEROUS.

So Says His Fellow-Passenger, the Baptist Missionary—A Libel Suit Threatened.

BOSTON, April 27.—John L. Sullivan says the New York Sun must pay up for the slanderous story it published today concerning his conduct on the Catalonia. "I may be a prizefighter," he said tonight, "but my reputation is worth something." Unless his wrath is appeased a libel suit will follow. Rev. W. R. Manley, the Baptist missionary, who was returning from India, and was Sullivan's fellow-passenger, was seen by a World correspondent today. The story that Sullivan threatened to break the missionary's children in two and toss them overboard is pure fiction, as is also the episode about the matches.

There is no doubt that Sullivan acted boisterously during the passage, was drunk nearly all the time, quarreled with his female companion and with the passengers to some extent, but that he offered violence to any one on the ship is untrue.

When a day or two out from Liverpool Sullivan, who occupied the cabin adjoining Mr. Manley, annoyed the latter at night by his drunken quarrels with Annie Livingston. He threw glasses, shoes, and anything he could lay his hands on against the door, which so exasperated the missionary that he complained to Captain Wylie, who cautioned Sullivan to keep quiet.

COCOA.

WILBUR'S COCOA-THETA

Easily digested; of the finest flavor. A hearty beverage for a strong appetite; a delicate drink for the sensitive. Thoroughly tested; nutritious; palatable; unexcelled in purity; no unpleasant after effects. Requires no boiling.

Marion Harland, Christine Terhune Herrick, Dean A. R. Thomas, M. D., pronounce it the best of all the powdered chocolates. No other equals it in flavor, purity and anti-dyspeptic qualities.

Sold by Grocers. Sample mailed for 10 stamp.

Order of A. A. Weille, Mark Anthony, Phillips & Johnson, E. H. Corbet, Jones & Kerler, H. A. Gregory, Thompson & Co., McWhorter & Son, J. K. McCall, Connally & Christian, and C. E. Murphy, Atlanta, Ga.

H. O. WILBUR & SONS
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
nov6—dóm sat mon wed tope n r m

35 MEDALS AWARDED TO BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER
Cures Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, Colds in the Chest and all Aches and Strains.
Beware of imitations under similar sounding names. Ask for Benson's and take no other.
THE BEST IN THE WORLD

LAMP CHIMNIES.

This is the TOP of the GENUINE Pearl Top Lamp Chimney. All others, similar are imitation.

This exact Label is on each Pearl Top Chimney. A dealer may say and think he has others as good, BUT HE HAS NOT.

Insist upon the Exact Label and Top.
FOR SALE EVERYWHERE. MADE ONLY BY
GEO. A. MACBETH & CO., Pittsburgh, Pa.
For sale by DOBBS & WEY, Atlanta, Ga.
top col nrm or fol rm

QUICKEST ROUTE
—TO—COLUMBUS
—VIA—
Atlanta & West Point R. R.
FARE ONLY $2.90!
And corresponding reduction to Union Springs Troy and Eufaula.
ONLY LINE running solid trains Atlanta to Columbus.
ONLY LINE running double daily trains Atlanta to Columbus.
ONLY LINE over which trains can be run Atlanta to Columbus in 4 hours and 20 minutes.
Leave Atlanta 6:45 a. m. and 2 p. m.
CECIL GABBETT, Gen'l M'g'r. CHAS. H. CROMWELL, Gen'l Pass. Agent

EXCURSION TO TEXAS
—VIA—
The Georgia Pacific R'y
AND BIRMINGHAM, ALA.,
May 10, 11 and 12, 1888.
Atlanta, Ga., to Austin, Texas, and return, $27.35!
Corresponding Low Rates from Georgia and Carolinas.
CHOICE OF ROUTES
Via New Orleans, Shreveport or Memphis,
With complete sleeping car service. Ask for your tickets via Birmingham, Ala. For sleeping car reservation or further information address ALEX. S. THWEATT, Gen. Trav. Pass. Agt., 17 Kimball House, Atlanta, Ga.
GEO. S. BARNUM, G. P. A., Birmingham, Ala.
may4 6

R. J. R.
AND
Maid of Athens
These Tobaccos are having a heavy sale, and it is due to the fact that they are put up with the greatest care and only the best leaf is used in their manufacture.
The rapid increase of sales, reports from customers, and our own judgment, convince us that the manufacturers have attained the desired end, and we with confidence recommend them to the chewers, and solicit orders from dealers.
HARRALSON BROS. & CO.,
ATLANTA, GA.
Two of the most popular brands of Chewing Tobacco now manufactured are those made by R. J. Reynolds & Co., of Winston, North Carolina, and are are perfectly Safe and always Effectual. Never fail to afford speedy and certain relief. More than 10,000 American women use them regularly. Guaranteed superior to all others or cash refunded. If your druggist don't keep "Wilcox's Compound Tansy Pills," accept no worthless nostrum said to be "just as good," but send 4c. for "Woman's Safe Guard," and receive the only absolutely reliable remedy by mail. WILCOX SPECIFIC CO., Phila., Pa.

TANSY PILLS

LADIES USE PEERLESS DYES
Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home.
They will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. They have no equal for Strength, Brightness, Amount in Packages or for Fastness of Color, or non-fading Qualities. They do not crock or smut; 40 colors. For sale by
For sale by Bradfield & Ware, Druggists, 26 White hall st.; Sharp Bros. Druggists and Apothecaries, 202 Marietta st.; M. B. Avery & Co., Druggists. 1y

PETER LYNCH,
95 Whitehall Street,
ATLANTA, - - GEORGIA.
Retail Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Liquors.
Fine Liquors and Wines for medicinal purposes a specialty. Also bottled English Ale, Dublin Porter and Lager Beer. Tobaccos, Cigars and Snuff; Guns and Ammunition; Pistols and Cartridges; also Field and Garden Seeds in their season; Glass and Crockeryware, Boots and Shoes, and many other goods too numerous to mention. A perfect Variety Store. Terms cash. Prices as low as the lowest.
PETER LYNCH.

SUPREME COURT.

Decisions Rendered Friday, May 4.

Reported for the Constitution by Henry C. Peeples, Supreme Court Reporter—Hon. Logan E. Bleckley, C. J.

Towner vs. Thompson et al. Complaint for land, from Glascock. Evidence. New Trial. Before Judge Roney.

Bleckley, C. J.—The court having admitted some evidence illegally, it was not error, in view of the whole case, to grant a second new trial.

Judgment affirmed.

Thomas E. Watson, for plaintiff in error.

James Whitehead, by J. H. Lumpkin, contra.

McMekin vs. Richards et al. Refusal of injunction, from Wilkes. Before Judge Lumpkin.

Bleckley, C. J.—On the facts apparent in the record, there was no abuse of discretion in denying the injunction, whether the chancellor correctly construed the deed in question or not.

Judgment affirmed.

Wm. Wynne and W. L. Phillips, by brief, for plaintiff in error.

S. H. Hardeman, contra.

Seals, trustee, vs. Benson. Claim, from Wilkes. Voluntary deed. Debtor and creditor. Dormant judgment. Liens. Before Judge Lumpkin.

Simmons, J. — Where Palmer, being indebted to Benson, made a voluntary deed to certain land to Mrs Seals, as trustee, and Benson subsequently obtained judgment and had execution levied on the land, and a claim was filed by Mrs. Seals, as trustee, but a consent verdict was taken, finding the land subject, and the original judgment against Palmer becoming dormant before the judgment in the claim case was enforced, it was revived by scire facia and the revived judgment levied on the land, and a claim again imposed by Mrs. Seals, as trustee; no new facts being shown by her in addition to what she showed on the first claim case, and, it appearing that Palmer was in possession up to within two weeks of the trial of the last claim, it was not error to hold the land subject.

(a). It makes no difference whether the lien of the first judgment was lost when it became dormant, or when the lien of the revived judgment attached; the debt on which it was predicated still existed, and the deed being a voluntary one the land was still subject to debt Palmer owed before he made the deed.

Judgment affirmed.

W. M. & M. P. Reese, for plaintiff in error.

S. H. Hardeman, contra.

White vs. Frutzwangler. Foreclosure of Mortgage, from Lumpkin. Before Judge Wellborn.

Simmons, J.—1. Under the evidence, it seems that the jury found too small a sum in favor of defendant in error, rather than too large.

2. If there were any error in the charge complained of in the motion for new trial, it was error favorable to plaintiff in error.

Judgment affirmed.

M.G. Boyd, by brief, for plaintiff in error.

Price & Charters, contra.

McMillan vs. Ambrose, certiorari, from Gwinnett, Before Judge Hutchins.

Simmons, J.—The only question brought up for review in this case is one of fact, and the discretion of the judge below will not be interfered with.

Judgment affirmed.

L. F. McDonald and F. F. Juhan, for plaintiff in error.

C. H. Brand, contra.

Burger, vs. State. Fornication, from Gwinnett. Criminal law. Confession. Corroboration. Before Judge Hutchins.

Simmons, J,—The confession of defendant below, was sufficiently corroborated by evidence that he was not found on the bed with the girl, in the night, and had been there for twenty minutes before he was disturbed.

Judgment affirmed.

W. E. Simmons, by brief, for plaintiff in error; E. T. Brown, solicitor general by J. H. Lumpkin, contra.

The following judgments also were rendered. Reports will appear hereafter:

Dane, et al, vs. Wynn, trustee, from Wilkes. Affirmed.

Wynn, et al, vs. Darden, from Warren. Affirmed.

Craig, et al, vs. Herring and Turner, from Gwinnett. Affirmed.

Wilson, vs. McMillany, from Gwinnett. Affirmed.

Wheeler, vs. Robinson, from Gwinnett. Affirmed.

Supreme Court of Georgia—March Term, 1888.

Order of circuits, with number of cases remaining undisposed of:

Northeastern	2	Chattahoochee	7
Blue Ridge	3	Pataula	6
Cherokee	14	Southwestern	12
Rome	6	Southern	1
Coweta	5	Oconee	9
Flint	11	Brunswick	6
Ocmulgee	2	Eastern	6
Macon	2

PROCEEDINGS YESTERDAY.

Mr. Wm. A. Charters was admitted to practice in the supreme court.

The following cases were argued:

NORTHEASTERN CIRCUIT.

No. 2. Concluded.

No. 3. Bramblet et al, vs. Lumsden et al. Foreclosure of lien, from White. J. J. Kimsey, for plaintiffs in error. C. H. Sutton, H. H. Perry and W. K. Williams, contra.

No. 4. Deyton et al, vs. Bell. Ejectment, from White. C. H. Sutton, W. T. Crane, M. L. Smith and A. F. Underwood & Son, for plaintiffs in error. Wier Boyd, H. H. Perry, W. K. Williams and J. J. Kimsey, contra.

No. 5. Mayor, etc., of Gainesville vs. Caldwell. Case, from Hall, F. M. Johnson, W. F. Findley, H. H. Perry and Geo. K. Looper, for plaintiffs in error. J. B. Estes, Claud Estes and M. L. Smith, contra.

No. 6. Trammell vs. Findley. Claim, from Hall. F. M. Johnson, W. I. Pike and Claud Estes, for plaintiff in error. J. B. Estes, contra.

No. 7. Satterfield, sheriff, vs. Boyd, assignee. Money rule, from Lumpkin. Price & Charters, for plaintiff in error. Wier Boyd and M. G. Boyd, contra.

No. 8. Patton vs. State. Selling liquor, from Habersham. C. H. Sutton and W. S. Erwin, for plaintiff in error. Howard Thompson, solicitor-general, by W. F. Findley, contra.

No. 11. Westfield vs. Mayor, etc., of Toccoa City. Certiorari, from Habersham. Spencer M. Smith and Louis Davis, by James A. Anderson, for plaintiff in error. No. appearance contra.

Adjourned to Monday next at 9 o'clock a. m.

Romance and Reality.

From Youth's Companion.

A private of the confederate army devotes a chapter to the romantic notions ("fancy ideas," he calls them) with which men enlisted for the war.

At first, he says, they gloried in getting wet, cold, hungry and tired, and would even refuse a comfortable shelter, with a feeling that they were serving their country better by "enduring hardness as good soldiers." Under a similar delusions the whole guard would sit up all night watching for the enemy, instead of watching and sleeping by turns, as they soon learned the advantage of doing.

He evidently feels amused, true southerner as he is, at the recollection of the confidence with which the men use to boast that one confederate could whip a dozen yankees.

"Generally speaking," he says, "two to one made hard work for the boys."

In those days wounds were in great demand, as he expressed it. "Many became despondent as they thought that perchance they were doomed to go home safe and sound, and hear for all time the praises of some fellow who had lost his arm by a cannonshot, or had his face ripped open by a sabre, or his head smashed with a fragment of a shell."

Only the wisest imagined that the war could last more than a few months. One good battle would settle it, and many that this might happen before they had found a chance to "make a record."

Time and experience brought many changes. The soldiers soon learned the value of sleep, and grew expert at getting a nap between whiles. They discovered, too, that wounds were to be had without seeking them, and that a stone wall or the stump of a tree was not to be despised when bullets were flying.

One other thing they learned, namely: that they were not only soldiers, but enlisted soldiers, and that drill and a spirit of subordination were quite as important as a mere readiness to fight.

Many, Many Years.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, has stood the test of forty years, and never known to fail. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

HE DID THE HANGING.

From the Chicago News.

I had acquired the habit of "writing up" hangings, and had become so identified with that indulgence that whenever a hanging was advertised to take place within a radius of 150 miles of Little Rock, Ark., I was sent to catch the last words and to comment upon the last appearance of Mr. So-and-so. One day I received instructions from the managing editor to repair at once to Buck Snort and describe the sudden though unexpected death of a notorious negro named Crump. A railway train carried me within about thirty miles of Buck Snort. The rest of the journey must be made on horseback. I experienced some difficulty in securing a horse. One old fellow of a moralizing twist of mind said that he could not let his horses be ridden to a hanging, "especially," he added, "as I don't b'l'eve in this here capital punishment no how." Just then a man who was looking for a suitable location for a distillery mounted one of the old fellow's horses and rode away. Finally, a negro who had announced himself as a candidate for constable, told me that if I would write him a few lines, stating his fitness for the position, he would take his horse from the plow and let me ride him.

"I ain't got no saddle," said he, "but I'se got one o' de best sheepskins in de county."

I agreed to his proposition, wrote a strong indorsement for him, mounted his old horse, and rode away. I had not ridden far until I discovered that the animal was afflicted with extreme and painful leanness; and, upon a sudden turn in the road, when the horse stumbled, I fancied that his backbone had cut through the sheepskin. Great flies, that only flourish in the woods where the ground is damp, came out in annoying swarms, and nit flies—those stingless insects, the very buzz of which frightens horses nearly to death—kept the old nag in a constant state of abject and stumbling terror.

I had traveled about ten miles when I came to an old time planter's residence. Turkey gobblers strutted in the yard, mules brayed in the lot, and on the long gallery, where the vines hung in perfumed profusion, there sat an old man. A glance told me that he was typical of a day that is gone; that he was the lingering echo of a once vigorous shout. I dismounted, tied my horse, approached the old fellow, and asked if I could get a drink of water.

"Come in," he said, arising. "Set down here. Drink of water! Who in thunder wants a drink of water. Here Bill (calling a negro), make two mint juleps."

I sat down. The juleps were brought, and while we were sipping them the old gentleman said: "Why do you go through the country riding such an outrageous critter?"

I explained my difficulty in securing transportation, and added that had it not been for the extreme urgency of my business, I would not have taken the old horse.

"What is your business?"

"I am going over to Buck Snort to report a hanging, and must get there by tomorrow morning."

"Let the hangin' go, an' stay here with me. My folks are all gone to a sort of camp meetin' an' I'm sorter lonesome."

"No, I must go," I pleaded.

"No, sir," he replied, reaching over and placing a hand on my shoulder, "you stay here with me and I'll send a nigger over to report the hangin'. Bill, go tell Felix to come here. He's the man to attend to that business."

I began to protest, declaring that the negro could not do the work.

"You don't know him," replied the planter. "He's as smart as a fox. Why, when I want a colt broke, who breaks him? Felix, sir. When I want anything delicate done, who does it? Felix, I gad, sir. When I want to be rubbed down with a co'n cob fur rheumatiz, who does it? Nobody but Felix, I gad, sir. And now you tell me that Felix don't know how to see a nigger hung? You don't know what you are talking about, sir. Here, Felix [the negro had made his appearance], ketch old Bob an' go over to Buck Snort and see that nigger hung, and hurry back here and tell us all about it."

"My dear sir," said I, "nothing would give me more pleasure than to remain with you, but it is absolutely necessary that I should report that hanging."

"Bill," the old fellow shouted, "take that skiletin of a horse out there and hitch him in the stable. Sit down there (turning to me.) Oh, you mus'n't fool with me. This is one of my julep days, and old marster sent you along here to keep me company."

"I could not get away, so great was the old man's importunity, and, indeed, so threatening was his aspect; so, placing a vague trust in Felix, I surrendered. The old gentleman was delighted. He told bear stories, and related, with many a watery wink, his gambling exploits on the Mississippi river. The hour was late when we went to bed that night, but the old fellow was so loth to release me; so interested had he become with his own past that he went with me to my own room, sat on the foot of the bed, talked the candle out, and then occasionally struck a match to shed a glare upon some point that he desired to be impressive.

Felix returned about 3 o'clock the next day.

"Come here, now, and tell us all about it," said the old man. Then, addressing me, he said: "Git out your book, now, and take down what he says."

I did so, and this is his report:

"Neber seed de lik o' folks. Da 'peered to come from ever'whar. Arter while de sheriff an' some udder gedermen tuk dat nigger outen jail, da did, put him in er spring wagin an' hauled him out in er ole fiel' whar da had put up er sort of er platform. De nigger he didn't 'pear ter be skeered er bit, an' he walked up dem steps an' looked down like er preacher in pulpit. I tell you, he wan't skeered, no he wan't; but I didn' feel jes' right, an' w'en de folks gunter sing my knees gunter hit tergedder. 'Dis wouldn't do me,' thinks I. 'Couldn' stan' no sich progickin ez dat. Doan' want no man ter come puttin' er rope roun' my naik like I wuz er ca'f.' But dat nigger looked at dat rope an' sorter smiled, he did. 'Uh, huh!' thinks I, 'you ain't got ez much sense ez I is, ter stan' dar smilin' at er rope dat gwine choke de life outen you.' Den de nigger gunter talk; knowledged dat he killed de man, an' 'lowed dat he wanter meet us all. Den er ole black 'oman says, 'Oh, Lord,' an one ter lef' she lows, 'Ah, Lawd, w'en dis yer cup gwine ter pass?'

"Den da put er black thing ober de man's head an' fixed the rope roun' his naik. Didn' say er word, but I 'lowed ter merse'f, ole feller, you ain't got ez much 'uman natur in you ez I is, fur I'd be beggin' dem men monstrous, I tell you. Den de right han' 'oman snuffle like she got er bad col' and de lef' han 'oman sorter whine, an' jes' ez I wuz wonderin' w'ut da gwine to do nex', ker flip! down came de nigger an' de fuz stood out on de rope. Dar he wuz hangin' dar, wid his head sorter on one side like er blackbird's. Den de wimmin gunter holler an' I looked roun' an' says, I did: 'Ladies, dar ain' no u'sen hollerin' now, fur de man's dead.' Dat wuz all dar wuz o' de 'formance, an' I says: 'Hump, I doan want no sich progickin 'bout me,' an' I doon nuther. Come er snatchin' er man roun' dat way. Ack lik er man ain' human, da do."

I took down the report, word for word, and sent it in; and as it contained none of the professional remarks incident to the conventional hanging, people were at first surprised, but after they had realized that I was attempting to create a reform, they again admitted me into reasonably fair society.

Opie P. Read.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; Small and easy to take, all druggists sell them.

Call at our Office for Plats

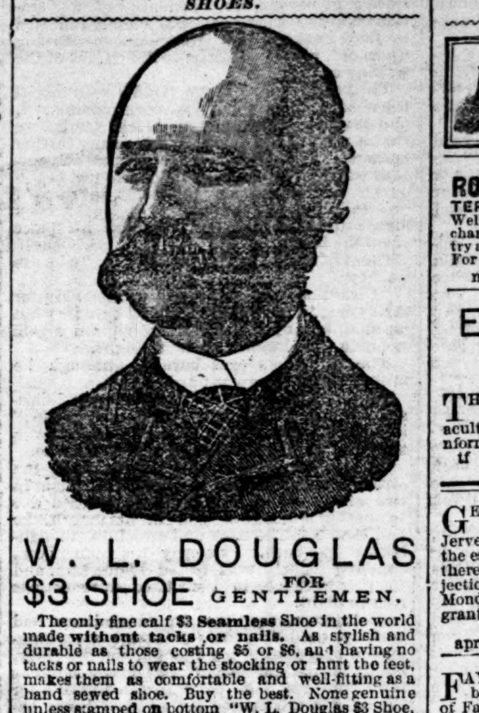

For the auction sale of beautiful Windsor and Orange street lots. Sale next Tuesday at 4 p. m. Sam'l W. Goode & Co.

THAT GAME OF BASEBALL AT THE PARK TODAY

Will be attended by great danger to body and limb, but hundreds of leading players say they find more prompt relief from strains, sprains, bruises, rheumatism, stiff and enlarged joints, lameness, etc., by using Benson's Plaster for such troubles than any other external remedy known to the profession. All athletes as well as those in the ordinary avocations of life unite with baseball players in certifying to the value of this plaster in such accidents. It is prompt, pleasant and pleasing in action and never fails to secure the best results when used according to printed directions. Owing to its popularity many worthless substitutions are offered. Buyers should always ask for Benson's, firmly refusing all other plasters.

thur sat tues top col n r m wky

SHOES.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

The only fine calf $3 Seamless Shoe in the world made without tacks or nails. As stylish and durable as those costing $5 or $6, and having no tacks or nails to wear the stocking or hurt the feet, makes them as comfortable and well-fitting as a hand sewed shoe. Buy the best. None genuine unless stamped on bottom "W. L. Douglas $3 Shoe, warranted."

W. L. DOUGLAS $4 SHOE, the original and only hand sewed welt $4 shoe, which equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $9.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2.50 SHOE is unexcelled for heavy wear.

W. L. DOUGLAS $2 SHOE is worn by all Boys, and is the best school shoe in the world.

All the above goods are made in Congress, Button and Lace, and if not sold by your dealer, write W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

G. H. & A. W. FORCE, Agents, G. W. PRICE, Agent, Atlanta.

jan21—dtf sat sun tues thur

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC

From its combination of valuable medicines, is superior to the essence of Ginger in the cure of Cramps, Colic, Dyspepsia and Bowel disorders, and is invaluable for all Throat and Lung troubles. Use it without delay if you have Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Weak Lungs. 50c. & $1.

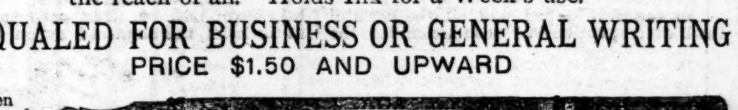

"STAR" FOUNTAIN PEN

Best Writing Pen ever offered to the Public. At a price within the reach of all. Holds Ink for a Week's use.

UNEQUALED FOR BUSINESS OR GENERAL WRITING

PRICE $1.50 AND UPWARD

Every Pen warranted and satisfaction guaranteed

(Cut shows exact style, but is not a fac-simile of size.) The "Star" Pen consists of a highly finished hard rubber holder, fitted with a superior Gold Pen, to suit any writer. In ordering, specify style of pen wanted. Soliciting a trial order. Send by mail or express on receipt of price. Repairs to pens of all kinds a specialty. N. B.—All goods will be shipped promptly on receipt of order. Enclose ten cents extra for registration We are not responsible for goods sent in the regular mails.

ULLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of the "Star" and "Independent" Fountain and Stylographic Pens, 106 and 108 Liberty Street, New York. Liberal discount to agents and dealers. feb11 50t sat tu thu

LAGER BEER.

CHRISTIAN MOERLEIN, Prest. JACOB MOERLEIN, Treas. GEO. MOERLEIN, Vice-Pre
JNO. GOETZ, Jr., Sec'y. JOHN MOERLEIN, Supt. WM. MOERLEIN, Ass't Sup

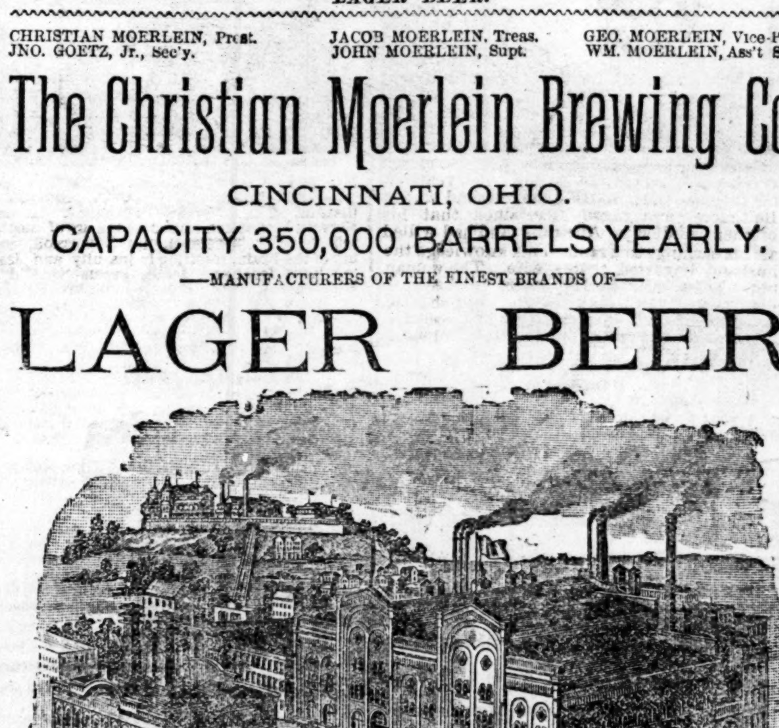

The Christian Moerlein Brewing Co.,

CINCINNATI, OHIO.

CAPACITY 350,000 BARRELS YEARLY.

—MANUFACTURERS OF THE FINEST BRANDS OF—

LAGER BEER.

For Sale Everywhere in Atlanta.

Particular attention is invited to our "NATIONAL EXPORT" which is brewed from the finest grade of imported and domestic hops and malt, and prepared according to the most approved methods. It is a genuine and pure old lager; does not contain a particle of any injurious ingredients, and being absolutely free from all adulterations is invariably prescribed by the most prominent physicians for the convalescent, the weak and the aged. The "NATIONAL EXPORT" was brewed originally for the Australian trade exclusively, but, with our increased facilities, we are now prepared to furnish it to our customers throughout the world.

MOERLEIN'S "NATIONAL EXPORT" was awarded the first premium at every Cincinnati Exposition over all competitors, proving it the best beer in Cincinnati, and, consequently, the finest in the world. The barrel beer of THE CHRISTIAN MOERLEIN BREWING CO. is guaranteed to be equal, if not superior, to any beer brewed at home or abroad. Export beer is put up in casks of Ten Dozen Pints, and is guaranteed to keep in any climate.

Emil Selig, Atlanta Agent.

ALL ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED.

BABY CARRIAGES!

Refrigerators, Ice Boxes, Ice Cream Freezers, Tile Hearths and Facings, Mantels and Grates Gas Fixtures. The best for the least money.

HUNNICUTT & BELLINGRATH.

WEAK MEN MADE STRONG

MEN OF ALL AGES, seeking Health, Strength & Energy, should avoid Drugging the Stomach and send for PROF. MARSTON'S TREATISE, which is published especially in the interests of those who are Weak, Nervous and Debilitated. It is replete with information for men afflicted with chronic, nervous and exhausting diseases, and treats of the only method of cure WITHOUT STOMACH MEDICINES.

Young and Middle Aged Men who have been drugged and humbugged by advertised Nostrums, and who suffer from nervous and physical debility, exhausted vitality, premature decline, are respectfully invited to send for FREE BOOK, which will be sent securely sealed from observation. Address

THE MARSTON CO., 19 Park Place, New York.

SCHOOLS.

Coleman National Business College, Newark, N. J. Open all the year. Best course of Business Training. Best facilities. Pleasantest location. Lowest rates. Shortest time. Most highly recommended write for Catalogue and be convinced. H. COLEMAN, Pres't.

ROSE POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE, TERRE HAUTE, IND.—A SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING. Well endowed, well equipped departments of Mechanical and Civil Engineering, Electricity, Chemistry and Drawing. Extensive Shops and Laboratories. For Catalogue, address T. C. MENDENHALL, Pres. may5—2m may july sat

EMORY COLLEGE, OXFORD, GA.

THE INSTITUTION ENTERS UPON ITS FIFTY first session October 12, 1887, with enlarged faculty and increased facilities. For catalogues and information write to ISAAC S. HOPKINS, President. tf

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S Office, April 6th, 1888.—Edward Theodore Jervey has applied for letters of administration on the estate of Lucy Mary Jervey, deceased. This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. april 7,14,21,28 may 5

FAYETTE COUNTY SHERIFF'S SALE—WILL be sold before the courthouse door in the town of Fayetteville, Fayette county, on the first Tuesday in June next, between the legal hours of sale, the following described property:

Fifty acres of land, more or less, lying in the northeast corner of lot of No. 85, in the 4th district of originally Henry now Spalding county, said land being partly in Fayette county. Sold to satisfy an execution for purchase money in favor of T. T. Mattox vs. S. A. G. Kerlin, issued from superior court of said county. Written notice served on tenant in possession. Levy and sale ordered by plaintiff.

Also at the same time and place will be sold one-sixth (1-6) interest in fifty acres of land in the northwest corner of lot of land No. 40, in the 7th district of Fayette county. Levied on as the property of John Lyon by virtue of a fi fa issued from Fayette superior court in favor of W. J. Gay vs. John Millsapps and John Lyon. D. W. Picks, tenant in possession, given written notice.

Also at the same time and place will be sold eighty-five acres of land, being part of lot No. 107, in the 4th district of Fayette county. Levied on as the property of Horne and Starr to satisfy a tax fi fa issued by J. H. Williford, tax collector of Forsyth county, against Horne and Starr. Defendant notified by mail. Levy made by L. M. Moore, L. C., and turned over to me. This May 2, 1888. J. W. BROWN, Sheriff. May 5—dlt wk4t

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—ORDINARY'S Office, April 6th, 1888.—Wesley J. Gaines has applied for letters of guardianship of the person and property of Lida E. and Francis S. Grant, minors, under the age of fourteen years. This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. April 7 14 21 28 May 5.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNEY—ORDINARY'S Office, April 6th, 1888.—Robert F. Maddox, administrator of Hannah Weakley, represents that he has fully discharged the duties of his said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in July next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said trust. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. 1aw3mos

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY, ORDINARY'S office, February 3d, 1888.—John Domini, administrator of D. August Domini, represents that he has fully discharged the duties of his said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in May next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said trust. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. feb4 1aw3m

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY, ORDINARY'S office, February 3, 1888.—J. Carroll Payne, administrator of Maria Reese, represents that he has fully discharged the duties of his said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in May next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said trust. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. feb 4 1aw4w

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S Office, March 2d, 1888. John C. Battle, administrator of Somerfield Farris, represents that he has fully discharged the duties of his said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in June next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said administrations. mar 3 3 mos sat W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S office, March 2, 1888.—Rosalie Haiman, administratrix of Harman L. Haiman, deceased, represents that she has fully discharged the duties of her said trust, and prays for letters of dismission.

This is, therefore, to notify all concerned, to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in June next, why said administratrix should not be dismissed from said administration. mar 3-3m sat W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY, ORDINARY'S office, February 3, 1888.—Nancy E. Pittman, administratrix of Richard A. Pittman, represents that she has fully discharged the duties of said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned, to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in May next, why said administratrix should not be discharged from said trust. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. feb 4 sat

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY, ORDINA'RYS office, March 2nd, 1888.—Charles E. Thompson, administrator of Lizzie Clifton represents that he has fully discharged the duties of his said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned, to show, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in June next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said administration. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. march 3—3m sat

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S office, April 6, 1886.—Notice is hereby given to all concerned that William C. Houghton, late of said county; died intestate, and no person has applied for administration on the estate of said deceased, and that administration will be vested in the county administrator, or some other fit and proper person, on the first Monday in May next, unless valid objection is made thereto. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. April 7 14 21 28 May 5

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—COURT OF ORdinary, chambers, April 6, 1888.—To the heirs-at-law of Catherine E. Jacobs, deceased, who reside out of said state: E. M. Roberts and C. J. Simmons having as executors applied for probate in solemn form of the last will of said deceased, you are hereby cited to be and appear at the next May term of said court, to be held on the first Monday in May next, as said will of said deceased will then be offered for probate in solemn form. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. April 7 14 21 28 May 5

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—ORDINARY'S Office, April 6th, 1888.—R. N. Varnadoe has applied for letters of administration on the estate of Martha J. Newman, deceased. This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. April 7 14 21 28 May 5.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S Office, April 6th, 1888.—Eugene S. White has applied for letters of administration on the estate of George E. White, deceased. This is, therefore to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. april 7,14,21,28 may 5

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S office, April 6, 1888—William Howell Trezevant has applied for letters of administration on the estate of Thomas Henry Trezevant, deceased. This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. april 7, 14, 21, 28, May 3

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S office, April 6, 1888.—Joseph S. Cook, administrator of Afton B. Cook, deceased, has applied for leave to sell the land of said deceased. This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else leave will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. april 7, 14, 21, 28, May 5

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S office, April 6, 1888.—Charles D. Ford has applied for letters of administration on the estate of T. J. Baker, deceased.

This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objections, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. April 7 14 21 28 May 5

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY. ORDINARY'S office, February 3, 1888.—J. L. Kennedy, administrator of E. A. Morris, represents that he has fully discharged the duties of his said trust, and prays for letters of dismission. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to show cause, if any they can, on or before the first Monday in May next, why said administrator should not be discharged from said trust. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. feb 4 sat

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—ORDINARY'S office, April 6, 1888—Notice is hereby given to all concerned that William Titlebaum, late of said county, died intestate, and no person has applied for administration on the estate of said deceased, and that administration will be vested in the county administrator or some other fit person, on the first Monday in May next, unless valid objection is made thereto. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary. april 7, 14, 21, 28, may 5

REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE—A FIVE ROOM COTTAGE ON CORner of North avenue and Cherry street. W. A. Hemphill.

FOR SALE—LOT 50x100, CORNER CAPITOL AVenue and Fair street; lot 40x90 Fair street, between W. A. Haygood and Captain Milledge. Less expensive lots, improved or vacant, on other streets. Easy terms on latter. 17½ Peachtree J tooom 8. tf Rooms.

ROOMS FOR RENT—TWO PLEASANT FRONT rooms, centrally located, 13 Houston street. thur sat sun

FOR RENT—THREE UPSTAIRS CONNECTING rooms, modern improvements; to party without children. Apply 344 Whitehall st. mon wed sat

Miscellaneous.

FOR RENT—CENTRAL STOREROOM, NO. 15 Marietta street; one of the best localities in the city. Apply to Dr. Marvin, 365 Whitehall street. tf

PERSONAL.

ATLANTA ORIGINAL WATER CURE FOR chronic diseases, by Dr. F. Von Kalow, 61 Wheat street. Neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous pros ration. Diseases peculiar to woman a specialty. Write for particulars. 1m

ESTATE OF JAMES McC. CREIGHTON, DEceased, letters testamentary on the above estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make payment and those having claims, to present the same without delay to Louise H. Creighton, S. E. corner 48th and Chester ave.' Philadelphia tues and sat.

BUSINESS MEN DERIVE GREAT SATISFACtion from the use of our "Ironclad" notes which waive homestead rights and all the exemptions. We now send, postpaid, the above described note, 100 in a book, for 40c, or a book of 50 for 25c. We have also the above form with seven lines blank for taking a mortgage, which we call an "Ironclad note with mortgage clause." We send these, postpaid, 100 in a book, for 60c; 50 in a book for 35c. Address The Constitution. d&wky tf

WE SEND BY MAIL POSTPAID TO ANY ADdress the simplest and best forms of plain warranty land deeds, quit claim deeds, blank mortgages and blank bonds for title at the following prices: 1 blank 5 cents; 3 blanks 10 cents; 1 dozen blanks 30 cents; 100 blanks $1.50. Address The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. tf

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—AT ONCE, THIRTY GOOD CARpenters to work at U. S. barracks. For further information call on W. Compton, at U. S. reservation, or W. R. Maher, 171 Mangum st. 4t

WANTED 200 TEAMS IMMEDIATELY $3 TO 3.50 per day for good teams. Apply to McDonald, Shea & Co., 47 West Alabama street. tf

WANTED IN ROME, GA., 100 ABLE-BODIED railroad track hands. Wages $1.25 to $1.35 per day. D. Callahan, Contractor, Rome and Decatur railroad. 2w

MORE MEN WANTED—TO SELL OUR FRUIT and ornamental stock. We give good wages and steady work. Write for terms to E. B. Richardson & Co., Nurserymen, Geneva, N. Y. apr22—26t

WANTED—A FEW PERSONS IN EACH place to do light writing. Enclose stamp for 50-page book of particulars to J. H. Woodbury, Albany, N. Y. thu-sat-tu

WANTED—ORGANIZERS FOR SOCIETIES—Successful men can secure permanent position. All correspondence confidential. Address, room 91 No. 230 La Salle street, Chicago, Ill. tus, thurs, sat

WANTED—AN ACTIVE MAN OR WOMAN IN every county to sell our goods. Salary $75 per month and expenses. Canvassing outfit and particulars free. Standard Silverware Co., Boston, Mass. tues thu sat sun

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—LADIES AND YOUNG MEN TO decorate holiday novelties for fall and winter trade; steady employment; $9 per week earned All materials furnished; work mailed free. Address New England Decorative Works, 19 Pearl street, Boston, Mass., P. O. Box 5078. tue thu sat

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED WOMAN TO take charge of pantry in house of 60 rooms. Must know how to make all kinds of pastry and dessert. None but those with experience need apply. Address postoffice box 232, Atlanta, Ga. 3t

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

SITUATION WANTED—A YOUNG MAN OF good business qualities desires a situation; can furnish references. Address "G," 86 E. Ellis. sat sun

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE

WANTED—A WHITE WOMAN WISHES TO have a position as a first-class cook in a private family or a hotel. Good references given, if desired. Address C. D., care of this office.

WANTED—AGENTS.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS FOR BUSTLE AND extender combined: just the thing for winter dresses. Also the "B" hose supporter. Both entirely new. Ladies' Supply Co., 287 Washington Boulevard, Chicago. tues thurs sat sun

WANTED—AGENTS TO SELL THE MISSOURI steam washer. It will pay intelligent men and women seeking employment to write for my illustrated circular and terms for this celebrated washer. Why does it pay to act as my agent? Because arguments in its favor are so numerous and convincing that sales are made without difficulty. Sent on two weeks' trial at my expense, for return, if not satisfactory. J. Worth, sole manufacturer, 1710 Franklin ave. St. Louis, Mo. sat 13t

LADY AGENTS—$10 A DAY SURE; NEW RUBber undergarment. Mrs. H. F. Little, Chicago, Ill. 10t

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHERE. THREE new articles just out Big money. Exclusive territory. Inclose stamp for particulars. Address Kinder Bros., Manufacturers, Lacrosse, Wis. 1w

WANTED—A LIVE SALESMAN IN NASHville, Memphis, Birmingham, Mobile and other cities south and west. Address Mercantile Manufacturing Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

WANTED—LADY AGENTS—"A" SKIRT AND Bustle Combined and B. Hose Supporters. Both new. Big profits. Secure towns for spring trade. Ladies' Supply Co., 287 W. Washington St., Chicago.

$100 TO $300 A MONTH CAN BE MADE working for us. Agents preferred who can furnish their own horses and give their whole time to the business. Spare moments may be profitably employed also. A few vacancies in towns and cities. B. F. Johnson & Co., 1009 Maine street, Richmond, Va. 1m.

WANTED—FOR LADY AGENTS THERE IS nothing with which you can make sales so quick and easy as with the Mme. Williamson Corset. Always reliable. Williamson Corset & Brace Co., No. 18 S. 6th street, St. Louis, Mo.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

WANTED—IN AN ESTABLISHED MANUFACturing concern, selling staple goods in South Carolina, North Carolina, Florida, Mississippi and Georgia, and could extend further, a partner with $15,000. Output and sales increased treble since first established, and is now in want of capital to increase business; profits large and rare chance for right party; business in its every surrounding will bear closest scrutiny. Address or call on Krouse & Welch, real estate and loan agents, 2 Kimball house. sa su mo

PARTNER WANTED—ONE QUARTER INTERest in first-class manufacturing business for $15,000. Money secured by mortgage against loss. Will take three partners with $5,000 each. Address Postoffice box 228, Atlanta, Ga. 1w

BOARDERS WANTED.

THE TALMADGE, 37 AND 39 WALTON—BOARD by the day, week or month. 1m

DAY AND PERMANENT BOARDERS CAN BE accommodated with good fare and pleasant rooms. Terms reasonable. No. 33 North Forsyth street. sun tue thr sat

$4 TO $5 PER WEEK, ELEGANTLY LOCATED, nicely furnished. Piano in the parlor. Table unexcelled. Strictly first-class. 108 Marietta street.

ONE OR TWO PLEASANT ROOMS WITH board can be obtained at 75 E. Hunter; also a few day boarders can be accommodated. 3t

LOCAL, TRANSIENT AND DAY BOARDERS CAN obtain delightful rooms, polite attention and excellent board at Nos. 26 and 28 N. Forsyth street.

PICNICS.

EXCURSIONS! EXCURSIONS! NEW ROAD! New scenery! The attention of committees appointed to arrange for excursions and picnics for Sunday schools and societies is called to Mt. Zion Camp Ground, located in Spalding county, on the line of the A. & F. R R., 40 miles from Atlanta. This camp ground is in a beautiful grove of original forest trees of over two hundred acres in extent, has a fine spring of the purest water and has the largest and best "stand" perhaps in the state, furnishing ample shelter for over one thousand people. Altogether it is one of the most attractive places for excursions and picnics to be found anywhere contiguous to Atlanta. Flint river, 35 miles from Atlanta, also furnishes a pretty and attractive place for fishing parties.

The management of the A. & F. R. R. expect to be ready in ten days to have abundant first class accommodations, and beg that our friends in Atlanta call at the office, 42½ Alabama street, and learn what the A. & F. will do for them. apl 19-10t

LADIES' COLUMN.

FEATHERS CLEANED, CURLED AND DYED also kid gloves, at Phillip's, 14 Marietta street

FOR SALE—HORSES, CARRIAGES

FOR SALE—ONE GOOD SADDLE HORSE. WILL sell cheap. Apply 24 and 6 Decatur street. Edwin Bates & Co. thur fri sat and sun

AUCTION SALES.

AUCTION—PRATT & KEMBLE WILL SELL this day at 10:30, Horses, mules and carriages at 30 Peachtree street, near the well.

WOLFE'S BARGAIN STORE, 98 WHITEHALL street, the only place in Atlanta to buy goods at your own price. Bedsteads $1.50 to $8, bureaus $3 to $12, dressers $6 to $15, wool pants $1 to $3, good cassimere coats $1.25 to $3.50, boys' pants 50c. Constantly on hand oil paintings, carpets, office furniture, mattrasses, bed springs, show cases and sewing machines at slaughtering prices. Three good pianos and one family horse at a bargain. Money advanced on consignments. Auction sales attended to. Cash paid for household and office furniture. H. Wolf, agent.

LOST.

LOST—$100 IN FIVE $20 BILLS, BETWEEN THE corner of Hunter and Whitehall streets and the terminus on the Peachtree street car line, or No. — Peachtree line. Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving same at this office.

COW STRAYED, DARK BROWN COLOR, NO horns and was wearing halter with chain attached. Liberal reward for her return to corner Washington and Rawson st. J. G. Oglesby. 2t

FOR RENT—HOUSES, COTTAGES.

8-ROOM—211 CAPITOL AVENUE—8-ROOM house, all modern improvements, on long lease. Will make special inducements. Apply to Mrs. Mary Lunkie, 151 Capitol avenue. tf

FOR RENT—ONE SEVEN ROOM HOUSE CORner Farlie and Poplar streets, No. 35, within 2 blocks of the postoffice, with gas, water and all modern improvements; paved streets and sidewalks and in good neighborhood. Apply to Frank P. Rice. tf

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS

FLOWERS IN GREAT VARIETY; ALSO, THOUsands of Coleus, Acyranthus, Alternantheras, Golden Feather Fern, and all kinds of ornamental border and bedding plants with which to decorate your lawns cheap. Cut flowers at all seasons. Mrs. A. Lambert, East Fair street, near Oakland cemetery. Telephone No. 4. 10t

FLOWERS, FLOWERS—A LARGE ASSORTMENT of plants and flowers of the finest varieties, very cheap. 46 Formwalt street. 4t

TYPE WRITER—A NEW $10 TYPE WRITER for $5. Krouse & Welch, 2 Kimball house. 5t

FOR SALE CHEAP—ITALIAN HONEY BEES, IN first class new style hives. Now full of honey. Harpers, 7 Peachtree street. 4t

ANY ONE DESIRING A SODA FOUNTAIN, either new or second-hand, will do well to write or call on T. S. Rogers, agent for James W. Tuft, 92 Ivy street, Atlanta, Ga. Orders by mail or inquiries will be promptly attended to. april3 1m

MEDICAL.

NERVES! NERVES!!

What terrible visions this little word brings before the eyes of the nervous.
Headache, Neuralgia, Indigestion, Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration,
All stare them in the face. Yet all these nervous troubles can be cured by using

Paine's Celery Compound

For The Nervous
The Debilitated
The Aged.

THIS GREAT NERVE TONIC

Also contains the best remedies for diseased conditions of the Kidneys, Liver, and Blood, which always accompany nerve troubles.

It is a Nerve Tonic, an Alterative, a Laxative, and a Diuretic. That is why it

CURES WHEN OTHERS FAIL.

$1.00 a Bottle. Send for full particulars.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Proprietors, BURLINGTON, VT.

The best and surest Remedy for Cure of all diseases caused by any derangement of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Bowels.

Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Bilious Complaints and Malaria of all kinds yield readily to the beneficent influence of

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

It is pleasant to the taste, tones up the system, restores and preserves health.

It is purely Vegetable, and cannot fail to prove beneficial, both to old and young.

s a Blood Purifier it is superior to all others. Sold everywhere at $1.00 a bottle.

SHORTEST AND BEST ROUTE

—BETWEEN—

Atlanta and Columbus

IS VIA THE

GEORGIA MIDLAND R. R.

Which Reduced the Rate.

NOW ONLY $2.90.

THROUGH COACHES LEAVE ATLANTA

(Via Central R. R. and Griffin) 2: 20 p. m., arrivin in Columbus, 7.15 p. m., making on ly one chang to Union Springs, Troy and Eufaula.

NORTH BOUND TRAIN

LEAVES COLUMBUS, 8:20 A. M.,
ARRIVES ATLANTA 1:15 P. M.,

Making sure connection in Union Depot for a points beyond.

Train leaves McDonough south at 2:30 p. m.

Accommodation Train leaves Griffin at 5:00 a. m., arriving at Columbus 10:55 a. m.

Ask for tickets via the Georgia Midland Road.

C. W. CHEARS, Gen. Pass. Agent. M. E. GRAY, Supt.

Ask Grocers for our Patent Barley CRYSTALS, a new, unrivalled Cereal Food, for Breakfast Tea & Dessert. If not sold there, write us for free samples. GLUTEN FLOUR and SPECIAL DIABETIC FOOD are invaluable waste-repairing flours for Dyspepsia, Diabetes, Debility & Children's Food. No bran; mainly free from starch. For all family uses nothing equals our HEALTH FLOUR. Send for circular offering 4 lbs. free. FARWELL & RHINES, Props., Watertown, N.Y.
may2–d8t wed sat n r m

Big G has given universal satisfaction in the cure of Gonorrhœa and Gleet. I prescribe it and feel safe in recommending it to all sufferers.

A. J. STONER, M.D., Decatur, Ill.

PRICE, $1.00.

Sold by Druggists.

Big G. Cures in 1 TO 5 DAYS. Guaranteed not to cause Stricture. Mf'd only by the Evans Chemical Co. Cincinnati, Ohio. Trade Mark.

Tag Your Dogs.

GET TAGS FOR YOUR DOGS AT THE CITY Clerk's Office, corner Hunter and Pryor streets, or they will be captured and taken out by the dog wagon and killed.

J. H. GOLDSMITH, City Clerk.
1m

CHATTANOOGA, ROME & COLUMBUS RAILROAD.

TIME TABLE NO. 10.

In Effect March 26th, 1888.

South Bound.	Daily. No. 1.	No. 3.
East Rome	6 30 am	2 30 pm
Holmes	6 38 am	2 38 pm
Holders	6 50 am	2 50 pm
Silver Creek	7 00 am	3 00 pm
Chambers	7 04 am	3 04 pm
New Bethel	7 16 am	3 16 pm
Summit	7 24 am	3 24 pm
Brooks	7 32 am	3 32 pm
Lake Creek	7 36 am	3 36 pm
Dyars	7 48 am	3 48 pm
Cedartown	8 00 am	4 00 pm

North Bound.	Daily. No. 2.	No. 4.
Cedartown	8 30 am	5 00 pm
Dyars	8 42 am	5 12 pm
Lake Creek	8 54 am	5 24 pm
Brooks	8 58 am	5 28 pm
Summit	9 06 am	5 36 pm
New Bethel	9 14 am	5 44 pm
Chambers	9 25 am	5 56 pm
Silver Creek	9 32 am	6 02 pm
Holders	9 40 am	6 10 pm
Holmes	9 52 am	6 22 pm
East Rome	10 00 am	6 30 pm

All trains run to East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia passenger depot in East Rome.

Connect at Rome with East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, and with Rome railroad at Cedartown with East and West Railroad of Alabama.

D. WILLIAMSON, President. F. H. HARRIS, Acting Supt.

UNCLE BILL'S COON.

By Hamilton Jay, in Detroit Free Press.

Half a mile, as the buzzard flies, from the thrifty little settlement of Gopher Hope stands the economical mansion of Bill Job, negro by complexion, rail splitter by pretended occupation and loafer by a certainty of disposition. The house is the usual one that obtains among the low tier of Ham's descendants; one story high, of rough hewn logs, one room in luxuriance, a stick and mud chimney at one side and a pigpen and chicken house at the other. A lean-to in the rear accommodates the half dozen children at night. In the daytime all outdoors is their place and playroom, all nature their handmaid and playfellow.

To the hogpen three sinewy but somewhat blase shotes come at night to eat the neighboring planter's corn. In and around the house some score of fowls fight and cackle and lay, as has been the habit of fowls from time immemorial. A yellow dog has pre-empted the doorstep and lies there blinking in the sunshine. Occasionally he shifts his position, snarls and apparently tries to denude himself of hair and hide with either hind foot, urged thereto by the altogether gratuitous sociability of countless fleas. The stick and mud chimney leans jocosely backward as if it had been on a carousal with other chimneys of like bacchanalian proclivities and had not yet recovered its equilibrium.

In front of the house, at a distance of say fifty yards, a pond bubbles and bubbles, or would bubble and bubble, were it not half stagnant and altogether unlovely in appearance, and ephemeral in ultimate destiny.

On the edge of this pond a fire is blazing; a fire of fat pine knots, over which a large kettle swings exuberant in soapy water and a nondescript assortment of dirty clothing. In the rear of this a rude bench bends under the burden of three primative tubs made by sawing in two whisky barrels—a good use to which they may be put, even when full, without much retarding the onward march of civilization.

At the larger of these tubs, resplendent in calico dress, huge bustle, turbaned head and bared arms and feet stands Mrs. Job, fat, industrious and pious, singing as she works. Her voice has the true campmeeting timbre and is a famous one the country round for its effective manipulation of turning souls trembling in the balance of the revival. With a dexterous turn of the wrist she slams the drenched and soaking garment upon the bench and belabors it with the batting stick, as if it was a personal enemy doing penance for unforgiven sins. To this somewhat destructive accompaniment she sings:

My Savior done fergibben' me,
Glory, hallejulah!
Zacheus kem down from dat tree,
Glory, hallejulah!
No moggage res's epon my soul;
I'm gwine whar old Jordan roll!
Glory, hallejulah!

My soul war smartly in de grass,
Glory hallejulah!
But Jesus pick it clean at las',
Glory, hallejulah!
He bruk de fence an' walk right in,
An' dribe erway ole debbil sin!
Glory, hallejulah!

Some distance away and nearer to the pond, sprawled out upon the ground six feet of loafing, ragged, half drunken humanity. He was black with an exceeding great blackness, like unto the portentous cloud that covered up the earth when Noah barred the door of the ark. Now he cast a look lazily over to where his good wife was earning corn bread for both with the sweat of her brow, and then resumed his profitless meditations. A short pipe was in his mouth, his hands clasped above his head. Above, a buzzard, in ever narrowing circles, watched him closely, and then, finally making up its mind that he was not quite dead, flew away with an impatient croak. About two feet away a piney woods "rooter" stretched out upon the sward, in appreciative imitation of its human brother's attitude.

From a stump in the pond a turtle calmly surveyed the scene, and whispered to a snake slowly drifting by that Bill Job was drunk again.

The washing, cooking and rinsing all done, and the clothes hung up to dry, the weary woman turned to where her leige lord lay and opened out the vials of wrath upon him: "Ye lazy, triflin', no account, two-bit nigger, heah hits Sat'day night an' you hain't done er lick er work this week. Ye' needn't think I'm gwinter buy a tu'ky fer ye'. Ef ye' don' have sumfin' good by 10 o'clock ter-morrer, I'm gwinter take de chillen an' go to pop's fer dinner. Does ye' heah me, Bill Job, wha' ye' gointer do fer dinner termorre."

"De Lawd will pervide," was the pious but somewhat indefinite answer.

That night the deep baying of a hound knocked at the doors of Bill's sleep. His slumber was somewhat restless on account of the death of the whisky he had imbibed during the day. Shaking his spouse, who was placidly snoring by his side, he excitedly exclaimed:

"Didn't I tell yer de Lawd would pervide? I'se feared you's gettin ter be a backslider. Some dese yer dogs has treed a coon an' dat coon am gwinter be our dinner."

Hastily dressing, he left the house, stumbling through the darkness, through swamp and over a very prodigality of roots and fallen trees. A mile of such work brought him to a persimmon tree, at the edge of a small pond. Under this tree his own dog was barking and leaping about in a very frenzy of excitement. From a branch high up the blazing eyes of the coon shown into his own bleared and uncertain ones. Bringing his old army musket to his shoulder, he fired, and down came the coon. Disemboweling it, he slung it over his shoulder and hurried home. Aunt Polly was awake as he entered.

"Did ye' git hit?" she eagerly asked.

"I did that, me an' Mose"—the dog—"an' hits the fattest coon I ebber seed. Mus' weigh thirty poun'. Ye' got plenty ob 'taters ain't ye? We'll hab de boss dinner. Didn't I tell ye' de Lawd gwinter pervide? Don' ye' be so brash anuder time. I hung hit 'gin de house."

In the clear crisp beautiful morning, children and all turned out to see the prize.

Hanging against the house was some disemboweled creature, fat and furry, its countenance even in death wearing a sarcastic smile.

They gazed at it in silent wonder, Bill sheepish, the children grinning, Polly wrathful.

"Why, you dogonned drunken fool, you," said she, "you've gone an' killed Prof. Stebbins' pore ole black tomcat!"

Woman Growing Larger.

From the Philadelphia Press.

"Women are certainly larger than they used to be," said a dressmaker yesterday.

"What makes you think so?" was the query.

"My order books, for one thing, kept by mother and myself for almost forty years. Every dressmaker has a record of the measures of regular customers. I have never destroyed any of ours, and the older books are entertaining memoranda. See, this little black covered book is for 1859. Open it anywhere you please. There you have it, all the proof you wanted. Miss ——, waist measure, 18 inches; Mrs. ——, 20 inches; and the bust measure and skirt lengths are in proportion. Turn the leaves, you will find 27 inches, 18 inches, 18½ inches, 19 inches repeated continually. Sometimes you come across one as low as 16 inches. I think I can remember making dresses where the waist was only 15 inches. Nearly all the entries are for slender women, narrower chested than I cut for now and not so tall. I took a fancy to go over the list quite systematically a few days ago. I took fifty women whose gowns my mother and I cut in 1856 and 1857. The average waist measure is only twenty-one inches, and I can tell by the names that some were middle aged, heavy women whose figures carry the average up. I should say that most of the young women had waists not over twenty inches. Indeed, I know the girls used to come to me when their wedding trousseaux were ordered and tell me they must be laced to eighteen inches for the bridal gown to be fitted, for it wasn't the proper thing to be any larger than that on one's wedding day.

"'How big are girls now?' Philadelphia girls of 20 or 22 years old will average waists of twenty-three inches at least. If they are five feet seven or eight tall they will have twenty-five or twenty-six inch waists. There are plenty of women who are not ashamed of waists considerably larger than that if they are well formed in proportion. I should say that women are an inch or two taller and three or four inches larger round than their mothers were. 'Healthier?' O, that goes without saying."

A REMARKABLE ROMANCE.

The Marriage of a Young Woman to the "Double" of Her Betrothed.

Westminister (Md.) Correspondence Chicago Herald.

The deathbed confession of Edmund Davies, who died recently in Carroll county, has just been made public, and is a sequal to a strange story. His life was a remarkable one in many instances. Twenty-two years ago Edmund Davies was a young man, in his twentieth year. He was not a handsome man, neither was he ill-looking. He had a younger brother just eighteen. His name was Frank, and he was an exact double of Edmund. The two brothers lived alone, except an old negress, their housekeeper. The parents of the boys had died many years before. It was early in 1864 that Edmund Davies began paying attention to Fannie Forbes, the younger daughter of a neighboring farmer. The brothers were very much attached to each other, and Frank also was a frequent visitor to the Forbes farm dwelling. The girl often took the one for the other, and some time afterward agreed upon a signal with Edmund, so that she could readily know to whom she was talking. The neighbors could not identify the brothers, and they were known only and referred to as the Davies boys. It was the girl that suggested to Edmund that when he came to her he was to use the Latin word "idem" (the same.) Time passed, and after a courtship of six or seven months Edmund proposed marriage. Fannie accepted because she had learned to love him fervently. Then it was that she asked him whether he did not have some mark on his arm or hand by which she could readily distinguish him in case of sudden death or serious accident. He told the girl that on his next visit he would disclose a mark by which she would recognize him in any case. Edmund went home, his mind fraught with pleasure because he was to marry the girl of his heart. He loved his younger brother very much, and entrusted his secret to him.

Frank in his inmost heart, too, loved Fannie Forbes, and the confession of his brother stirred his jealousy. He was bright of thought and possessed an active mind. He wanted to marry Miss Forbes. The day following the brothers came to this place and Edmund procured a marriage license. Frank's mind was evolving a scheme by which he could thwart his brother's marriage. He proposed a trip to Baltimore, persuading Edmund to dispatch a message to his sweetheart that they had gone to the monumental city for the especial purpose of having a tattoo mark placed between the first and second finger of his right hand. While in Baltimore they met an old friend of their dead father, Captain Aker, of the ocean steamer Franklin. The captain said he would sail the next day for Australia, and was very solicitous that the namesake of his deceased friend should accompany him. It was Edmund. He hesitated. The captain told him of the pleasures of the trip and the fine country to which he would sail, and being urged by Frank he yielded to the influences and consented. That evening he wrote a farewell letter to his intended wife, bidding her to await his coming, and that he was hopeful of gaining fortune in the distant country. The marriage license was enclosed in the letter. "Remember Idem" were the last words. The next morning, Friday, August 24, the Franklin started on the trip. Now Frank had an open field, and he improved the time wonderfully well. He did not hesitate. His first work was to read the letter. The word "Idem" seemed to puzzle him, but he remembered hearing his brother use it when approaching the girl, and hit upon the correct meaning at once. Next he had his right hand tattooed. He would marry the girl he loved, he thought, and assumed the name of Edmund.

His return home alone caused some talk, but when the mail brought the weekly newspaper announcing the departure of one of the Davies boys of Carroll county for Australia in the Franklin all was well. Thenceforth Frank was known as Edmund. Even though he gave the correct word signal, Fannie Forbes seemed to doubt his identity, but after the marriage had been postponed for a month, which was very acceptable to Frank, she felt assured he was Edmund, and they were married. The union was a happy one, indeed, but no children were born to bless their happiness. Years went by and they prospered, and by strict economy saved a good amount of money. Ten years after they had been married the husband was in Baltimore, and there ascertained that his brother had died in Australia and had willed all his earnings to Frank. This knowledge the husband imparted to his wife. The woman never knew until the day before he died that her husband was Frank Davies. But she had loved him just as dearly as if he had been Edmund and forgave him freely. He died apparently happy.

Buzz-Saws.

From the Judge.

A poor pencil, like a dull boy, is hard to sharpen.

A fine epitaph won't help a man in the next world.

The moth always looks on the bright side of things.

A haughty carriage is often a mighty inconvenient vehicle.

The man who is always afraid he is going to get left never gets there.

The postage stamps that won't stick on a letter will stick together hard enough when carried around in the pocket.

It it is no use to put on the brake when the wagon is upset.

The canary never sings his best when you are trying to sell him.

When a man if anxious to buy he gets the worst of the bargain.

It is a bad thing for the clerk when he begins to think he knows more than the boss.

As a rule, the barking dog is not apt to bite, but the exception is the worst of all.

Blackie Scoffs at Lindley Murray.

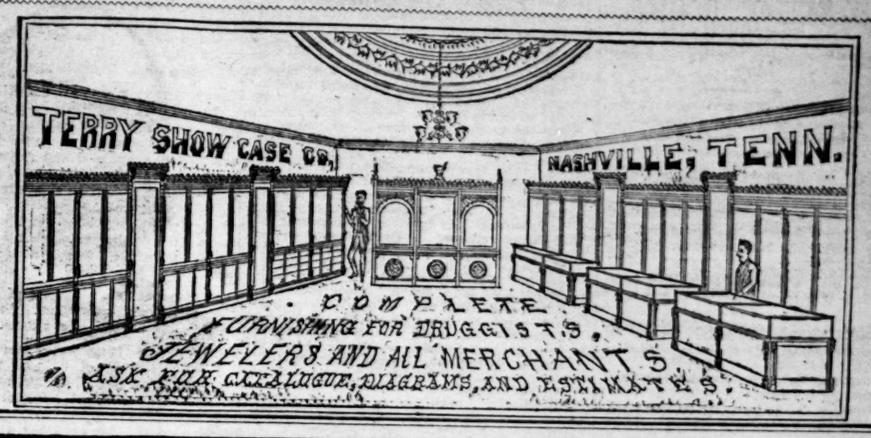

From the London Truth.

Professor Blackie, who, when he is not raving about Robert Burns and Scottish songs, has a knack of talking sound sense, delivered himself last week at Broughton on the subject of grammar as taught in our schools. "Like St. Paul at Athens," said the professor, "his spirit was stirred within him when he saw the whole city given over to the idolatry of grammar and the three R's. These wretched grammars! What had a man to do with grammar? Shakespeare and every man worth a straw wrote bad grammer. He did not believe in grammar, he believed in soul."

Chronic Coughs and Colds,

And all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. Is a beautiful, creamy Emulsion, palatable as milk, easily digested, and can be taken by the most delicate. Please read: "I consider Scott's Emulsion the remedy par excellence in Tuberculous and Strumous Affections, to say nothing of ordinary colds and throat troubles." —W. R. S. CONNELL, M. D., Manchester, O.

SROW CASES, ETC.

LAND MILLENNIUM

200,000 ACRES CHOICE Florida Orange Lands

In 5, 10, 20, 40, or 80-acre Tracts, on Payments of Only

5 CENTS PER ACRE.

No man, woman, or child, capable of saving TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, should fail to buy at least five acres. All tracts thus sold selected and graded by experts as good ORANGE LANDS. Choice of location in any County on line of Florida Southern R.R., from Jacksonville to Charlotte Harbor.

A PAYMENT OF { 25c. SECURES 5 ACRES. 50c. SECURES 10 ACRES. $1.00 SECURES 20 ACRES. $2.00 SECURES 40 ACRES. $4.00 SECURES 80 ACRES.

Such an Opportunity will NEVER occur again.

This extraordinary offer, made as it is for the purpose of quickly settling up the country, thus increasing transportation business, is being eagerly accepted, our sales averaging 200 acres per day. Therefore immediate purchase is urged, before the lands are all disposed of.

Send 10c. for large sectional Florida Map in colors showing locations of lands in different counties, Plats, and the best illustrated descriptive folder ever printed, to our Northern Land Office as follows:—L. A. LEONARD, Manager Land Dep't, Hulbert Block, CINCINNATI, O.

HEALTH IS WEALTH!

DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT guaranteed specific for Hysteria, Dizziness, Convulsions, Fits, Nervous Neuralgia, Headache, Nervous Prostration caused by the use of alcohol or tobacco, Wakefulness, Mental Depression, Softening of the Brain, resulting in insanity and leading to misery, decay and death, Premature Old Age, Barrenness, Loss of Power in either sex, Involuntary Losses and Spermaterrhœa caused by overexertion of the brain, self-abuse or over-indulgence. Each box contains one month's treatment. $1.00 a box, or six boxes for $5.00, sent by mail, prepaid on receipt of price.

WE GUARANTEE SIX BOXES

To cure any case. With each order received by us for six boxes, accompanied with $5.00, we will send the purchaser our written guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not effect a cure. Guarantees issued only by

JACOBS'S PHARMACY, Sole Agents,
Marietta and Peachtree Sts., Atlanta, Ga.
mar25 d&w ly

C.O.W. Crab Orchard WATER.

NATURES' GREAT REMEDY.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR

Dyspepsia, Sick-Headache, Constipation,

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. PAMPHLET BY MAIL FREE.

Crab Orchard Water Co. Louisville, Ky.

apr10 | d3m tues thur sat

THE HALL SHORT LINE TELEPHONE

No dangerous electricity. Total cost less than one-fourth the annual rental of Bell Telephone. Especially applicable for Short Distance Lines between Offices and Factories, Warehouses, Stores, Mills, Hotels, etc., etc., or wherever instant and reliable inter-communication between intermediate points is desired. Agents wanted in every city.

THE HALL TELEPONE CO.,
Broadway and Astor Place, New York City.
apr28 3sat

Without injury positively removes Freckles, Livermoles, Pimples and blemishes of the skin. Is not a wash or powder to cover defects, but a remedy, to cure. At druggists or securely mailed, for 50c.

G. C. BITTNER & Co., Toledo, O.

RAILROAD SCHEDULE.

CENTRAL RAILROAD of GEORGIA

No change of cars between Atlanta and Jacksonville, Fla., and intermediate points, or to Savannah, Ga.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, April 29, 1888.

On and after this date Passenger Trains will run daily, as follows, except those marked †, which run daily except Sunday. And those marked * are run on Sunday only.

Leave Atlanta	6:50 am	7:15 pm	2:20 pm	9:00 am	† 5:00 pm	* 3:00 pm	†12:01 pm
Arrive Hapeville							†12:30 pm
Arrive Griffin	8:20 am	8:45 pm	4:05 pm	1 37 pm	† 7:03 pm	* 4:38 pm
Arrive Macon	10:25 am	10:50 pm	6:30 pm	1:0 pm
Arrive Columbus	2:55 pm		7:15 am
Arrive Eufaula	4:10 pm		4:37 am
Arrive Montgomery via Eufaula	7:18 pm		7:25 am
Arrive Albany	2:55 pm		11:05 pm
Arrive Millen	2:08 pm	3:08 am
Arrive Savannah	5:00 pm	6:15 am

Passengers for Carrollton, Thomaston, Perry, Fort Gaines, Talbotton, Buena Vista, Blakeley, Clayton, Ala., Sylvania, Sandersville, Wrightsville, Eatonton, Milledgeville, should take the 6:50 a. m. train from Atlanta.

Leave Savannah	7:10 am	8:20 pm
Leave Millen	9:40 am	11:15 pm
Leave Montgomery via Eufaula			7:25 pm	7:40 am
Leave Eufaula			10:12 pm	10:47 am
Leave Albany			4.25 am	1:00 pm
Leave Columbus				12:15 pm
Leave Macon	2:00 pm	3:35 am	9:10 am	6:15 pm
Leave Griffin	4:00 pm	5:41 am	11:31 am	8:16 pm	† 6:00 am	* 7:45 am
Leave Hapeville							† 1:10 pm
Arrive at Atlanta	5:40 pm	7:15 am	1:15 pm	9:45 pm	† 8:15 am	* 9:45 am	† 1:40 pm

Sleeping Cars on all night trains between Atlanta and Savannah, Savannah and Macon, Savannah and Augusta Atlanta and Albany.

Through car between Atlanta and Columbus via Griffin.

Tickets for all points and Sleeping Car berth tickets on sale at Union Depot ticket office, in Atlanta.

CLYDE BOSTICK, Passenger Agent. D. W. APPLER, General Agent.
ALBERT HOWELL, Union Ticket Agent. E. T. CHARLTON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Savannah Ga.

GRANITE.

George Moerlein, Pres't. John Goetz, Jr., Vice-Pres't. J. A. Eberhardt, Sec'y Treas. & Gen. M'g'r.

THE SOUTHERN GRANITE COMPANY,

QUARRIES AT LITHONIA, GA.

General Contractors in Granite

We take pleasure in announcing that we are now prepared to furnish estimates upon the finest quality of Lithonia

GRANITE

For any and all purposes, especially in the line of

FINE ARCHITECTURAL, MONUMENTAL AND STREET PAVING WORK.

PLANS, SPECIFICATIONS AND ESTIMATES WILL BE PROMPTLY FURNISHED.

PRINCIPAL OFFICE: 20 Kimball House, ATLANTA.
BRANCH OFFICE: 19-20 Wiggins Block, CINCINNATI.

jan14—d&w

ESTABLISHED 1861. INCORPORATED 1887.

THE LOWRY BANKING COMPANY OF ATLANTA

SUCCESSOR TO

W. M. & R. J. LOWRY. Bankers.

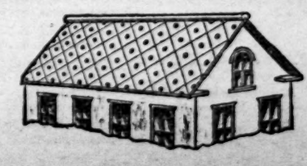

BEGINS BUSINESS MAY 1, 1888.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL - - - - - - - - $600,000.00
PAID IN - - - - - - - - - - - - $300,000.00

ROBERT J. LOWRY, President, THOS. D. MEADOR, Vice-Prest.
JOS. T. ORME, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

J. H. PORTER, President of the Merchants' Bank.
R. C. CLARKE, of T. M. Clarke & Co., Wholesale Hardware.
THOS. D. MEADOR, of Oglesby & Meador, Wholesale Grocers.
ROBERT J. LOWRY, Late of W. M. & R. J. Lowry, Bankers.
JOEL HURT, Secretary of the Atlanta Home Insurance Company.

BEST ROOF

in the world is our patent

Metal Shingles.

Send for Circulars and Price-Lists.

E. VAN NOORDEN & CO.,
283 Harrison Avenue, Boston, Mass.

THE CONSTITUTION:
Published Daily and Weekly

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION
Is delivered by carriers in the city, or mailed postage free, at $1.00 per month, $2.50 for three month, or $10.00 a year.

THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION
(Circulation over 110,000) is mailed, postpaid, for $1.25 a year, or for $1.00 in clubs of five of more. Address all letters to
THE CONSTITUTION,
Atlanta, Georgia.

J. J. Flynn, General Eastern Agent, Park Row, New York City.

TOMORROW'S 20-PAGE PAPER!

NEWSDEALERS MUST SEND IN THEIR ORDERS FOR EXTRA COPIES OF TOMORROW (SUNDAY'S) 20-PAGE CONSTITUTION BEFORE 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT OR WE CANNOT GUARANTEE TO FILL THEM.

THE DEMAND FOR SUNDAY'S PAPER WILL BE VERY GREAT, AND YOU WILL BE LEFT IF YOU DO NOT MAKE YOUR ORDERS EARLY.

WE CANNOT GUARANTEE TO INSERT ANY ADVERTISEMENT FILED AFTER 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT.

ATLANTA, GA., MAY 5, 1888.

A Tribute to American Citizenship.

Imperial Germany has just paid a graceful and impressive tribute to American citizenship.

Forty years ago Carl Schurz was a defiant rebel, following the standard of revolt, with his sword drawn against his king. The result of that unhappy struggle was told in the blood and tears of a past generation. Defeated and disgraced, with a price set upon his head, Schurz fled from his native land to begin life anew in the western world.

After forty years of proud exile, the former rebel and fugitive returns to his native land to be received by the representatives of imperial authority as an honored guest.

It must be admitted that our German-American has proved himself fully equal to the occasion. He has borne himself with the simple dignity of a genuine American, and yet he has not forgotten that he was once a German. There was no servile tone of king-worship in his voice when he told the haughty nobles who greeted him that the Germans in America were honestly glad so see the union of the German fatherland under the leadership of the brave Hohenzollern race. It was well enough, too, that he should comprehend the manner in which the iron chancellor raised himself like a colossal figure above all the statesmen of his time. He could well afford to speak these words of praise, standing there with the magic circle of American citizenship drawn around him, hedging him about with something of that divinity ascribed to kings. He felt, after his forty years of freedom, that he was a sovereign citizen, the equal of any man with a crown on his head and a scepter in his hand.

The time has been when Carl Schurz would have been rudely seized and thrown into a dungeon upon his return to Germany. The fact that he was the other day conducted to a palace instead of a prison speaks well for the progress of liberal ideas. It is a grand thing to live in an age when a man's best safeguard in the stronghold of imperialism is the simple declaration that he is an American citizen!

It is said that Editor Henry Watterson is building another platform for the democratic party. The old one was a mighty good one, but we suppose that Watterson will have his way. Let us hope he will build wisely and well.

Captain Gordon for Congress.

The action of the democracy of Chatham county in indorsing Captain W. W. Gordon for congress from the first district gives that distinguished gentleman a decided advantage in the campaign for the nomination.

Chatham county is the home of Mr. Norwood, the present congressman from that district, and, since Captain Gordon has captured it, it looks as if the prospects of the latter are bright for representing the district in congress during the next session. The contest in the other counties of the district will, no doubt, be exciting and close, and Mr. Norwood will strive the harder to regain what he has lost at home.

If elected Captain Gordon will make one of the most useful of the Georgia delegation in congress. As the chairman of the finance committee of the house of representatives of the last legislature, Captain Gordon's record as a public servant was of such a character as to win for him the approval of the entire state. During his two terms in the state legislature he formed many strong friendships throughout the state, and he ranks today as one of the most popular and prominent Georgians. His abilities as a legislator are of the highest order; and if elected to congress the reputation which he will make will by no means be confined to his district or to the state. He is a man of admirable judgment, particularly in financial matters, is an earnest talker, and his social and business qualifications make him a natural leader among men.

CHICAGO is making a little too much fuss over the appointment of Chief Justice Fuller. This is too thin. First of all, Judge Fuller is an American, and next of all he is a Maine man. Chicago is too previous.

A Good Man in Bad Company.

Ex-Congressman Samuel H. Miller, of Pennsylvania, was made temporary chairman of the recent republican convention of that state, and in taking the chair made a ringing speech against the bloody shirt policy of the republican party. He denounced the effort to perpetuate sectional strife, and declared that so long as it was continued the republican party had no chance to carry any southern state. Mr. Miller is evidently a good man in a bad place; and the Philadelphia Press, hastening to show that he spoke for himself and not the party, says that his speech was "freely criticised," and "evoked no response in the convention."

We have no doubt but that the Press is right, and that the silence with which Mr. Miller's address was received, made it clearly apparent to him that he had made a mistake in expressing his views as he had done. He probably forgot for the moment that he was addressing a republican convention, or, if he knew it at the time, he made a very serious mistake in saying what he did. He should have known that the republican party can never take the step advocated by him "in leading in restoring friendship and good feeling between the two sections." He should have known further that his protest against "a causeless and useless discussion about the captured battle flags" was absolutely out of place in any republican convention, for on a foundation of such a character is based the very existence of the republican party. In fact, as a republican Mr. Miller should have known that the bloody shirt forms an integral part of the republican party, and that without it the party must go to pieces. Therefore, it is no wonder that he was "freely criticised," and that his sentiments "evoked no response in the convention," for, had his remonstrance represented the views of those present, the assembly would no longer have been a republican convention, and consequently could not have proceeded with the work for which it was called.

The incident simply affirms that which THE CONSTITUTION has held: that the republican party is strictly a party of sectional strife and hatred. But there is a party that stands exactly with Mr. Miller in his views about the bloody shirt, and that party is the democratic party. The right thing for Mr. Miller, and the many northern republicans who agree with him, to do, is to leave the party which preaches the doctrine of hatred and join the one which now leads "in restoring friendship and good feeling between the two sections," which Mr. Miller so earnestly advocates.

IT now appears that Mr. Jay Gould wants to sell his Western Union affair to the government. This desire will yet be the death of Jay Green and Dr. Gould.

The Riot in the Senate.

There may be a question as to whether Voorhees or Ingalls got the best of the debate which has been reported in these columns, but there can be no question that the language used in that debate on both sides was in the worst possible taste.

Heretofore, when blackguardism was on top, the rule has been to have the filthy matter excluded from the columns of our esteemed contemporary, the Record; but, in this instance and on this occasion, the Record contains a full report of the whole affair.

It is very dirty from beginning to end. Such a row might naturally occur in a basement saloon, where the racket of the wranglers could not be heard by the police, but it really seems to be out of place on the floor of the United States senate.

The whole affair seems to be the result of alcoholism. Let us hope that just such another scene will never occur.

WE observe that Connecticut and New Jersey stick to the platform of 1884, on which President Cleveland was elected. It is a very good platform, indeed, and worth repeating.

Our System of Taxation.

Professor Ely has been making an examination of the tax system of various states of the union. He finds that practically the same system exists in Georgia, Ohio and West Virginia. Professor Ely found that Georgia is uncommonly well served by Comptroller General Wright, whose instructions to collectors and receivers are luminous, persistent and methodical, especially in regard to the returns of personal property. Notwithstanding this, the results are unsatisfactory.

The New York Evening Post, in commenting on Professor Ely's report, alludes to "assessors." But it ought to be aware of the fact that there are no assessors in Georgia, save those who carry out the laws of municipalities. The defect in the Georgia tax system is due to the fact that every man is allowed to return his property, both real and personal, for what he supposes it to be worth.

There is a good deal of trouble about personal property, it is true, but the realty of the state is not returned at anything like its taxable value. The affidavit or affirmation which property owners are required to sign is of the most formal character. Practically, it amounts to nothing, and the property owner is thus enabled to return property at his own valuation.

The result of this is that the personalty and realty of the state are returned at ridiculously small values, and the heaviest burden of taxation must fall on those conscientious men who return their property at its real value. What the state needs for the protection of those who put their consciences in their signatures is a law equalizing taxation. This can only be accomplished by the appointment of state assessors in each county.

For several years THE CONSTITUTION has been urging upon the legislature the necessity of a law providing for the appointment of county assessors. Such a law would not only materially increase the value of taxable property, but would result in lower taxes for all. There are millions of dollars' worth of property in this state that pay no taxes at all.

THE DEMAND FOR murder stories is so great among English readers that the Liverpool Courier has found it necessary to advertise a series of articles recounting the history of the most famous murders of old times. In this country the current crimes of the day leave the newspapers little space for old matters.

"IS THE DEMOCRATIC party infallible?" asks the New York Press. That seems to be the impression of the country at present.

COLONEL JONES S. HAMILTON, of Mississippi, had a difficulty with Mr. B. T. Hobbs on a train the other day near Brookhaven. A Jackson correspondent gives the following account: "Colonel Hamilton had a seat in the chair car and had been talking to some ladies from Delhi, La., and when the train left McComb City he went forward to the smoking car and talked to some friends. Mr. Bowsky, from Brookhaven, and Dr. Buck, from this place, were with him. They conversed until the train reached Brookhaven, and Mr. Bowsky got off. The train was just starting, and Hamilton was returning to the chair car when he met Mr. Hobbs face to face in the aisle of the car. Hobbs stared at Hamilton just as they met, and Hamilton knocked Hobbs in the mouth with his hand. Hobbs's hat was knocked off, and he dropped his valise, took a step back and threw his right hand behind him as if to draw a pistol, when Dr. Buck, who was just behind Hamilton, jumped between them, and drawing his pistol, said to Hobbs: "Don't draw that pistol." Hobbs said: "Don't kill me." Buck said: "Nobody wants to kill you, but don't draw that pistol." Hamilton was not armed, which fact was known to Buck at the time. Hobbs did not make any further demonstration. The conductor came in and Hamilton went back to the chair car. Hamilton says he had not intended to notice Hobbs, although Hobbs had assailed him in a most outrageous manner in the last two issues of his paper and since his acquittal, and would not have noticed him except for his impertinent stare at him when they met in the aisle of the car. He simply knocked him over, and had no disposition to further press a difficulty with him.

THE FLIPPANT YOUNGSTERS who labor under the delusion that every old man lags superfluous will have to make an exception in the case of Gladstone. After the brightest young writer of England and America, had been transfixed by the shining lance of Ingersoll, Gladstone in his old age turned aside from the excitement of politics, and the pastime of his leisure hours, and in one impetuous, resistless charge unhorsed the infidel swashbuckler. An old man is not necessarily a dead man.

IT IS SAID THAT the colleagues of Voorhees advised him to let Ingalls alone. Pity nobody advised Ingalls to let Voorhees alone.

THE CHICAGO MAIL announces that the sweet little children of Chicago were not dressed in white muslin, and low necks and short sleeves on the first of May, nor did they prance around the May-pole, as angels were awaiting to carry away the sweet little ones who should attempt such a thing. It was as cold as a winter's day, and the trains which ran into the city from the northwestern lines were covered with snow. The people of Chicago should picnic to Georgia, on the first of the following May, and we will guarantee that they can indulge in all the May-pole festivities they want, and wear the conventional costumes for such occasions. Chicago has the new chief justice, it is true, but we would not swap our weather for the whole supreme court.

THE COLD WAVES in May are easily predicted. All one has to do is to note the days appointed for picnics.

AT A RECENT literary dinnery given in New York, Mr. Richard B. Kimball told a queer story: In the very first days of spiritualism, Mr. Kimball said he was present at a seance given for the special edification of a number of literary gentlemen. George Bancroft, the historian, William Cullen Bryant, James Fenimore Cooper, Nathanial Parker Willis, Dr. Hawkes and John Bigelow were of the party. After a number of experiments, more or less mystifying, Mr. Cooper, who was a scoffer, asked for permission to put the woman medium to a test. It was granted. He said he had lost a relative—was it a case of natural death? The answer was no. How many years had elapsed? The solemn spirit wrappings began, ending on the fifty-ninth stroke. Mr. Cooper was as pale as a ghost. He arose trembling, and turning to his friends said: "Gentlemen, the spirits have told the truth. When I was two years old, a little sister of mine met her death by being thrown from a horse." Mr. Cooper's death occurred about a year after. Though he was the strongest minded man Mr. Kimball had ever known, he died a firm believer in spiritualism. The fact had been concealed, but Mr. Kimball could testify to its truth.

SENATOR VOORHEES was called away to the west by a business engagement the day after his debate with Ingalls. Their debate reminds those who heard it of Ingalls's description of a similar performance some years ago. The Kansas senator remarked that the speakers seemed to have attended a banquet of language where they had gathered up the crumbs.

AN IMMENSE MASS MEETING was held last night at Cooper Union in New York, to indorse Mayor Hewitt's stand in behalf of the American flag.

THE PHILADELPHIA TIMES Washington correspondent says that the president had fully decided to appoint Senator Gray, of Delaware, as chief justice, but that he was dissuaded from it on the ground that it would seriously interfere with democratic harmony in that state. A bitter fued exists in the state between the Bayard and the Saulsbury factions of the party. Governor Briggs belongs to the latter faction and has almost complete control of the state government; and, it is said that if Senator Gray had been appointed, Mr. Bayard would not have retured to the senate.

OVER 21,000 EMMIGRANTS arrived in New York last week, and of the number, more than a third were from Italy. The Castle Garden records show that there is a greater increase in emmigration from Italy to this country than from any other country. The whole of Europe, seems to be dumping itself into this country.

JOSEPH W. FIFER, the republican nominee for governor of Illinois, was a private in the war, and defeated two or three generals and various colonels for the nomination. The contest was an exceedingly bitter one, and Fifer's triumph is regarded as a victory for the Chicago republicans who vigorously supported him. He was strongly opposed in other parts of the state, and it is said that the work of the convention has done much towards creating dissatisfaction in the party, and that the democrats have a good chance to carry the state. The republicans of middle and southern Illinois cannot reconcile themselves to Fifer, and if the democrats make a wise choice, it is probable that there will be a heavy republican vote. It would seem strange to see Illinois fall into the democratic columns.

JUDGE GRESHAM'S VICTORY in securing the support of Illinois in the national republican convention, and the strong backing which he will receive from other western states, makes the nomination of Sherman more uncertain than ever. In the meantime Blaine's boom is on the constant increase.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: On Tuesday last I sent you a communication calling attention to a misstatement of facts in your issue of the 28th ult. made by some person from Wrightsville, Ga., relative to the locality in which Jordan Outlaw committed the brutal crime upon his own daughter. Our people are indignant that the crime should be placed on Harrison, when, in fact, it was not even committed in Washington county. Outlaw lives in Johnson county, seven miles from Harrison and only two miles from Wrightsville. The writer knew this well enough when he sought to saddle this terrible scandal on Harrison, and had he possessed a spark of fairness, he would never have made the cowardly attempt to shirk the responsibility for the commission of this heinous crime by attempting to place it "near Harrison." As he has mislead the public to the detriment of our fair little village, I trust you will give this a place in your columns that Harrison may be vindicated. THOS. J. DAVIS.

The Crime of Lynching.

There is no such thing as "lynch law;" "lynching" is itself lawlessness. In a country unorganized and without government individuals must punish violations of the great common laws of humanity; there is no other way. But this is not civilization; at best it is barbarism. Lynching, as a mode of government, is near akin to the life of wild beasts and savages; with claws and teeth each fights for himself the best he can and the weakest dies.

In organized society lynching is a crime against society. It is not a question as to what the victim deserves; it is a question as to what society can afford. In organized society there is no higher duty than to obey law; the lyncher is, of all men, the violator of law. Lynching is a crime against man and God. The man put to death may be the vilest human wretch, he may deserve all deaths, but those who "lynch" him to death are criminals; they break the law, they despise it, they put it to open shame.

Punishment by government according to law, represents the judgment of God. Punishment by lynching is vengeance. Legal punishment educates men into respect for law; lynching educates them into contempt for it. Lynching does more to put down law than any crime it takes in hand. Lynching is anarchy. The murderer kills a man; the lyncher kills the law that protects life.

Lynching excuses itself by saying there is no law, but there is law and government. Lynching says the laws are not enforced; but lynchers will, when they are mad, take criminals out of the law's hand. Lynching is blind because it is vengeance; its excuse is an after thought.

If a government is so weak or bad that it cannot or will not enforce law, the remedy is not lynching, it is revolution.

No case is brought into this short article, for it is not a question of case, but of principle. If one private citizen has no moral or civil right to put a bad man to death, a hundred bonded together have not the right. And why the hundred banded together? To overawe and overpower law. Lynching is conscious of its lawlessness.

The government that winks at lynching is vicious; the government that does not care is foolish, the government that will not put it down is bad as well as foolish, the government that cannot is weak.

Decatur, Ga., May 3, 1888. A. G. HAYGOOD.

How Flies Walk On the Ceiling.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Explain how flies walk on the ceiling. M. R. C.

It is curious how the understanding of many common and apparently simple things becomes modified by fuller investigation. The explanation of how flies walk on the ceiling, as given in some of the old readers, was based on the theory that each little fly-foot was a miniature air-pump—a theory now regarded as fallacious. This supposed that the bottom of the foot adhered by suction to the glass, thus pressing out all air beneath it, and was held in place by the pressure of the air without. But flies have been known to walk on the inner side of a glass receiver of an air-pump after all the air had been exhausted, which shows that they do not need the pressure of the air to uphold them. Moreover, a microscopic examination of a fly's foot clearly disproves the "sucker" theory, for the foot cushion is covered with hairs that prevent all close contact with the glass. A later theory, propounded by Hooke, was that flies stick to the glass by means of a viscous substance exuded from the hairs in their feet. This theory was thoroughly investigated some eight years or so ago by Dr. Rombouts who demonstrated that it was only partly sound, for though these hairs do certainly exude an oily liquid, the liquid is not sticky and does not harden when dried. It is to Dr. Rombouts's experiments that science owes what is now regarded as the true theory of the walking of flies on smooth substances, that they hang on by the help of capillary adhesion—the molecular attraction between solid and liquid bodies. By a series of nice calculations, such as weighing hairs and measuring their diameters, and sticking the cut end of hair in oil or water to make it adhere when touched to glass, this scientist proved that capillary attraction would uphold a fly were it four-ninths as heavy again as it is at present. It is true that the foot-hairs are very minute, but as each fly is said to be furnished with 10,000 to 12,000 of these we need not be surprised at what they can do. Reasoning from this theory we would conclude that flies find it difficult to mount a glass slightly dampened, because of the repulsion between the watery surface and the oily liquid exuding from the feet, and they are likewise impeded by a slight coating of dust, because the interspaces between the hairs are filled with dust, and observation seems to show this to be the case. When we see a fly making his toilet, he is not, as we might suppose, cleaning his body, but his feet, so that they may the more readily adhere. Every one has noticed how quickly a fly takes flight, even when he has been dozing in the same position for half an hour. This new theory makes it easier to understand how he can so readily detach himself, for the air pressure theory and the gum theory both implied more or less effort in releasing his feet from their involuntary hold.

BURIALS ALIVE.

A Gentleman Gets Out of His Coffin and Dances at a Ball.

Burials alive are far more common in hot countries, where the burial takes place within twenty-four hours after death than they are here, says the London Referee, where one gets as a rule, a week's grace. In Spain the body is frequently removed to the undertaker's shop a few hours after death. In one of the largest of these establishments in Madrid, some years ago, an extraordinary sight was witnessed. A gentleman was brought in his "casket" one afternoon, and placed in the room set set apart for that branch of the business. The proprietor lived over his premises, and on this special evening was giving a grand ball. When the ball was at its height, a gentleman in full evening dress suddenly joined the company. He danced with the wife of the undertaker, and he danced with the undertaker's daughter, and seemed to be thoroughly enjoying himself. The undertaker thought he knew his face, but didn't like to be rude and ask him his name, but by and by all the guests departed, and the strange gentleman was the only one left. "Shall I send for a cab for you?" said the host at last. "No, thank you," replied the gentleman; "I'm staying in the house." "Staying in the house!" exclaimed the undertaker; "who are you, sir?" "What! don't you know me? I'm the corpse that was brought in this afternoon."

The undertaker horrified, rushed to the mortuary room and found the coffin empty. His wife and daughter had been dancing with a corpse. An explanation, of course, followed. The gentleman, who had only been in a trance, had suddenly recovered, and, hearing music and revelry above, and having a keen sense of humor had got out of his coffin (the Spanish coffin closes with a lid, which is only locked just previous to interment) and joined the festive party. He was quite presentable, as in Spain the dead are generally buried in full evening dress.

J. Wilkes Booth's Body.

All sorts of rumors have been afloat from time to time about what disposition was made of the dead body of J. Wilkes Booth. Some say he is still living, and is occasionally seen in various parts of the world; others that he was killed, and then, under secret orders of the government, taken on a vessel out to sea and dropped, "food for fishes," no man knows where. Mr. Bingham, with other government officials, visited a gunboat lying in the Potomac river, and there viewed the dead body of J. Wilkes Booth, which was identified beyond a doubt. Booth, with all the rest of the executed traitors, was buried immediately under the floor of the room where their sentence was pronounced. Their relatives and friends, soon after, by threats of violence frightened Andy Johnson into surrendering their bodies to them, and all are now resting quietly near deceased friends in various parts of the country. Booth was buried beside his parents in a Baltimore cemetery. Mr. Bingham also mentioned a singular circumstance in this connection, which I have never seen in print. The course taken by the bullet fired at Mr. Lincoln produced instantaneous, painless death, while that shot at Booth, though entering at exactly the same spot, took a downward course, causing the most excruciating torture and lingering agony.

Every Democratic Vote Needed.

From the Americus Recorder.

I hope that a more conservative spirit will be manifested in the Atlanta convention than has been shown by a few in this county. They seem to have forgotten the fact that Mr. Cleveland was elected before by republican votes, and if elected again (which I most sincerely hope and trust he will be) it will require every democratic vote in the union to secure that end, and we will have to present a solid, unbroken front to the enemy. Those democrats, who for the sake of party success, are willing to put aside their personal opinions on questions that now divide the party and come in and indorse Cleveland and his administration, deserve great praise and consideration from the majority of the party. I think that Randall is as good a democrat as Carlisle, Brown as Colquitt, THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION as the Macon Telegraph. In this county we have as true and tried democrats as there is in the state, who hold personal views different from the majority of the party, but who are willing to make everything subordinate to the success of the national democratic party and the election of Mr. Cleveland, and without the aid of those mentioned, we cannot hope for success. Let there be no division and let us adopt for our government in this campaign the motto of the coat of arms of our grand old state: "Wisdom, Justice and Moderation."

Respectfully, JOHN A. COBB.

Sam Small in St. Louis.

From the St. Louis Republican.

"The man who cries fanatic is a fool," said Small. "I am no fanatic, but if I am, the men who made me so are the white-aproned, bottle-nosed, bull-necked men who stood behind the bar pouring out the double distilled damnation to me. They cry 'crank.' If I am a crank I bless the day when God gave me strength to become a crank. During the fifteen years when I was robbing my wife of the bloom on her cheek and inflicting endless misery upon my children, none of these white-aproned men said I was a crank. They called me a pretty smart fellow. Talk about crank! What the United States needs tonight is a great big unpurchasable, unbulldozable army of cranks."

BIRDS OF PASSAGE.

COLONEL FASS, New Orleans: "I always like to lie over in Atlanta, and I will tell you why. I rush through my business and then I know where to spend the remainder of the day. I go to the rooms of your excellent chess club, where I never fail to meet opponents worthy of my steel. I tell you some of your players are good ones. Such an institution as your club is a necessity in all large cities. In New Orleans we have the largest and best equipped club in the world. In time I expect yours to assume large proportions. I always enjoy myself when I visit your club."

MR. CHARLIE BRYANT, Chattanooga: "I have just made an extended tour over South Carolina and Georgia. I tell you that I always travel with my eyes open—we drummers have to. I am very much interested in the fruit and mellon business, and I made it a point to inquire about the prospects everywhere I went. My conclusion, based on all the answers I got, is that the fruit crop will be abundant this year in most of the counties of South Carolina and in many of the counties of Georgia. In some parts of both of these states there will be no fruit at all."

CAPTAIN SAMPIT, Edisto, S. C.: "This is the first time I have been in Atlanta since the cotton exposition. I am surprised at the city's marvelous improvement in all directions. I was offered a piece of land, half a mile beyond Ponce de Leon avenue, for $1,700. This was a four-acre lot. I was told yesterday, by one of your real estate men, that this same land is now worth at least fifty thousand dollars. I was a fool for not buying it. At the time, I had some three thousand dollars in hand, and had no special use for it. A week later, I invested it in a mowing machine, which proved worthless, and I lost every cent I put in. I am sorry I didn't stay here, and I have an idea of coming back in the fall and going into the real estate business."

MR. EDWARD L. DAVIS, Augusta: "I have been on a fishing frolic at a place in the mountains of North Carolina called Kearn's pool. It is a small body of water at a very high elevation, some sixteen miles from Mitchell's peak. It is not more than fifty yards square and is very deep. It looks like a quarry. I and two friends camped near there a day and night, and we caught more mountain trout than I ever saw before. We also took a large number of small blue-bellied perch, peculiar to mountain streams. I think that altogether we must have caught three hundred fishes. The sport was the best I ever had. It is a mystery where all the fish came from. Mr. Hillsborough, of Charlotte, says he has been fishing in Kearn's pool every spring for seven years. There seems no diminution in the number of the finny tribe. But a man deserves good sport to go there. He must go at least sixty miles over rough mountain road before he can reach Kearn's pool. I had a good time, for our party was a jolly one."

There Were 80 Answers in One Day.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: We put a thirty cent advertisement in the Sunday CONSTITUTION—ten cent page, and had over eighty replies to it the morning after it appeared.

LANGSTON & WOODSON.

WALKS AND TALKS.

The last Judge contains an excellent likeness of Hon. W. P. Price, of Dahlonega, which it labels "James G. Blaine." Judge is evidently a warm friend of the man from Maine.

***

Major S. Frank Warren, of Atlanta, well known as one of the most popular hotel men in Georgia, has accepted the position of general manager of the magnificent new hotel on St. Simon's Island, eight miles from the city of Brunswick. The hotel is one of the most magnificent on the south Atlantic coast, having twenty handsome cottages, and over one hundred rooms in the main building. It faces the ocean and overlooks one of the finest beaches in the world. This will be one of the most popular summer resorts in Georgia, and the fact that Major Warren is in charge, is an assurance that there will not be a better kept hotel in the state. Low rates are to be given by all the railroads, and it is probable that the hotel will be crowded from the day of its opening, which will take place on the first of June.

Saw Washington—Says She is 110.

From the San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. Maria Price is a very old negress who lives with a Mrs. Valentine, in the rear of the First Colored Baptist church, on Powell street. She is not positive about her age, but from the events which she says she remembers the neighbors say she must be over 110 years old.

"Y'see," said the old woman to an Examiner reporter yesterday, "we can't zactly tell when we was bo'n, case we didn't keep no 'count.

"In '48, when I bought myself, my mas'r put down on de papers 55 yeahs. But I mus' have been older'n dat, case dey mos' allers put down de slabes a lot younger den dey was, case dey could get mo' for dem."

Mrs. Price has been confined to her bed for the past four years with a broken hip, the result of hes being knocked down by a runaway horse. Her face is a very network of wrinkles, and the skinny hands that she emphasizes her statements with are shrunken and knuckly.

She was asked to give some of her early reminiscences, and promptly answered:

"I reck'lec' Gen'l Washerton puffickly. He came to Richmond when I was a gall playin' wid odder chil'ren on the street. He was a-walkin' 'long wid some gen'lemen. Dey tol' me he was de gen'l, case yo' kno' dey paid lots ob 'tention whareber he went.

"He was gettin' on in yeahs, but was tall an' 'rect. I seed him of'n in Richmond."

As Washington died in 1799, and as Mrs. Price must have been 12 or 15 years old when she saw him, this recollection gives her title to a century at least.

But she has recollections that go back still further.

"Do you remember anything of the revolutionary war?" asked the reporter.

"I rick'lec' heahin of it when dey was fitin', but I was only a little gal den, an' ob course I don' pay no 'tension. De young mas'r went away to fight in de wah."

"Do you remember the declaration of independence?" hazarded the reporter.

"I reclec' hearin' ob it, but 'course I don' pay no 'tension, bein a chile."

Lafayette she also recollected, as well as President Adams and Jefferson. The war of 1812 and events up to fifty years ago she perfectly remembered to the least details.

It was evident that the old woman could recollect of hearing of everything from the flooded down, but had paid no attention to it, as she was young.

She is, however, undoubtedly over ninety-five years old, as according to the papers emancipating her, she was fifty-five forty years ago.

She was sold four times before she bought her liberty, for which she paid $300. Her original owners were the Tyrrels, of Virginia. She claims to have been well acquainted with Washington's body servant, whom she affectionately referred to as Uncle Frederick.

The Aftermath of Death.

From the Kennesaw Gazette.

A gentleman, who was a citizen of Marietta at the time of the fighting around that point by the armies in 1864, was talking to us about the federal bombardment of the confederate batteries on the summit of Kennesaw mountain.

He said that after the war an immense amount of lead and iron was picked up on the north side of the mountain where the federal missiles had struck

He remarked that for two or three years after the war, in the fall, when the ground was covered with dead leaves, parties used to set these on fire, so as to keep the undergrowth down. The flames would creep up the mountain side, and at night would present a grand sight, there appearing to be long lines of fire in the sky.

But one of the most striking features of these fires on the mountain was the explosion of some of the federal shells. He said that even in Marietta they could be distinctly heard, and on the first occasion or two of burning the woods on the mountain side there were scores of those which exploded, and the reports called back to the citizens of Marietta in a very emphatic manner the federal bombardments which had ensued in 1864.

There is, however, no danger of this kind now, as we have not heard of any similar occurrences in a number of years.

Lived in Boston.

From the New York Star.

"If I might venture to make a suggestion, madam," said a tombstone agent in a sombre yet respectful manner, "I should say the motto: 'He has gone to a better land,' would be an appropriate one." "You forget, sir," said the lady in black with cold dignity, "that he lived in Boston."

A Warm Proceeding.

From the New York Sun.

Brown—What's the matter, Dumley; you look hot about something?

Dumley (angrily)—Hot! I should say so. I was around at the Eagle just now, and that fool Featherly dropped a chunck of ice down my back. Enough to make any man hot!

THE CAVALRY BOYS.

What the Horse Guard is Doing About the Tournament.

The Active, Honorary and Exempt Members of the Company—Other Military News—The Nashville Drill.

The leading topics in military circles just now are the cavalry tilt for the 9th and 10th of May, with its accompanying ball and coronation, and the great drill on the 26th in Nashville.

The Governor's Horse Guards have been hard at work, and all preparations have been made. The first and second teams have been chosen, and the home company stands a splendid chance in the contest. Not only the active, but the exempt and honorary members, have entered heartily into the movement. The following is a list of the

ACTIVE AND EXEMPT MEMBERS:

Martin Amorous, E. C. Atkins, George W. Akers, H. L. Atwater, J. W. Atkins, J. W. Atkins, J. C. Allen, Miller Brady, W. G. Browne, John L. Beattie, V. Bullock, T. B. Brady, R. B. Bullock, C. F. Benson, F. W. Bentine, Z. Castleberry, A. J. Chapman, P. C. Cashman, R. H. Crawford, J. T. Cooper, C. W. Cranksha, Asa G. Candler, C. R. Calvert, Robert Dohme, J. S. Dozier, J. H. Dawson, W. C. Dodson, D. H. Dougherty, George C. Drummond, W. W. Draper, F. M. Freemont, L. E. Gwin, W. H. Gardner, George M. Hope, J. M. Holbrook, J. M. High, L. J. Hill, A. W. Hill, I. M. Hill, George Hillyer, S. M. Inman, H. T. Inman, A. C. Jones, Geo. E. Johnson, H. S. Johnson, A. L. James, T. J. James, John Keely, Edwin Kingsberry, Clarence Knowles, F. R. Logan, G. E. Leo, A. C. Lampkin, Chas. G. Lambert, G. S. Lowndes, Thos. D. Love, John Milledge, John A. Miller, E. S. Morris, E. P. McBurney, E. C. McGarity, J. D. McCarty, J. S. McLendon, Samuel Martin, C. W. Motes, T. C. Mayson, L. Mims, N. W. Murphey, Willie May, Eddie Morris, Carlton Miller, C. C. Mayson, F. H. O'Brien, D. S. Paul, J. O. Perkins, E. C. Peters, John S. Prather, S. H. Phelan, Thos. B. Paine, W. A. Russell, E. H. Roberts, E. M. Roberts, J. R. Rushing, F. M. Stewart, J. H. Spurlock, Geo. W. Stewart, W. C. Saunders, H. C. Stockdell, O. A. Smith, H. A. Smith, J. T. Stocks, T. A. Shelton, Chas. W. Smith, J. G. Thrower, Alex. Thweatt, W. R. Ware, B. A. Warlick, A. J. Wurm, Chas. Wurm, Herman Werner, Henry Wellhouse, A. J. West, J. H. Wingate, Ralph E. Wright.

The following is a list of the

HONORARY MEMBERS of the company:

Miss Sallie Adair, Miss Annie Adair, Miss Annie Smith, Miss Lelia O'Keif, Miss Jennie Hardian, Miss Jennie Powie, Miss Phoebe Ellis, Miss Pattie Smith, Miss Daisy Wright, Miss Annie Gilmer, Miss Sophie Wright, Miss Irene Farrar, Miss Emma Stewart, Miss Nettie Dozier, Miss Jessie Moore, Miss Ida McBurney, Miss Lalie Paul, Miss Mary Paul, Miss Alice Dunn, Miss Carrie Matthews, Miss Mary Miller, Miss Mary Lampkin, Miss Alice Lampkin, Miss Bunnie Love, Miss Alice Love, Miss Minnie Love, Miss Cornelia Bullock, Miss Minnie May, Miss Nora May, Miss Jennie Morris, Miss J. A. Howell, Miss Carrie Crane, Miss Nora Stephens, Mrs. J. L. Pinson, Mrs. J. Stovall Smith, Mrs. George M. Brown, Mrs. Hugh Hagan, Mrs. J. J. Woodsides, Mrs. J. T. Stocks, Mrs. Fannie W. Smith, Mrs. F. R. Logan, Mrs. E. P. McBurney, Mrs. A. C. Jones, Mrs. Julia Knight, Mrs. Robert Dohme, Mrs. John Milledge, Mrs. G. T. Dodd, Mrs. D. S. Paul, Mrs. Asa G. Candler, Mrs. J. A. Miller, Mrs. George M. Hope, Mrs. B. A. Warlick, Mrs. W. G. Browne, Mrs. T. D. Love, Mrs. L. E. Gwin, Mrs. George Doles, Mrs. J. M. Smith, Mrs. E. S. Morris, Mrs. W. C. Dodson, Mrs. J. M. Holbrook, Mrs. Mollie McWhorter, Mrs. J. P. Stocks, Mrs. F. H. O'Brien, Mrs. J. H. Spurlock, Mrs. G. E. Leo, Mrs. Alex Thweatt, Mrs. T. W. Latham, Mrs. J. C. Allen, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. A. J. Wurm.

THE ARRANGEMENTS.

Most of the visitors are expected to arrive here on Monday or Tuesday in order to practice on the grounds chosen for the tilt. Tuesday night there will be a meeting of the judges and tilters for the purpose of instructing the tilters as to the rules and regulations of the tilt. On Wednesday forenoon at 8:30 the tilters meet on Marietta street in front of the Horse Guard quarters, and will be escorted on the parade by the resident military and judges, under command of General P. M. B. Young. The tilting will begin at the park at 10 a. m. and lasts until 5 p. m., with an intermission of one hour for dinner. A reception and hop will be given at the Kimball in the evening to the military, visiting and resident.

It is not expected that all the companies will have time to tilt on Wednesday, and on Thursday at 8:30 a. m., the cavalry will rendezvous at the Horse Guard headquarters and march to the park, where the tilting will be concluded.

The names of the tilters having the four highest records will then be called, the prizes awarded, and the races run. Immediately after these will be a review of all the cavalry by Governor Gordon, and the companies then march back. At 8:30 p. m., at the opera house, the queen and maids of honor will be crowned with great ceremony, after which the grand coronation ball will come off at the Kimball.

THE HOP.

The Horse Guard has tendered a complimentary hop next Wednesday night to the local and visiting military companies. Last night at the office of Captain Milledge the officers of the local military companies met to make arrangements for this hop. The following floor committee was appointed:

Captain A. C. Sneed, Atlanta Rifles, chairman.
Sergeant Harry Snook, Atlanta Rifles.
Private R. L. Hardin, Atlanta Rifles.
Captain C. L. Anderson, Gate City Guard.
Lieutenant B. M. Goldsmith, Gate City Guard.
Private Chas. McLendon, Gate City Guard.
Captain George B. Forbes, Atlanta Artillery.
Lieutenant J. T. Lawson, Atlanta Artillery.
Corporal J. Alex White, Atlanta Artillery.
Captain J. B. Hollis, Atlanta Zouaves.
Sergeant R. H. Carpenter, Atlanta Zouaves.
Captain Lyman Hall, Moreland Cadets.
Captain Angus Orr, Means Cadets.
Lieutenant E. C. Atkins, Governor's Horse Guard.

This will be strictly a military hop. It will take place at the Kimball house. No invitations will be issued. Only those in uniform will be admitted, and they with as many ladies as they choose to bring. The governor, and his staff in uniform, are expected.

The ballroom on this occasion will be beautiful and brilliant, seven cavalry companies in different uniforms mingling with the Atlanta Rifles, Gate City Guard, Atlanta Artillery, Atlanta Zouaves. Cadet gray and the rich uniforms of the staff and the beautiful dresses of the ladies will make a picture rarely equalled. Dancing will commence promptly at 9 o'clock.

The Rifles at Work.

The Rifles are hard at work for the Nashville drill. Every evening, except on Saturday, the company drills by electric light at the corner of Loyd and Hunter. They leave Atlanta on the 20th, and return on the 27th, wearing in Nashville the uniform worn here on Memorial Day—white shako, green coat trimmed with gold, and white pants. Miss Annie Porterfield, of Nashville, has consented to act as sponsor for the Rifles. Twenty-four men—six fours—are drilling for the company prize, and they are drilling remarkably well too.

The public are invited to be present at the evening drills.

The Atlanta Artillery.

The Artillery is in excellent shape, and working confidently for laurels in Nashville. Captain Lyman Hall, of Moreland Park academy, and Captain Forbes have devoted a great deal of time to the drills, and the members of the company are enthusiastic. They, too, leave on the 20th, and return on the following Sunday.

The Gate City Guard.

The Gate City Guard are in better trim now than they have been for some time. So many new members have been added recently that the idea of entering the company for a competitive drill has been abandoned. The company encamps this summer at the seashore, possibly at St. Simon's, and in the meantime they are quietly prospering.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY.

There is a difference between a storm that is due and a note that is due. The storm sometimes fails to connect.

To let, by week or month, one heavy English-made walking-stick with mouth-piece complete; also attached, one domestic dude (slightly damaged.)

It is not yet known who will receive Jay Gould's opposition in the coming presidential contest, but both parties are competing strenuously for it.

Miss A.—I find your friend quite entertaining—when he forgets himself. Is he an American or an Englishman?

Mr. B.—Neither. He's a Bostonian.

THE SECRET (

Interesting Gossip Abo and Societies

The Grand Lodge Knights o
Odd Fellows' New Hall—T
Masonic Temple—Other

* * * The state grand of Pythias will convene in annu lanta the 15th of this month.
arrangements are in the hands of tees, and everything will be in meeting. This meeting will b tended. All of the grand lodg here, and, besides, there will be e formed divisions of the order, wh in the prize drill, which will take most beautiful and valuable prize by the local orders, and will be of be contended for by all the uni
Colonel R. F. Harmond, of Savan command of the uniformed divisio officer, an excellent disciplinar popular. A committee is now ar gramme, which will be replete features. One of the features alr is a grand ball and banque in honor of the ladies who will sir knights. Colonel Brandt estim ance at about one thousand, inclu and their wives and daughters.

* * * At the last meeting
City Division No. 5, uniformed
Pythias, several new applicants w members of this division are w drill once a week in Concordia h to take part in the big prize drill nection with the convention of t
Atlanta, the 16th of this month.

* * * Calanthe Division, N
Knights of Pythias, held its regu day night and transacted a good besides receiving several new me of the best drilled divisions in Ge prize in the drill does not fall t will be disappointed.

* * * The 13th of June wil in the annals of the Knights of P supreme lodge of the world will n that day. The session will las Georgia will be represented in th by Colonel Adolph Brandt, of At Heyward, of Brunswick. This i most important session of the
Some momentous questions will
One of these will be as to the s grand jurisdiction of Pennsylvan tion is composed of some forty th all of whom were recently susp preme chancellor, because of vio laws of the order. From this sus lodge of Pennsylvania has appe will be decided at the session to nati. Much interest is felt in the entire order. In speaking of this of the Knights of Pythias, a disti said: The approaching session w ly interesting, because of the larg formed divisions who will atte thousand of this rank, in full un ed to take part in the grand Money prizes, ranging from $5,000
the successful divisions." Besid named, Georgia will send many tives.

* * * The three local lo
Pythias are kept busy receiving n conferring degrees. Grand Cha says that throughout the state th before in so flourishing condition membered that he has contribut success.

* * * Red Cross Lodge Kn met in its castle hall, corner of W abama streets, last Wednesday transacting regular business, con doge upon a candidate. It passed benefits to some sick me fected arrangements for th of the grand lodge. Said a me
"This event will be one of grea pleasure to the Knights of Pythias order is founded on charity and and benefits a vast number of pe that the initiatory ceremonies of Pythias, are rare and racy." But would not go into the particulars of th ceremonies.

* * * The Concordia associ very pleasant social meetings. T are: J. Hirsch, president; M. Teit
Harry Wellhouse, treasurer. Th fitted up beautifully, and it is one lar halls for dances and fairs in A ciation holds a business meeting day in each month. At the las were submitted, showing the affa tiod to be in a prosperous condi are men of excellent qualification

* * * At the last meeting ate Veterans' association of Fult dozen new members were elect ship is now larger than ever be tion has elected Dr. Amos Fox treasurer of the fund which it i by a series of fairs and other e
Fox is also chief manager of th probably be the most notable ev has ever taken place in Atla mittees have been appointed t liminaries. The ladies have pro with the veterans, and it is exp five thousand dollars will be rais adopted by the veterans has bee

* * * It is now definitely the Odd Fellows of Atlanta will their own. The enterprise since weeks ago has progressed well a the new building feel greatly e occasion of the meeting of Odd last month, to celebrate the six ry of the institution of Odd Fell the movement was started. At without much trouble, $13,400 then about $5,000 more has been act amount cannot be stated, be not come in from the various lo Master John B. Goodwin is a furthering the enterprise, and
The purpose to erect a buildin commended by all the local lod individual members. The proj ered any opposition from with is too early to describe the ne where it will be located. Its been decided upon. The lot a cost over $50,000, it is said.

* * * Fulton Lodge, No.
cepted Masons, met last Thursd sonic hall and transacted the the lodge. Several applicatio were made. There was a good Colville, worshipful master of th
the youngest master in the stat

* * * The various lodges lanta meet in their hall, corne streets. The following lodges stated: Fulton lodge, No. 216,
Thursday of every month; the 59, the second and fourth Thur
the Georgia lodge, No. 96, the f day in every month; the Gate C second and fourth Tuesday i Mount Zion chapter, No. 16, F
the second and fourth Monday
Jason Burr council, No. 13, th
each month; the Cœur de Lion
Knights Templar, the first Mon
The accommodations are whol requirements of these various lo to build a Masonic temple in A have been appointed by all t manderies to devise a plan for and the building of the temple mittees have not as yet worked will soon hold a meeting and terprise. The fact that the Odd a new hall of their own does n from moving in the matter, a impressed with the necessity o
The plan contemplates a buildi will be proud. Mr. A. G. Hows the project, and he said: "Ther lanta should have a Masonic convinced that before long the city. Committees are now and trying to formulate a plan cure the object in view. The i money to buy an eligible lot.
the rest will not be hard. It w range for the building. We c float these. The Masons in At many of them being men of w
The opinion is almost unan delay no longer—that we shou grand Masonic temple."

* * * The Ladies' Memo
its annual meeting last Wedne following members to serve

LRY BOYS.

Guard is Doing
ournament.

y and Exempt Mem-ny—Other Military ashville Drill.

n military circles just for the 9th and 10th of nying ball and corona-l on the 26th in Nash-se Guards have been preparations have been econd teams have been company stands a splen-

st. Not only the active, onorary members, have e movement. The fol-

EMPT MEMBERS:
tkins, George W. Akers, H.
J. W. Atkins, J. C. Allen, ne, John L. Beatie, V. Bul-ullock, C. F. Benson, F. eberry, A. J. Chapman, R. H. Craw-
W. Cranksha, Asa G.
ert, Robert Dohme,
n, W. C. Dodson D. H.
mmond, W. W. Draper, in, W. H. Cardner, George brook, J. M. High, L.
I. M. Hill, George
nan, H. T. Inman,
s n. H. S. Johnson, A. L.
Keely, Edwin Kingsberry,
gan, G. E. Leo, A. C. ert, G. S. Lowndes, Thos.
John A. Miller, E. S. Mor-E. G. McGirity, J. D. Mcnuel Martin, C. W. Motes,
s, N. W. Murphey, Willie on Miller, C. C. Mayson. F.
J. O. Perkins, E. C. Peters,
Phelan, Thos. B. Paine,
H. Roberts, E. M.
hing, F. M. Stewart,
Stewart, W. C. Saunders, H.
, H. A. Smith, J. T. Stocks,
Smith, J. G. Thrower, Alex.
A. Warlick, A. J. Wurm, erner, Henry Wellhouse, A.
Ralph E. Wright.
ist of the
RY MEMBERS

ss Annie Adair, Miss Annie
, Miss Jennie Hardian, Miss Phoebe Ellis, Miss Pattie right, Miss Annie Gilmer,
Miss Irene Farrar, Miss
Nettie Dozier, Miss Jessie
Burney, Miss Lalie Paul,
s Alice Dunn, Miss Carrie Miller, Miss Mary Lampkin, ss Bunnie Love, Miss Alice
e, Miss Cornelia Bullock, Nora May, Miss Jennie Moriss Carrie Crane, Miss Nora
L. Pinson, Mrs. J.
rs. George M. Brown,
Mrs. J. J. Woodsides,
annie W. Smith, Mrs. F. R. rney, Mrs. A. C. Jones, Mrs.
rt Dohme, Mrs. John Mil-
Mrs. D. S. Paul, Mrs. Asa G.
A. Miller, Mrs. George
arlick, Mrs. W. G. Browne,
I. E. Gwin, Mrs. George
Mrs E. S. Morris, Mrs. W.
Holbrook, Mrs. Mollie Mc-
cks, Mrs. F. H. O'Brien, Mrs.
E. Leo, Mrs. Alex Thweatt,
s. J. C. Allen, Mrs. A. H.

RANGEMENTS.
s are expected to arrive uesday in order to prac-hosen for the tilt. Tues-a meeting of the judges urpose of instructing the s and regulations of the forenoon at 8:30 the tilt-a street in front of the s, and will be escorted on ident military and judges,
General P. M. B. Young.
n at the park at 10 a. m.
., with an intermission of
A reception and hop will mball in the evening to the
and resident.
xpected that all the companies ime to tilt on Wednesday, and on 8:30 a. m., the cavalry will ren-Horse Guard headquarters and where the tilting will be e tilters having the four then be called, the prizes races run. Immediately review of all the cavalry

, and the companies then 8:30 p. m., at the opera nd maids of honor will be eremony, after which the all will come off at the

HE HOP.
has tendered a compli-Wednesday night to the military companies. Last of Captain Milledge the military companies met to for this hop. The follow-was appointed:
eed, Atlanta Rifles, chair-

Snook, Atlanta Rifles.
rdin, Atlanta Rifles.
nderson, Gate City Guard.
I. Goldsmith, Gate City

cLendon, Gate City Guard.
. Forbes, Atlanta Artillery.
Lawson, Atlanta Artillery.
White, Atlanta Artillery.
llis, Atlanta Zouaves.
H. Carpenter, Atlanta

Hall, Moreland Cadets.
rr, Means Cadets.
Atkins, Governor's Horse

tly a military hop. It will imball house. No invita-
. Only those in uniform nd they with as many ladies ring. The governor, and
, are expected.
this occasion will be beau-seven cavalry companies in mingling with the Atlanta
Guard, Atlanta Artillery,
Cadet gray and the rich ff and the beautiful dresses make a picture rarely will commence promptly

Rifles at Work.
ard at work for the Nash-evening, except on Saturdrills by electric light at the Hunter. They leave At-and return on the 27th.
lle the uniform worn here
—white shako, green coat
d, and white pants. Miss of Nashville, has consented r the Rifles. Twenty-four e drilling for the company e drilling remarkably well nvited to be present at the tlanta Artillery.

in excellent shape, and work-laurels in Nashville. Cap-of Moreland Park academy, es have devoted a great deal ls, and the members of the usiastic. They, too, leave eturn on the following Sun-

Gate City Guard.
Guard are in better trim now en for some time. So many e been added recently that g the company for a com-been abandoned. The coms summer at the seashore, hon's, and in the meantime prospering.

T ON THE FLY.

rence between a storm that at is due. The storm sometimes or month, one heavy Eng

-stick with mouth-piece com-
, one domestic dude (slightly nown who will receive Jay in the coming presidential con-rties are competing strenuously

d your friend quite enterforgets himself. Is he an Amer-ban?
He's a Bostonian.

THE SECRET ORDERS.

Interesting Gossip About Lodges and Societies.

The Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias—The Odd Fellows' New Hall—The Proposed Masonic Temple—Other Gossip.

* * * The state grand lodge Knights of Pythias will convene in annual session in Atlanta the 15th of this month. The preliminary arrangements are in the hands of capable committees, and everything will be in readiness for the meeting. This meeting will be very largely attended. All of the grand lodge officers will be here, and, besides, there will be eight visiting uniformed divisions of the order, who will participate in the prize drill, which will take place the 16th. A most beautiful and valuable prize has been bought by the local orders, and will be offered as a prize to be contended for by all the uniformed divisions. Colonel R. F. Harmond, of Savannah, will be in command of the uniformed divisions. He is a gallant officer, an excellent disciplinarian, and is very popular. A committee is now arranging the programme, which will be replete with attractive features. One of the features already agreed upon is a grand ball and banquet, to be given in honor of the ladies who will accompany the sir knights. Colonel Brandt estimates the attendance at about one thousand, includidg the members and their wives and daughters.

* * * At the last meeting of the Capital City Division No. 5, uniformed rank Knights of Pythias, several new applicants were received. The members of this division are well drilled. They drill once a week in Concordia hall. They expect to take part in the big prize drill, to be held in connection with the convention of the grand lodge in Atlanta, the 16th of this month.

* * * Calanthe Division, No. 2, uniformed Knights of Pythias, held its regular meeting Tuesday night and transacted a good deal of business, besides receiving several new members. This is one of the best drilled divisions in Georgia, and if the prize in the drill does not fall to it, the members will be disappointed.

* * * The 13th of June will be memorable in the annals of the Knights of Pythias order. The supreme lodge of the world will meet in Cincinnati that day. The session will last about ten days. Georgia will be represented in that august assembly by Colonel Adolph Brandt, of Atlanta, and Colonel Heyward, of Brunswick. This is regarded as the most important session of the order ever held. Some momentous questions will be adjudicated. One of these will be as to the suspension of the grand jurisdiction of Pennsylvania. This jurisdiction is composed of some forty thousand members, all of whom were recently suspended by the supreme chancellor, because of violations of organic laws of the order. From this suspension the grand lodge of Pennsylvania has appealed, which appeal will be decided at the session to be held in Cincinnati. Much interest is felt in the decision by the entire order. In speaking of this great convocation of the Knights of Pythias, a distinguished member said: The approaching session will also be unusually interesting, because of the large number of uniformed divisions who will attend. Twenty-five thousand of this rank, in full uniform, are expected to take part in the grand parade and drill. Money prizes, ranging from $5,000 to $500 are offered the successful divisions." Besides the gentlemen named, Georgia will send many other representatives.

* * * The three local lodges Knights of Pythias are kept busy receiving new members and conferring degrees. Grand Chancellor Hunnicutt says that throughout the state the order was never before in so flourishing condition. It should be remembered that he has contributed much to this success.

* * * Red Cross Lodge Knights of Pythias met in its castle hall, corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, last Wednesday night, and after transacting regular business, conferred the rank of doge upon a candidate. It passed up several weekly benefits to some sick members. It perfected arrangements for the entertainment of the grand lodge. Said a member last night: "This event will be one of great importance and pleasure to the Knights of Pythias of the city. This order is founded on charity and good fellowship and benefits a vast number of people. It is said that the initiatory ceremonies of the Knights of Pythias, are rare and racy." But this member would not go into the particulars of the initiation ceremonies.

* * * The Concordia association holds some very pleasant social meetings. The present officers are: J. Hirsch, president; M. Teitlebaum, secretary; Harry Wellhouse, treasurer. The hall has been fitted up beautifully, and it is one of the most popular halls for dances and fairs in Atlanta. The association holds a business meeting the first Wednesday in each month. At the last meeting reports were submitted, showing the affairs of the association to be in a prosperous condition. The officers are men of excellent qualifications.

* * * At the last meeting of the Confederate Veterans' association of Fulton county, about a dozen new members were elected. The membership is now larger than ever before. The association has elected Dr. Amos Fox to be permanent treasurer of the fund which it is proposed to raise by a series of fairs and other entertainments. Dr. Fox is also chief manager of the fair, which will probably be the most notable event of the sort that has ever taken place in Atlanta. Various committees have been appointed to manage the preliminaries. The ladies have promised to co-operate with the veterans, and it is expected that at least five thousand dollars will be raised. The new badge adopted by the veterans has been greatly admired.

* * * It is now dafinitely determined that the Odd Fellows of Atlanta will have a new hall of their own. The enterprise since it was started two weeks ago has progressed well and the projectors of the new building feel greatly encouraged. On the occasion of the meeting of Odd Fellows the 26th of last month, to celebrate the sixty-ninth anniversary of the institution of Odd Fellowship in America, the movement was started. At that meeting, and without much trouble, $13,400 was raised. Since then about $5,000 more has been pledged. The exact amount cannot be stated, because reports have not come in from the various lodges. Noble Grand Master John B. Goodwin is actively engaged in furthering the enterprise, and he is very hopeful. The purpose to erect a building is now cordially commended by all the local lodges and by all the individual members. The project has not encountered any opposition from without or within. It is too early to describe the new building or to say where it will be located. Its exact cost has not been decided upon. The lot and the building will cost over $50,000, it is said.

* * * Fulton Lodge, No. 216 Free and Accepted Masons, met last Thursday night at the Masonic hall and transacted the regular business of the lodge. Several applications for membership were made. There was a good attendance. Fulton Colville, worshipful master of this lodge, is perhaps the youngest master in the state.

* * * The various lodges of Masons in Atlanta meet in their hall, corner Marietta and Broad streets. The following lodges meet here at the time stated: Fulton lodge, No. 216, the first and third Thursday of every month; the Atlanta lodge, No. 59, the second and fourth Thursday of every month; the Georgia lodge, No. 96, the first and third Tuesday in every month; the Gate City lodge, No. 2, the second and fourth Tuesday in every month; the Mount Zion chapter, No. 16, Royal Arch Masons, the second and fourth Monday in each month; the Jason Burr council, No. 13, the second Friday in each month; the Cœur de Lion Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, the first Monday in every month. The accommodations are wholly inadequate for the requirements of these various lodges. It is proposed to build a Masonic temple in Atlanta. Committees have been appointed by all the lodges and commanderies to devise a plan for the purchase of a lot and the building of the temple. These various committees have not as yet worked in concert, but they will soon hold a meeting and confer about the enterprise. The fact that the Odd Fellows are to have a new hall of their own does not deter the Masons from moving in the matter, and they are deeply impressed with the necessity of a Masonic temple. The plan contemplates a building of which Atlanta will be proud. Mr. A. G. Howard was talking about the project, and he said: "There is no doubt that Atlanta should have a Masonic temple. And I am convinced that before long there will be one in this city. Committees are now discussing the matter and trying to formulate a plan by which we can secure the object in view. The idea is to raise enough money to buy an eligible lot. After that is secured the rest will not be hard. It will not be hard to arrange for the building. We can issue bonds and float these. The Masons in Atlanta are numerous, many of them being men of wealth and influence. The opinion is almost unanimous that we should delay no longer—that we should hasten to build a grand Masonic temple."

* * * The Ladies' Memorial association held its annual meeting last Wednesday, and elected the following members to serve until the next annual meeting, May 1st, 1889: Mrs. John Milledge, president; Mrs. W. D. Ellis, first vice-president; Mrs. Harry Jackson, second vice-president; Mrs. E. F. Hoge, third vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Morgan, 4th vice-president; Mrs. J. C. Olmsted, treasurer; Mrs. George T. Fry, secretary.

* * * The election of the officers of the Capital City club for the next year was held last Wednesday night, and resulted as follows: President, Major Livingston Mims; vice-president, Mr. Clarence Knowles; secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. C. Seymour; members of the governing committee, Mr. E. S. McCandless and Mr. W. H. Inman.

* * * The Atlanta Literary circle held its fortnightly meeting last Tuesday night in the ladies' parlor of the Young Mens' Library association. The attendance was large and the proceedings were interesting. Prominent literary men and women were present. Joel Chandler Harris was discussed. Parts of "Uncle Remus," "Mingo" and other works of Mr. Harris were read. The learned Dr. George Leonard Chaney pronounced an elegant critique on the author. It was decided to discuss at the next meeting George W. Cable.

* * * The meeting of the Atlanta Philosophic society tonight will be of extraordinary interest. The Rev. R. S. Barrett will read an original paper in answer to one read by Mr. Hanson a month ago. After the reading of this paper there will be a discussion of it and the one which called it forth. Mr. Hanson, Dr. Lee, Dr. Barrett, Chief Justice Bleckley, Colonel Scruggs, Colonel Mynatt, Judge Clarke and others will probably engage in the debate.

THROUGH THE CITY.

Items of Interest and News Gathered on All Sides.

About half past one o'clock yesterday, a horse attached to Mr. R. H. Crawford's market wagon, became frightened and dashed up Peachtree. In front of Weitzell and Fitzgibbon's wagon shop, the wagon collided with a buggy. The buggy was pretty badly smashed. A few steps further on the wagon was overturned and the horse was stopped.

There is in circulation a petition to open a road from the gates of Piedmont park to Easton, and on to Rock Spring, connecting with the Plaster Bridge road. The proposed route will open up the Peachtree valley, and make a much better road than the one which is now in use by Walker's mill. It is proposed to lay off the property at Easton and build a town there, at the junction of the Air Line and Belt railroad. Some of Atlanta's moneyed men will push the enterprise to a successful issue.

A LITTLE GIRL'S FUNERAL.

The Funeral of Little Louise Inman Yesterday Morning.

The funeral services of little Louise Inman took place yesterday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Inman, No. 162 Peachtree street. The Rev. Dr. Barnett conducted the service in the presence of a very large crowd of sorrowing friends of the bereaved family. The service was peculiarly affecting.

The little girl was the child of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Inman. She was four years old. Never did there live a more loveable child. She was gentle, and always cheerful and full of animation. It was remarkable how she endeared herself to older persons. Everybody who came in contact with her at once began to love her. She was bright and intelligent and was the light of the household. Never was a child blessed with a sweeter disposition.

She died Wednesday night after a short sickness. She was perfectly well a week ago. After she was taken ill with gastric fever her decline was rapid. The dread disease withered her just as a blighting frost would nip a rosebud. She died in the bosom of those who loved her with a devotion so pure and intense as to almost be idolatry. The sudden blow struck the mother and father with peculiar severity and they are well-nigh crushed.

The little coffin was borne to the grave and the last sad rites were gone through.

In this their affliction the sad family has the condolence of the entire community.

A CONVICT KILLED.

Caught in the Wheels and Mangled at the Brickyard.

William Hamilton, a negro convict, was caught in the machinery at the Chattahoochee brick yard and was so badly injured that his leg and arm required amputation. Last night at 7 o'clock he died.

What Thirty Cents Did with Jersey Calves.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 1.—Editors Constitution: Last Sunday I put a thirty cents (three line) notice in your "ten cent pages," offering Jersey calves for sale. Before nine o'clock Monday I had sold them to W. H. Perkins. At one o'clock a Jonesboro man came to buy them, and I have eighteen letters asking for Jersey calves. I never put a ten cent line in your paper that it did not pay ten fold.

P. H. SNOOK.

A Southern Major on the Stage.

Alex E. Sweet in Texas Siftings.

It must occur to the average theatre goer that the representations of persons and characters on the stage are rarely true to life. The stage Indian of the Fenimore Cooper tribe, with his stately pose and "hifalutin" talk, does not bear the slightest resemblance to the greasy buck of the plains. An utterly impossible good old negro of the Uncle Tom type is also trotted out to the infinite amusement of those of the audience who are acquainted with the negro as he is. Then, again, there is a purely mythical sailor, who is everlastingly dancing, hitching up his pants, and shivering his timbers.

Why, even the stage moon is usually three-cornered, and after it has by fits and starts climbed up about three feet above the horizon, it gets stuck and can go no further. No sober man has ever seen the real moon act in this peculiar way. Artemus Ward was often compelled to excuse himself to his audience while he went back of his panorama to control the eccentric motions of the moon that traveled with his show.

I don't care much about the three-cornered moon, nor impossible negroes nor Indians, but the Southern Colonel or Major should be reduced to the ranks. I have seen several Southern Colonels on the New York stage, the likes of which have never been observed in the south.

All the stage Southern Majors wear a big sombrero and a cascade of hair flowing down their backs a la Buffalo Bill. Usually the Southern Major limps, and every few minutes he tells the hero, who is from the north and wants to marry the "Majah's" daughter, something about "that bullet, sah, in my leg, sah, where you yankees shot me, sah, at Gettysburg, sah."

When the stage Southern Major is not talking about his game leg, he is saying: "I'm a southern gentleman, sah, from Georgia, sah; I am a man of honor, sah." In one play the Southern "Majah," whose daughter has been jilted, is perpetually threatening to "appeal to the law." The southern majors or colonels may possibly commit some of the absurdities with which they are charged, but there never was an instance of one of them ever appealing to the law where the honor of any female member of his family was concerned. He may appeal to the shotgun or the coroner, but never to the law, and it is a great pity that a similar custom does not prevail in the north. The relatives of the saucer-faced dude or ambitious drummer who banks on the Southern Colonel appealing to the law in such cases are to be pitied.

On the stage the Southern Major is eternally pulling out a little popgun of a pistol, which he threatens to use, but never does. Here is another grievous injustice. When the real Southern Major pulls a pistol it is of the proper calibre and he does it very suddenly, and it always goes off and hurts somebody.

On the stage the Southern Major is often called a liar with impunity. This is not the case in real life. Calling a Southern Major a liar off the stage is never destined to become a popular pastime like baseball.

The stage Southern Major may have existed at one time in a modified form, but now he has cut off his long hair, he no longer wears the umbrageous sombrero, and he is not on the fight unless there is a positive necessity for it. He is busy managing railroads or banks, working mines or engaged in agricultural pursuits. He has even invaded the north. New York is full of him, and he is numerous in business in Chicago and other western cities. In fact, there is nothing in his dress or manner that betrays his southern origin. He may carry pounds of federal lead in his body, or have fought on a hundred battle fields, but he is not given to bragging about it. Once more I say, let it be understood that the Southern Major on the stage, like Metamora, Uncle Tom and the stage moon, is merely the creature of the imagination.

A JEALOUS WOMAN.

Tries to Kill a Bride of a Day.

And Creates Considerable Excitement on Wheat Street—Two Successful Efforts—Other News From Police Circles.

A bride of one day came very near meeting her death yesterday at the home of Mr. Fred Patrick on Wheet street.

On Thursday afternoon Judge Tanner performed the ceremony that made Miss Nettie Haynes the wife of Mr. Patrick, and without any further ceremony the happy pair settled down to housekeeping.

Yesterday about seven o'clock p. m. Mrs. Patrick answered a knock at her door. She was surprised to meet an excited woman, and a perfect stranger, known to the police force as Willie Oxford, or Lizzie Oxford. The woman was evidently excited, and considerably under the influence of liquor. She entered at the open door and facing the bride, asked abruptly:

"Are you Fred Patrick's wife?"

"Yes, we were married yesterday," answered the frightened lady.

The woman clutched her suddenly by the throat with both hands, and throwing her upon the bed began choking her.

Mr. Patrick's attention was attracted by the noise, and rushing into the room, he released his wife, and carried the frantic woman from the room.

"I'll kill you yet," she said to Mrs. Patrick, as she left the room.

After leaving the woman upon the sidewalk, Mr. Patrick started off in search of a policeman. He found none, and as he again neared his own home, heard screams and cries for help. Pushing into the room, he took an ax from the hands of the crazed woman, and just in time to save his wife's life.

"Let me go!" screamed the woman with an oath, "I tell you she shan't live with you."

Again the struggling woman was carried to the sidewalk, and this time the gentleman took the precaution to see that she left the neighborhood of his home before he went for an officer.

Captain Mercer came along presently and was furnished with a description of the woman. She was arrested on East Ellis street and carried to the stationhouse.

"I'll burn his house down," she said at the stationhouse. "She shan't live with him. I'll die first."

She was given a cell, and a charge of disorderly conduct and using profane and obscene language.

Identified.

Will Hill, the darky who was arrested a day or too since for shooting Will Lee, on Savannah street, was identified yesterday by the wounded man. Hill's city case was dismissed in police court, and he was put under a bond of $300. Lee is still in a very critical condition.

They Were Expelled.

Will Lewis, first sergeant, and H. M. Steele, a private in the Governor's Volunteers, one of the colored military companies, were unanimously expelled Thursday night for insubordination. Jackson McHenry, the republican delegate from this district to Chicago, is captain of the company. He says they flatly refused to obey an order, and were expelled by a unanimous vote.

On Peters Street.

Mr. George W. Humphries, a printer, was on his way home at an early hour yesterday morning, when he was struck from behind by a burly negro. The negro wore brass knucks, and the blow over the right eye knocked Mr. Humphries senseless. When he recovered consciousness he found that his watch and pocketbook had been taken. Mr. Humphries made his way to the nearest drugstore, where his wounds were dressed, after which he was carried to his home on Walker street.

At Mount Zion.

There must be a split in Mount Zion. Protracted meetings have been going on for several days, and the services have been much disturbed by the conduct of some boisterous members. Things reached a climax night before last, and yesterday a good deacon came to police headquarters and requested that an officer be sent out.

"Boss," explained the messenger to Captain Mercer, "you can't hear what de preacher says, fur a fact, an' w'en he prays dey jes drowns him out."

He appeared to be much relieved when the captain promised to send out two officers to keep order in the church.

In Again.

Preston Rainey, the negro that lives, and always has lived and always will live in the stockade, is booked with a new case. His time was up yesterday at twelve o'clock, and about two o'clock he gathered a hand full of rocks and began throwing them in front of the station house. They had to lock him up, and the negro was happy. He lives better in the stockade, he says, than he does at home, and as soon as his time is up he gets in again.

PERSONAL.

MRS. J. C. BYINGTON, who has been visiting her son, Mr. G. W. Byington, at his residence on Pine street, left for Columbus, Ga., on yesterday.

DAVID JAMES, of Henry county, died last November. It is said he left a large estate and left his son, John H. James, of Atlanta, his executor.

YOU can buy velocipedes, bicycles and tricycles at reduced prices at Nunnally's, 36 Whitehall.

MISSES BALIE and ALICE CARROLL, accompanied by Miss Dora Berung, left last Wednesday for a sojourn up the Kennesaw mountains.

There Were 9 Men Wanted the Horse.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Last Sunday I invested forty cents in advertising a horse for sale in your ten cent columns. Before noon Monday I had nine customers for the horse, and by Tuesday noon twice as many had called. It beats the world.

PHIL HARALSON.

JOHN M. MOORE'S
Parlor Shoe Store,

33 Peachtree street, is now open. An invitation is extended to all to inspect the most complete stock of Shoes and Slippers, in entirely new styles and designs, ever brought to Atlanta. Prices low to suit the demands of the times. Come and see the handsomest Shoe store in the south. Don't forget the number, 33 Peachtree st.

Home Seekers, Attend the Sale!

No. 220 Peachtree, the Mrs. Edgar Thompson place, is to be sold at auction, without reserve, on Friday, the 11th day of May, at 4 p. m. Plats of this very desirable central home are now ready at our office. Get one, go and inspect the property and you will thus be prepared to bid intelligently. Indeed a private bid might now be entertained.

SAM'L W. GOODE & Co.

TOMORROW'S 20-PAGE PAPER!

NEWSDEALERS MUST SEND IN THEIR ORDERS FOR EXTRA COPIES OF TOMORROW (SUNDAY'S) 20-PAGE CONSTITUTION BEFORE 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT OR WE CANNOT GUARANTEE TO FILL THEM.

THE DEMAND FOR SUNDAY'S PAPER WILL BE VERY GREAT, AND YOU WILL BE LEFT IF YOU DO NOT MAKE YOUR ORDERS EARLY.

WE CANNOT GUARANTEE TO INSERT ANY ADVERTISEMENT FILED AFTER 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT.

Drink the delicious Anheuser Busch Pale Lager. It costs no more than inferior grades.
p15 1m 5p

CHARLIE ROSS AGAIN.

He is Said to be Living in New York State.

From the Syracuse Standard.

L. G. Reno, a prosperous and intelligent farmer, living about one and one half miles from Cooperstown, in this state, was in Syracuse yesterday on business, and in course of conversation with a friend, the subject of the abduction of Charlie Ross was mentioned as an unexplained event.

"Unexplained?" repeated Mr. Reno quickly. "Why, I know Charley Ross as well as I do my own brother. He has told me the story of his abduction fifty times. He lives right among us in Cooperstown, and everybody out there has no other thought than that he was the child abducted so strangely from his Philadelphia home fifteen or sixteen years ago. He worked for me on my farm two years ago from October to April. He has since worked in Cooperstown, on the estate of the late Edward Clark, of the Singer Sewing Machine company, and is now there. Every other Sunday he comes to see me and takes dinner with me. He is now 19 or 20 years old, a fine-looking young man, bright and of faultless habits. He is thought a great deal of by the people of the town. The story which I have heard so often from him, and confirmed in many details by others, is that a circus man and woman enticed him into their carriage as he was climbing a tree, promising to buy him candy. An hour afterward he was put on board a steamer from New York, and from there was immediately taken to Cuba. He was taught all kinds of circus performances, how to ride bareback, jump and swing on the trapeze. After he was brought to Cooperstown he often showed up his circus tricks in tumbling about the barn and on the backs of horses. The circus people were very cruel to him. In one of their rooms at the Cuban hotel where they stopped they rigged up a trapeze and trained him in spite of his fright. They used to beat him with the buckle end of a strap until his back was all black and blue. One day he ran screaming down stairs into the bar-room. The circus man followed him and struck him with his fist, in the bar-room, felling him. The landlord interfered, and the matter ended in the landlord taking charge of him. Subsequently an Episcopal missionary in Cuba named Kinney, who lived in New York city, took an interest in the youngster and secured charge of him.

"The missionary took care of Charley for a year or more, and then entrusted the boy to his father, Captain Kinney, the captain of a steamboat line running between Havana and New York city. Captain Kinney then took him to the Cooper orphanage, at Cooperstown, an Episcopalian institution, the matron of which was then and is now a daughter of J. Fennimore Cooper. The boy was then about seven years old, I believe. Captain Kinney was deeply interested in the boy, and suspected that he was Charley Ross, as did the matron. What bothered them was that he pronounced his name "Russ," giving the Scottish accent. Of course he couldn't spell his name. Correspondence was entered into with Mr. Ross, and photographs obtained of Mr. and Mrs. Ross. The boy was awakened in the middle of the night, showed one of the photographs, and asked if he knew who it was. He said it was his mother. He also identified the likeness of his father. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were then sent for and went to the orphanage. Mrs. Ross had been rendered insane by grief over the loss of her son, but seemed to have a lucid interval. Twenty men were placed in a room and the boy was asked which was his father. He went right to him. He was then taken into a room where there were twenty-two women and he picked out his mother. Mr. Ross was then satisfied and prepared to take his child away. His trunk was packed and sent to the depot. Then Mrs. Ross suddenly burst forth in one of her raving spells and insisted that the child should be taken from her sight. The only way to quiet her was to leave the child behind. Mr. Ross, however, believed Charley to be his son and often visited him, wrote him frequent letters and paid for his clothing for several years. But various distractions, including the insanity of his wife, led Mr. Ross deeper and deeper into dissipation, until now he is a wreck, and seems to have lost all interest in his son. It has been nearly a year since he has written him a letter. About the time of the Centennial exhibition, Captain Kinney took Charley to Philadelphia, and walked with him up the street where he was playing when abducted. The boy did not seem to recognize anything at first, but presently began to stop and look around and then said, 'That is the tree I was on when they took me away.' The letter was published in the Cooperstown papers at the time of these occurrences, but there was so many Charley Ross stories about that time that this story did not attract attention outside. None of Charley's relatives admit his identity except Mr. Ross himself. The young man is smart, and is bound to make his mark in the world."

A MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

He Has Renounced Great Britain, But America Does Not Want Him.

From the New York Herald.

There is a man without a country on board the English steamer Tower Hill, from London, which has been lying for some days at Prentice's, stores, Brooklyn.

Six poor, miserable stowaways were found on the vessel, and since her arrival the United States government, at vast expense, has kept four ponderous customhouse inspectors, in full uniform, to see that the villians did not land. This didn't prevent four of the deperadoes from making their escape in the darkness a few nights ago, but the dangerous characters came shivering back again in the early morning, piteously begging Captain Archer to take them on board once more because "Hamerica was so blarsted cold."

The six designing ruffians are all under-fed, half-clothed specimens of the poor London street Arab, except one.

He is the man without a country.

His name is William Lee Pain, and he is an intelligent fellow of twenty-nine, who looks like an American. This is the rather pitiful story he tells:

"I begin to think I am a man without a country," he said, "although I have been a lawful citizen of the two greatest nations in the world—Great Britain and the United States. I ought to have some rights, but it appears I haven't.

"I was born in England and was a sergeant in the Chatham division of the Royal Marines in January, 1886. I had enlisted in 1880. I tired of the service, deserted, and ran away to this country, where I arrived January 26, 1886. I secured my first papers as a naturalized American citizen in Newark, O., from Judge Allen in December, 1886.

"Last October I read that the queen would celebrate her jubilee by pardoning all deserters. I left my work on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Pittsburg and went back to England to get a pardon, reaching there just ten days before the time expired. I got my pardon and an honorable discharge. I wanted a pardon because I may come in for an inheritance some day, and I wanted to go back with out fear of arrest.

"I had no money and could get no work in London, and I had a wife and three children in America to support. I must get back, I knew I could get work from my old employer, R. D. Layden, of Pittsburg.

"So I arranged with one of the sailors in this ship to let me come aboard as a stow away. He hid me until we were two days out.

"Mr. Layden has written to me offering to pay my fare to Pittsburg if they would only let me go. I have sent this letter to the emigration commissioners.

"I don't know what country I belong to. I have renounced Great Britain and the United State won't have me."

The End of a Dream.

And so this is the end of my heart's bright dream,
No longer its chords will awaken,
Responsive and warm to thine eyes' gentle beam;
Its faith in thee, false one, is shaken.

II.

I would not e'en though I could, live over
That short, sweet vision of love.
No illusory fancies around it now hover;
They have flown with the speed of a dove.

III.

It was fancy's creation that fettered my heart;
'Twas the ideal woman—not real.
Though I dreamed that your life was of my life a part,
Yet I feel now 'twas only ideal.

IV.

Yes, I dream of this woman, whose sweet, laughing eyes
O'er my pathway through life ever shine,
And whose passionate love in my dreams never dies,
But whose heart clings so fondly to mine.

V.

And although she is only a creature ideal,
Whom in dream-life's fair bowers I see,
Yet, should I e'er meet her, the dream would be real.
I should hold her far dearer than thee.

—Ralph Seaton.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kind, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall St., New York.

At Wholesale by H. A. Boynton
Wyly & Greene, Atlanta, Ga.

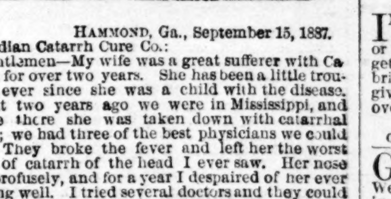

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively Cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER, &c. They regulate the Bowels and prevent Constipation and Piles. The smallest and easiest to take Only one pill a dose. Purely vegetable. Price 25 cents.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., Prop'rs, New York.

HAMMOND, Ga., September 15, 1887.

Canadian Catarrh Cure Co.:

Gentlemen—My wife was a great sufferer with Catarrh for over two years. She has been a little troubled ever since she was a child with the disease. About two years ago we were in Mississippi, and while there she was taken down with catarrhal fever; we had three of the best physicians we could get. They broke the fever and left her the worst case of catarrh of the head I ever saw. Her nose ran profusely, and for a year I despaired of her ever getting well. I tried several doctors and they could not cure her, and used every catarrh remedy I could hear of. I spent over $50 the past year for remedies, and all to no effect. At last it became so offensive that you could hardly remain where she was. I offered $1,000 to any doctor who would cure her (and that would have left us homeless), but I would not have cared for that if she could only be cured. We saw an advertisement in the Atlanta Constitution of "Canadian Catarrh Cure," and thought we would try it, and went to your office, when you gave my wife a small sample bottle of your remedy, and told us to come and get a large bottle when that was out. I bought the large bottle, and before she had used all of the bottle she was entirely well, and her health fully restored, and now does more work than any woman I know. She used the medicine over six months ago, and there has not been the slightest return of the disease. I hope everybody that has catarrh may find you and be cured. I am a traveling man and have told a great many of your wonderful cure. Yours truly,

W. J. ALBRITTAN.

Dr. J. W. Oslin & Son, druggists, of Gainesville, Ga., on September 16, 1887, writes: "Send by express one dozen Catarrh Cure. Two bottles cured a case of fifty years standing.

We have hundreds of testimonials like the above Send for our book of information.
Large size bottles, $1; small, 50c.
If your druggist does not keep it send direct to
CANADIAN CATARRH CURE CO.,
14 E. Hunter Street, - - ATLANTA, GA.
If you will call at office we will give you a bottle o pedp

NOTICE!
CITY TAX-PAYERS!
HUNNICUTT'S
RHEUMATIC CURE
—IS THE BEST—TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER
—FOR THE—
SPRING OF THE YEAR.

It drives the poison from the blood, strengthens and regenerates the system.

Good News From Author of Uncle Remus.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 3, 1888.

H. R. C. Co.:

Gentlemen—I take pleasure in saying that your "Hunnicutt's Rheumatic Cure," is the best I have ever seen. My mother who has been suffering with rheumatism for thirty years, was entirely relieved by a few bottles. Yours truly,

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS.

Price $1 Per Bottle. Six Bottles $5.

Prepared only by
HUNNICUTT'S RHEUMATIC CURE CO
Sole Proprietors, Atlanta, Ga.

And are for sale by all druggists. Send for book of valuable information free.
op ed page tues thur sat 5p.

BIDS FOR MASONRY.

CENTRAL RAILROAD AND BANKING COMpany of Georgia, Savannah, Ga., April 30, 1888.—Bids will be received at my office, until May 7th, for about three thousand yards of masonry, and the foundations for the Chattahooche river bridge at Columbia, Ala. Drawings and specifications on file in Savannah.

M. S. BELKNAP,
General Manager.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

LOST—PAIR OF OPERA GLASSES IN RED velvet, hand painted bag, with a letter "S" on one side, in Peachtree car or between Peachtree car and the opera house. Reward will be paid if returned to C. A. Sindall, 304 Peachtree street.

Hughes & Law want everybody to wear one of their late style Hats.

You are cordially invited to attend the opening of the parlor shoe store, 33 Peachtree street.

MEDICAL.

EXAUSTED VITALITY

A Great Medical Work for Young and Middle Aged Men.

KNOW THYSELF,

More Than One Million Copies Sold.

IT TREATS UPON NERVOUS AND PHYSICAL Debility, Premature Decline, Errors of Youth, Exhausted Vitality, Lost Manhood, Impaired Vigor and Impurities of the Blood and the untold miseries consequent thereon. Contains 300 pages, substantial embossed binding, full gilt. Warranted the best popular medical treatise published in the English language. Price only $1 by mail, postpaid, and concealed in a plain wrapper. Illustrated sample free if you send now.

Published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass., WM. H. PARKER, M. D., Consulting Physician, to whom all orders should be addressed. wky sun top col n r m

THE PATENT
WIRE GAUZE OVEN DOOR IS THE LATEST IMPROVEMENT ON THE CHARTER OAK STOVES

It produces Practical Results in Baking and Roasting never before attained in any Cooking Apparatus, and will Revolutionize the Present Methods of Cooking.

ITS THEORY

Is that all Food, baked or roasted, should be cooked in fresh air freely admitted to the oven. This is done by discarding the close oven door heretofore used and substituting for it a door containing a sheet of Wire Gauze nearly as large as the door itself.

Through this Gauze Door the AIR FREELY CIRCULATES, facilitating the process of cooking, and producing food that is unequaled in flavor and nutrition, and actually cooked with less consumption of fuel than in an oven with a closed door.

It makes an enormous saving in the weight of meat.

It also Produces LARGER LOAVES OF BREAD, requires less attention from the cook, and promotes the health of the family by the SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE FOOD COOKED IN IT.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT.

MRS. MARY B. WELCH, Teacher Domestic Economy, Iowa State University, says: "My deliberate judgement is that the oven of the Range as compared with others, is not only more equally heated in every part, front as well as rear—but as a result of its superior ventilation the food placed therein is better cooked, while retaining a sweeter flavor, and a larger proportion of its best juices. I find, also, that the consumption of fuel in this Range is much less that any other for same work.

SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED CIRCULARS AND PRICE LIST.
EXCELSIOR MANF'G CO., ST. LOUIS, MO.
Sold by A. P. STEWART & CO., Atlanta, Ga.

OLD GOLD.

IN EVERY household old fashioned and worn Jewelry accumulates, becoming food for burglars or petty thieves. If readers of The Constitution will get out their old gold, old silver, old jewelry, and bring it to us or send it per mail or express, we will give or send you cash for its value. Old gold made over.

WADE & WOODCOCK,
Manufacturing Jewelers, 33½ Whitehall St. op ed p sun wed

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO THE HONorable County Commissioners of said county—We, the undersigned citizens of said county, residing in the territory here in described, respectfully petition your honor board to establish an additional militia district in said county to be known as Edgewood district G. M. Fulton county, Georgia. The limits and bounds of said district to be as follows: Beginning at the eastern limits of the city of Atlanta, at a point where the William's mill road crosses said corporate line, and extending along the north side of said road to the DeKalb and Fulton county lines. Then southward along said county lines to the old Flat Shoals road or Fair street road where it intersects with the other Flat Shoals road. Thence along the old Flat Shoals road to the limit or corporate line of the city of Atlanta.

Your petitioners represent that the citizens residing in said territory, some of whom are now in the Peachtree district, some in the South Bend district, live long distances from the court grounds of their districts, and hence are put to great inconvenience and expense in attending courts and for the purpose of voting, etc., and hence they desire said district and a court ground of their own, where it will be convenient and accessible for such purposes. The said district thus laid out will contain from five to six hundred people who will all be benefitted by said district. The new district will contain a sufficient number of persons as required by law, and each of others from which this is to be taken would then contain a sufficient number. Besides magistrates of the law in a community have a fine influence in preserving the peace and keeping order which is much needed in the county. The granting of this petition will greatly benefit and oblige the undersigned and citizens. Wherefore they pray that proper steps may be taken to lay off and establish said district in terms of the law. Respectfully

James P. McDonald,	W. R. Brooks,
H. Karwisch,	D. Wright,
Ed Holland,	William Skeets,
M. Harralson,	G. B. Hammond,
Thomas E. Walker,	Bas. Walker,
Charles Read,	T. M. Martin,
H. W. Palmer,	J. R. Palmer,
J. A. Scott,	J. E. Renfroe,
James C. Pendleton,	James McDaniel,
V. Long,	I. P. Reynolds,
E. B. Hursey,	W. S. Dausby,
W. H. Hulsey,	Madison Reynolds,
W. I Long,	G. W. White,
I. F. Faith,	A. W. Read,
J. J. Thomas Williams,	Charles M. Neal,
J. G. Reynolds,	A. F. Moreland.

OFFICE OF THE FULTON COUNTY COMmissioners of Roads dnd Revenues, March 7th, 1888—This petition is referred to W. H. Hulsey and Charles D. Alvigny, of South Bend District, and Charles M. Neal, of Peachtree District, who are appointed Commissioners to lay out and define the lines of said proposed new district and report the same to the Commissioners of Roads and Revenues.

By order of the Commissioners of Roads and Revenues.

JOHN T. COOPER,
Clerk Com. Roads and Revenues.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO THE COUNTY Commissioners of said County: In obedience to an order or precept to us directed to lay out and define the lines and limits of a new militia district, prayed for by certain citizens of said county, to be called Edgewood and to be designated by the No.—, we ask leave to report that we have performed the work assigned to us, and submit the following as the metes and bounds of said district, commencing at the southwest corner of land lot No. 43, in the 14th district of originally Henry, now Fulton county, and running east along the south side of land lots Nos. 43, 22 and 11 of said district to the counties of Fulton and DeKalb. Thence north along said county line to the northeast corner of land lot No. 15 in said district. Thence west along said land line to the corporate limits of the city of Atlanta. Thence south along the line of said city limits to the beginning point.

Trusting that our report may meet your approval, and that the prayer of the petitioners for such district may be granted, we are most respectfully your obedient servants,

C. M. NEAL,
C. F. S. D'ALVIGNY,
W. H. HULESY.

THE foregoing report of W. H. Hulsey, Chas. D. Alvigny and Chas. M. Neal, commissioners appointed to lay out and define the lines of Edgewood district, is approved and ordered entered on the minutes of this board, April 4, 1888.

C. W. HUNNICUTT,
H. L. WILSON,
J. D. COLLINS,
M. C. KISER,
G. W. ADAIR,
Commissioners of Roads and Revenues.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONERS OF ROADS AND Revenues of Fulton County.—April 11th, 1888—The foregoing is a true extract from the Minutes of the Commissioners of Roads and Revennes of said county.

JOHN T. COOPER,
apl12-4t thu Clerk Com. Roads and Revenues.

G. W. ADAIR.........AUCTIONEER

2 Seven-Room Houses2

I WILL SELL, UPON THE PREMISES, ON Wednesday, May 9, 1888, at 4 p. m., two well-constructed, seven-room tenement houses, situated on High street, 110 feet from Tatnall street, in a good locality that commands rent-paying tenants. Will be sold with perfect titles; terms: one-half cash, balance 12 months, 8 per cent. Free ride on street car to sale and return.

G. W. ADAIR.

apr25-29may 2, 7, 9—8p

RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

Railroad Time Table

Showing the arrival and departure of all trains from this city—Central Time.

EAST TENN. VA. & GA. R'Y.

ARRIVE.	DEPART.
*No. 14—from Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville.....7 25 a m	*No. 12—for Rome, Knoxville, Cincinnati, Nashville and Memphis..12 55 p m
*No. 11—from New York and Knoxville, 10 50 a m	*No. 14—for Rome, Nashville, Cincinnati and Memphis.....7 40 a m
*No. 13—from Cincinnati, and Nashville...6 45 p m	*No. 13—for Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville.....6 55 p m
*No. 16—from Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville.....8 50 p m	*No. 15—for Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville.....6 10 a m
*No. 15, from N. Y., Knoxville and Alabama points.....5 30 am	*No. 16, for Knoxville and New York.....10 30 p m

CENTRAL RAILROAD.

From Sav'h*.....7 15 a m	To Savannah*.....6 50 a m
" Griffin†.....8 15 a m	To Macon*.....9 00 a m
" Griffin‡.....9 45 a m	To Macon*.....2 20 p m
" Macon*.....1 15 p m	To Griffin‡.....3 00 p m
" Hapeville†..1 40 p m	To Griffin†.....5 00 p m
" Sav'h*.....5 40 p m	To Savannah*.....7 15 p m
" Macon*.....9 45 p m	To Hapeville†.....12 01 p m

WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD.

From Chat'ga*.....6 30 a m	To Chattanooga*..7 50 a m
" Marietta.....8 35 a m	To Chattanooga*..1 35 p m
" Rome.....11 05 a m	To Rome.....3 45 p m
" Chat'ga*.....1 45 p m	To Marietta.....4 40 p m
" Chat'ga*.....6 48 p m	To Chattanooga*..5 50 p m
" Chat'ga*.....9 50 p m	To Chattan'ga*..11 15 p m

ATLANTA AND WEST POINT RAILROAD.

From Montg'ry*..7 20 a m	To Columbus*.....6 40 p m
" Montg'ry*..1 10 p m	To Montgomery*..2 00 p m
" Columbus*..5 45 p m	To Montgom'ry*12 00 n'ht

GEORGIA RAILROAD.

From Augusta*.....6 30 a m	To Augusta*.....8 00 a m
" Covington*.7 55 a m	To Decatur.....8 55 a m
" Decatur.....10 15 a m	To Clarkston.....12 10 p m
" Augusta*.....1 00 p m	To Augusta*.....2 45 p m
" Clarkston.....2 20 p m	To Covington.....6 15 p m
" Augusta*.....5 45 p m	To Augusta*.....11 15 p m
" Decatur.....4 55 p m	To Decatur.....4 00 p m

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE.
(Richmond and Danville Railroad,)

From Athens.....9 00 am	*To Washington .7 40 am
*From Wash'g'n..11 00 pm	*To Athens.....4 30 pm
*From Wash'g'n...9 40 pm	*To Washington..6 00 pm

GEORGIA PACIFIC RAILROAD.

From Starkville..6 15 a m	To Birming'm...1 25 pm
From Tallapoosa..8 50 a m	To Tallapoosa.....5 00 pm
*From Birm'g'm..5 25 p m	*To Starkville.....11 00 pm

CLARKSTON TRAINS—Daily except Sunday.

Lv. Atlanta.....12 10 p m	Lv. Clarkston.....1 25 p m
Lv. Decatur.....12 42 p m	Lv. Decatur.....1 48 p m
Ar. Clarkston.....12 57 p m	Ar. Atlanta.....2 20 p m

*Daily—†Daily except Sunday—‡Sunday only
All other trains daily except Sunday. Central time

BANKERS AND BROKERS.

MADDOX, RUCKER AND CO

BANKERS,

86 WEST ALABAMA STREET,

Transact a general banking business.
Receive deposits subject to check at sight.
Buy and sell exchange.
Discount approved paper.
Allow 5 per cent interest on time deposits.

DARWIN G. JONES. OLIVER C. FULLER

JONES AND FULLER

STOCKS, BONDS AND LOANS,

16 West Alabama Street.

$18,000 to loan on improved City Real Estate.

Henry Clews & Co.

Bankers, 13 & 15 Broad St., N. Y.,

MEMBERS OF THE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE.
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE.
NEW YORK COFFEE EXCHANGE.
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Transactions made at any of the above exchange and carried on margin for customers when desired Interest allowed on deposit accounts.

The Tolleson Commission Co.

BROKERS IN

STOCKS AND BONDS

W. H. PATTERSON,

Bond and Stock Broker,

24 SOUTH PRYOR STREET.

FOR SALE.

Atlanta and West Point Railroad stock.
Atlanta City bonds.
Americus, Preston and Lumpkin Railroad bonds
State of Georgia Bonds.
Georgia Railroad bonds.
Atlanta Gas Light Company stock.

THE GATE CITY NATIONAL BANK

Of Atlanta, Ga.

—UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY.—

Capital and Undivided Profits,

$375,000.

Issues Certificates of Deposit Payable on Demand with Interest.

Three per cent per annum if left four months.
Four per cent per annum if left six months.
4½ per cent per annum if left twelve months.

NORTH SIDE SAVINGS BANK

No. 7 Pryor Street.

DOES A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS. Accounts of manufacturers, country merchants and farmers received. Accommodations extended as far as consistent to sound banking. We draw drafts payable in all parts of Europe, pay interest on special deposits and make collections on all parts of the United States and Canada.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED
dec11 dly

CAPITAL CITY BANK,

OF ATLANTA, GA.,

COR. WHITEHALL AND ALABAMA STS

Capital and Undivided Profits, $452,000.

A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS

—) TRANSACTED (—

Collections made direct on all points in the United States and remitted for promptly. Particular attention paid to the business of correspondents. The business of Bankers, Merchants and Manufacturers is repectfully solicited. Special feature made of the Savings' Department. Interest paid on time deposits. oct 15 tf

HUMPHREYS CASTLEMAN

Bond and Stock Broker,

12 East Alabama Street.

Notice to Debtors and Creditors.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO ALL PERSONS having demands against Dr. Louis E. Borcheim, late of Fulton county, deceased, to present them to me, properly made out, as required by law, and all persons indebted to the said deceased are hereby required to make immediate payment.
MORRIS HIRSCH,
Executor of Louis E. Brocheim.

JUDICIOUS AND PERSISTENT Advertising has always proven successful. Before placing any Newspaper Advertising consult LORD & THOMAS,
ADVERTISING AGENTS,
45 to 49 Randolph Street, CHICAGO.

Finance and Commerce.

Bonds, Stocks and Money.

CONSTITUTION OFFICE,
ATLANTA, May 4, 1888.

New York exchange buying at ⅛ premium and selling at ¼ premium.

STATE AND CITY BONDS.	Bid.	Asked.
New Ga., 4½ 20 year	106	107
Ga. 6s, 1889	101¼	102½
Ga. 7s, gold	103½	105
Ga. 7s, 1896	118	—
S. C. Brown	105	—
Savannah 5s	103	105
Atl'ta 8s, 1902	124	126
Atl'ta 8s, 1892	108	—
Atl'ta 7s, 1904	120	122
Atl'ta 7s, 1899	113	—
Atl'ta 6s, L. D.	111	113
Atl'ta 6s, S. D.	100	102
Atlanta 5s	102½	104
Atlanta 4½s	102	103
Augusta 7s	110	112
Macon 6s	110	114
Columbus 5s	100	103
ATLANTA BANK STOCKS.
Atlanta Nat'l	200	300
Merch'ts B'k	140	145
B'k State Ga	140	—
Gate City Nat	140	—
Capital City	100	—
RAILROAD BONDS.
Ga. 6s, 1897	106	108

R. R. BONDS.	Bid	Asked.
Ga. 6s, 1910	109	—
Ga. 6s, 1922	111	—
Cent. 7s, 1893	107	—
C., C. & A. 1st	108	—
A. & C. 1st	119	121
A. & C. inc	101	—
W. of A. 1st	100	—
do. 2d	105	107
Ga. Pac. 1st	106	107½
Ga. Pac. 2d	45	50
Am'cus, Prest. &L'mkn 1st 7s	107½	110
M. & N. G. 1st	100	—
Ga. Mid. & Glf 1st 6s, 1926	91	93
RAILROAD STOCKS.
Georgia	196	199
At. & Char.	80	—
Southwest'n	125	127
S. Carolina	5	10
Central	115	117
Central deb	100	102
Aug. & Sav	127	129
A. & W. Pt	107	110
do. deb	101	103
C., C. & A.	25	35

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Almost all the vim seemed to have departed from the stock market today. The total sales were smallest for over two weeks, while special action was at its lowest ebb, traders having the marking of quotations on their hands most of the day. As a consequence, final prices are in most cases lower than last evening. As usual, the market showed more strength during the forenoon, and notwithstanding the fact that London was seller, which has begun to show in the rates for sterling exchange, outside orders to buy on decline from commission houses, and gave market strength, though the usual feverish and unsettled appearance accompanied the rise. Later in day, the market was raided, presumably for the purpose of affecting London market tomorrow morning, and early advances were in most every case wiped out, the demand for stocks having come to an end. Short interest shows no signs of decrease, however, and there is still a general bullish feeling, which acts as a back log to the market. Missouri Pacific was leader of the morning's advance, while in the afternoon the pressure was specially severe upon Union Pacific and New England, though the latter was fairly strong in the forenoon. Kansas and Texas, and Louisville and Nashville were also prominent, and both show marterial losses this evening. The activity in last quarter of hour was greater than at any time since the first hour. The market closed heavy to weak, at or near last prices, and reacted for most of list. Advances recorded are few in number, and for small fractfons only. Missouri Pacific lost 1⅛; Kansas and Texas, 1⅛; Louisville and Nashville, and Alton and Terre Haute, 1 per cent each.

Exchange fairly active and strong at 486½@488½. Money easy at 1½@2. Subtreasury balances: Coin $131,880,000; currency, $13,780,000. Governments quiet but firm; 4s 126⅝; 4½s 107¼. State bonds dull but steady.

Ala. Class A 2 to 5	105	N. O. Pac. 1st	82
do. Class B 5s	109½	N. Y. Central	106¾
Ga. 7s mortgage	104	Norfolk & W'n pre	47¾
N. C. 6s	119	Northern Pacific	25
do. 4s	94	do. preferred	52⅞
S. C. con. Brown	106	Pacific Mail	36¼
Tenn. settlement 3s	70	Reading	62⅞
Virginia 6s	48	Rich. & Alleghany	4
Virginia consols	33	Richmond & Dan	—
Chesap'ke & Ohio	1½	Rich. & W. P. Ter'l	26⅛
Chicago & N. W.	110¾	Rock Island	112⅞
do. preferred	143½	St. Paul	74
Del. & Lack	130¼	do. preferred	115
Erie	25¼	Texas Pacific	20¾
East Tenn., new	10⅛	Tenn. Coal & Iron	27¾
Lake Shore	92⅝	Union Pacific	57½
L. & N.	57	N. J. Central	83
Memphis & Char	55	Missouri Pacific	80
Mobile & Ohio	9½	Western Union	77
N. & C.	77	Cotton oil trust cert	31⅝

*Bid. †Ex-dividend. ‡Offered. ‖Ex-rights.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

CONSTITUTION OFFICE,
ATLANTA, May 4, 1888.

Net receipts for the week ending today 32,546 bales, against 30,630 bales last week, and against 12,911 bales for the corresponding week last year; exports for the week 50,582 bales, against 18,972 bales for the corresponding week last year; stock 487,540 bales, against 407,776 bales for the same time last year.

Below we give the opening and closing quotations of cotton futures in New York today:

	Opening.	Closing.
May	9.82@	9.92@ 9.93
June	9.94@	10.00@10.01
July	10.03@	10.09@10.10
August	10.12@	10.18@ .....
September	9.77@	9.82@ 9.83
October	9.48@	9.52@ 9.53
November	9.40@	9.43@ 9.44
December	9.41@	9.43@ 9.44
January	9.48@	9.52@ 9.53
February	9.56@	9.60@ 9.62

Closed firm; sales 48.500 bales.

Local—Cotton steady; middling 9⅜c.

The following is our table of receipts and shipments for today:

RECEIPTS.

By wagon	61
Air-line Railroad	8
Georgia Railroad	11
Central Railroad	—
Western and Atlantic Railroad	—
West Point Railroad	6
East Tennessee, Va. and Ga. Railroad	2
Georgia Pacific Railroad	8
A. and F	—
Total	96
Receipts previously	103,462
Total	103,558
Stock September 1	81
Grand total	103,639

SHIPMENTS.

Shipped today	876
Shipped previously	93,080
Taken by local spinners	6,560
Total	100,516
Stock on hand	3,123

The following is our comparative statement:

Receipts today	96
Same time last year	2
Showing an increase of	94
Receipts for the week	219
Same week last year	37
Showing an increase of	182
Receipts since September 1	103,558
Same time last year	122,400
Showing a decrease of	18,842

NEW YORK, May 4—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending today:

Net receipts at all United States ports	32,546
Same time last year	12,911
Showing an increase	19,635
Total receipts	5,257,374
Same time last year	5,154,887
Showing an increase	102,187
Exports for the week	50,582
Same time last year	18,972
Showing an increase	31,610
Total exports to date	4,083,524
Same time last year	4,141,512
Showing a decrease	57,988
Stock at all United States ports	487,540
Same time last year	405,776
Showing an increase	81,746
Stock at interior towns	85,237
Same time last year	35,263
Showing an increase	49,969
Stock at Liverpool	830,000
Same time last year	971,000
Showing a decrease	141,000
American cotton afloat for Great Britain	48,000
Same time last year	56,000
Showing a decrease	8,000

NEW YORK, May 4 — The following are the total net receipts of cotton at all United States ports since September 1, 1887:

Galveston	647,053
New Orleans	1,686,919
Mobile	202,148
Savannah	843,128
Charleston	424,262
Wilmington	165,605
Norfolk	457,291
Baltimore	46,765
New York	87,605
Boston	79,833
Newport News	95,369
Philadelphia	25,124
West Point	389,083
Brunswick	73,951
Port Royal	13,755
Pensacola	16,993
Total	5,257,374

NEW YORK, May 4—Hubbard, Price & Co., in their circular today, say: A rather unexpected better market in Liverpool gave us a firm and higher opening, and the first sales were made at an advance of 3@4 points above last night's close. The decline of Wednesday and the dullness of yesterday had no doubt made a new short interest among local dealers, and as soon as that class of operators see that there is no chance to depress the market they are quick to cover. We had that kind of a market today. Room scalpers bought freely to cover their short engagements, and when current estimates became known buying became more general and vigorous. With limited offerings prices advanced six points for the old and four points for the new crop, closing at the best prices of the day. The demand for spots has been again very active today, the total sales being 1,378 bales, of which 800 bales were for export.

By Telegraph.

LIVERPOOL, May 4—12:15 p. m.—Cotton steady and in fair demand; middling uplands 5 7-16, middling Orleans 5½; sales 12,000 bales; speculation and export 1,000; receipts 27,000; American 9,100; uplands low middling clause May and June delivery 5 25-64; June and July delivery 5 25-64; July and August delivery 5 27-64; August and September delivery 5 27-64; September and October delivery 5 17-64; November and December 5 9-64; futures opened quiet.

Weekly—Sales 79,000; American 61,000; speculation 5,500; exports 3,900; actual export 9,800; import 98,000; American 67,000; stock 830,000; American 601,000; afloat 111,000; American 48,000.

LIVERPOOL, May 4—2:00 p. m.—Sales of American 8,900 bales; uplands low middling clause May delivery 5 26-64, sellers; May and June delivery 5 26-64, sellers; June and July delivery 5 27-64, buyers; July and August delivery 5 27-64, sellers; August and September delivery 5 27-64, sellers; September and October delivery 5 17-64, sellers; October and November delivery 5 11-64, sellers; November and December delivery 5 9-64, buyers; futures steady.

LIVERPOOL, May 4—4:00 p. m.—Uplands low middling clause May delivery 5 26-64, buyers; May and June delivery 5 26-64, buyers; June and July delivery 5 27-64, sellers; July and August delivery 5 28-64, sellers; August and September delivery 5 28-64, sellers; September and October delivery 5 17-64, buyers; October and November delivery 5 11-64, buyers; November and December delivery 5 10-64, sellers; futures closed steady.

NEW YORK, May 4—Cotton firm; sales 1,228 bales; middling uplands 10; middling Orleans 10¼; net receipts none; gross 1,591; consolidated net receipts 6,999; exports to Great Britain 3,586; to France 4,818; to continent 5,551; stock 208,582.

Weekly—Net receipts 669; gross 11,573; exports to Great Britain 9,378; to France 1,162; to continent 9,073; forwarded 2,278; sales 6,360; to spinners 3,380.

GALVESTON, May 4—Cotton steady; middling 9 7-16; net receipts 192 bales; gross 192; sales 137; stock 7,156.

Weekly—Net receipts 1,484; gross 1,484; sales 2,012; exports coastwise 2,612.

NORFOLK, May 4—Cotton firm; middling 9¾; net receipts 614 bales; gross 614; stock 14,070; sales 97.

Weekly—Net receipts 4,486; gross 4,486; sales 1,146; exports coastwise 6,039.

BALTIMORE, May 4—Cotton steady; middling 10; net receipts none bales; gross 160; sales —; stock 18,328; sales to spinners —.

Weekly—Net receipts 890; gross 4,438; sales 850; to spinners 450; exports to Great Britain 122; to continent 1,789; coastwise 690.

BOSTON, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 10¼; net receipts 105 bales; gross 211; sales none; stock none.

Weekly—Net receipts 1,557; gross 9,373; sales none; exports to Great Britain 7,454.

WILMINGTON, May 4—Cotton steady; middling 9¼; net receipts 21 bales; gross 21; sales none; stock 3,071.

Weekly — Net receipts 86; gross 36; sales none; exports coastwise 321.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 10¼; net receipts none bales; gross none; sales none; stock 16,039.

Weekly — Net receipts 53; gross 119; sales none; exports to Great Britain 1,081; to continent 481.

SAVANNAH, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 9 9-16; net receipts 875 bales; gross 875; sales 17; stock 18,382.

Weekly—Net receipts 3,894; gross 3,894; sales 1,300; exports coastwise 5,831.

NEW ORLEANS, May 4—Cotton firm; middling 9¼; net receipts 1,730 bales; gross 2,527; sales 2,250; stock 171,973.

Weekly—Net receipts 10,740; gross 15,362; sales 18,300; exports to Great Britain 6,175; to France 4,818; to continent 7,878; coastwise 5,967.

MOBILE, May 4—Cotton nominal; middling 9⅛; net receipts 10 bales; gross 10; sales none; stock 15,473.

Weekly—Net receipts 215; gross 217; sales 1,500; exports coastwise 2,525.

MEMPHIS, May 4—Cotton steady; middling 9 9-16; net receipts 169 bales; shipments 3,773; sales 2,000; stock 49,389.

Weekly—Net receipts 1,482; shipments 13,911; sales 12,150; to spinners —.

AUGUSTA, May 4—Cotton firm; middling 9¼; net receipts 54 bales; shipments —; sales 330.

Weekly—Net receipts 540; shipments 1,416; sales 1,742; stock 17,582.

CHARLESTON, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 9 11-16; net receipts 592 bales; gross 592; sales 100; stock 10,191.

Weekly—Net receipts 2,720; gross 2,720; sales 950; exports coastwise 2,576.

MONTGOMERY, May 4—Cotton firm; middling 9⅝; net receipts of the week 242 bales; shipments 2,689; stock of 1887, 890; 1888, 4,723; sales 2,689.

MACON, May 4—Cotton —; middling —; net receipts of the week 57 bales; sales 112; stock of 1887, 390; 1888, 1,879; shipments 267.

COLUMBUS, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 9¼; net receipts of the week 145 bales; shipments 844; sales 611; to spinners —; stock of 1887, 2,117; 1888, 8,395.

NASHVILLE, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 9¼; net receipts of the week 154 bales; shipments 212; sales 874; to spinners 784; stock of 1887, 12,121; 1888, 5,502.

SELMA, May 4—Cotton steady; middling 9⅜; net receipts of the week 99 bales; shipments 316; stock 2,758.

ROME, May 4—Cotton quiet; middling 9 7-16; net receipts for the week 125 bales; sihpments 144; stock 2,683.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, May 4—[Special.]—There was quite a change of sentiment in wheat today. The rains of last night refreshed the bears in proportion as it improved crop prospects; then, too, cables reported a downward tendency at Liverpool. These influences induced the local crowd to sell wheat at the start, but clearances at New York were reported at 388,000 bushels, and they turned buyers. Later, when it was found that the clearance should have been 38,000 bushels, the bull fever was suddenly checked and trade became quite dull. July opened at 83⅛c, sold off to 83¼@⅜c, reacted to 83⅝@¾c, and again eased back to 83½c. There were no orders from the outside and a steady stream of small lots of long wheat came on the market, causing July to sell off steadily until it reached 83c. Toward the close there was a reaction and July rested at 83⅛c.

The corn market opened with fair activity and steady prices, followed by an advance of ¼@⅝c for all futures except May. For that month there was special demand and eager buying by a large house and the price went up quickly from 57 to 58c. The pressure was relieved by liberal sales and the price settled back to 27⅛c and closed at 57⅛c. July sold up to 56c early, then back to 55⅝@55½c and closed at 55⅞c.

Oats were stronger on the whole than on any other cereal today. Opening prices were ⅛c higher for June and July. May opened and closed at 33½c. July sold down to 32½c and up to 33⅜c, closing at 32⅝c bid.

The provision market was active, but values were confined to a narrow range. Shorts were at a loss to cover their lard and short ribs, and orders for three million pounds were said to have arrived from Baltimore. The execution of them caused prices to advance 5c. Long stuff came out freely on appreciation, and the advance was lost. Parties who have recently bought lard on foreign orders and had orders to sell, let the chief buyers have over 5,000 tierces, and early sales were at a slight advance, but increased offering caused depreciation to disappear. Sales for July were at $8.17½@8.25 and closed at $8.22½. June short ribs were $8.42½@50 and closed at outside. Mess pork received moderate attention. July sold at $13.87½@14.12½ and closed at outside.

The following was the range in the leading futures in Chicago today:

	Opening.	Highest.	Closing.
WHEAT—
May	81⅝	81¾	81⅝
June	82½	82⅝	82½
July	83½	83⅝	83½
CORN—
May	57	58	57⅝
June	55⅝	56	56
July	55⅝	56	55⅞
OATS—
May	33¼	33½	33½
June	32¾	32¾	32¾
July	32¾	32¾	32⅝
PORK—
May	13 75	13 95	13 95
June	13 82½	14 02½	14 02½
July	13 95	14 12½	14 12½
LARD—
May	8 12½	8 17½	8 15
June	8 20	8 20	8 17½
July	8 25	8 25	8 22½
SHORT RIBS—
May	7 40	7 42½	7 42½
June	7 42½	7 50	7 50
July	7 50	7 57½	7 57½

PROVISIONS, GRAIN, ETC.

CONSTITUTION OFFICE,
ATLANTA, May 4, 1888.

Flour, Grain and Meal.

NEW YORK, May 4—Flour, southern firm; common to fair extra $3.30@$4.00; good to choice $4.10@$5.10. Wheat, spot firm but quiet; options opened heavy and declined ⅛@⅜c, but later rallied to about the best, closing steady; No 2 red May 93⅞@94¼; June 92⅞@93⅜. Corn, spot quiet but well maintained in price; options ruled strong early and advanced ¼@1⅛c, but soon weakened and declined ¼@⅝c, closing heavy with speculation quite moderate; No. 2 May 64⅞@65¼; June 62⅛@63¼. Oats ⅛@¼c better; No. 2 May 37¼@37⅜; June 38⅛@38⅜; mixed western 37@39¼. Hops quiet and steady; state 4@14; California 3@12.

ATLANTA, May 4 — Flour — Best patent $5.50; extra fancy $5.25; fancy $4.75; extra family $4.50; choice family $4.25; family $4.00; extra $3.75. Wheat — No. 2 red $1.00; Georgia red 90c. Bran—Large sacks $1.18; small $1.20. Corn Meal—Plain 73c; bolted 72c. Pea Meal—90c. Grits—$4.00. Corn—Choice white 74c; No. 2 white Tennessee 74c; No. 2 mixed 72c. Oats— No. 2 mixed 47c. Hay—Choice timothy, large bales, $1.10; small bales $1.10; No. 1 large bales $1.10; small bales $1.10; clover 95c; wheat straw baled 80c. Peas—Stock —.

BALTIMORE, May 4 — Flour firm; demand fair; Howard street and western superfine $2.37@$2.85; extra $3.00@$3.75; family $4.00@$4.50; city mills superfine $2.37@$2.60; extra $3.00@$3.75; Rio brands $4.50@$5.00. Wheat, southern firm; western quiet but firm; southern red 93@$1.00; amber 95@$1.00; No. 1 Maryland —; No. 2 western winter red spot 90½@90⅝. Corn, southern scarce and firm; white 64@65; yellow 65@67½.

ST. LOUIS, May 4—Flour quiet, ranging from $2.50@4.30. Wheat opened weak and closed ⅜c below yesterday; No. 2 red fall cash 85@85⅜; May 84¾@85. Corn very steady early but fell back, closing ⅛@⅜c above yesterday; No. 2 mixed cash 52½@52½; May 52⅛@52⅜. Oats higher; No. 2 mixed cash 33½@34⅝; May 33⅞.

CHICAGO, May 4—Cash quotations were as follows; Flour quiet; winter wheat $3.90@$4.35; spring wheat $3.40@4.25; spring patent $3.50@$4.80. No. 2 spring wheat 81¼@81⅜; No. 3 do —; No. 2 red 84⅛. No. 2 corn 57⅜@57⅝. No. 2 oats 33¼.

CINCINNATI, May 4—Flour stronger; family $3.50@$3.70; fancy $4.00@$4.15. Wheat strong; No. 2 red 89@90. Corn ; No. 2 mixed 58. Oats stronger; No. 2 mixed 35.

LOUISVILLE, May 4—Grain steady. Wheat, No. 2 red 87⅜; longberry —. Corn, No. 2 mixed 57; do. white —. Oats, new No. 2 mixed 35; do. white —.

Groceries.

ATLANTA, May 4—Coffee — Choice 19c; prime 18c; good 17c; fair 16c; low grade 15c. Sugar—Cut loaf 8c; powdered 8c; standard granulated 7¾c; standard A 7¼c; extra C 7c; yellow extra C 6¾c. Syrups—New Orleans choice 50@55c; prime 30@35c; common 20@25c. Teas—Black 35@60c; green 35@60c. Nutmegs 75c; Cloves 35c. Allspice 12½c. Cinnamon 12c. Sago 50c. Ginger 10c. Mace 60c. Pepper 20c. Crackers—Milk 7c; Boston butter 8c; pearl oyster 7½c; X soda 5c; XXX do. 5½c. Candy—Assorted stick 9c. Mackerel — No. 3½ bbls $15.00; ½ bbls $6.75; kits 80c. Soap $2.00@$5.00 ₩ 100 cakes. Candles — Full weight 11c. Matches — Round wood ₩ gross $1.15; ₩ 200 $2.50; ₩ 3.50; ₩ 400 $4.50. Soda—in kegs 4½c; in boxes 5½c. Rhoice 6½c; prime 6c; fair 5½c. Salt—Virginia 75c. Cheese—Cream 14c; factory 13c.

NEW ORLEANS, May 4—Coffee quiet but firm; Rio cargoes common to prime 12½@16⅜. Sugar firm but not quotably higher; Louisiana open kettle choice 5⅝; strictly prime 5½; prime 4 11-16; fully fair to prime 5¼; fair to good fair 5⅛; good common 4¼@4 7-16; centrifugals. plantation granulated 6¾; choice white 6½; off white 6¼@6 3-16; choice yellow clarified 6; prime do. 5⅝@5 15-16; off do. 5 13-16; seconds 4½@4 9-16. Molasses steady; open kettle fancy 38; choice 35@35; strictly prime 29@3[illegible]; good prime 25@26; prime 21@23; common 25; fair to good fair 19@20; common to good common 14@17; centrifugals prime 20@22; prime to good prime 18; fair to good fair 16@17; inferior to good common 1[illegible]@16. Louisiana syrup 20@26. Rice dull; Louisiana ordinary to prime 4¼@5¼.

NEW YORK, May 4—Coffee fair Rio firm at 15; options higher on near months; late months steady; No. 7 Rio May 11.80@11.95; June 11.45@11.65; July 10.80@11 05. Sugar quiet and unchanged; fair to good refining 4 13-16; refined quiet; C 5½; extra C 5⅝@5¾; white extra C 6@6 1-16; yellow 5⅜@5½; off A 6@6 1-16; mould A 7; standard A 6¼; confectioners A 6⅝; cut loaf and crushed 7¾; powdered 7; granulated 6¾; cubes 7. Molasses steady; 50-test 20. Rice steady; domestic 4½@5⅜.

Provisions.

ST. LOUIS, May 4—Provisions firm. Pork $14.25. Lard 7.75. Dry salt meats, boxed lots shoulders 5.75@5.87½; long clear 7.25@7.37½; clear ribs 7.40@7.50; short clear 7.75@7.87½. Bacon, boxed shoulders 6.37½; long clear 8.10@8.12½; short ribs 8.12½@8.15; short clear 8.37½@8.40; hams 10@12.

LOUISVILLE, May 4 — Provisions firm. Bacon, clear rib sides 8.10; clear sides 8 60; shoulders 6¼. Bulk meats, clear rib sides 7.50; clear sides 7.75; shoulders 5¾. Mess pork nominal. Hams, sugar-cured 11@11½. Lard, choice leaf 9½.

NEW YORK, May 4—Pork steady; old mess $14.25@$14.50; new $15.00@$15.25. Middles dull. Lard more active; western steam spot 8.50; May 8.39@8.42; June 8.32@8.38; city steam 7.85; refined to continent 8.10.

CHICAGO, May 4—Cash quotations were as follows: Mess pork $13.75. Lard 8.12½@8.10. Short ribs loose 7.37½. Dry salted shoulders boxed 5.75@6.00; short clear sides boxed 7.90@7.95.

ATLANTA, May 4 — The following are ruling cash prices today: Clear rib sides 8⅛c. Sugar-cured hams 12½@13½c. Lard — Pure leaf, tierces 9¾c; refined 8¼c.

CINCINNATI, May 4—Pork firmer at $14.50. Lard strong at 7.80. Bulk meats higher; short ribs 7⅝. Bacon firm; short ribs —; short clear 8⅞.

Naval Stores.

WILMINGTON, May 4—Turpentine steady at 32½; rosin firm; strained 82½; good strained 87½; tar firm at $1.05; crude turpentine firm; hard $1.00; yellow dip $1.90; virgin $2.90.

CHARLESTON, May 4 — Turpentine firm at 32; rosin nominal; good strained 90.

SAVANNAH, May 4—Turpentine firm at 32½; rosin steady at 97½@$1.00.

NEW YORK, May 4—Rosin quiet at $1.20@$1.22½; turpentine quiet at 36.

Fruits and Confectioneries.

ATLANTA, May 4 — Apples — $5.50@$6.00 per bbl. Lemons—$4.00@ $4.50. Oranges—$4.50@$5.00. Cocoanuts—6c. Pineapples—$2.00 ₩ doz. Bananas—Selected $1.75@$2.00; grapes $7.50 ₩ barrel. Figs — 13@18c. Raisins — New London $3.25; ½ boxes $1.75; ¼ boxes 90c. Currants—7½@8c. Leghorn citron—27c. Almonds—19c. Pecans—10@14c. Brazil—10@11c. Filberts—12½c. Walnuts—13c. Dried Fruit—Sundried apples 8½@14c, sundried peaches 8½@10c; sundried peaches pealed 11c.

Hardware.

ATLANTA, May 4 — Market steady. Horseshoes $4.25@$4.50; mule shoes $5.25@$5.50; horseshoe nails 12@20c. Ironbound hames $3.50. Trace-chains 32@70c. Ames' shovels $9.00. Spades $10.00. Well-buckets $3.50@$4.50. Cotton rope 15@16c. Sweed iron 5c; rolled or merchant bar 2¾c rate. Cast-steel 10@12c. Nails, iron, $2.50; steel $2.60. Glidden barbed wire, galvanized, ₩ lb 5@5½c. Powder, rifle $5.00; blasting $2.15. Bar lead 7c. Shot $1.60.

Live Stock.

ATLANTA, May 4 — Horses — Plug $65@90; good drive $150@$200; drivers $125@$140; fine $250@$300. Mules—14½ to 15 hands $115@$125; 15 to 15½ hands $135@$160.

CINCINNATI, May 4 — Hogs firm; common and light $4.00@$5.45; packing and butchers $5.40@$5.75.

Whisky.

CINCINNATI, May 4—Whisky steady at $1.09.
ST. LOUIS, May 4—Whisky steady at $1.09.
CHICAGO, May 4—Whisky $1.15.

THE GREAT KENNESAW ROUTE.

—W. & A. R. R.—

The following time card in effect Sunda February 19, 1888.

NORTHBOUND—No. 3 EXPRESS—DAILY.
Leave Atlanta	7 50 a m
Arrive Dalton	11 40 a m
Arrive Chattanooga	1 00 p m
Stops at all important stations.
No. 1 EXPRESS—DAILY.
Leave Atlanta	1 35 p m
Arrive Dalton	5 11 p m
Arrive Chattanooga	6 43 p m
No. 14 ROME EXPRESS—Daily except Sunday.
Leave Atlanta	3 45 p m
Arrive Rome	6 59 p m
Stops at all way stations and by signals.
No. 17 MARIETTA EXPRESS—Daily except Sunday
Leave Atlanta	4 40 p m
Arrive Marietta	5 39 p m
Stops at all way stations and by signals.
No. 11 EXPRESS—DAILY.
Leave Atlanta	11 15 p m
Arrive Chattanooga	4 37 a m
No. 19 KENNESAW EXPRESS—DAILY,
Leave Atlanta	5 50 p m
Arrive Dalton	9 50 p m
Arrive Chattanooga	11 35 p m
Stops at all important stations when signaled.

THROUGH CAR ARRANGEMENTS.

No. 3 has first-class coach, daily, Waco, Texas, to Atlanta without change.

No. 1 has either Mann Boudoir Buffet or Pullman Palace Buffet and sleeping cars, daily, Jacksonville to Cincinnati without change, and first-class coach, daily, Jacksonville to Chattanooga without change and without extra charge.

No. 14 runs solid to Rome

No. 11 has either Pullman Palace Buffet or Mann Boudoir Buffet Sleeying car, daily, Waycross to Chattanooga without change, and has Pullman Palace sleeping cars Atlanta to Chattanooga, open for passengers at 9 00 p m.

No. 19 has Pullman sleeper Atlanta to Nashville without change, and first-class coach Atlanta to Little Rock without change.

SOUTHBOUND—No. 4 Expess
Leave Chattanooga	8 05 a m
Leave Dalton	9 47 a m
Arrive Atlanta	1 45 p m
Stops at all important way stations.
No. 2 EXPRESS—DAILY.
Leave Chattanooga	1 15 p m
Arrive Atlanta	6 48 p m
No. 20 EXPRESS—DAILY.
Leave Chattanooga	1 30 a m
Arrive Atlanta	6 30 a m
Stops at all important way stations.
No. 12 EXPRESS—DAILY.
Leave Chattanooga	5 05 p m
Arrive Atlanta	9 50 p m
No. 17 MARIETTA EXPRESS—Daily except Sunday
Leave Marietta	7 35 a m
Arrive Atlanta	8 35 a m
No. 14 ROME EXPRESS—Daily except Sunday.
Leave Rome	7 55 a m
Arrive Atlanta	11 05 a m
Stops at all way stations and by signals.

THROUGH CAR ARRANGEMENTS.

No. 2 has first-class coach, daily, Waco, Texas, to Atlanta without change.

No. 4 has either Mann Boudoir Buffet or Pullman Palace Buffet and sleeping cars, daily, Cincinnati to Jacksonville without change, and first-class coach, daily, Chattanooga to Jacksonville without change and without extra charge.

R. A. ANDERSON, Sup't,
J. M. BROWN, Gen. Pass. Agent.

RAILROAD SCHEDULE.

EAST TENNESSEE VA. & GA. RAILWAY.

Georgia Division—Condensed Schedule in Effect March 25, 1888

SOUTH BOUND.	No. 11.	No. 13.	No. 15.
Leave Chattanooga	....	1 00 p m	10 00 p m
Leave Dalton	6 18 a m	2 22 p m	11 50 p m
Arrive Rome	7 40 a m	3 35 p m	1 10 a m
Leave ROME	7 45 a m	3 40 p m	1 45 a m
Arrive Rockmart	8 45 a m	4 37 p m	2 50 a m
Arrive Austell	10 05 a m	6 00 p m	4 25 a m
Arrive Atlanta	10 50 p m	6 45 p m	5 15 a m
Leave ATLANTA	....	6 55 p m	6 10 a m
Arrive McDonough	....	8 01 p m	7 20 a m
Arrive Flovilla	....	8 50 p m	8 07 a m
Arrive Macon	....	10 10 p m	9 30 a m
Leave MACON	....	10 15 p m	9 35 a m
Arrive Cochran	....	11 40 p m	11 07 a m
Arrive Eastman	....	12 16 a m	11 45 a m
Arrive Jesup	....	3 13 a m	3 15 p m
Leave JESUP	....	3 20 a m	3 20 p m
Arrive Waycross	....	4 20 a m	4 40 p m
Arrive Callahan	....	6 30 a m	6 59 p m
Arrive Jacksonville	....	7 25 a m	7 45 p m
BETWEEN ATLANTA AND BRUNSWICK. SOUTH BOUND.
Leave Atlanta	....	6 55 p m	6 10 a m
Leave Macon	....	10 15 p m	9 35 a m
Arrive Brunswick	....	6 00 a m	5 35 p m
NORTH BOUND.
Leave Brunswick	....	8 30 p m	8 30 a m
Arrive Macon	....	4 00 a m	10 40 a m
Arrive Atlanta	....	7 25 a m	8 50 p m
ATLANTA TO MEMPHIS.
Leave Atlanta		12 55 n'n	10 30 p m
Arrive Chattanooga		6 50 p m	6 25 a m
Leave Chattanooga		7 00 p m	9 05 a m
Arrive Memphis		6 10 a m	9 30 p m
ATLANTA TO THE EAST.
Leave Atlanta	....	12 55 p m	10 30 p m
Arrive Chattanooga	....	6 50 p m	6 25 a m
Leave Chattanooga	....	10 00 p m	10 00 a m
Arrive Cleveland	....	11 15 p m	11 15 a m
Arrive Knoxville	....	2 00 a m	2 15 p m
Arrive Morristown	....	3 30 a m	3 59 p m
Leave Knoxville	....	7 00 a m	2 30 p m
Leave Morristown	....	8 15 a m	3 59 p m
Arrive Hot Springs	....	10 05 a m	6 00 p m
Arrive Asheville	....	12 55 n'n	9 54 p m
Arrive Bristol	....	6 20 a m	7 25 p m
Arrive Roanoke	....	12 40 n'n	1 36 a m
Arrive Lynchburg	....	2 25 p m	3 45 a m
Arrive Charlottesv'e	....	5 00 p m	6 40 a m
Arrive Washington	....	9 40 p m	11 13 a m
Arrive Baltimore	....	11 35 p m	12 46 n'n
Arrive Philadelphia	....	3 00 a m	3 10 p m
Arrive New York	....	6 20 a m	5 50 p m
Leave Roanoke	....	1 00 p m	1 00 a m
Arrive Luray	....	6 55 p m	7 25 a m
Arrive Hagerstown	....	10 20 p m	11 25 a m
Arrive Harrisburg	....	12 45 n'gt	3 00 p m
Arrive Philadelphia	....	4 25 a m	6 50 p m
Arrive New York	....	7 10 a m	9 35 p m
Leave Lynchburg	....	3 00 p m	6 45 a m
Arrive Burkeville	....	5 17 p m	9 13 a m
Arrive Petersburg	....	7 00 p m	11 05 a m
Arrive Norfolk	....	9 55 p m	2 25 p m
HAWKINSVILLE BRANCH.
Leave Cochran	....	11 10 a m	3 45 p m
Arrive Hawkinsville	....	11 50 a m	4 20 p m
Leave Hawkinsville	....	10 05 a m	2 30 p m
Arrive Cochran	....	10 50 a m	3 15 p m

NOTE—Train No. 11 connects at Citico, 3 miles south of Chattanooga with Cincinnati Southern train, leaving Cincinnati at 8 p. m.

All trains run daily, except train leaving Cochran for Hawkinsville at 11:10 a. m., and train leaving Hawkinsville at 2:30 p. m., which trains run daily, except Sunday.

Trains on S. R. & D. division going south leave Rome at 9:00 p. m. and 10:45 a. m. Trains on M. & C. division going west leave Chattanooga at 9:05 a. m. and 7 p. m. Trains on the East Tennessee division going east leave Chattanooga at 10 a. m. and 10 p. m. Train also leaves Knoxville at 6:30 a. m. for Morristown, Asheville and Salisbury, and at 8 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. for Jellico.

SLEEPING CAR SERVICE.

Train leaving Chattanooga at 1 p. m. carries Pullman Buffet or Mann Sleeping car to Jacksonville, and Pullman Sleeping car Atlanta to Brunswick.

Train leaving Chattanooga at 11 p. m. carries Pullman Sleeping car Chattanooga to Atlanta, open for passengers at 8 p. m.

Train leaving Chattanooga at 10 a. m. carries Pullman Sleeping car to Washington via Lynchburg.

Train leaving Chattanooga at 10 p. m. carries Pullman Sleeping car Chattanooga to New York via Roanoke and Shenandoah Valley; also, one to Washington via Lynchburg.

Train leaving Chattanooga at 7 p. m. carries Pullman Sleeping car to Memphis and through coach to Kansas City.

Train leaving Rome at 10:45 a. m. carries Pullman Sleeping car to New Orleans.

Train leaving Atlanta at 10:30 p. m. carries Pullman car Atlanta to Chattanooga, open for passengers at 8 p. m.

Train leaving Atlanta at 12:55 p. m. carries Pullman Buffet Sleeping car Rome to Washington via Lynchburg.

L. J. ELLIS, Ass't Gen. Pas. Agent, Atlanta, Ga.
B. W. WRENN, Gen. Pas. and Ticket Ag't, Knoxville, Tenn.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE.

(Richmond & Danville Railroad Company.)

The Favorite Route East.

Double daily trains and elegant coaches without change between ATLANTA and WASHINGTON, with Pullman Buffet Sleeping Cars.

ATLANTA to NEW YORK —AND— MONTGOMERY to WASHINGTON.

Only thirty-one hours transit Atlanta to New York

Schedule in effect November 20, 1887.	Mail. No. 53.	Express No. —
Leave Atlanta (City Time)	7 40 am	6 00 pm
Leave Atlanta (R. & D. Time)	8 40 am	7 00 pm
Arrive Charlotte	6 25 pm	4 50 am
" Salisbury	8 01 pm	6 25 am
" Greensboro	9 40 pm	8 02 am
" Danville	11 29 pm	9 47 am
" Lynchburg	2 00 am	12 40 pm
" Charlottesville	4 10 am	3 00 pm
" Washington	8 10 am	7 45 pm
" Baltimore	10 03 am	11 25 pm
" Philadelphia	12 35 pm	3 20 am
" New York	3 20 pm	6 20 am
" Boston	10 30 pm	3 00 pm
Leave Danville	12 01 am	10 35 am
Arsive Richmond	6 15 am	3 45 pm
" Norfolk	12 20 n'n
" Baltimore via York river Line (daily except Monday)		8 00 am
Through trains from the East arrive at Atlanta	11 00 am	9 40 pm
Leave Atlanta (city time)	6 05 p m	7 40 am
Arrive Spartanburg	2 17 a m	3 43 pm
" Hendersonville	5 53 a m	7 17 pm
" Asheville	7 00 a m	9 00 pm
" Hot Springs	9 00 a m

LULA ACCOMMODATION.
Daily except Sunday.

Leave Atlanta (city time)	4 30 pm
Arrive Gainesville (city time)	6 44 pm
Arrive Lula (city time)	7 12 pm
RETURNING.
Leave Lula (city time)	6 35 am
Leave Gainesville	6 58 am
Arrive Atlanta (city time)	9 00 am

ATLANTA TO ATHENS VIA NORTHEASTERN RAILROAD.

	Daily No. 53.	D'y ex S'y No. 41.
Leave Atlanta (city time)	7 40 am	4 30 pm
Arrive Athens (city time)	11 42 am	9 17 pm
	Daily No. 50.	D'y ex S'y No. 52.
Leave Athens (city time)	4 35 am	4 00 pm
Arrive Atlanta (city time)	9 00 am	9 40 pm

Tickets on sale at Union Ticket Office and Kimball House, corder Pryor and Wall streets.

JAS. L. TAYLOR, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Washington, D. C.
L. L. McCLESKEY, D. Pass. Agt.,
C. E. SERGEANT, City Pass. Agt.,

ATLANTA AND FLORIDA R. R.

TIME TABLE NO. 6.

SOUTH BOUND.	NO. 1. A. M.	NO. 3. P. M.
Leave Atlanta		3 00
Arrive E T, V & G Ry Junction	7 05	3 22
" Buchanan, F
" Haasville (Hapeville)	7 30	3 46
" Riverdale, F
" Selina	8 00
Leave Selina	8 05	4 18
Arrive Fayetteville	8 38	4 50
" Woolsey's	9 06	5 20
" Lowry	9 20	5 33
" Kalula Junction, F
" Zetella, F
" Williamson	10 00	6 15
" Zebulon	10 25	6 35
" Meansville	10 50	7 00

NORTH BOUND.	NO. 2. A. M.	NO. 4 P. M.
Leave Meansville	5 20	1 20
Arrive Zebulon	5 50	1 50
" Williamson	6 20	2 15
" Zetella, F
" Kalula Junction, F
" Lowry	7 00	2 57
" Woolsey's	7 13	3 13
" Fayetteville	7 37	3 40
" Selina		4 10
Leave Selina	8 05	4 18
Arrive Riverdale, F
" Haasville (Hapeville)	8 32	4 50
" Buchanan, F
" E T, V & G Ry Junction	8 52	5 20
" Atlanta	9 00

Trains No. 2 and 3 arrive at and depart from East Tennessee Passenger Depot.

Trains No. 1 and 4 arrive at and depart from E.T., V. & G. R'y Junction.

JOHN N. DUNN, President.
H. L. COLLIER, Chief Engineer.
H. C. HARRIS, General Manager.

RAILROAD SCHEDULE.

THE GEORGIA PACIFIC RAILWAY.

—VIA—

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

The Direct Line to

Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, Missiouri, Kansas, Oregon, Colorado, California and the Northwest.

The Most Splendidly Constructed and Equipped Line, Affording the Most Luxurious-Traveling Accommodations East of the Mississippi River.

	No. 50.	No. 52.	No. 54.
Lv Atlanta, Ga. Pac	1 25 pm	11 00 pm	5 00 pm
Ar Tallapoosa, Ga. Pac	3 53 pm	1 30 am	8 00 pm
Ar Anniston, Ga. Pac	5 23 pm	3 09 am	....
Ar Birming'm, Ga. Pac	8 10 pm	6 00 am	....
Ar Columbus, Ga. Pac	....	1 25 pm	....
Ar Artesea, Ga. Pac	....	2 23 pm	....
Ar Starkesville, Ga. Pac	....	3 15 pm	....

No. 50.		No. 52.
Lv Birmingham	11 00 pm	Lv Birmingham	6 30 am
Ar Tuscaloosa	12 48 am	Ar Memphis	5 00 pm
Ar Meridian	4 00 am	Ar Springfield	8 10 am
Ar New Orleans	9 30 am	Ar Fort Scott	12 55 pm
Ar Jackson	8 05 am	Ar Kansas City	5 30 pm
Ar Vicksburg	10 30 am
Ar Shreveport	8 15 pm	Lv Memphis	5 40 pm
Ar Dallas	6 55 am	Ar Little Rock	12 35 am
Ar Fort Worth	8 20 am	Ar Texarkana	7 00 am
		Ar Dallas	6 45 pm
		Ar Fort Worth	8 10 pm

THROUGH CARS.

No. 50—Mann Boudoir Sleeping Cars Atlanta to Shreveport and New Orleans, La.

No. 52—Mann Boudoir Sleeping Cars Atlanta to Birmingham. Passenger Coaches Atlanta to Memphis without change. For further particulars address

A. A. VERNOY, Pass. Agt. —Atlanta, Ga.—
B. F. WYLY, JR., Ga. ALEX. S. THWEATT, Gen'l T. P. Agt.
G. S. BARNUM, Gen. Pass. Agent.
I. Y. SAGE, General Maager.
Birmingham, Ala.

ATLANTA AND NEW ORLEANS SHORT LINE.

ATLANTA AND WEST POINT RAILROAD CO

The most direct and best route to Montgomery, New Orleans, Texas and the southwest.

The following schedule in effect April 8th, 1888.

SOUTHBOUND.	No. 50 Daily	No. 52 Daily	No. 56 Fast D'ly
Leave Atlanta	2 00 p m	12 00 p m	6 40 a m
Arrive Newnan	3 17 p m	1 47 a m	6 49 p m
" LaGrange	4 15 p m	3 05 a m	8 46 a m
" West Point	4 45 p m	3 50 a m	9 13 a m
" Opelika	5 23 p m	4 40 a m	9 55 a m
Arrive Columbus	6 40 p m	11 05 a m	11 05 a m
Arrive Montgomery	7 20 p m	7 00 a m	....
Arrive Pensacola	5 15 a m	2 30 p m	....
Arrive Mobile	1 50 a m	2 15 p m	....
Arrive New Orleans	7 10 a m	7 20 p m	....
Arrive Houston, Tex	2 45 a m	8 40 a m	....
TO SELMA, VICKSBURG AND SHREVEPORT
Leave Montgomery	....	8 25 a m	12 30 p m
Arrive Selma	....	12 05 p m	2 45 p m
" Akron	....	....	6 00 p m
" Meridian	....	....	11 00 p m
" Vicksburg	....	....	10 30 a m
" Shreveport	....	....	8 15 p m

NORTHBOUND.	No. 51 Daily	No. 53 Daily	No. 57 Fast D'ly
Leave New Orleans	8 10 p m	8 05 a m	....
" Mobile	1 00 a m	1 25 p m	....
" Pensacola	5 15 a m	2 30 p m	....
" Akron	....	9 30 a m	....
" Selma	....	3 05 p m	....
" Montgomery	7 40 a m	12 00 p m	....
" Columbus	8 20 a m	....	1 20 p m
" Opelika	9 46 a m	2 45 a m	2 30 p m
" West Point	10 27 a m	3 43 a m	3 01 p m
" LaGrange	10 53 a m	4 49 a m	3 25 p m
" Newnan	11 53 a m	5 40 a m	4 28 p m
Arrive Atlanta	1 10 p m	7 20 a m	5 45 p m

Trains 50 and 51 carry Pullman Buffet Sleeping Cars between Atlanta and New Orleans.

Trains 52 and 53 carry Pullman Buffet Sleeping Cars between Washington and New Orleans.

Train 56 runs solid daily from Atlanta to Columbus

Train 57 runs solid daily from Columbus to Atlanta.

CECIL GABBETT, Gen'l Manager.
CHAS. H. CROMWELL, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
JOHN A. GEE, Passenger Agent.

THE GEORGIA RAILROAD.

GEORGIA RAILROAD COMPANY, OFFICE GEN'L MANAGER, AUGUSTA, GA., Sept. 17th 1887.

Commencing Sunday, 18th instant, the following passenger schedule will be operated:

Trains run by 90th meridian time.

No. 27 WEST—DAILY.
Leave Augusta	7 45 a m
Leave Washington	7 20 a m
Leave Athens	7 45 a m
Leave Gainesville	5 55 a m
Arrive Atlanta	1 00 p m
No. 28 EAST—DAILY.
Leave Atlanta	2 45 p m
Leave Gainesville	5 55 a m
Arrive Athens	7 20 p m
Arrive Washington	7 20 p m
Arrive Augusta	8 15 p m

DAY PASSENGER TRAINS.

No. 2 EAST—DAILY.	No. 1 WEST—DAILY.
Lv. Atlanta.....8 00 a m	Lv. Augusta.....10 45 a m
Ar. Gainesville.....8 25 p m	Lv. Macon.....7 10 a m
Ar. Athens.....5 05 p m	Lv. Milledgeville..9 19 a m
Ar. Washington.....2 20 p m	Lv. Washington 11 20 a m
Ar. Milledgeville..4 13 p m	Lv. Athens.....9 00 a m
Ar. Macon.....6 00 p m	Ar. Gainesville.....8 25 p m
Ar. Augusta.....3 35 p m	Ar. Atlanta.....5 45 p m
NIGHT EXPRESS AND MAIL.
No. 4 EAST—DAILY.	No. 3 WEST—DAILY.
Lv. Atlanta.....11 15 p m	Lv. Augusta.....11 00 p m
Ar. Augusta.....6 45 a m	Ar. Atlanta.....6 30 a m
DECATUR TRAIN—Daily except Sunday.
Lv. Atlanta.....9 27 a m	Lv. Decatur.....9 45 a m
Ar. Decatur.....9 30 a m	Ar. Atlanta.....10 15 a m
COVINGTON ACCOM'N—Daily except Sunday.
Lv. Atlanta.....6 15 p m	Lv. Covington.....5 40 a m
Lv. Decatur.....6 51 p m	Lv. Decatur.....7 25 a m
Ar. Covington.....8 05 p m	Ar. Atlanta.....7 55 a m
MACON NIGHT EXPRESS—DAILY.
No. 31 WESTWARD.	No. 32 EASTWARD.
Lv. Camack.....1 30 a m	Lv. Macon.....6 30 p m
Ar. Macon.....7 30 a m	Ar. Camack.....11 00 p m

Trains Nos. 2, 1, 4 and 3 will, if signalled stop at any regular schedule flag station.

No connection for Gainesville on Sundayy,

Train No. 27 will stop and receive passengers to and from the following stations only: Grovetown, Harlem, Dearing, Thompson, Norwood, Barnett, Crawfordville, Union Point, Greensboro, Madison, Rutledge, Social Circle, Covington, Conyers, Lithonia, Stone Mountain and Decatur. This train makes close connection for all points east, southeast, west, southwest, north and northwest.

Train No. 28 will stop and receive passengers at and from the following stations only: Grovetown, Harlem, Dearing, Thompson, Norwood, Barnett, Crawfordville, Union Point, Greensboro, Madison, Rutledge, Social Circle, Covington, Conyers, Lithonia, Stone Mountain and Decatur.

No. 28 stops at Harlem for supper.

E. R. DORSEY, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
J. W. GREEN, Gen'l Manager,
JOE W. WHITE, T. P. A., Augusta, Ga.

LEA & PERRINS'

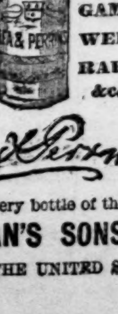

SAUCE

(THE WORCESTERSHIRE)

Imparts the most delicious taste and zest to

EXTRACT of a LETTER from a MEDICAL GENTLEMAN at Madras, to his brother at WORCESTER, May, 1851.

"Tell LEA & PERRINS' that their sauce is highly esteemed in India, and is in my opinion, the most palatable, as well as the most wholesome sauce that is made."

SOUPS, GRAVIES, FISH, HOT & COLD MEATS, GAME, WELSH RAREBITS, &c.

Lea & Perrins

Signature is on every bottle of the genuine.

JOHN DUNCAN'S SONS, N. Y.

AGENTS FOR THE UNITED STATES.

A SCENE OF BE[...]

The Second Night of t[...]
a Brilliant Succ[...]

Beautiful Ladies and Beau[...]
Take Part in Beautiful [...]
Matinee Today—Kirm[...]

It is just the most beautiful [...]
That is the universal verdict [...]
were at the opera house last [...] night before.
There has never been seen i[...] thing that could compare with [...]
and the person who would [...] with such an entertainment is [...] out love of the beautiful.
As many pretty girls were [...] gathered together in one ente[...]
they all, large and small, did b[...]
The programme last night w[...]
that of the night before, and t[...]
last night was prettier, if poss[...]
of the opening night.
The curtain rose on the

ENGLISH GARDEN S[...]

The stage, under the s[...]
of Mrs. Joe Thompso[...]
C. H. Davidson, had bee[...]
tifully decorated until it was [...] sentation of what it was inte[...]
sent—an English garden. H[...]
the May pole dance by four gi[...]
all tastefully dressed. This [...] the sailor's hornpipe, beauti[...]
Master Walter Devereux Nas[...]
ed as one of the gallant tars o[...]
"Merrimac." Then came sw[...]
Bain in her statuette dance—[...]
tiest features of the entertain[...]
Highland fling, which was ex[...]
by Miss Katie Cox and Master [...]
Nash. Both danced exquisi[...]
compelled to repeat, so loud w[...]
They were dressed in the true [...]
Master Nash wearing a genui[...]
his costume.
This feature was under the [...]
Joe Thompson.

THE GIPSIES, [...]

in their gay and beautiful cos[...]
everybody. Miss Fannie H[...] graceful and attractive queen[...] dancers did beautifully. The [...] especially pretty, and as render[...] one of the prettiest of many [...] reflecting great credit upon M[...]
Mrs. Dr. Wooley, who had ch[...]
tion.

THE ITALIANS[...]

who had been taught by Mrs[...]
repeated their beautiful dance[...] brought forth many manife[...] plause. The Italian dance is [...] etry of motion," and was quit[...]

THE SWEDISH DA[...]

was under the direction of [...]
Mrs. Lewis. It represented [...] and the celebration of a wedd[...]
is full of pretty and artisti[...]
dancing and marching was ve[...]

THE SPANISH[...]

The Spanish dance is one [...]
The Spanish women are exqu[...]
the sweet American women w[...]
representatives last night, cer[...]
the reputation of the nation.
The dancing of the "Cachu[...]
Straghn, was without doubt [...]
tiest features of the evening [...]
the very embodiment of grac[...]
her dancing last evening sim[...]
dience by storm.
Spain was under the di[...]
Robert S. Barrett.

THE FLOWER DA[...]

is about the prettiest thing[...] where. Mrs. Simpson and [...]
Jackson were the lady man[...]
of this, and how they [...] age to train the little [...] perfect work is a seven[...]
This was beautiful throughou[...] popular part was that taken by[...] yellow bees. Their queen, li[...]
Jackson, was exquisitely beaut[...] part with a degree of grace t[...]
charming. The dancing of the min[...]
by Mary Lou Jackson and John[...]
Daisy Holliday and Clarence [...]
Bain and Sanders Gatins; an[...] lan and Harry Holliday was o[...]
est as well as one of the most a[...]
the Kirmess.

THE FRENCH MIN[...]

After the intermission, t[...]
upon a beautiful scene from t[...]
XV. of France. It was a [...]
and as the curtain rises, the [...] partners for the minue[...]
and most graceful [...]
Those taking part in the dan[...]
Hall and Miss Marilu Bac[...]
Johnson and Miss Carrie Cr[...]
dleman and Miss Brock; Mr. [...]
and Miss Harwood. Among [...] stage were Mrs. Mims, Mrs. [...] leans, Mrs. Lauve, of New [...]
Mrs. Ollie Fuller, and M[...]
This was a most beautiful [...]
cing was perfect and the wh[...] exquisite taste. Mrs. Ollie [...] of this feature.

MRS. NOTT'S SIN[...]

It was in the French cou[...]
Nott sang an exquisite Fren[...]
Fuller led her to the front of [...] greeted with hearty applau[...]
beautiful songs and for a s[...]
"Edinboro Town." Mrs. No[...]
voice and her singing cha[...]
She was the recipient of ma[...]
pieces.

THE SWISS DA[...]

is one of the prettiest. It is [...] figures, all of which were be[...]
The marching of the Swiss [...] pecially fine. During a port[...] they march and countermar[...]
always heartily applauded. [...]
they Tyrolese maidenns wer[...]
some of Atlanta's prettiest [...]
the dance. Mrs. H. W. Gr[...]
the Swiss.

THE INDIAN DA[...]

is the most thoroughly uni[...]
Charles Handy has had cha[...]
America, and in drilling the[...] ably seconded by Mr. Birney [...] features were presented in [...] served better to bring out t[...]
Pocahontas" plot. Mr. P. [...] an ideal Captain John Smit[...]
The Indians form without [...] most attractive features of t[...]
dance is ingeniously arrang[...] pretty.

THE GREE[...]

Everybody was charmed [...]
Greek maidens and their be[...]
The costumes of the Gree[...]
beautiful, and are most beco[...] ladies who wear them, for t[...]
in this are among the mo[...]
ladies in Georgia. Mrs. W[...]
had charge of the Greeks a[...] son to feel proud of the eff[...]
ticipants.
The acrobatic feats of th[...]
Mr. Joe Nash and Mr. Tom[...] a very attractive feature.

The Germa[...]

The last of the nations, b[...]
least, was Germany. The [...] maidens had their knitting [...] had his pipe. This was u[...]
and the credit for it belong[...]
Sternberg.

The Final Ta[...]

Standing high above all o[...]
earth, with her faithful Ind[...]
her and the representatives [...]
tions looking up to her in l[...]
stood "America."
It was Miss Marilu Baco[...] to represent the Goddess of [...] sides over this land of free[...]
Goddess never had a fairer [...]
Here, indeed was an "Am[...] rouse in every heart love a[...]
And the second night's [...] an end.

The Matinee [...]

At today's matinee the[...] promptly at 2:30, so all p[...] quested to be on hand at 2 [...]
The admission today wil[...]
served seats seventy-five ce[...]
ten years of age twenty-five[...]
A large number of seats [...]
sold.

Kirmess C[...]

It is a great success.
The greatest praise is du[...]

ILROAD SCHEDULE.

ORGIA PACIFIC RAILWAY.

—VIA—

NGHAM, ALABAMA

line to

, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas,

ssiouri, Kansas, Oregon,

California and the Northwest.

Splendidly Constructed and Equipped ...ding the Most Luxurious Traveling ...tions East of the Mississippi River.

	No. 50.	No. 52.	No. 54.
Ga. Pac...	1 25 pm	11 00 pm	5 00 pm
a, Ga. Pac	3 53 pm	1 30 am	8 00 pm
, Ga. Pac...	5 23 pm	3 09 am	....
m, Ga. Pac	8 10 pm	6 00 am	....
s, Ga. Pac.	....	1 25 pm	....
Ga. Pac....	....	2 23 pm	....
lle, Ga. Pac	....	3 15 pm	....

No. 50.		No. 52.
...ham 11 00 pm	Lv Birmingham	6 30 am
...sa.. 12 48 am	Ar Memphis....	5 00 pm
... 4 00 am	Ar Springfield..	8 10 am
...eans 9 30 am	Ar Fort Scott....	12 55 pm
... 8 05 am	Ar Kansas City.	5 30 pm
...g... 10 30 am	Lv Memphis.....	5 40 pm
...rt.. 8 15 pm	Ar Little Rock..	12 35 am
... 6 55 am	Ar Texarkana....	7 00 am
...th.. 8 20 am	Ar Dallas.......	6 45 pm
	Ar Fort Worth..	8 10 pm

THROUGH CARS.
...ann Boudour Sleeping Cars Atlanta to ...and New Orleans, La.
...ann Boudour Sleeping Cars Atlanta to ...n. Passenger Coaches Atlanta to Memphis without change. For further particulars address
B. F. WYLY, JR., Ga.
...RNOY, ...Pass. Agt. ALEX. S. THWEATT, Gen'l T. P. Agt.
—Atlanta, Ga.—
...RNUM, ...Pass. Agent. I. Y. SAGE, General Manager.
Birmingham, Ala.

...TA AND NEW ORLEANS SHORT LINE.

...AND WEST POINT RAILROAD CO

...irect and best route to Montgomery, New ...leans, Texas and the southwest.

—o—

...wing schedule in effect April 8th, 1888.

...BOUND.	No. 50 Daily	No. 52 Daily	No. 56 Fast D'ily
...nta........	2 00 p m	12 00 p m	6 40 a m
...nan........	3 17 p m	1 47 a m	6 49 p m
...range......	4 15 p m	3 05 a m	8 46 a m
...t Point.....	4 45 p m	3 59 a m	9 13 a m
...lika........	5 23 p m	4 40 a m	9 55 a m
...mbus	6 40 p m	11 05 a m	11 05 a m
...ntgomery..	7 20 p m	7 00 a m
...sacola......	5 15 a m	2 30 p m
...bile........	1 50 a m	2 15 p m
...Orleans..	7 10 a m	7 20 p m
...ston, Tex	2 45 a m	8 40 a m

..., VICKSBURG AND SHREVEPORT

...gomery..	8 25 a m	12 30 p m
...na........	12 05 p m	2 45 p m
...		6 00 p m
...dian......		11 00 p m
...sburg......		10 30 a m
...veport.....		8 15 p m

...BOUND.	No. 51 Daily	No. 53 Daily	No. 57 Fast D'ily
...Orleans...	8 10 p m	8 05 a m
...bile.......	1 00 a m	1 25 p m
...sacola.....	5 15 a m	2 30 p m
...on.........		9 30 a m
...ma........		3 05 p m
...tgomery..	7 40 a m	12 00 p m
...umbus.....	8 20 a m		1 20 p m
...lika.......	9 46 a m	2 45 a m	2 30 p m
...st Point....	10 27 a m	3 43 a m	3 04 p m
...Grange.....	10 53 a m	4 49 a m	3 25 p m
...Newnan.....	11 53 a m	5 40 a m	4 28 p m
...ve Atlanta..	1 10 p m	7 20 a m	5 45 p m

Trains 50 and 51 carry Pullman Buffet Sleeping ...ars between Atlanta and New Orleans.
Trains 52 and 53 carry Pullman Buffet Sleeping ...een Washington and New Orleans.
... runs solid daily from Atlanta to Colum...
... runs solid daily from Columbus to At...

...ABBETT, ...n'l Manager. CHAS. H. CROMWELL, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
...OHN A. GEE, Passenger Agent.

GEORGIA RAILROAD.
GEORGIA RAILROAD COMPANY, OFFICE GEN'L MANAGER, AUGUSTA, GA., Sept. 17th 1887.
...ing Sunday, 18th instant, the following ...schedule will be operated:
...rains run by 90th meridian time.

No. 27 WEST—DAILY.

...gusta........	7 45 a m
...shington.....	7 20 a m
...hens.........	7 45 a m
...nesville.....	5 55 a m
...anta.........	1 00 p m

No. 28 EAST—DAILY.

...lanta.........	2 45 p m
...inesville.....	5 55 a m
...thens.........	7 20 p m
...ashington.....	7 20 p m
...gusta.........	8 15 p m

DAY PASSENGER TRAINS.

...AST—DAILY.	No. 1 WEST—DAILY.
...ta........8 00 a m	Lv. Augusta........10 45 a m
...sville......8 25 p m	Lv. Macon..........7 10 a m
...ns.......5 05 p m	Lv. Milledgeville..9 19 a m
...ington...2 20 p m	Lv. Washington 11 20 a m
...dgeville..4 13 p m	Lv. Athens..........9 00 a m
...n........6 00 p m	Ar. Gainesville.....8 25 p m
...sta.......3 35 p m	Ar. Atlanta..........5 45 p m

NIGHT EXPRESS AND MAIL.

...AST—DAILY.	No. 3 WEST—DAILY.
...ta......11 15 p m	Lv. Augusta......11 00 p m
...sta.......6 45 a m	Ar. Atlanta.......6 30 a m

...ATUR TRAIN—Daily except Sunday.

...ta........9 27 a m	Lv. Decatur..........9 45 a m
...tur.......9 30 a m	Ar. Atlanta..........10 15 a m

...GTON ACCOM'N—Daily except Sunday.

...ta........6 15 p m	Lv. Covington......5 40 a m
...ur........6 51 p m	Lv. Decatur..........7 25 a m
...gton.....8 05 p m	Ar. Atlanta..........7 55 a m

...ACON NIGHT EXPRESS—DAILY.

...WESTWARD.	No. 32 EASTWARD.
...ck.......1 30 a m	Lv. Macon............6 30 p m
...n........7 30 a m	Ar. Camack........11 00 p m

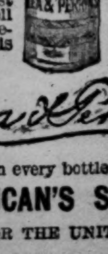

Nos. 2, 1, 4 and 3 will, if signalled, stop at ...ar schedule flag station.
...nection for Gainesville on Sunday.
No. 27 will stop and receive passengers to ...the following stations only: Grovetown, Dearing, Thompson, Norwood, Barnett, ...ville, Union Point, Greensboro, Madison, Social Circle, Covington, Conyers, Lithonia ...e Mountain and Decatur. This train makes ...nection for all points east, southeast, west, ...north and northwest.
No. 28 will stop and receive passengers at ...the following stations only: Grovetown, Dearing, Thompson, Norwood, Barnett, ...ville, Union Point, Greensboro, Madison, Social Circle, Covington, Conyers, Lithonia ...e Mountain and Decatur.
...stops at Harlem for supper.
E. R. DORSEY, Gen'l Pass. Agent.
J. W. GREEN, Gen'l Manager,
...WHITE, T. P. A., Augusta, Ga.

...EA & PERRINS'

SAUCE

(THE WORCESTERSHIRE)

...the most delicious taste and zest to

...TRACT ...TER from ...CAL GEN... ...N at Mad... ...his brother ...RCESTER, ...51.

"Tell ...PERRINS' ...eir sauce is ...steemed in ...nd is in my ...the most ...le, as well ...ost whole... ...auce that is

SOUPS, GRAVIES, FISH, HOT & COLD MEATS, GAME, WELSH RAREBITS, &c.

Lea & Perrins

...ature is on every bottle of the genuine.

...N DUNCAN'S SONS, N. Y.

...ENTS FOR THE UNITED STATES.

A SCENE OF BEAUTY.

The Second Night of the Kirmess a Brilliant Success.

Beautiful Ladies and Beautiful Children Take Part in Beautiful Dances—The Matinee Today—Kirmess Chat.

It is just the most beautiful thing on earth!

That is the universal verdict of those who were at the opera house last night and the night before.

There has never been seen in Atlanta anything that could compare with the Kirmess, and the person who would not be charmed with such an entertainment is certainly without love of the beautiful.

As many pretty girls were never before gathered together in one entertainment, and they all, large and small, did beautifully.

The programme last night was the same as that of the night before, and the performance last night was prettier, if possible, than that of the opening night.

The curtain rose on the

ENGLISH GARDEN SCENE.

The stage, under the skillful direction of Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mrs. C. H. Davidson, had been most beautifully decorated until it was an exact representation of what it was intended to represent—an English garden. Here were given the May pole dance by four girls and four boys, all tastefully dressed. This was followed by the sailor's hornpipe, beautifully danced by Master Walter Devereux Nash, who was dressed as one of the gallant tars of the gallant ship "Merrimac." Then came sweet little Janet Bain in her statuette dance—one of the prettiest features of the entertainment; and the Highland fling, which was exquisitely danced by Miss Katie Cox and Master Robert Stafford Nash. Both danced exquisitely, and were compelled to repeat, so loud was the applause. They were dressed in the true Scotch costume, Master Nash wearing a genuine fillibeg with his costume.

This feature was under the direction of Mrs. Joe Thompson.

THE GIPSIES,

in their gay and beautiful costumes, delighted everybody. Miss Fannie Harwood made a graceful and attractive queen, and all of the dancers did beautifully. The gipsy dance is especially pretty, and as rendered last night was one of the prettiest of many pretty features, reflecting great credit upon Mrs. Harwood and Mrs. Dr. Wooley, who had charge of this nation.

THE ITALIANS,

who had been taught by Mrs. Carroll Payne, repeated their beautiful dance in a way that brought forth many manifestations of applause. The Italian dance is full of the "poetry of motion," and was quite popular.

THE SWEDISH DANCE

was under the direction of Mrs. Mims and Mrs. Lewis. It represented a harvest scene and the celebration of a wedding. The dance is full of pretty and artistic figures, and the dancing and marching was very pretty indeed.

THE SPANISH.

The Spanish dance is one of rare beauty. The Spanish women are exquisite dancers and the sweet American women who acted as their representatives last night, certainly sustained the reputation of the nation.

The dancing of the "Cachuca" by little Pet Straghn, was without doubt one of the prettiest features of the evening. This child is the very embodiment of grace and beauty and her dancing last evening simply took the audience by storm.

Spain was under the direction of Mrs. Robert S. Barrett.

THE FLOWER DANCE

is about the prettiest thing ever seen any where. Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Harry Jackson were the lady managers in charge of this, and how they ever did manage to train the little ones to such perfect work is a seven day's wonder. This was beautiful throughout, but the most popular part was that taken by the eight little yellow bees. Their queen, little Mary Lou Jackson, was exquisitely beautiful and did her part with a degree of grace that was most charming. The dancing of the minnet lancers by Mary Lou Jackson and Johnnie Ealvey; Daisy Holliday and Clarence Trippe; Janet Bain and Sanders Gatins; and Bessie McMillan and Harry Holliday was one of the prettiest as well as one of the most amusing parts of the Kirmess.

THE FRENCH MINUET.

After the intermission, the curtain rose upon a beautiful scene from the court of Louis XV. of France. It was a ball room scene, and as the curtain rises, the courtiers select partners for the minuet—the prettiest and most graceful of all dances. Those taking part in the dance are Mr. Sam Hall and Miss Marilu Bacon; Mr. Harvey Johnson and Miss Carrie Crane, Mr. Joe Eddleman and Miss Brock; Mr. Morris Brandon and Miss Harwood. Among the others on the stage were Mrs. Mims, Mrs. Nott, of New Orleans, Mrs. Lauve, of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Fuller, and Mr. C. D. Meador. This was a most beautiful scene. The dancing was perfect and the whole scene was in exquisite taste. Mrs. Ollie Fuller had charge of this feature.

MRS. NOTT'S SINGING.

It was in the French court scene that Mrs. Nott sang an exquisite French song. As Mr. Fuller led her to the front of the stage she was greeted with hearty applause. She sang two beautiful songs and for a second encore sang "Edinboro Town." Mrs. Nott has a beautiful voice and her singing charmed everybody. She was the recipient of many beautiful floral pieces.

THE SWISS DANCE

is one of the prettiest. It is full of beautiful figures, all of which were beautifully danced. The marching of the Swiss maidens was especially fine. During a portion of their dance they march and countermarch in a way that is always heartily applauded. The costumes of they Tyrolese maidenns were quite pretty, and some of Atlanta's prettiest girls took part in the dance. Mrs. H. W. Grady had charge of the Swiss.

THE INDIAN DANCE

is the most thoroughly unique of all. Mrs. Charles Handy has had charge of Aboriginal America, and in drilling the dancers has been ably seconded by Mr. Birney. One or two new features were presented in this dance which served better to bring out the "John Smith-Pocahontas" plot. Mr. P. L. Mynat, Jr., was an ideal Captain John Smith.

The Indians form without doubt one of the most attractive features of the Kirmess. The dance is ingeniously arranged and is really pretty.

THE GREEKS.

Everybody was charmed by the beautiful Greek maidens and their beautiful dancing.

The costumes of the Greeks are simple, yet beautiful, and are most becoming to the young ladies who wear them, for those who take part in this are among the most beautiful young ladies in Georgia. Mrs. W. M. Dickson has had charge of the Greeks and has every reason to feel proud of the efficiency of the participants.

The acrobatic feats of the Greek wrestlers, Mr. Joe Nash and Mr. Tom Conkling formed a very attractive feature.

The Germans.

The last of the nations, but by no means the least, was Germany. The pretty "Deutcher" maidens had their knitting and each "Hans" had his pipe. This was unique and pretty, and the credit for it belongs largely to Mrs. Sternberg.

The Final Tableau.

Standing high above all other nations of the earth, with her faithful Indians grouped about her and the representatives of the other nations looking up to her in love and reverence, stood "America."

It was Miss Marilu Bacon who was chosen to represent the Goddess of Liberty—who presides over this land of freedom, and the fair Goddess never had a fairer representative.

Here, indeed was an "America" who would rouse in every heart love and patriotism.

And the second night's performance was at an end.

The Matinee Today.

At today's matinee the curtain will rise promptly at 2:30, so all participants are requested to be on hand at 2 o'clock sharp.

The admission today will be fifty cents, reserved seats seventy-five cents, children under ten years of age twenty-five cents.

A large number of seats have already been sold.

Kirmess Chat.

It is a great success.

The greatest praise is due Mrs. Mims, Mrs. Lewis and the lady managers of the different nations who have made it such a wonderful success.

The "Captain John Smith" of Mr. P. L. Mynatt, Jr., was an artistic bit of acting. He goes through his part with a grace and ease worthy of the original John.

Joe Nash and Tom Conkling as the Greek wrestlers are immense. They are fine athletes and in their Greek costumes show to good advantage. They were heartily applauded throughout.

The management is under obligations to Mr. Swope for the efficient manner in which the stage is handled.

Walter and Stafford Nash danced beautifully—the former doing the Sailor's hornpipe, the latter the highland fling.

Misses Katie Cox, Pet Straghn, Jaret Bain and Mary Lou Jackson were great favorites throughout.

"I didn't know there were so many pretty girls on earth," was the exclamation which fell from the lips of a well known society man, as he left the opera house last night.

There were many visitors from abroad.

Kirmess participants are requested to be promptly on hand at 2 o'clock today.

Everybody is going to the matinee.

Three of the prettiest of the participants have the same first name. One was the Goddess of Liberty, one was a Greek maiden, and the third was the sweet little queen bee—the sweetest of all.

Here are samples of lobby chat:

"What beautiful girls there were at the Greek dance."

"Yes, and the Swiss."

"The French ladies were the prettiest."

"The Swedes, the Italians, the Spanish, the gypsies, the Germans, all were made up of beauties.

"And the flower dancers—they were the prettiest of all. They and the dancers and the English scene were all pretty."

"Well, to tell the truth, every one of them looked beautiful tonight."

"To see little Pet Straghn dance is alone worth the price of admission," said an enthusiast,

The Indians looked fierce.

The Swiss maidens dance beautifully.

There were bouquets and bouquets—everybody got flowers.

The mniuet lancers of the little ones was the "cutest" of all the dances.

The stage looked beautiful in the English garden scene. Quite a number of society people were on the stage and added to the neatness of the scene.

THE SOCIETY WORLD.

Interesting Gossip About Society People in and Around Atlanta.

A delightful party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaHatte last night, complimentary to their guests, Miss Lula Smith and Miss Alice LaHatte, of Gainesville, Ga. Both these young ladies have been very popular since their arrival in the city.

The guests began to arrive at 8, and soon the rooms were a scene of beauty and gayety. The costumes of the young ladies were all that that could be desired, and bright smiles and witty speeches made them all the more attractive. The evening was spent delightfully. Several of the young ladies gave some charming piano solos, and Miss LaHatte's singing was the feature of the occasion. She sang "The Creole's Love Song," with beauty and pathos, and gracefully responded to the encore with Balfe's masterpiece of song, "With Heart Bowed Down."

At 11 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room, and a feast that would satisfy the most fastidious, was spread for the guests. Three different tables were arranged in a novel and unique manner. One was decorated in white, and in the center was a bed of pure white roses. The linen was all white, and the sandwiches tied with delicate satin ribbon of the same hue. Two other tables, dressed in red and pink roses, were arranged in the same manner, and was indeed, lovely to behold.

The guests did not depart until a late hour, and all invited in saying it was an evening never to be forgotten.

***

Mr. Darwin Jones received two cablegrams yesterday announcing the safe arrival in Queenstown and Liverpool of the "Germanic" with Mrs. Jones, Miss Kathleen Jones and Miss Mannie Moore, of Mobile, on board.

***

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. J. Percy Stevens have returned from an extended western tour.

***

The Sunday school teachers of the church of the Immaculate Conception held a meeting yesterday afternoon, to decide as to where the childrens' picnic should be. Selina, a lovely little place on the Florida and Western, was chosen by common consent. The picnic will take place on Wednesday next, May 9th. The teachers will picnic at Tallulah Falls in about two weeks.

***

Atlantians and Their Friends.

Mrs. A. Lang will leave in a few days for an extended tour through New York. She will spend several weeks with relatives in the metropolis.

Miss Elledn Eddleman, a society young lady, of Fort Worth, Texas, arrived in the city yesterday, and will spend the month of May visiting friends on South Forsyth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry King nee Miss McClosky, of Nashville, are spending several days with friends on Stonewall street. Mrs. King as Miss McClosky is well known in Atlanta, and her friends are glad to have her with them again.

Colonel N. Trammel, of Atlanta, is visiting Washington City. While there he is a guest at Hotel Metropolitan.

Attorney General Anderson has gone to Washington, D. C., to fulfil a business engagement there.

Dr. and Mrs. Ridley returned Wednesday from a visit to LaGrange. Mrs. Ridley is much improved in health, and assisted Mrs. Joe Kingsberry in her reception on Wednesday.

A most delightful dance was enjoyed at the residence of Mrs. Davis, 312 Luckie street, on Thursday night. The dance was given to Miss Maggie Davis. Refreshments were served during the evening, and the affair was highly enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Wells returned yesterday from an extended visit west. They spent some time traveling on the Pacific slope, and visited all the other points of interest.

Mr. Frank Barrett, of Henderson, Kentucky, is spending some time with his brother, Rev. Dr. Barrett, on West Baker.

Mr. Clarence Knowles and Mr. Dunlap Judah returned a few days ago from a several weeks' visit to Pensacola, Florida.

Captain W. P. Manley and bride, nee Miss Walker, of Walkersville, South Carolina, arrived in Atlanta last night. The marriage occurred Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, and the couple left a few hours later for Atlanta, which will be their future home.

Miss Mary L. Gaith, of Shelton, Ky., will arrive in the city today, to be the guest of relatives on Whitehall street.

Miss Lula Reinhardt, of Atlanta, left Thursday for New York city, where she will spend some time visiting her brother, Mr. James Reinhardt, formerly of this city.

Misses Della and Florrie Pittman, of Thomasville, Ga., are visiting their sister, Mrs. John G. Rushing, at West End.

Mrs. R. B. Trippe, nee Winter, with her two sons, Renfroe and Clarence, spent the May vacation pleasantly visiting relatives and friends at Cass station, Cartersville, Marietta and Griffin, Ga.

An Addition to the Population.

ATHENS, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Mr. McGregor, of Atlanta, arrived in Athens today. He comes for the purpose of establishing a home for himself and family in the classic city, which will, in future, be his place of abode. Mr. McGregor has bought the large book establishment of E. W. Burke & Co. Athens is glad to add the name of so worthy a gentleman to her community, increasing the list of citizens.

Special bargain at the parlor shoe store today. John M. Moore, 33 Peachtree street, will offer special prices for today.

"Will you please give me somthing, sir?", begged a tramp.

"Certainly," responded the gentleman importuned; I am a police justice, and if you will step around to my office I'll give you thirty days."

Lawyer Quibble—And so, for a fancied insult, you burned down your enemy's house and carved him to pieces as he tried to escape?

Prisoner—Yes.

Quibble—Good. I'll get you off easy. It's a clear case of intermittent moral insanity.

Old Boggs—I've come up to see about these bills of yourn, Harry.

Harry—Yes, sir; but you know a scientific education is very expensive.

Old Boggs—I dessay it is, Harry: but if you took mathematics instead of poker it would not only be less expensive, but might prove of more use to you later.

The Governor—A pretty fellow you are to disgrace me in this way? What on earth tempted you to run away with that girl?

Alfred—Why, leaving out all sentiment, sir, it wa—her twenty thousand a year.

The Governor—Oh—ah—it was pretty rough afte...

THE FATAL NINTH.

Atlanta Lets Savannah Win the First Game.

Savannah Makes Seven Runs in the Ninth Inning—Columbus Wins at Augusta—Other Baseball News.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 4—[Special.]—The Savannah club defeated the Atlanta club this afternoon by a score of 13 to 9 in the best match so far of the season. There was a large crowd present. The game from beginning to end proved decidedly interesting, there being fine playing on both sides Whitaker's double and triple plays were rewarded by continuous applause. There were several changes of position by the captains of both clubs at different times in the game, but without changing the playing of either. The full score follows:

THE SCORE.

SAVANNAH.	R	BH	A	E	ATLANTA.	R	1B	A	E
Butlerr, p	4	2	0	0	Lawshe, ss	2	2	5	1
Greene, c	2	2	6	0	Key, c	1	1	1	1
Lamette, 3b	1	2	2	0	Lilly, 1b	0	1	0	0
Burke, ss	1	1	1	4	Craig, 2b	1	1	2	2
Monahan, 2b	2	1	2	1	Whitaker, lf	1	3	0	0
Brown, lf	0	0	3	1	Glenn, 3b	1	1	2	1
Schreck, cf	1	2	7	2	Woodsides, rf	1	1	0	1
Cantrell, 1b	1	2	7	1	Harper, p	0	0	3	1
Ham, rf	1	1	0	0	Matthews, cf	2	1	0	0
Total	13	11	27	9	Total	9	11	13	7

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Savannah	0	0	4	0	1	0	1	7	x	—13
Atlanta	1	0	4	0	0	0	1	3	1	—9

Earned runs—Savannah, 4; Atlanta, 3. Two base hit—Whitaker, Woodside, Green, Lamette, Monahan Double and triple plays—Whitaker. Bases on balls—By Harper. Passed balls—Green 3; Screck 4. Wild pitches—Harper 1. Time of game 2 hours and 35 minutes. Umpire—Basch. Left on bases—Savannah 4; Atlanta, 11. Struck out—Butler 11; Harper 2.

AT LOUISVILLE.

St. Louis	2	0	0	0	4	0	1	0	x	—7
Louisville	0	2	1	1	1	0	0	0	0	—5

Base hits—Louisville, 10; St. Louis, 9. Errors—Louisville, 5; St. Louis, 4. Batteries—Siratton and Cook; Hudson and Milligan.

AT CHICAGO.

Chicago	2	2	0	0	2	2	3	0	0	—11
Indianapolis	1	1	0	0	3	1	0	0	1	—7

Basehits—Chicago, 13; Indianapolis, 12. Errors—Chicago, 8; Indianapolis, 5. Batteries — Clarke and Farrell; Healy and Dailey.

AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	—3
Kansas City	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	2	—4

Base hits—Cincinnati, 0; Kansas City, 9. Errors—Cincinnati, 4; Kansas City, 9; Batteries—Mullane and Baldwin; Fagan and Briody.

AT DETROIT.

Detroit	0	0	1	0	2	0	0	2	3	—8
Pittsburg	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2

Basehits—Detroit, 11; Pittsburg, 6. Errors—Detroit, 4; Pittsburg, 4. Batteries—Conway and Ganzell: Galvin and Fields.

AT BIRMINGHAM.

Game postponed—Rain.

Columbus Wins at Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 4.—[Special.]—Augusta played in hard luck today, but deserved her defeat, because she put an umpire in the box who had proven himself incompetent in the first game with Atlanta. In the fifth inning, when two Columbus men were out, and the third was plainly put out at second base, he called him not out, when the man himself and all the players were coming in. After this Columbus got in three more runs in the inning. Other errors equally glaring were made, and generally against Augusta. The adverse umpiring rattled the team, and Columbus had a picnic.

Columbus	0	3	0	0	5	0	1	1	x	—10
Augusta	1	1	2	2	0	0	2	1	x	—9

Base hits—Columbus, 12; Augusta, 10. Errors—Columbus, 6; Augusta, 13. Batteries—Moshell and Gibson; Stone and Merritt.

Last Day of Washington Races.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Eighth and last day of the spring meeting of the national jockey club. Weather clear and pleasant.

First race, six furlongs, Patrecles won, Berdigo second, Maroon third. Time 1:15½. Mutuals paid $41.

Second race, one mile, Sam Brown won, Orlando second; Nellie B. third. Time 1:46.

Third race, seven furlongs, Sam Harper, Jr., won, Golden Reel second, Sam Keene third. Time 1:20.

Fourth race, handicap sweepstakes, mile and furlong, Richmond won, Vicksburg second, Ten Booker third. Time 1:56½.

Fifth race, free handicap, steeple chase, Elphin fell and hurt his jockey. Wellington won, Bob Wells second, John Henry third. Time 1:47. Mutuals paid $152.

Nashville Races.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 4.—First race, three-fourths of a mile, Golightly won; Tam O'Shanter second; Jim Nave third. Time 1:17¼.

Second race, one mile, Tudor won; Frederick second; Comely third. Time 1:43.

Third race, mile and an eighth, Little Minch won; Marshall Luke second; Wary third. Time 1:55.

Fourth race, five furlongs, Kee Vee Na won; Longfish second; Fan King third. Time 1:04.

Fifth race, six furlongs, Kermiss E won; McFarland second; Biddy Bowling third. Time 1:16¾.

Newmarket Races.

LONDON, May 4.—The race for the 1,000 guineas stakes at Newmarket today was won by Douglas Bairds's bay filly, Brierroot. Lord Calthorpe's chestnut filly, Seabreeze, second, and Perkins's bay filly, Belle Mahone, third. There were fourteen starters.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY, TO the superior court of said county: The petition of W. J. Tanner, A. J. Orme, E. P. Howell, W. A. Heath, C. E. Currier, W. A. Griffin, G. H. Tanner and A. P. Woodward, respectfully showeth. 1st. That they desire for themselves, thier associates, successors and assigns, power to become, and be incorporated, and made a body corporate and politic, under the corporate name and style of the "Atlanta Gold Mining Company." 2d. The objects of said corporation, are pecuniary gain and profit for its stockholders, and its particular business will be, and they pray to be granted powor to mine gold, silver, iron, copper and all other metals aed minerals; to erect and maintain such mills and manufactories as are necessary to manipulate said ores and metals; to pemchase, lease, acquire, cultivate, improve, use and develop either for the purpose herein stated, or other legtimate purposes; to sell, mortage, rent, or otherwise incumber or dispose of lands, mines, quarries, water powers, heredimenis and real or personal property, or any interests therein, or products thereof; including agricultural and mineral products; to operate, own and maintain such factories, buildings, machinery, canals, pipes, water ditches, reservoirs, tracks, roads, trains or railways, saw mills and other mills, and all other houses, buildings and erections necessary for properly conducting the lines of business carried on by said corporation, and to carry on such mining, trading, manufacturing, milling and merchantile business, as from time to time determine, and to have such other powers, as are spec fied in the code of Georgia, section 1679, and are incident to such corporations; that the capital stock of said corporation shall be five hundred thousand dollars, divided into shares of five dollars each; but such capital stock may be increased, from time to time, by a majority vote of the shareholders, to such sum as in their judgment is proper for the purposes of the company; all shares shall consist of five dollars, par value, and shall each be entitled to one vose at all stockholders' meetings, which may be cast in person or by proxy. The amount of capital actually paid in to be employed, is fifty thousand ($50,000.00) dollars. The liability of said stockholders, shall be to the extent of the capital stock subscribed for by them, and no more. The chief office of said corporation and place of transacting business will be at Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, but petitioners desire said corporation to do business, and maintain and operate works, etc., at such other places as it may deem advisable, and prays power so to do.

Petitioners pray that said corporation have power to borrow money, give bills and notes, and issue bonds, scrip, debentures, and other evidences of debt, and secure the same by such mortgages, deeds of trust, or in such other manner as it may deem best.

Petitioners ask that they be made a body, corporate under the name and style, and with the powers aforesaid, for the full period of twenty years, with the privilege of removal as often as can be done under the law. That this petition be filed in the clerk's office of this county, and be there recorded, and be published as required by law, and that the court pass an order incorporating petitioners, as aforesaid, and petitioners will ever pray, etc.

R. J. JORDON, Petitioners Attorney.

Filed in office May 2, 1888.

C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.

A true and correct copy, as appears from the records in this office. C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.

May 3, 1888. Fil

G. W. ADAIR.......................Auctioneer

South Pryor Street Residence.

I WILL SELL UPON THE PREMISES ON MAY 15th inst. at 4 p. m., 229 South Pryor street, on west side, between Fair and Jones streets, a ten-room residence, coal and woodshed, gas, water, paved streets, car line, all in place, first-class environments, high, healthful locality, titles indisputable, terms one-half cash, balance twelve months, 7 per cent. G. W. ADAIR.

TOMORROW'S 20-PAGE PAPER!

Newsdealers MUST send in their orders for extra copies of tomorrow (Sunday's) 20-page Constitution before 8 o'clock tonight, or we cannot guarantee to fill them.

The demand for Sunday's paper will be very great, and you will be left if you do not make your orders early.

We cannot guarantee to insert any advertisement filed after 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT.

L.S.L.

CAPITAL PRIZE, $150,000

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Quarterly Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the Drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signature attached, in its advertisements."

G. T. Beauregard
J. A. Early

Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.
R. M. WALMSLEY, Pres. Louisiana Nat'l B'k
PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State Nat'l Bank.
A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans Nat'l Bank.
CARL KOHN, Pres. Union National Bank.

UNPRECEDENTED ATTRACTION! OVER HALF A MILLION DISTRIBUTED.

Louisiana State Lottery Company.

Incorporated in 1868 for 25 years by the Legislature for Educational and Charitable purposes—with a capital of $1,000,000—to which a reserved fund of over $550,000 has since been added.

By an overwhelming popular vote its franchise was made a part of the present State Constitution adopted December 2d, A. D., 1879.

The only Lottery ever voted on and indorsed by the people of any State.

It never scales or postpones.

Its Grand Single Number Drawings take place monthly, and the Grand Quarterly Drawings regularly every three months (March, June, September and December.)

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY TO WIN A FORTUNE. SECOND GRAND DRAWING, CLASS F, IN THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC, NEW ORLEANS, TUESDAY, May 8, 1888—216th Monthly Drawing.

CAPITAL PRIZE $150,000.

Notice. Tickets are Ten Dollars only. Halves $5. Fifths, $2. Tenths, $1.

LIST OF PRIZES.

	CAPITAL PRIZE OF	$150,000	$150,000
1	GRAND PRIZE OF	50,000	50,000
1	GRAND PRIZE OF	20,000	20,000
2	LARGE PRIZES OF	10,000	20,000
4	LARGE PRIZES OF	5,000	20,000
20	PRIZES OF	1,000	20,000
50	PRIZES OF	500	25,000
100	PRIZES OF	300	30,000
200	PRIZES OF	200	40,000
500	PRIZES OF	100	50,000
	APPROXIMATION PRIZES.
100	Approximation Prizes of	$300	$30,000
100	" "	200	20,000
100	" "	100	10,000
1,000	Terminal "	50	50,000
2,179	Prizes, amounting to		$535,000

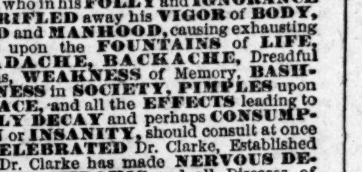

Application for rates to clubs should be made only at the office of the Company in New Orleans.

For further information write clearly, giving full address. POSTAL NOTES, Express Money Orders, or New York Exchange in ordinary letter. Currency by Express (at our expense) addressed
M. A. DAUPHIN, New Orleans, La.,
M. A. DAUPHIN, Washington, D. C.

Address Registered Letters to NEW ORLEANS NATIONAL BANK, New Orleans, La.

REMEMBER That the presence of Generals Beauregard and Early, who are in charge of the drawings, is a guarantee of absolute fairness and integrity, that the chances are all equal, and that no one can possibly divine what number will draw the Prize.

REMEMBER that the payment of all Prizes is GUARANTEED BY FOUR NATIONAL BANKS of New Orleans, and the Tickets are signed by the President of an Institution, whose chartered rights are recognized in the highest Courts; therefore, beware of any imitation or anonymous schemes. mod sun wed

Who is WEAK, NERVOUS, DEBILITATED, who in his FOLLY and IGNORANCE has TRIFLED away his VIGOR of BODY, MIND and MANHOOD, causing exhausting drains upon the FOUNTAINS of LIFE, HEADACHE, BACKACHE, Dreadful Dreams, WEAKNESS of Memory, BASHFULNESS in SOCIETY, PIMPLES upon the FACE, and all the EFFECTS leading to EARLY DECAY and perhaps CONSUMPTION or INSANITY, should consult at once the CELEBRATED Dr. Clarke, Established 1851. Dr. Clarke has made NERVOUS DEBILITY, CHRONIC and all Diseases of the GENITO URINARY Organs a Life Study. It makes NO difference WHAT you have taken or WHO has failed to cure you.

FEMALES suffering from diseases peculiar to their sex can consult with the assurance of speedy relief and cure. Send 2 cents postage for works on your diseases.

Send 4 cents postage for Celebrated Works on Chronic, Nervous and Delicate Diseases. Consultation, personally or by letter, free. Consult the old Doctor. Thousands cured. Offices and parlors private. Those contemplating Marriage send for Dr. Clarke's celebrated guide Male and Female, each 15c., both 25c. (stamps). Before confiding your case, consult Dr. CLARKE. A friendly letter or call may save future suffering and shame, and add golden years to life. Book "Life's (Secret) Errors," 50c. (stamps). Medicine and writings sent everywhere, secure from exposure. Hours, 8 to 8: Sundays, 9 to 12. Address,

F. D. CLARKE, M. D.
256 Vine St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

MISS KATE POWELL & MISS K. M. CANON

BEG TO ANNOUNCE TO THEIR FRIENDS AND customers that they have reopened their Dressmaking Establishment and solicit their patronage. All orders promptly filled. A cloth model of the latest style of dress sent on receipt of 25 cents. A...

SECURITY INVESTMENT COMPANY.

The Georgia Security Investment Company,

OF ATLANTA, GEORGIA:

CAPITAL - - - - - - $500,000.00

L. J. HILL, President, JOHN KEELY, Vice-President, W. R. HAMMOND, Secretary, HALL & HAMMOND, Attorneys.

DIRECTORS:

A. D. ADAIR, of Adair Bros. & Co.
W. A. HEMPHILL, Business Mgr. Const. Pub. Co. and Pres. Capitol City Bank.
JOHN KEELY, Retail Dry Goods, and Vice-Pres't. Neal Loan & Banking Company.
L. J. HILL, President Gate City National Bank.
W. R. HAMMOND, Ex Judge Superior Court, Atlanta Circuit.

This Company negotiates five year 7 per cent Loans on Improved Farm Property, or 6 per cent loans on Improved City Real Estate, and guarantees the prompt payment thereof. It has advantages for placing loans not possessed by an individual agency, and offers great inducements to capitalists, by guaranteeing the loans it makes. The company undertakes in every instance to cash any loans made by it, on sixty days' notice of default in payment of either principal or any interest coupon, and thus does away with even the possibility of a delay in collecting. Parties wishing a safe and profitable investment, with prompt returns, will consult their interest by addressing L. J. HILL, President, Atlanta, Ga.

REFERENCES:

Any Business Firm in Atlanta, and by Permission the Following:
CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK, New York,
NATIONAL PARK BANK, New York,
R. T. WILSON & CO, New York,
AMERICAN EXCHANGE NATIONAL BANK, N. Y.
INMAN, SWANN & CO., New York,
SECOND NATIONAL BANK, Boston, Mass.

DR. WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF Pure Cod Liver Oil And Phosphates

OF LIME, SODA, IRON.

It has required much experience and care to enable the proprietor to combine the oil and Phosphates so that they would become thoroughly efficacious together, and he has the only recipe by which this can be accomplished. Another important advantage which the Pure Cod Liver Oil possesses prepared in this way, over the plain cod liver oil, is the fact that besides adding largely to its medical qualities, it preserves the oil pure and sweet for a longer period than it can be done in any other manner. This fact alone would recommend this form of using the Oil even if the phosphates did not also add vastly to the healing qualities of the preparation. The perfect incorporation of the phosphates with the cod liver oil has only been accomplished by the adoption of the most perfect rules of chemistry; and a medicine has been produced which, while it is so efficacious, is also perfectly palatable and pleasant.

CURES
CONSUMPTION,
COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, DEBILITY, WASTING DISEASES, and all SCROFULOUS HUMORS.

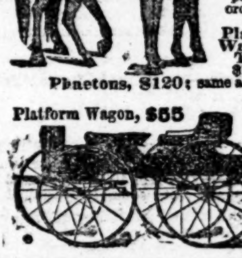

Almost as palatable as cream. It can be taken with pleasure by delicate persons and children, who, after using it, become very fond of it. It assimilates with the food, increases the flesh and appetite, builds up the nervous system, restores energy to mind and body, creates new, rich and pure blood, in fact, rejuvenates the whole system,

FLESH, NERVE, BLOOD, BRAIN.

This preparation is far superior to all other preparations of Cod-Liver Oil; it has many imitators, but no equals. The results following its use are its best recommendations. Be sure, as you value your health, and get the genuine. Manufactured only by DR. ALEXR. B. WILBOR, Chemist, Boston, Mass. Send for illustrated circular, which will be mailed free. Sold by all druggists.

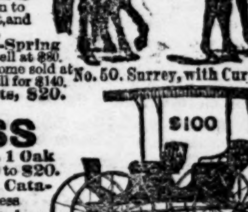

ELKHART CARRIAGE & HARNESS MANUFACTURING CO.

No. 1. Farm Harness $23.50

Every Buggy sold by agents has several dollars added to the manufacturer's price. We are manufacturers, and Have No Agents. For 13 yrs. have dealt with the consumer. We ship anywhere, with privilege of examining before buying. We pay freight charges both ways if not satisfactory. WARRANT EVERYTHING for 2 YEARS. Any one that can write can order a Buggy or Harness from us as well as pay $10 to $50 to some middle man to order for them. We give no credit, and have ONE PRICE ONLY. Platform, Combination, & 3-Spring Wagons, $55; same as others sell at $80. Top Buggies, $75; fine as some sold at $110. Ours at $100 are fine as sell for $140.

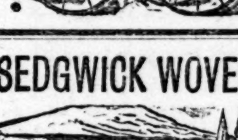

No. 25. Light Double Harness $25.00

No. 50. Surrey, with Curtains.

Phaetons, $120; same as sold at $165. Road Carts, $20.

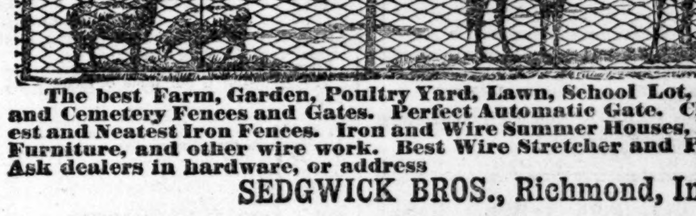

Platform Wagon, $55

We make a full line of HARNESS
Our Harness are all No. 1 Oak Leather. Single, $10 to $20. 64 page Illustrated Catalogue, Free. Address
W. B. PRATT, Secretary,
ELKHART, INDIANA.

SEDGWICK WOVEN STEEL WIRE FENCE AND GATES.

The best Farm, Garden, Poultry Yard, Lawn, School Lot, Park and Cemetery Fences and Gates. Perfect Automatic Gate. Cheapest and Neatest Iron Fences. Iron and Wire Summer Houses, Lawn Furniture, and other wire work. Best Wire Stretcher and Pliers. Ask dealers in hardware, or address

SEDGWICK BROS., Richmond, Ind.

LUMBER!

DOORS, SASH, BLINDS!

MANTELS, MOULDINGS, SCROLL WORK, NEWEL BALUSTERS, RAILS, WINDOW GLASS, BUILDERS' HARDWARE, ETC.
REMEMBER, I MANUFACTURE MY OWN GOODS, AND AM HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF BUILDING MATERIAL. WRITE FOR ESTIMATES.

su wo W. L. TRAYNHAM, 74 Decatur St., ATLANTA, GA.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL — DIAMOND BRAND

THE ORIGINAL, THE ONLY GENUINE. BEWARE OF WORTHLESS IMITATIONS. ASK DRUGGIST FOR CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH DIAMOND BRAND. TAKE NO OTHER.

SAFE. ALWAYS RELIABLE. TO LADIES INDISPENSABLE. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. ASK FOR DIAMOND BRAND, CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH AND TAKE NO OTHER. SEE SIGNATURE ON EVERY BOX. CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO. SOLE PROP. MADISON SQ. PHILA. PA.

OR INCLOSE 4¢ (STAMPS) FOR PARTICULARS IN LETTER BY RETURN MAIL. SEE SIGNATURE ON EVERY BOX.

5,000 UNSOLICITED WRITTEN TESTIMONIALS AND OVER. FROM LADIES WHO HAVE USED CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH DIAMOND BRAND PENNYROYAL PILLS WITH SUCCESS.

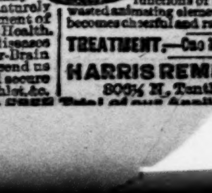

PILLS

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT FOR INTERNAL — AND — EXTERNAL USE.

Cures Diphtheria, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Neuralgia, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, Bleeding at the Lungs, Hoarseness, Influenza, Hacking Cough, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Chronic Diarrhoea, Kidney Troubles, and Spinal Diseases. We will send free, postpaid, to all who send their names, an Illustrated Pamphlet containing information of very great value. Everybody should have this book, and those who send for it will ever after thank their lucky stars. All who buy or order direct from us, and request it, shall receive a certificate that the money shall be refunded if not abundantly satisfied. Retail price, 35 cts.; 6 bottles, $2.00. Express prepaid to any part of the United States or Canada. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., P. O. Box 2118, Boston, Mass.

THE MOST WONDERFUL FAMILY REMEDY EVER KNOWN.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE — FOR MEN ONLY — VIGOROUS HEALTH

Over Ten Thousand Trial Packages mailed to patients a large proportion of whom took a full treatment and were restored to health by use of PROF. HARRIS' SEMINAL PASTILLES. A Radical Cure for Nervous Debility, Organic Weakness and Physical Decay in Young or Middle Aged Men. Tested for Eight Years in many thousand cases they absolutely restore prematurely aged and broken down men to the full enjoyment of perfect and full Manly Strength and Vigorous Health. To those who suffer from the many obscure diseases brought about by Indiscretion, Exposure, Over-Brain Work, or too free Indulgence, we ask that you send us your name with statement of your trouble, and secure TRIAL PACKAGE FREE, with Illust'd Pamphlet, &c.

Avoid the imposition of pretentious remedies for these troubles, and all Quacks, whose only aim is to bleed their victims. Take a SURE REMEDY that has CURED thousands, does not interfere with attention to business, or cause pain or inconvenience in any way. Founded on scientific medical principles... application to the seat of disease... influence is felt without delay... functions of the human organism... wasted animating elements of life are given... becomes cheerful and rapidly gains bo...

TREATMENT.—One Month, $3. ...

HARRIS REMEDY ...
306½ N. Tenth St. ...

WOMAN'S KINGDOM.

Letters, Recipes and Clippings for the Fair Readers of The Constitution.

[This is the ladies' column. They are invited to express their opinions herein—to use it as their own The editress will answer questions or accept suggestions with pleasure.]

THE LAST KISS.

BY JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

I put by the half-written poem,
While the pen, idly trailed in my hand,
Writes on, "Had I words to complete it,
Who'd read it, or who'd understand?"
But the little bare feet on the stairway,
And the faint, smothered laugh in the hall,
And the eerie-low lisp on the silence,
Cry up to me over it all.

So I gather it up—where was broken
The tear-faded thread of my theme,
Telling how, as one night I sat writing,
A fairy broke in on my dream—
A little inquisitive fairy—
My own little girl, with the gold
Of the sun in her hair, and the dewy
Blue eyes of the fairies of old.

'Tis the dear little girl that I scolded—
"For was it a moment like this,"
I said, "when she knew I was busy,
To come romping in for a kiss?
Come rowdying up from her mother
And clamoring there at my knee
For 'one 'ittle kiss for my dolly
And one 'ittle uzzer for me?'"

God pity the heart that repelled her
And the cold hand that turned her away!
And take from the lips that denied her
This answerless prayer of today!
Take, Lord, from my mem'ry forever
That pitiful sob of despair,
And the patter and trip of the little bare feet
And the one piercing cry on the stair!

I put by the half-written poem,
While the pen, idly trailed in my hand,
Writes on, "Had I words to complete it,
Who'd read it, or who'd understand?"
But the little bare feet on the stairway,
And the faint smothered laugh in the hall,
And the eerie-low lisp or the silence,
Cry up to me over it all.

"Mrs. S. F. P.," Red Spring, N. C.—In answer to your question in regard to the "King's Daughters," would say, we are delighted to hear of your society the first formed, and wish you much success. You ask for a few hints as to plans of work. You must be governed in your work by the opportunities offered. The societies here have a meeting every fortnight; they read a selection from scripture and have a prayer; then the society is open for business, and reports are made as to the work they have accomplished. There is one ten who have taken a poor girl who is dying with consumption, and they visit her and see thatshe is provided with clean clothing and such food as she can eat.One lady provides her with milk each day, another with some other article, another goes and reads to her, and flowers are taken to brighten the sick room. This sick girl will be cared for until the summons comes,and life's burdens are laid down. Often times when money is needed one of the "tens" get up some little entertainment and ask a small admission, or they solicit contributions and give a supper, and raise funs in that way. With this they pay some poor sick woman's rent until she is able to be up and at her work. Others visit the sick and minister to soul as well as body. "The poor ye have with you always," and to those willing to work there will always be a way opened. There is always sick amongst us, or very poor and ignorant children, who can be clothed by the cast off garments of our own little ones, and taught to read and be of help to their parents. We will gladly answer any question asked on this subject.

French Art.

DURING the Christmas holidays there were a number of pretty little articles that were attractive and saleable, such as laundry lists, pin cushions, etc. The laundry list was enclosed between two strips of celluloid, which were beautifully ornamented and tied together with a pretty bow of ribbon; the needle cases were done in the same way. The ornamenting of this celluloid was what is called the French art. It is easily learned and very beautiful. One of our lady correspondents who gives lessons in this art sent us a beautiful specimen of her work a few days since and says it is easily taught by mail, and full directions cad be written so any one can do it. All of our readers have doubtless been interested in "True-heart's" communications, and should any one wish to take lessons in French art or communicate with her, we will gladly give her address on reception of stamp for postage.

Teach the Girls to Sew.

From Good Housekeeping.

Who can say that the inventions of the nineteenth century do not show us to be going ahead, pushing onward to perfection? Not only is this the case in scientific matters, but in all branches pertaining to household work. In one particular, however, we are losing ground. Our daughters are not taught the use of the needle, as were our grandmothers in the good old times of "long ago," for did they not fashion dainty beautiful garments, without the aid of the sewing machine, with its numerous attachments; hemmer, ruffler, tucher, corder and binder?

In "grandma's day" every ruffle was hemmed, rolled, whipped and sewed on by hand. In under garments every sear was neatly felled, every yard of flannel was (after being run together), nicely and evenly "catstepped," and without this pretty finish was considered a bungling, unsightly piece of work.

In many cases too much time and eyesight were spent in beautifying and adorning ladies' underwear. Particularly was this the case, when days, weeks, and even months were spent in elaborately embroidering the chemise and night gown yokes, so much in vogue twenty and thirty years ago. This I consider a wanton waste of time and now Hamburg embroidery and woven trimmings are so cheap and pretty, there is no excuse for it.

Neither do I condemn the use of the sewing machine, but I contend that to do good machine work it is almost necessary for one to understand how to do plain sewing. I think all mothers should begin by the time their daughters are ten years of age to teach them the rudiments of this branch of household work. I am fully aware of the objections urged by most mothers, mainly, want of time; if not want of time on the part of the mother, want of time on the part of the child, many times it is a want of inclination on the part of one or both.

Do not let your child commence too soon on fancy or decorative work, but give her a good foundation by a thorough drill in plain sewing while yet young enough to be guided by your instruction. With this foundation all branches of ornamental work will be comparatively easy.

THE CARE OF CHILDREN'S TEETH.

Some Hints to Mothers on This Essential Point Toward Preserving Health.

From Harper's Young People.

Whatever the cause, it is a fact to which all mothers will assent, that the majority of children do not willingly take proper care of their teeth. Brushes are mislaid or destroyed, all possible excuse offered for the delay or entire suspension of this part of the toilet, and only the perservering,experienced mother will succeed in starting her children in the right way. Here as elsewhere in nursery discipline, "Thou shalt" and "Thou shalt not" invite transgression. But children are easily influenced when an appeal is made to their common sense. By the use of a hand-glass show the little boy or girl each one of his little white teeth, and tell him how precious they are, since by no natural means can they be replaced. He becomes interested in the incisors, which cut like scissors, the eye-teeth just under the eyes, and the funny wrinkled-up molars, so useful for beef and mutton. ... the larger, stronger teeth that are ...ted to last a lifetime if well cared ... now hidden away in the gums, ... and awaiting their time to ...nd weaker milk-teeth. The ... to feeling an honest pride ...ssions. Teach him that ...fore friends with unwashed teeth as with soiled hands, face or linen. But perhaps the desirable result is most easily secured when a child has been so early accustomed to a clean, sweet mouth, that he can never be comfortable without it. The daily habit thus becomes a fixed custom, no more to be neglected or discontinued than the putting on of shoes and stockings.

Especially should the mother be watchful when the permanent set begins to appear. There should be no falling away of the small milk-teeth from decay, but gradually their roots will be absorbed until there is no longer a support for the crown, which then loosens and, under favorable conditions, falls out, or may be gently removed with little or no pain and as fair and clean as when it first appeared in the mouth. The second tooth now appears, and if a little forethought has been taken to secure for it plenty of room it is comely and healthy. But if forced to crowd its way around the first tooth it becomes misshapen or protruding and may seriously affect the shape of the mouth. A little manipulation properly applied may correct this fault.

Saratoga Chips.

From Good Housekeeping.

There are but three manufacturers of Saratoga chips in this country, and none are made abroad, The potatoes are peeled and sliced by machinery, then washed and dried between muslin cloths. The starch that is in them would turn brown in frying or broiling in hot grease; so the starch is removed by some secret process, and then the bath of hot grease curls them crispy and gives them the delicious flavor that has made them famous. A few minutes in a hot oven makes them as crisp as though they were just fried. They do not come from Saratoga, though many of them go there.

Some Good Recipes.

Cocoanut Cakes.—The grated meat of two cocoanuts, their weight in loaf sugar, one cup of flour and whites of two eggs. Shape into balls and bake twenty minutes.

Macaroons.—Half a pound of almonds, blanched, dried, and pounded to a paste, with one teaspoonful of rose water. Beat together the whites of three eggs, and half a cup of powdered sugar, adding the sugar by the teaspoonful. Add half a teaspoonful of almond essence, then add the pounded almonds, and, if too soft to be shaped, add one tablespoonful of flour. Roll with wet hands into balls the size of walnuts, flatten them slightly, and place some distance apart on buttered paper. Bake slowly.

Almond paste, ready for use, may be obtained at a confectioner's. Break it up with a fork. Add the beaten whites and sugar, using four or five eggs for half a pound of paste. Drop by teaspoonfuls on paper and bake as above.

Requests and Answers.

Mrs. Nannie J. Outlaw, of Jamestown, Ark., would like to know the address of Jerry Cochran, Jenny Cochran, Elminia O'Brines and Robert Nichols. In Tennessee when last heard from.

L. E., Boston, Ga., would like to know where to obtain the book composed of pictures and descriptive poems entitled "Gold and Gray," or "From Gold to Gray."

"H. L. A.," Greensboro, N. C.—You can clean your black silk by wiping it off with Household amonia, or by making a decoction of soap-tree bark; to be obtained at any drug store.

Mrs. H. C. Brown—Please send address and letter will be answered. Your letter is not dated and has no address at top, post mark entirely obliterated; so could not answer.

"E M. T.," Virginia.—Many thanks for the Easter offering received. It is always pleasant to be remembered.

The article on poultry raising by Mrs. E. A. Parker answers the numerous questions that come pouring in upon us on this particular subject, and will interest all who are engaged in raising poultry. We commend it to a careful perusal by our readers.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Poultry Raising Does Pay.

Mrs. E. A. Parker, Zebulon, Ga.: For the encouragement of those who wish to raise chickens, but have been deterred through the fear of failure or the continual reminder from some interested (?) friend that "it won't pay," I will give my account of debit and credit for three months of 1888.

Stock on hand January 1st, 12 hens and 6 pullets, 1 cock and 1 cockerel.

These are confined in a small yard, not more than a quarter of an acre. I quote actual market prices paid for food, also our market prices for eggs and chickens. Cost of feeding three months:

3 bushels meal at 75c	$2 25
1 bushel cow peas	1 00
Bran	1 00
Oats	50
5 doz. eggs set in January at 15c	75
4 doz. eggs set in February at 10c	40
	$5 90

	CREDIT.
By 7 doz. eggs, January, at 15c	$1 05
By 10¼ doz. eggs, February, at 10c	1 02½
By 4¼ doz. eggs sold for hatching, at 25c. for 13	1 00
By 15½ doz. eggs, March, at 10c	1 60
By 6 frying size chickens at 25c	1 50
By 30 broilers on hand at 25c	7 50
	$13 67½

Besides the six frying size sold at 25 cents each and the thirty broilers on hand counted at 25 cents each, I have twenty larger than partridges and twenty-two not yet weaned. Of the 108 eggs set in January and February, ninety-four hatched. Of these I lost sixteen by drowning.

The secret of success with poultry is three fold. First—Cleanliness, which includes clean roosting quarters and nests, clean drinking vessels, and plenty of fresh, clean water. Second—Watchfulness, which includes care for the setting hens, feeding them when they leave the nest and when hatching keeping them on the nest till the twenty-fourth day of incubation. Third—Feeding; this for the young broods should be every three or four hours until they are three weeks old.

Young chicks thrive best on a change of food, and I give mine oats once a day as soon as large enough to eat them. Boiled cow peas mashed with corn bread or bread soaked in buttermilk is excellent. Cool, frosty mornings give the chicks a hot breakfast, if only meal made up with warm water.

I mark my eggs daily as they are gathered. For instance, those brought in today will be marked in pencil 4-18, which means the fourth month and eighteenth day. I never set an egg that has been laid more than two weeks, hence my reason for marking them.

My fowls are a cross between the Plymouth Rock and Wyandotte, and I have three Brown Leghorn hens that help to fill the egg basket. During January and February I give a hen only 13 eggs to set upon, during March 14 to 16, and in April 18, if the setter is of good size. I have now 148 eggs in process of incubation under eight hens.

Long life to the Kingdom and its editress. If I have not trespassed too greatly on your space, and you desire, will give you my method of raising turkeys in my next.

Note—Will be glad to hear from you again.

Miss M. F. Jordan, Roxboro, N. C.: Mrs. Annie M. Harris asks, in Woman's Kingdom, how to care for fuchsias. If she will observe the following directions, she cannot fail of success: Use large pots; put in an inch or so of charcoal or other material for drainage; for potting soil use pure leaf mold; set the plants in a light place, but never in strong sunshine; keep the soil always moist. The blooms will be finer if the plants are watered with liquid manure twice a week. I have a variety of plants and would exchange for other kinds, although I have had a somewhat unsatisfactory experience in this line. I agreed to make an exchange with one of the sisters for four specified varieties of hyacinth. When they bloomed they were all of one variety, and that of which I already had a supply. Another agreed to send me hyacinths in exchange for cuttings. I sent the cuttings last spring, expecting, according to agreement, to receive the bulbs in the fall. Although I wrote her twice in regard to them, I have not yet seen them or heard a word from her. I have a quantity of double white violets and apple geraniums, twenty-three other varieties of geranium, and other plants too numerous to mention. I would like to get pelargonium, Fred Dorner, cacti and fine bulbs.

"F. B. W.," Sparks, Ga.: Will some of the members of the Woman's Kingdom be kind enough to give me a remedy for insomnia? I spend so many sleepless nights, and hope some one may be able to tell me of something beneficial.

Mrs. Virginia Gratigny, Richmond, Ind.: I have been reading THE CONSTITUTION, the only southern paper I ever saw, and like the Woman's Kingdom very much, but do not like Arp on the pension question, as I have a soldier husband. I wish to say to the sister who has the vegetable peach, that I would like to exchange some seed of the vegetable pear for the peach seed, or will pay for the same as she may wish. I would also like to have some sister to send me a few cotton seed and will pay for or exchange any of our northern flower seed.

Miss Iana Loyd, Monroe, N. C.: Will some one please tell me how to polish sea shells; I have some very pretty ones, but they are rough (just as they were picked up off the coast). Would like ever so much to exchange some daily lily bulbs for one of calla lily or double white fish geranium. If any of the readers of Woman's Kingdom have any of the flowers and would like to exchange, they will please write at once; all letters will be answered and bulbs sent at once.

Mrs. S. F. P., Red Springs, N. C.: I live in a small village where none are well off, yet there are none that stand in need of charity. We have no religious services on the Sabbath except a union Sunday-school. After reading the article in Woman's Kingdom entitled "King's Daughters," we organized a ten. Of course there is but small scope for usefulness, yet where there is a willing mind some good can be found to do. I would be glad if the editress or some one interested would give a few hints as to plans of work, manner of conducting exercises at the meetings of the ten, in fact anything that will increase the desire in those who have joined us to continue in the good work. Please oblige me by replying through the Woman's Kingdom.

Mrs. Flossie Fitzgerald, Linwood, N. C.: I have been a reader of THE CONSTITUTION only a few months, but I have obtained a great deal of information and pleasure from our paper, especially Woman's Kingdom. I send the following recipes:

Corn Beer.—Three ears of corn, shell and put to boil in two gallons of water; boil corn until tender; take out, put in crock or jug, then add one cup of molasses and tablespoonful of yeast; flavor with ginger.

Frosting Without Eggs.—One cup of white sugar and five tablespoonfuls of milk; boil five minutes; stir until cold and put on gold cake. It is splendid.

"Mrs. J. R. W.:" As the fruit season is about open, I will give you a good cheap recipe: Make up pastry as if you wanted biscuit—soda and buttermilk; break off in pieces as large as an egg or larger; roll out, any shape, round or oblong; spread with butter;roll second piece and put on top of this, butter it; roll the third and put on. Make as many of these as you wish. Bake. Have your fruit mashed and sweetened—strawberries, blackberries, or anything you like. When the bread is done open each layer where it is buttered and spread fruit. I don't cook fruit. Eat with butter sauce. Delicious.

Mrs. J. R. Wimberly, Hope, Ark.: Many a time I have wanted to write to you, but felt that I could not, knowing my writing capacity. I have been in the west only a year; born and raised in Georgia. I have a large family. We try to get them all to read; school advantages are very poor here. We read your page and Bill Arp and Plunkett of course. My husband reads it all, and I tell him he must read it over sometimes. I send you a little poem; I have never seen it in print; don't know who the author is. Can you get the poem "The Soul's Farewell to the Body?" I would like so much to see it.

Mrs. R. A. Ezell, Refugio, Texas: I do not think I could get along without THE CONSTITUTION. I am very fond of Woman's Kingdom and always turn to it first. Talmage's sermons beyond a doubt are the best that are published, and Bill Arp's letters are just splendid. I have six boys and feel the need of the good advice given in Woman's Kingdom. What a great responsibility is the rearing of a large family. I was well pleased with the letter in the last week's paper from V. L. W., on training children. I do all my house work, washing, ironing and scrubbing and find some time for reading. Where can I obtain information concerning the Indian war of Georgia and Florida?

Mrs. A. C. Ivy, Thomson, Ga.: In THE CONSTITUTION of February 14th Mrs. Anna Frank, of Florida, says: "I am among the number who wrote Mrs. A. C. Ivy and failed to reach her. Will she not tell us where and how to obtain the powder for fruit caning, of which she spoke? Yes, dear sisters, one and all; write to Dr. J. E. Massey, Fort Mill, York county, S. C., and enclose twenty-five cents and ask him to send you by mail a box of his fruit preserving powder. Follow directions which accompanies each box, only do not use quite so much powder as the directions call for. Instead of using a box of powder to every twenty-five pounds of fruit, I use one box to every thirty pounds of fruit. Too much powder makes the fruit soft and imparts a peculiar flavor. Keep your fruit in a cool, dark place during warm weather. Will Mrs. L. Kennard, of South Carolina, either write to me or give me her address through Woman's Kingdom? I am so anxious to get seed of the vegetable peach from her. If she sees this and will send me a few seed by mail, I will pay her for them or exchange for something of like value. I would like to get seed of the vegetable orange from Mrs. B. L. A., of Waverly, Walker county, Texas. Write to above address.

Alice Graft, Dayton, Ind.: I have been a reader of THE CONSTITUTION but a short time, but I like it very much, especially the Woman's Kingdom. I will give a receipt for jelly roll that never fails. Break three eggs in a bowl, pour in one cup of white sugar, one cup of flour and one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Stir the baking powder around in the flour, then stir all together, but it shoud not be beaten. I make a splendid layer cake by adding about four tablespoonfuls of thick sweet cream and a little more flour. It is so easily made if one has unexpected company, and is very cheap. The more the flour is sifted the finer and lighter the cake will raise. I sympathize with Mrs. R. W. Ramsey because she does not get good bread. I can make good bread, but I know there are some that can make better, so I will let them send their receipes. I would like to correspond with some southern girls of about my age; I am 12 years old.

Mrs. R. A.—Sisters of the Woman's Kingdom: I come to you in my dire extremity and feel confident of your help. I am obliged to go out into the world and make my own living, but find it impossible with children. There may be those among you whose arms are empty and who would be glad to have a little child to fill the vacant niche in your heart. My baby boy is just two years old, a fair, dark-eyed, healthy, beautiful child, smart and so affectionate; everybody loves him, and I would give him to some Christian couple who would be willing to raise him in sobriety and intelligence. My next youngest child is a little girl of five, blue-eyed, with delicate dainty face, rather quiet and shy. They are both intelligent children, coming from an ancestory of strictly honest, moral people. I would let them be taken by adoption, or if I could get them boarded cheaply I would be glad. I, myself, would like a place where I can keep my 8 year old boy with me. I am an excellent cook and baker, understand sewing, raising of fancy poultry, am a first-class piano teacher, understand German, have a good regular and business education, have been cashier and correspondent in a large business house; have first-class Chicago business and church references, but know nothing of farm work; am capable of doing office work, as I am a fast writer and good speller. I leave my address with the editress.

Husbands and Wives.

From the New York Press.

Some one has been compiling some statistics in regard to married life in London and estimates that among the population of that city there are 2,428 wives who have left their husbands; 2,371 husbands who have left their wives; 4,750 divorced persons; 191,023 couples that live together in a state of incessant hostilities; 510,512 couples that are absolutely indifferent one to another; 1,050 couples that are apparently happy; 1,102 couples that are happy to a certain extent; and of couples that are really happy, 6. The next interesting thing would be to ascertain the causes of all these conjugal difficulties. Although London is said to be even worse than Paris in its wickedness, it can hardly be believed that all this unhappiness can occur from that unfaithfulness which is the great cause of household ruin. Let the investigator pursue his inquiries farther and then we may be able to get at the true status of London society.

He Doesn't Ask Anything.

From the Milledgeville Union-Recorder.

Henry W. Grady wears as clean a face as any man and his heart is displayed all over him. He has done more for the development of Georgia's material wealth and asked less for his labor than any man within its borders, living or dead.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

Bright and Interesting Letters from "Aunt Susie's" Little Nephews and Nieces.

This is a corner set aside for the little friends of THE CONSTITUTION for their entertainment and development in the art of letter-writing.

[ALL letters for this column must be addressed to THE CONSTITUTION office.]

BEHIND THE SCREEN.

I'm but a rustic country lad,
And have not learned the ways
That village boys so soon adopt
In these progressive days;
And some things I can't understand
Which I have often seen;
One is, why all the saloon bars
Are hid behind the screen.

Another is, why men who work
Ten hours every day,
And constantly are grumbling at
Their small amount of pay,
Should squander it for worse than naught,
'Tis appetite, I ween,
That makes them spend so much for drink
Behind the saloon screen.

Another is, why many that Should early be at home,
Night after night till twelve o'clock
Prefer the streets to roam;
E'en boys of younger and tender age,
From ten years to sixteen,
Are forming habits hard to change
Behind the saloon screen.

Another is, how men can feel
'Tis right to dim the brain,
And stimulate the baser thoughts,
Where reason ought to reign;
And if the men who sell and drink
Don't think the business mean,
Why do they always strive so hard
To hide behind the screen?

And this, I honestly admit,
I cannot understand,
And to this question pertinent
An answer I demand:
If whisky, wine and lager beer
Do not mankind demean,
Why not dispense them openly,
And not behind the screen?

The Pioneer-Press, of St. Paul, Minn., offered a liberal prize for a story by a child, and a little girl of the high school at Sauk Rapids, Minn., contributed the following, which she vouched for as in the main true. She says: "The event which I am about to relate took place about ten years ago in a small farm house. It happened while the father and his three large boys were away at work in their field, three miles distant," and then proceeded with her story;

A BRAVE GIRL.

BY ROSE M. BARNUM.

The sun had risen high, and Grace was paring apples on the steps, when, hearing a slight noise she looked up and saw approaching her an ugly looking Indian. She stepped back into the house. He followed her, and seating himself, he grunted:

"Ugh! me been hunting; no good hunt, and me big heap hungry."

Grace set the remains of the breakfast on the table. The Indian at once began eating. Still watching Grace, he said:

"Ugh! little white face no like Big Grip."

At this Grace got up and went into the shed to be sure the rifle was there. It was gone! Hearing a noise, she again went back into the room, and there stood two more brawny Indians, who were plundering everything that took their fancy, summoning up all her courage, she said:

"Would Big Grip like some firewater?"

This was answered by a "Ugh! Ugh! Ugh!"

She started down the cellar, taking with her a tin pail, and all the time she was planning how to get away and alarm her father. She took the whisky, and, as she passed again into the shed to wait until they were all drunk enough so as to allow her to make her escape, she noticed the largest one was planted in front of the only door in the house. She sat down to wait, all the while keeping an eye on them, when, to her horror, she saw the largest Indian was holding one down with one hand, while with the other hand he held his hatchet over his head, waiting for the other to give up the pail of whisby, but the poor fellow would not move a muscle, and he law there scarcely breathing, when, with a vengeance, he sent it crashing through the poor wretch's skull.

A slight quiver and all was over. Grace sat watching it all with bated breath and wild, quivering eyes, not daring to move lest he hear her. The Indian got up, looked in the pail, which had about three drops in it, and started to the shed where he knew Grace was, and stepping in he said:

"Ugh! me want more firewater."

Grace did not stir, whereupon he raised his deadly weapon over her head. What could she do?

Then quick as a flash came the thought of a way to escape. Taking the pail in her trembling hands she went into the room and, lifting a heavy trap door, stepped down on the first step, purposely letting the door down on her long, heavy braid of hair. One Indian gave a yell and jumped on the door, while the other grabbed her hair and, being half crazed with the whisky, seized a match and tried to light it. All the time Grace was sawing away on her hair with an old pen-knife, which she had found in her pocket. Now there was no opening out of this cellar, which was only a hole dug under the house, except a little narrow place which had been left for a window. The Indians, not knowing of this, thought there was no opening at all out of the cellar.

After what seemed to Grace a long time she got her braid cut in two, and stealing along slowly for fear of stumbling she reached the hole. She soon got out, and was speeding away as fast as her trembling limbs would carry her. Half-running, half-stumbling, on toward the field she goes, but after awhile fear lends speed to her, and she at last reaches the tree which marks just half way, where she meets her brother, who was going up to the house for something they had forgotten.

In a hurried manner she explains it to him. He helps her on the horse and is off again. Grace was so much exhausted she could scarcely hold on, and she feared every moment she would fall off. In a short time they reach the field, and taking a fresh horse he starts on a three-mile ride to the nearest neighbor's, leaving Grace to explain to her father, who after listening to it exclaimed:

"On a horse, boys, and up there, or they will burn our home!" They started on, each fearing their home would be burned to ashes.

The horses, maddened by the stinging blows, rush on faster and faster. In a short time they reach their home. By this time the neighbors have arrived and a hasty consultation is held, which results in this plan: Two are to enter the house, while three guard it to prevent the rascals' escape. As they enter the house a sickening sight greets them—the dead Indian still lying on the floor, and the other two half-drunken ones still holding on that braid for dear life, both thinking they had got "that white pappoose" fixed. At the sight of the two men both start and try to get their weapons lying on the floor, but they are seized and bound hand and foot, ready to be taken to the city and locked up.

Grace was hugged and petted, and all felt as though they had not known her value till they came near losing her.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Bessie Smith, Washington, Ga.: I have just finished reading your letter written for the little folks and will make haste and answer your questions, hoping to be the first. If Peal's Educator is correct, the largest bell is in Moscow and weighs 202 tons. At 8 o'clock the ringing of the Curfew bell in old times in England all lights were extinguished and the people of the kingdom retired to bed. This rule was made by William the Conqueror.

Note—You have given the first and correct answer. I will tell you of some other big bells in my next letter.

Lottie Carr, Altoona, Pa.: I have liked your's and the cousins letters ever since we have been taking THE CONSTITUTION. Today it has been snowing and is very cold. This city is way up on the Alleghany mountains and the climate is very bad in the spring. I have two sisters, Irene and Nellie; Rena and I go to school and little Nellie stays home with mama. School will be out on the 25th of May. Tomorrow will be my birthday, I will be 12 years old. My mama is not very strong, and I have to do a great deal of work, but I don't mind that, for mama says she wouldn't know how to get along without me, and that makes me glad, for I like to be useful. Give my love to the cousins and keep a big part of it yourself.

W. E. Mountain, Key, Ala.: Well cousins, I am glad to see so much improvement in your letters of late, and hope you will keep on doing better. I agree with Rob Roy on the whisky busines; I long to see the day when it will be wiped from this fair land of ours. I was sorry to hear that Atlanta had gone wet again. I want Mr. Grady to run for president. What has become of Betsy Hamilton? she has quit writing of late; I wish she would come again. Well, Aunt Susie, I was glad to see your picture at the head of our column. I did not read the description of you that was given several years ago, the postoffice got burned the night before I went after the mail. I think I have got the answer to Rob Roy's example, but kon't know if it is right. I think the vine would have to be twenty-five feet long.

Claudia Shields, Orrville: I am just 9 years old and live in the country. I do not go to school, but will start soon; my mother has taught at home. I have two little brothers, one named William Bry and the other John. Bry is the oldest and as honest as he can be. I will tell you a good thing on him. Our auntie gave us some strawberries and told us not to let grandma see us eating them, and he would not have his, because he could not eat them without hiding, but John got under the table and eat his. Papa says he is uneasy about Bry, for when he is grown he will be so honest he will have a hard time, but John's "cheek" will carry him through the world all right.

Bessie Hatcher, Dawson, Ga.: I am a constant reader of THE CONSTITUTION and think it the best paper papa subscribes for. I enjoy the cousins' and ladies' column. The Baptist Sabbath school, of which I am a member, will have a picnic the 4th of May; we all anticipate a splendid time. I have always wanted to join the happy band of cousins, but have stood in fear of the yawning waste basket. I would be pleased to correspond with Jacob McConn, Citra, Fla., and Julia Mayfield, Murphy, N. C.

Jennie Young, Groveton, Texas: I am 11 years old. I live in the lone star state; it is the leading state in the union in the production of corn, wheat and cotton. I went to school last winter, but I have to help grandpa on the farm now, as it is crop time. I had a pet goat, but it got so mischievous grandpa sold it. I am a reader of THE CONSTITUTION and am always glad when it comes.

Kamie McD., Three Notch, Ala.: As I am alone this lovely morning, I do not know how I can better occupy a solitary hour than in writing to Aunt Susie and the cousins. Three Notch is a beautiful little village situated on the M. and E. railroad; but there is one great advantage we are deprived of, that is a school. I would like to know what has become of S. G. C., Butler, Ga. I would like to exchange crochet samples with some of the cousins.

J. B. Sparkman, Flint City, Ala.: I am a reader of THE CONSTITUTION. The first thing I notice is the Young Folks' column; I do love to read their letters, especially those of the nieces. I live within six miles of Decatur, next town south on the L. and N. railroad. Decatur is known as a booming city. I would like to have that poem that one of the cousins spoke of last week, "The Lips that Touch Liquor Can Never Touch Mine." Let us young folks be temperate. I would like to correspond with some of the girl cousins.

Daisy Dean: The largest bell in the world is in Moscow, the city of bells. It was cast in 1653; is 11 feet 4½ inches high, 22 feet 5½ inches in diameter where the clapper strikes and weighs 443,772 pounds. Historians are in doubt whether this giant among bells was ever hung, but Bayard Taylor contends that it was both hung and rung; that it was rung by fifty men pulling on the clapper. The ringing of the Curfew bell was introduced into England by Willian the Conqueror. It was rung at 8 o'clock in the evening, when all lights and fires were expected to be extinguished. Will some of the cousins correspond with me? I will exchange silk or velvet scraps for geranium cuttings.

Ella Green, Center, Ala.: I have never been to school very much. I love to read the cousins' and Aunt Susie's letters. I live on a beautiful farm. I am a member of the Methodist church. I would like to correspond with some of the cousins.

Sarah Thomson, Brandon, Miss.: Brandon contains about a thousand inhabitants. It is situated on the V. and M. railroad, about a mile from the depot; a hack meets every train. There are four churches, two hotels, two school houses, about two dozen stores and one livery stable.

Carrie Roberson, Seddon, Ala.: I have seen so many letters from the cousins I decided to write one. I am not going to Sabbath school today; my two sisters have gone; I am helping mama get dinner. I am taking music lessons. I wish some of you cousing would come to see our little town.

Dennis D. Powe, Bladon Springs, Ala.: I live seven miles from Bladon Springs; it is a very nice little town. My papa is a farmer and we live four miles from the Bigbee river. Papa reads Bill Arp's and Plunkett's letters to us every week. I love Bill Arp because he loves little boys and girls. I will be glad when I get big enough to take THE CONSTITUTION.

Vivian Rhorer, Deasonville, Miss.: I am 9 years old and am going to school now, but my school will soon close, and then we will have a long time to rest from our studies. I do not go to Sunday-school, but say my lessons to mama every Sunday.

Ella Wylie, Cedar Hill, Texas: I think that Aunt Susie must have a great deal of patience to read so many letters from the little cousins. I would like to exchange some crochet patterns with some of the cousins. Mama says she would like for some one to give her a receipt for making soft ginger bread. I am 12 years old.

Nannie Montgomery, Brister, Ala.: Aunt Susie, I will tell you about my trip to Texas. I like to live in Texas much better than in Arkansas; it is such a pretty country. Mama and myself spent last year in Texas and she likes Texas the best, too. I have no dear papa but I have a very kind mother. I have a heap to do. I wash, cook, milk and help mama sew. I go to Sunday-school sometimes. I had a little pet squirrel and it died a few days ago; I was very sorry indeed.

C. Moore, Quitman, Ga.: I come begging a corner in the Young Folks' column. Quitman is a small city of about two thousand inhabitants. We have very pleasant winters here, but it is very warm in summer. I wrote to you once before but my letter was thrown in the waste basket I guess. I would like to correspond with some of the cousins. Age 16 years.

Julia McIntosh, Boston, Ga.: I am 8 years old and am going to school; we have twenty scholars; I like to go to school. Mama and my little brothers have gone fishing; my aunt and I stayed home. I have a little sister named Lucie Belle; she is 4 years old and can read in the first reader. I love to read the children's letters.

Susie Finch, Watkinsville, Ga.: I will tell you about our literary club at Goshen. The boys and girls meet there every Saturday night and have dialogues and speeches; we have a nice time. Cousins, I wish you all could be there, I know you would enjoy it so much. We have nice music on the violin sometimes; I enjoy that much better than all the rest of the performances; there was one speech that I liked very much, it was the "Sailor Boy's Dream;" it is a beautiful piece.

Mary Cozart, Washington, Ga.: I have read a good many of the letters from the cousins, and, as I do not find any from our town, I will make my first attempt at writing for this department. I am a little girl just 10 years old, a Christmas present to my dear papa and mama. I have three little brothers and one little sister named Annie Vic. I go to school at home, my aunt teaches me; I am taking music lessons and hope some day to please my papa by playing well upon the piano, as he was kind enough to make me a present of a Grand Square piano.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Ask your druggist for them.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

I HAVE REMOVED MY RESIDENCE FROM 63 Highland avenue to 58 Jackson street, "Hogan Telephone" 811. Office, Murphey's Pharmacy, 228 Wheat street. Telephone 169.
C. L. REDWINE, M. D.

During my absence on a visit to New York for the purpose of prosecuting the study of clinical medicine and surgery, I respectfully refer my patrons to Dr. C. L. Redwine, who will attend all calls promptly. Dr. W. M. Powell will attend all city calls. Office 228 Wheat street. Telephone 169.
May 2 1888. C. E. MURPHEY, M. D.

J. A. THORNTON, DENTIST, 70½ Whitehall.

HOWARD E. W. PALMER. CHARLES A. READ.
PALMER & READ, Attorneys at Law. Office 32½ E. Wall st., Atlanta.

JOHN S CANDLER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, 32½ Wall street, Atlanta, Ga. [Solicitor General Stone Mountain Circuit]

HUGH V. WASHINGTON, Attorney-At-Law, Macon, Ga. Prompt, personal attention to all business.

EDWIN P. ANSLEY, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Room 29, Gate City Bank Building.

EUGENE M. MITCHELL, ATTORNEY AT LAW, No. 8 S. Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga., Grant Building. Damage suits a specialty.

PROF. OTTO SPAHR, Teacher of Vocal and Instrumental Music, 171 South Forsyth Street.

ROBERT HARBISON, COUNSELOR AND ATTORNEY AT LAW, Gate City Bank Building, Rooms 54 and 55.
Attorney and Special Agent in Georgia for the AMERICAN SURETY COMPANY OF NEW YORK. (Paid up cash capital $1,000,000.)
Guarantee and Surety Bonds.

FRANK CARTER, ATTORNEY AT LAW, 12½ E. Alabama St., Atlanta, Ga. Refers to Moore, Marsh & Co., Gate City National Bank. 'Phone 333.

G. T. OSBORN, OFFICIAL STENOGRAPHER COWETA CIRCUIT. All calls by telegram or otherwise promptly attended to. Office 21 Marietta Street.

HUGH ANGIER, CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR, Railroad and Sanitary work a specialty. 14½ Whitehall St. Room No. 22.

SAMUEL W. GOODE. CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON.
GOODE & ANDERSON, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Offices No. 1 Marietta street, corner Peachtree. Will do a general practice in all the courts, State and Federal. Real Estate and Corporation Law specialties. 1tope

N. J. & T. A. HAMMOND, ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS AT LAW. Rooms Nos. 41 and 42 Gate City Bank Building, Corner Alabama and Pryor Streets. T. A. Hammond, Jr., Commissioner for taking Depositions in Fulton County.

L. LAMAR. J. G. ZACHRY.
LAMAR & ZACHRY. ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Washington, D. C. Refer by permission to Hons. A. H. Colquitt, J. E. Brown, John D. Stewart, J. H. Blount, C. F. Crisp, A. D. Candler, George F. Barnes, T. M. Norwood, H. H. Carlton, Thomas Grimes and H. G. Turner.

EDMUND W. MARTIN, Attorney and Counselor at Law, No. 55½ Whitehall Street. Atlanta, Ga. Telephone 512.

WILLIAM A. HAYGOOD. HAMILTON DOUGLAS.
HAYGOOD & DOUGLAS, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Office 17½ Peachtree St. Telephone 117. Atlanta, Ga.

WALTER GREGORY, Attorney and Counselor at Law. Room 5, Jackson Building. Special attention given to damage and insurance cases, and collections.

JOHN M. SLATON, ATTORNEY AT LAW, 20½ Peachtree Street, Healy Building. Atlanta, Ga. jly12 1y

E. C. JOHNSON. I. H. JOHNSON.
JOHNSON & JOHNSON, ATTORNEYS AT LAW. (N. J. Hammond's Old Office.) 21½ E. Alabama Street, Atlanta, Georgia.

A. R. WRIGHT. MAX MEYERHARDT. SEABORN WRIGHT.
WRIGHT, MEYERHARDT & WRIGHT, ATTORNEYS AT LAW. Rome, Ga. Collections a specialty.

ARCHITECTS.

W. H. PARKINS, ARCHITECT, Office 7½ N. Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

L. B. WHEELER, ARCHITECT, Atlanta, Ga. Office 4th floor Chamberlin & Boynton building, cor. Whitehall and Hnter streets. Take elevator.

OFFICE OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS of Roads and Revenues, May 4, 1888. Upon the petition of citizens praying for the opening of a public road, being an extension of Calhoun street into the Plaster's Bridge road, and for the discontinuance of that portion of Plasters Bridge road between Calhoun street and Bleckley avenue; it appearing that the road commissioner of Peachtree district, to whom the same was referred, have reported, recommending the opening and discontinuance prayed for. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned that said change will be finally granted on the first Wednesday in June next, if no good cause be shown to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER, Clerk Com. R. & R.
may5 4t sat

OFFICE OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS of Roads and Revenues, May 4, 1888. Upon the petition of citizens praying for opening of a public road now known as Emmett street from Peachtree street to Curren street, it appearing that the road commissioners of Cook's and Peachtree districts, to whom the same was referred, have recommended the opening of the same. This is, therefore, to notify all persons concerned to file their objections, if any they have, by or before the first Wednesday in June next, else said road will be then finally granted, if no good cause to the contrary be shown.
JOHN T. COOPER, Clerk Com. R. & R.
may5 4t sat

OFFICE OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONers of Roads and Revenues, May 4, 1888. Upon the petition of citizens praying for the opening of a public road on the land lines between lots between No. 1 and 2 and 52 and 53, continuing a roadway now given and being worked from DeKalb county and running west as above to reach the Johnson road, Boulevard and Piedmont Park, it appearing that the road commissioners of Peachtree district to whom the same was referred have reported, recommending the opening of said road. This is therefore to give notice that said road will be finally granted on the first Wednesday in June next if no good cause be shown to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER, Clerk Com. R. and R.
may5—4t sat

OFFICE OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONers of Roads and Revenues, May 4, 1888. Upon the petition of citizens praying for the opening of a public road, being an extension of Borne street south, on or near the land line until it intersects McDonough road, it appearing that the road commissioners of South Bend district to whom the same was referred have reported, recommending the opening of the same. This is therefore to give notice that said road will be finally granted on the first Wednesday in June next if no good cause be shown to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER, Clerk Com. R. and R.
may5—4t sat

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—SUPERIOR court of Fulton county—Bill for relief. Charles R. Chairs vs. Eli and Zollicoffer Griffin. It appearing to the court that both the defendants in the above stated case reside beyond the limits of this state; ordered that they appear at the next term of said Fulton superior court, towit: The fall term, 1888, of said court, which shall be the appearance term of said bill, and make any answer, or other defense they may have to same.

Ordered further, that publication of this order shall be made once a month for four months in a public gazette in this county.

In open court, this April 28, 1888.
MARSHALL J. CLARKE, Judge.

A true and correct copy from the minutes of Fulton superior court. C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.
May 2, 1888. may5 jun5 july5 aug4 sep4

OFFICE OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONers of roads and revenues, May 4, 1888. Upon the petition of citizens praying for the opening of a public road, beginning at the right-of-way of the Central railroad where the line between lots 133 and 134 intersects; the same running along said line west 15 feet on each side of said line to the southeast corner of lot 155, thence north along the land line 15 feet on each side thereof, which divides lots 134 and 135 on the one side and lots 153, 154 and 155 on the other side to the front where said line intersects the Campbellton road, it appearing that the road commissioners of Blackball and East Point districts have reported, recommending the opening of the same. This is therefore to give notice that said road will be finally granted on the first Wednesday in June next if no good cause be shown to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER, Clk. Com. R. & R.
may5 4sats

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—ORDINARY'S Office, April 6th, 1888.—William S. Kendrick has applied for letters of administration on the estate of William Duncan, deceased. This is, therefore, to notify all concerned to file their objection, if any they have, on or before the first Monday in May next, else letters will then be granted said applicant, as applied for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary.
April 7 14 21 28 May 5.

TRINITY CHU

The Improvements on ing Have Been Co

And It Will Be Open f morrow—Order of Exer Pauline Withersp

Trinity church was certainl attraction in this city yesterda All day long a stream of pe the building to feast their eye and splendid improvements wrought since the church wa pairs.

The crowd swelled into the the day was done, and the pe lingered and looked again beauties of the magnificent in der the fine touches of tase, s been transformed into a scene

BEWILDERING LOVEL

Among the scores of people church yesterday, there were who had heard of the wondrou which have been made in the All were delighted with wha A gentleman from Ohio look ration and said: "It is a drea worth a trip from Ohio to gaz The Rev. Will Haven, o "The interior is finer than tha dist church in Boston."

There can be little doubt th as it now stands is the FINEST CHURCH IN THE SOU This church has been c something over one year. Work was begun on the i the 12th day of April a ye steadily progressed up to church will be formally open morrow. and it is safe to say will have an occupant.

An addition of about thirty made to the front and sides of and, including this extensio will now comfortably seat

SIXTEEN HUNDRED

The pews have been retouc of beauty and polish and have and gleam of mirrors. They holstered with new and luxur velvetry softness and the c The floor of the auditorium h with new ingrain carpeting shade, and the floors of the p form have been laid with brus splendid chandeliers burnishe depend from the ceiling—thre which may be made at will t cious building with softened light and flash upon the fre dazzling glory of electric jets.

The grand and massive org moved from the gallery, a rear of the pulpit. So great improvements made upon thi ment, that it stands forth in s jestic relief, as if fresh from original builder.

The ceiling and walls form in fresco—but it is a religious the harmonious intermingling quisite colors, traced by a m is no tint of gaudiness, nor e group of elaborate pictures, bu rich tracery, while lacking no finish and strength, is yet subd in perfect keeping with the the place.

The tall and stately window beauty. They are steined coloring, and, as the swift through this beautiful blen shades, they rob it of its gla vast interior a softened flood o light," which best befits the The frescoing and the staini studies within themselves, a pen far better skilled in tech one which writes these lines wonder of design and triumph No pen, indeed, could adequ charming effects which strik the eye on every side in the magnificent temple. More be be seen in a moment than cou in a month—and just to gaze f this glorious work of art, is like grand sermon.

THE COST.

The improvements in the ch and the entire cost of the now stands, will reach the su claim that it is now the finest the south is no idle one, and clined to doubt the truth of i around and be convinced of t

Order of Sunday S

Tomorrow will be a red lett tory of Trinity church. For nearly a year the congregatio the spacious auditorium. Rev. J. W. Lee, the pasto 10:45 a. m. In the afternoo Sunday school mass meeting the Methodist Sunday city. Rev. A. G. Wardlaw address. In the evening at 7 will be a union service, at wh expected from Dr. Hawthor Dr. Strickler, Dr. McDonald son.

Miss Pauline With

The Trinity congregation Miss Pauline Witherspoon a prano of their church choir. city yesterday to practice sals which are bein reference to the of Trinity tomorrow. As a s superior in this country. A had long resided in Washin had heard the most famo country, said that he regar spoon the finest singer he ha

B. OF L. E. PI

Arrangements Made for a Adairsville on th

The Brotherhood of Loco of Atlanta and Chattanooga wi union picnic at Adairsville on beautiful little town of Adairsv cause it is midway between nooga, and has one of the mos parks of any town in the state. been perfected in every parti largest and most enjoyable picn be given.

There will be dancing, baseb thing that will lead enjoymen may attend. The knights of t eral and open body of men thing in a small way. They w waltzes played from their bra light fantastic toe will be trip large and elegant stands arran occasion.

The right to refresh the pe and eatables was sold to part Chattanooga, who will come w stocks of their wares. Trains e cities at 7 o'clock and roll into o'clock.

This picnic will be a grand o will reflect credit on those charge.

That Large, Elegant a

Peachtree residence No. 220 at May 11th, at 4 p. m. SA

Glenny & Violett'

NEW ORLEANS, May 4.— we have seen a recovery Wednesday, which we were th political complications in Eur has been ascribed to the failu banks. These banks have litt us, and should particularly hav cotton market, so the reaction It was largely aided in impro statistical position shown by t week ending this evening. decreasing steadily, while the and afloat for that port is 183, less than last year.

Prices at the closing are Liverpool 1@2-64; New Orlea York, 10@11 points. Spots are Receipts will be large today all in, but total will be over year. The very small plantati past week, shows that the rec most entirely from the large i Futures closed quiet and January, 9.04@9.05; Februa 9.21@9.23; May, 6.46@9.48; J 9.54@9.55; August, 9.54@9.55; October, 9.00@9.02; November 8.96@8.97.

OFESSIONAL CARDS.

MOVED MY RESIDENCE FROM 63 venue to 58 Jackson street, "Hogan l. Office, Murphey's Pharmacy, 223 Telephone 169.
C. L. REDWINE, M. D.

bsence on a visit to New York for the osecuting the study of clinical medi-ry, I respectfully refer my patrons to ine, who will attend all calls promptly. owell will attend all city calls. heat street. Telephone 169.
C. E. MURPHEY, M. D.

J. A. THORNTON,
DENTIST,
70½ Whitehall.

. PALMER. CHARLES A. READ.
PALMER & READ,
aw. Office 32½ E. Wall st., Atlanta.

OHN S CANDLER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
32½ Wall street, Atlanta, Ga.
eral Stone Mountain Circuit]

H V. WASHINGTON,
Attorney-At-Law,
Macon, Ga.
personal attention to all business.

DWIN P. ANSLEY,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
29, Gate City Bank Building. 3m

GENE M. MITCHELL,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Street, Atlanta, Ga., Grant Building.
Damage suits a specialty.

ROF. OTTO SPAHR, of Vocal and Instrumental Music,
71 South Forsyth Street.

OBERT HARBISON,
ELOR AND ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Gate City Bank Building,
Rooms 54 and 55.

ey and Special Agent in Georgia for the SURETY COMPANY OF NEW YORK. id up cash capital $1,000,000.)
uarantee and Surety Bonds.

FRANK CARTER,
TTORNEY AT LAW,
ma St., Atlanta, Ga. Refers to Moore, Gate City National Bank. 'Phone 333.

G. T. OSBORN,
TENOGRAPHER COWETA CIRCUIT.
telegram or otherwise promptly at-
to. Office 21 Marietta Street.

HUGH ANGIER,
ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR,
d Sanitary work a specialty.
14½ Whitehall St. Room No. 22

ODE. CLIFFORD L. ANDERSON
OODE & ANDERSON,
YS AT LAW, Offices No. 1 Marietta
Peachtree. Will do a general prace courts, State and Federal. Real Corporation Law specialties. tope

. & T. A. HAMMOND,
EYS AND COUNSELORS AT LAW.
. 41 and 42 Gate City Bank Building,
r Alabama and Pryor Streets.
mond, Jr., Commissioner for taking Fulton County.

J G. ZACHE
LAMAR & ZACHRY,
TORNEYS AT LAW,
D. C. Refer by permission to Hons.
J. E. Brown, John D. Stewart, J. H.
F. Crisp, A. D. Candler, George F.
Norwood, H. H. Carlton, Thomas
H. G. Turner.

DMUND W. MARTIN,
orney and Counselor at Law,
No. 55½ Whitehall Street
Ga. Telephone 512.

AYGOOD. HAMILTON DOUGLAS.
YGOOD & DOUGLAS,
YS AT LAW, Office 17½ Peachtree St.
117. Atlanta, Ga.

VALTER GREGORY,
rney and Counselor at Law. son Building. Special attention given nd insurance cases, and collections.

JOHN M. SLATON,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
20½ Peachtree Street,
ding. Atlanta, Ga.

N. I. H. JOHNSON
HNSON & JOHNSON,
YS AT LAW. (N. J. Hammond's Old
21½ E. Alabama Street, Atlanta, Georgia.

RIGHT. MAX MEYERHARDT. SEABORN WRIGHT
RIGHT, MEYERHARDT & WRIGHT, ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
me, Ga. Collections a specialty.

ARCHITECTS.

W. H. PARKINS,
ARCHITECT,
7½ N. Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

L. B. WHEELER,
ARCHITECT, Atlanta, Ga.
Floor Chamberlin & Boynton building,
all and Hnter streets. Take elevator.

OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS s and Revenues, May 4, 1888. petition of citizens praying for the open-lic road, being an extension of Calhoun e Plaster's Bridge road, and for the nce of that portion of Plasters Bridge en Calhoun street and Bleckley avenue; that the road commissioner of Peach-to whom the same was referred, have ommending the opening and discon-yed for. This is, therefore, to notify oncerned that said change will be final-n the first Wednesday in June next, if se be shown to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER,
Clerk Com. R. & R.

OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS s and Revenues, May 4, 1888. petition of citizens praying for opening road now known as Emmett street from treet to Curien street, it appearing that mmissioners of Cook's and Peachtree whom the same was referred, have rec-the opening of the same. This is, there-fy all persons concerned to file their ob-any they have, by or before the first in June next, else said road will be then nted, if no good cause to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER,
at Clerk Com. R. & R.

OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSION-Roads and Revenues, May 4, 1888. petition of citizens praying for the open-lic road on the land lines between lots . 1 and 2 and 52 and 53, continuing a w given and being worked from DeKalb running west as above to reach the d, Boulevard and Piedmont Park, it ap-t the road commissioners of Peachtree whom the same was referred have re-commending the opening of said road. efore to give notice that said road wil ranted on the first Wednesday in June good cause be shown to the contrary.
JOHN T. COOPER,
sat Clerk Com. R. and R.

OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSION-Roads and Revenues, May 4, 1888. petition of citizens praying for the open-blic road, being an extension of Borne , on or near the land line until it inter-nough road, it appearing that the road ners of South Bend district to whom the referred have reported, recommending of the same. This is therefore to give said road will be finally granted on the sday in June next if no good cause be e contrary. JOHN T. COOPER,
sat Clerk Com. R. and R.

A, FULTON COUNTY—SUPERIOR f Fulton county—Bill for relief. Charles s. Eli and Zollicoffer Griffin. It appear-ourt that both the defendants in the d case reside beyond the limits of this red that they appear at the next term of superior court, towit: The fall term, l court, which shall be the appearance d bill, and make any answer, or other ey may have to same. further, that publication of this order ide once a month for four months in a ette in this county. court, this April 28, 1888.
MARSHALL J. CLARKE, Judge.
nd correct copy from the minutes of Ful-or court. C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.
888. may5 jun5 july5 aug5 sep4

OF FULTON COUNTY COMMISSION-roads and revenues, May 4, 1888. Upon n of citizens praying for the opening of a l, beginning at the right-of-way of the lroad where the line between lots 133 ersects; the same running along said line t on each side of said line to the south-r of lot 155, thence north along the land on each side thereof, which divides lots on the one side and lots 153, 154 and 155 er side to the front where said line inter-Campbellton road, it appearing that the missioners of Blackball and East Point ave reported, recommending the opening e. This is therefore to give notice that will be finally granted on the first Wed-June next if no good cause be shown to ry. JOHN T. COOPER, ts Clk. Com. R. & R.

IA, FULTON COUNTY.—ORDINARY'S April 6th, 1888.—William S. Kendrick has r letters of administration on the estate of uncan, deceased. This is, therefore, to concerned to file their objection, if any on or before the first Monday in May le ters will then be granted said applicant for. W. L. CALHOUN, Ordinary.
14 21 28 May 5.

TRINITY CHURCH.

The Improvements on the Building Have Been Completed.

And It Will Be Open for Services To-morrow—Order of Exercises—Miss Pauline Witherspoon.

Trinity church was certainly the center of attraction in this city yesterday.

All day long a stream of people flowed into the building to feast their eyes upon the many and splendid improvements which have been wrought since the church was closed for repairs.

The crowd swelled into the hundreds before the day was done, and the people looked and lingered and looked again upon the many beauties of the magnificent interior which under the fine touches of tase, skill and art has been transformed into a scene of

BEWILDERING LOVELINESS.

Among the scores of people who visited the church yesterday, there were many strangers who had heard of the wondrous improvements which have been made in the noble edifice.

All were delighted with what they saw.

A gentleman from Ohio looked in long admiration and said: "It is a dream of magic and worth a trip from Ohio to gaze upon."

The Rev. Will Haven, of Boston, said: "The interior is finer than that of any Methodist church in Boston."

There can be little doubt that Trinity church as it now stands is the FINEST CHURCH IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

This church has been closed for repairs something over one year.

Work was begun on the improvements on the 12th day of April a year ago, and has steadily progressed up to this time. The church will be formally opened for services tomorrow, and it is safe to say that every seat will have an occupant.

An addition of about thirty pews has been made to the front and sides of the auditorium, and, including this extension, the building will now comfortably seat

SIXTEEN HUNDRED PEOPLE.

The pews have been retouched into newness of beauty and polish and have the smoothness and gleam of mirrors. They have been upholstered with new and luxurious cushions of velvetry softness and the costliest pattern. The floor of the auditorium has been spread with new ingrain carpeting of a lovely red shade, and the floors of the pulpit and platform have been laid with brussels carpet. Six splendid chandeliers burnished into brilliancy depend from the ceiling—three on either side—which may be made at will to flood the spacious building with softened splendor of gaslight and flash upon the frescoed walls the dazzling glory of electric jets.

The grand and massive organ has been removed from the gallery, and rebuilt at the rear of the pulpit. So great have been the improvements made upon this glorious instrument, that it stands forth in solemn and majestic relief, as if fresh from the hands of the original builder.

The ceiling and walls form a sublime poem in fresco—but it is a religious poem. For in the harmonious intermingling of soft and exquisite colors, traced by a master hand, there is no tint of gaudiness, nor even gayety; no group of elaborate pictures, but the tone of the rich tracery, while lacking nothing in splendid finish and strength, is yet subdued and sober—in perfect keeping with the solemn spirit of the place.

The tall and stately windows are models of beauty. They are steined with rich, dark coloring, and, as the swift sunshine passes through this beautiful blending of sombre shades, they rob it of its glare, and upon the vast interior a softened flood of "dim religious light," which best befits the house of God. The frescoing and the staining are distinct studies within themselves, and would take a pen far better skilled in technique than the one which writes these lines to describe the wonder of design and triumph of execution.

No pen, indeed, could adequately paint the charming effects which strike and captivate the eye on every side in the interior of this magnificent temple. More beauty can there be seen in a moment than could be described in a month—and just to gaze for a time upon this glorious work of art, is like listening to a grand sermon.

THE COST.

The improvements in the church cost $22,000 and the entire cost of the structure, as it now stands, will reach the sum of $90,000. The claim that it is now the finest church edifice in the south is no idle one, and those who are inclined to doubt the truth of it have only to go around and be convinced of their mistake.

Order of Sunday Services.

Tomorrow will be a red letter day in the history of Trinity church. For the first time in nearly a year the congregation will worship in the spacious auditorium.

Rev. J. W. Lee, the pastor, will preach at 10:45 a. m. In the afternoon there will be a Sunday school mass meeting composed of all the Methodist Sunday schools of the city. Rev. A. G. Wardlaw will make an address. In the evening at 7:45 o'clock, there will be a union service, at which addresses are expected from Dr. Hawthorne, Dr. Barnett, Dr. Strickler, Dr. McDonald and Dr. Morrison.

Miss Pauline Witherspoon.

The Trinity congregation have employed Miss Pauline Witherspoon as the leading soprano of their church choir. She arrived in the city yesterday to practice in the rehearsals which are being had with reference to the song service of Trinity tomorrow. As a soprano she has no superior in this country. A gentleman who had long resided in Washington city, and who had heard the most famous singers of the country, said that he regarded Miss Witherspoon the finest singer he had ever heard.

B. OF L. E. PICNIC.

Arrangements Made for a Grand Affair at Adairsville on the 10th.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of Atlanta and Chattanooga will hold their annual union picnic at Adairsville on the 10th inst. The beautiful little town of Adairsville was selected because it is midway between Atlanta and Chattanooga, and has one of the most beautiful suburban parks of any town in the state. Arrangements have been perfected in every particular and one of the largest and most enjoyable picnics of the season will be given.

There will be dancing, baseball, music and everything that will lead enjoyment to the those who may attend. The knights of the throttle are a liberal and open body of men, and never do anything in a small way. They will have the graceful waltzes played from their brass bands while the light fantastic toe will be tripped to the music on large and elegant stands arranged especially for the occasion.

The right to refresh the people with drinkables and eatables was sold to parties in Atlanta and Chattanooga, who will come well prepared with full stocks of their wares. Trains expected to leave both cities at 7 o'clock and roll into our town at about 10 o'clock.

This picnic will be a grand occasion and one that will reflect credit on those who will have it in charge. td

That Large, Elegant and Convenient

Peachtree residence No. 220 at auction next Friday, May 11th, at 4 p. m. SAM'L W. GOODE & CO.

Glenny & Violett's Circular.

NEW ORLEANS, May 4.—[Special.]—Today we have seen a recovery from the decline of Wednesday, which we were then told was due to political complications in Europe, but which since has been ascribed to the failures of South American banks. These banks have little in common with us, and should particularly have no influence on the cotton market, so the reaction is perfectly natural. It was largely aided in improvings by the strong statistical position shown by the statement for the week ending this evening, stocks on this side decreasing steadily, while the stock at Liverpool and afloat for that port is 183,000 bales of American less than last year.

Prices at the closing are higher everywhere. Liverpool 1@2-64; New Orleans, 6@7 points; New York, 10@11 points. Spots are firm; sales 2,250 bales.

Receipts will be large today. The returns are not all in, but total will be over 6,000, against 1,500 last year. The very small plantation movement, for the past week, shows that the receipts at ports are almost entirely from the large interior towns.

Futures closed quiet and steady; sales 13,900; January, 9.04@9.05; February, 9.13@9.15. March, 9.21@9.23; May, 6.46@9.48; June, 9.51@9.52; July, 9.54@9.55; August, 9.54@9.55; September, 9.11@9.23; October, 9.00@9.02; November, 8.95@8.96; December, 8.90@8.97. GLENNY & VIOLETT.

AT THE CAPITOL.

A Big Warrant Issued in Payment of Coupons.

GOVERNOR GORDON RETURNED yesterday from his trip to Madison and Macon.

GOVERNOR GORDON DREW his warrant on the treasury yesterday for $108,317.50, in payment of coupons which have been verified and cancelled.

COMMISSIONS WERE ISSUED yesterday to the following gentlemen as notaries public and ex-officio justices of the peace: Emanuel county, James R. Brown, 1,333rd district; Jasper county, Charles L. Ridley, 293rd district; Coffee county, Mitchell King, 748th district; J. T. McEachim, 437th district; Montgomery county, James J. Calhoun, 1,386th district; J. M. Wall, 394th district; Thomas county, John A. Harbin, 576th district; Pickens county, James L. Mann, 1098th district; Sylvanus Hamric, 1370th district; William B. Chambers, 1026th district; E. P. Watson, 1036th district; R. F. Ellis, 1287th district. State School Commissioner Hook has issued commissions to the following gentlemen as members of the board of education in various counties: Coffee county, H. L. Polk, Daniel Gaskin, Jefferson Kirkland; Harris county, John L. Jenkins, Thomas H. Kimbrough, M. B. Roberts; Newton county, A. S. Franklin, T. J. Speer, S. H. Ellington; Oglethorpe county, Columbus A. Stevens, Benjamin H. Witcher; Henry county, M. C. Lowe, F. C. Richards, J. Simmons, Thomas Robert Alexander, Robert Raines, Daniel T. Frost.

TO OPEN TODAY.

Mr. John M. Moore Opens His Shoe Store for Business.

It is with pleasure we announce to the public the business adventure of Mr. John M. Moore. He is a young man of ample means, and has fine business qualifications. His location is at 33 Peachtree, and he has one of the handsomest storerooms in the city. He has had the storeroom formerly occupied by the dry goods house of M. M. Turner & Co. remodelled and refitted, and the appearance it now presents is one of much taste. This is not all. Mr. Moore will open today one of the most complete lines of boots and shoes to be found in the state. He has bought his entire line very low, and will sell it accordingly. If you want a good boot, shoe or slipper be sure to go John M. Moore, 33 Peachtree, and you will get it. These are facts.

The Supreme Court.

THE SUPREME COURT was engaged yesterday upon the Northeastern circuit. With the exception of two cases, the circuit was completed. The court will meet again Monday.

The United States Court.

THIS COURT IS still busy with the case of Anderson, Green & Co., of Nashville, vs. F. L. Miller, of Cave Springs, suit on account for about $1,500.

The County Courts.

IN THE CITY COURT yesterday morning, Judge Howard Van Epps presiding, a formal verdict was taken against the Gate City Gas Light company in the Lawton matter. The writ of garnishment against the company was allowed, and a verdict for the full amount of $61,000, was given against the defendant. This was merely formal, and the case will be taken to a higher court.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke will today hear several important cases in chambers.

Remember, John M. Moore, 33 Peachtree street, has just opened a new and complete line of boots and shoes, comprising all styles and widths.

"What Price Will It Bring at Auction?"

Is the question about the Thompson place, No. 220 Peachtree. Attend the sale and test your judgment.

Lemp's Beer speaks for itself at Philip Breitenbucher's.

WATER METERS

At Paul & Gullatt's are larger than the meters formerly sold for $16.00. They sell for $12.75. They are all brass, and the best meter on the market. Don't let any one sell you an old iron meter when you can buy a brass one. Do not ask us the difference, but ask experts. Get your meters from us and save $3.25. 1m

Your Chance to Secure

One of the most desirable homes on Peachtree street. At auction next Friday, May 11th, at 4 p. m. SAM'L W. GOODE & Co.

SHAD.

White Fish, Brunswick Oysters, Salmon, Pickerel, Pompano, wholesale and retail. H. F. Emery, 5, 7, 9 W. Wall street. 2t

6 Beautiful Lots on Whitehall, Windsor and Orange Streets

at auction next Tuesday, May 8th, at 4 p. m. Plats ready at our office. Sam'l W. Goode & Co.

Central Home Lots Becoming Scarce.

It is a fact worthy of the notice of persons seeking choice central vacant lots on which to build homes in Atlanta that they are becoming exceedingly scarce. The population is increasing so rapidly that the demand for this class of property has recently been very great. Besides, the prices on the choice residence streets are becoming so high that many are debarred from purchasing. These facts make it quite certain that the auction sale of the six Whitehall, Windsor and Orange streets lots next Tuesday will be largely attended by those desiring a real first-class vacant lot for a home site, and already many plats are called for at Sam'l W. Goode & Co.'s office.

Grand opening of the Parlor Shoe store today. New stock. Largest variety of Shoes, Slippers and Oxford. John M. Moore, 33 Peachtree street.

An Extra Large and Beautifully Shaded Lot on Whitehall Street at Auction

next Tuesday on the premises at 4 p. m. The gem of the street. Call for plats. Sam'l W. Goode & Co

Best Quality Ice Cream delivered on Sunday by Chas. D. Ford, 55 Peachtree.

John Keely is selling Misses Fancy Hose at 12½ cents a pair, reduced from 75 cents.

John Keely is giving away great bargains in Veilings, Rouchings Lace Goods! Prices no object now.

Superb stock of Shoes and Slippers given away at cost at John Keely's.

Another "slaughter" mark down of Silk goods. 75 cents Spring Silks reduced to 37½ cents at John Keely's.

JEWELRY.

STILSON,

JEWELER,
55 WHITEHALL ST.
Reliable Goods, Fair Dealing. Bottom Prices.

Come and take our

BABY CARRIAGES!

Away at your own price. Don't care for money Just want to sell the Carriages.

J. H. NUNNALLY'S, 36 Whitehall Street.

Velocipedes, Bicycles and Tricycles. nn stil 7p

A LIBERAL OFFER

Made to the Merchants of This and Surrounding States.

Messrs. Haralson Bros. and Company, the leading tobacco and cigar men of Atlanta, make a very liberal offer to the merchants in all the small towns of this and adjoining states. They sell the Sine Par cigar, and it is without a superior anywhere. To the first merchant in any town with less than five thousand inhabitants, who will order as many as 1,000 of the Sine Par cigars, they will give said merchant exclusive control of them in his territory. These cigars are not advertised by fancy cards and signs, and they sell on their merit. Send on your orders, and if they are not as represented, Messrs. Harralson Bros. & Company will bear all expenses. Be sure and keep the Sine Par. Harralson Bros. & Company, Atlanta, Georgia. un nun 7th

CRO K SETS

ALL PRICES, AT THORNTON'S.

HAMMOCKS
In Immense Quantities at THORNTON'S.

BASE BALL GOODS
At New York Cost at THORNTON'S.
Come to See Us. Boys.

PICTURE FRAMES
Made to Order at THORNTON'S.
Largest Stock of Fine Gold, Bronze, Gilt and Hardwood Mouldings in the State at THORNTON'S.

BEST FRAME-MAKER in the SOUTH at THORNTON'S, and the Lowest Prices.

LADIES' FINE STATIONERY
In all the Latest Styles at THORNTON'S.
Menue Cards, Visiting Cards and a fine line of Birthday Cards at THORNTON'S.

ARTISTS' MATERIALS
Complete assortment at THORNTON'S.
Artists' Crayon and Canvass Stretchers made to order at THORNTON'S. Fine Etchings and Engravings for

WEDDING PRESENTS
At THORNTON'S.
All the Latest Publications in Standard Literature received as soon as published, at THORNTON'S.
Telephone 236 for anything in our line, and call and see us at

28 WHITEHALL STREET.

THE HAMMOND TYPEWRITER.

The best Writing Machine in the world. Type Writer supplies for all machines, cabinets and desk. Fine grades paper. A. F. COOLEDGE, Agent Georgia and Alabama, No. 21 Alabama St, Atlanta, Ga. e o d under Thorn

Teeth of Pearls
AND Gums of Ruby Hue
IS WHAT
DE-LEC-TA-LAVE
WILL DO.

DE-LEC-TA-LAVE
STANDS WITHOUT A RIYAL.
For Cleansing and Preserving the Teeth!

Read What Dr. Calhoun says:

ATLANTA, Ga., October 17, 1885.—Dr. C. T. Brockett—My Dear Sir—It affords me pleasure, after a careful examination of the formula of your Delectalave, to bear testimony to its value, and to state that its curative qualities are beyond question. I regard it as the name implies, a delightful wash, and can recommend it to the public. Yours truly,
A. W. CALHOUN, M. D.

DE-LEC-TA-LAVE
will whiten and preserve the teeth and keep the gums in perfect order, and should be used by everybody.

For sale by all druggists at Fifty Cents a bottle.

Asa G. Candler & Co.,
Wholesale Druggists, Gen'l Agts., Atlanta, Ga.
feb12—d1y un thorn t7p

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF GEORGIA RAILROAD STOCK.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF THE COURT of Ordinary of Fulton so ordering there will be sold at public outcry at the lower market house in the city of Augusta, County of Richmond on the first Tuesday in June, 1888, between the legal hours of sale, the following property belonging to the estate of Johnson Carnes, late of Fulton county, deceased, viz; Seventy-six shares of the capital stock of the Georgia Railroad and Banking company. Sold for the purpose of paying debts and making distribution to heirs at law. Terms cash. This 30th day of April, 1888.
WILLIAM H. CLAYTON,
Administrator's of Johnson Carnes.
may1—5 tues

SPENCERIAN STEEL PENS
Are the Best,
IN THE ESSENTIAL QUALITIES OF Durability, Evenness of Point, and Workmanship.

Samples for trial of 12 different styles by mail, on receipt of 10 cents in stamps. Ask for card No. 8.
IVISON, BLAKEMAN & CO., 753 Broadway, New York.

CLOTHING.

MY SPRING AND SUMMER STOCK IS NOW READY.
Suits for Men, Boys and Children
IN GREAT VARIETY.
Prices Always the Lowest.
George Muse,
Suits Made to Order. 38 Whitehall Street.

BROOKS, MELL & CO.,
Wholesale Grocers, Grain, etc.
27 AND 29 SOUTH BROAD STREET.
TELEPHONE 488. may2—d1m un muse 7p wed sat mon

Our Unqualified Challenge IS UNACCEPTED!
REMINGTON
STANDARD

TYPEWRITER.

For Speed and Durability—UNRIVALVED.
For ease of Manipulation and Quality of Work UNEQUALED.
THE RIGHT-HAND OF STENOGRAPHERS.
THE BUSINESS MAN'S FRIEND.
Finest stock of typewriters and typewriter supplies in the South at No. 2½ Marietta street.
W. T. CRENSHAW,
Exclusive Dealer for Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Florida.

THE ALASKA

o ssesses the following points over all other R frigerators.

1st. The preservation of perishable foods.
2d. The disposal of the foul vapors which constantly exhale from provisions.
3d. Dryness of atmosphere in the provision chamber.
4th. Low and unvarying temperature.
5th. An economical use of ice.
6th. A rapid and perfect circulation of air from the provision chamber to the ice chest.
7th. The provision chamber of the Alaska never coats from condensation, but is always clean and free from foul odors.
8th. The flues of an Alaska do not require cleaning as do other makes, because it is so PERFECTLY and SCIENTIFICALLY constructed that the cold dry air, by its constant circulation, keeps them sweet and clean.
9th. It will keep provisions longer and better using less ice than any other Refrigerator.
10th. It is better made, better finished and gives better satisfaction.

Sold in Atlanta by DOBBS, WEY & CO., 45 Peach tree street. 2mos7p

SUMMER RESORTS.

SALT SPRINGS HOTEL
AUSTELL, GA.,
Will be open for the reception of guests
SATURDAY, APRIL 21ST,
Under entire new management. For particulars address W. C. HEWITT, Proprietor Salt Springs Hotel,
Austell, Ga.

SALT SPRINGS HOTEL

LOCATED AT SALT SPRINGS STATION ON THE Georgia Pacific railway, twenty miles west of Atlanta, Ga. Always open. Rooms thoroughly renovated. Table supplied with the best. All are invited. Satisfaction guaranteed. Terms reasonable.
tu,sat MRS. S. L. COOKE, Proprietr s.

IMPORTANT to TRAVELERS.—Transient or permanent accommodations at half Hotel rates meals optional. Best references.
THE PRESTON, 135 West 41st St., N. Y. City,
may5—6t tues thur sat

BATTERY PARK HOTEL.
ASHEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA.
OPEN THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.
JOHN B. STEELE, MANAGER.
Summer Rates for Season of 1888.
May, June, July, August and September.

WHEN ONE ROOM IS OCCUPIED BY ONE person:

Per day	$4 00
Per week	$21 to 25 00
Per month of 4 weeks	75 to 90 00
When one room is occupied by two persons:
Per day	$7 00
Per week	$35 to 42 00
Per month	120 to 150 00

Special rates to families.
Above rates are governed according to location of rooms. Parlor suites and rooms with baths extra.

THE PRINCESS ANNIE,
VIRGINIA BEACH, VA.

A charming new and palatial hotel situated on the Atlantic ocean eighteen miles east of Norfolk, Va.

OPENS JUNE 1,

And remains open throughout the year." A delightful summer and winter resort. For descriptive pamphlet, terms, etc.; address J. W. ALMY, Manager.
tues. thurs. sat.

Fresh Strawberries, Ford's, today.

SOUTHERN SANITARIUM
"WATER CURE."
134 CAPITOL AVENUE, ATLANTA, GA

THIS INSTITUTION HAS, DURING ITS THIRteen years of successful operation, restored thousands of people to health, and attained a national reputation. The problem of health, by living healthfully has been solved.

The universality of the results obtained is a marked feature of this Sanitarium. All are benefited—none are injured. All forms of chronic ailment yield to its processes with surprising certainty and rapidity.

THE CRUDE COLD WATER CURE methods do not constitute any part of the treatment.

APPLIANCES INCLUDES BATHS OF VARIED FORMS, MASSAGE, SWEDISH MOVEMENTS, ELECTRICITY, MAGNETISM, HYGIENIC-DIETARY, PNEUMATIC AND VACUUM TREATMENT, ETC.

All applied on principles scientifically exact and definite, which, together with pleasant home comforts and refined social surroundings, makes this, in every respect a perfect Sanitarium for those in quest of health.

Refers, with permission, to some of the most refined and intelligent people of this and other states of the union.

For pamphlet and particulars, address as above or

U. O. ROBERTSON, M. D.
ATLANTA, GA.
sun wed fri 8p n r m

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY, TO THE SUperior court of said county: The petition of Henry J. Lamar, Henry J. Lamar, Jr., of the county of Bibb, J. W. Rankin, L. H. Muse, W. S. Parks and Robert R. Evans, of the county of Fulton, show that they desire to be incorporated under the corporate name of the object of said corporation being to do a wholesale business in manufacturing or selling all kinds of medicines, whether patent or proprietary, and all kinds of drugs, and to do any and everything that is usual in conducting or in running a wholesale drug business. The principal office of said corporation will be in the city of Atlanta and county first aforesaid; the capital stock of said corporation to be sixty thousand dollars, divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, and all of said sixty thousand dollars has been actually paid in: and your petitioners desire the power of increasing the capital stock of said corporation at any time they see fit, to a sum not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars.

THE LAMAR DRUG COMPANY,

Your petitioners pray that said corporation have the power of suing and being sued, to have and to use a common seal, to have succession, to make such constitution, by-laws, rules and regulations as are not inconsistent with the laws of this state, and of the United States, and to amend or change the same at pleasure; and they pray the power to purchase, own, and lease real estate, and to sell or mortgage the same whenever they deem it advisable to the best interest of said corporation.

Your petitioners desire that said corporation may have the privilege to do a retail business if the stockholders therein should so desire.

Your petitioners also pray that they have the power to elect such directors, officers, agents, managers and attorneys as they see fit and in accordance with their by-laws.

Your petitioners pray that they be incorporated for the term of twenty years, with the privilege of renewing their charter at the expiration of said time.

And they further pray that this petition be published as required by-law, and that afterwards the court will pass an order incorporating your petitioners as prayed for herein.
REED & BISHOP,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Filed in office April 3, 1888.
C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.
A correct copy as appears of record in this office. This April 3, 1888.
C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.
april 4, d e o wed, 4t.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTI—TO the Superior Court of said County: The petition of J. M. Stephens, W. T. Gentry, W. J. Bagby, F. A. Gentry and H. E. W. Palmer, all of said county, shows that they desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns to be duly incorporated under the laws of Georgia for the term of twenty years, with the right of renewal, under the corporate name of "American District Messenger and Electrical Supply Company," with all of the powers common to private corporations and particularly those set forth in Section 1679 of the Code of said State [1882.]

The object of said corporation is pecuniary profit to its stockholders, and the particular business to be carried on by it will be to furnish messengers or vehicles, either of both, to convey messages or packages to and from any point or points and charge for same, to furnish electrical call boxes or similar devices to be used by its subscribers, to buy and sell all kinds of electrical supplies, to build or equip any line or lines for the transmission of electricity, to furnish and put up all kinds of electrical devices, and to make any contracts for doing electric work.

The principal office of said company, and the place where it will transact its said business, will be in the city of Atlanta, said County and State, but it expressly desires the right to have offices elsewhere, and to transact its said business at any place or places without said County and State.

The capital stock of said Company will be ($10,000) ten thousand dollars, divided into shares of the par value of (100) one hundred dollars each, of which (10) ten per cent will be paid in before said Company commences business. The said Coecpany desires power through its directors to increase said capital stock, from time to time, to any amount not exceeding (50,000) fifty thousand dollars, and that any of the capital stock may be paid for in property or services, as may be determined by said Board.

Said Company desires power to make any and all contracts for successfully carrying out the object of its incorporation. Wherefore, the petitioners pray that this petition may be duly filed, recorded and published as required by law, and that then an order may be granted incorporating them as herein prayed for.
PALMER & READ,
Attorneys for Petitioners.
April 18th, 1888.
Filed in office April 21st, 1888.
C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.
A true and correct copy as appears of record in this office. This April 21st, 1888.
C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.
April 25, 4t Wed

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Northern District of Georgia—J. Lamb Johnston vs. Robert B. Trippe, in equity.
* * * * * * * * * * * *
Ordered that the foregoing amendment be allowed and that the defendant, Maria A. Jacques, not being a resident of the Northern District of Georgia, be ordered to appear, plead, answer, or demur in said cause by the first day of July next; that this order be served on said defendant, if practicable, wherever found, and upon any person representing her or in charge for her, of the property described in the bill, if there be any such person within said district; that if said defendant cannot be served with this order personally in lieu thereof, the order shall be published not less than once a week for six consecutive weeks in the Atlanta Constitution, the bill and amendments in this cause being to require the defendants to convey to the complainants land lots 9 and 25 in the third district of White county, Georgia, or compensate complainant in damages for failure so to do. In open court May 1, 1888.
WM. T. NEWMAN,
United States Judge.
H. H. PERRY AND G. A. HOWELL,
Solicitors for Complainant.
A true, correct and complete copy of the original order, this day passed of file and remaining of record in my office. A. E. BUCK, Clerk.
May 3—6w thur

CLOTHING.

JAS. A. ANDERSON & CO.

IS THE PLACE
TO BUY
CLOTHING

UNLIMITED IN QUANTITY!
UNEQUALLED IN QUALITY!
UNBOUNDED IN STYLE!
UNMATCHABLE IN PRICE!

Cheap, Worthless Clothing We Will Not Sell.

Our prices are the lowest, considering Cut, Fit and Quality.

BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS

Parents should see this department, which is not equalled in Atlanta.

OUR FURNISHING DEPARTM'T

Containing Underwear, Neckwear, Shirts, Gloves Hosiery, etc., is filled with all the late novelties.

JAS. A. ANDERSON & CO.
41 WHITEHALL ST.

REAL ESTATE.

SAM'L W. GOODE, R. H. WILSON,
ALBERT L. BECK.

SAM'L W. GOODE & CO.,
AGENTS.
N. R. FOWLER, AUCTIONEER.

6 WHITEHALL
Windsor and Orange
STREET LOTS
AT AUCTION
TUESDAY, MAY 8TH, 4 P. M

These lots are central. They are in a first-class neighborhood, some of them directly on the car line, and none over one block distant. Paved streets and sidewalks, water and gas, paid for. All very desirable for homes. The Whitehall lot, 60x200 feet to an alley, with its lovely oak shade, is the choicest lot on the market south of the railroad. The Orange street lots are level, elevated, and front east, giving fine views of the new capitol and city. They are gems, and are each 50x122 feet to an alley. One lot fronts Windsor street 109 feet and Orange 28 feet, with a depth of 122 feet, and it is 88 feet in the rear on the alley. Plats are now ready. Titles perfect. Terms of sale, half cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months, with 8 per cent interest. Go and inspect and get ready for the sale.
SAM'L W. GOODE & CO.

SAM'L W. GOODE & CO., AGENTS, N. R. FOWLER, AUCTIONEER.

Elegant Peachtree Home,
The Mrs. Edgar Thompson Place!
220 Peachtree street.
AT AUCTION,
Friday, May 11, at 4 p. m.,

On the premises. This is one of the best located residences on Peachtree street, is on the west side of the street, and the first house beyond the Hill monument. It is in the immediate neighborhood of Messrs. C. P. N. Barker, B. H. Hill, Jr., J. H. Porter, R. A. Hemphill, Thomas Swift, Walter A. Taylor, T. D. Meador, John Gramling, Frank P. Rice, David H. Dougherty, and others of our best citizens. The lot has a beautifully shaded front on Peachtree street of 70 feet, and lies well. The house is a two-story frame building, with 8 large rooms, besides kitchen, bathroom, etc., wide hall and verandas, water and gas throughout. It is within ten minutes' walk of the center of the city, and on the finest residence streets in the south. The sale will be absolutely to the highest bidder without reserve.
SAM'L W. GOODE & CO.

2,500 for new 2-story frame dwelling, splendidly built and on a large and beautiful lot, convenient to Fulton County Spinning Mills.
$3,200 for central 5-room cottage on level, elevated lot, just two blocks from First Methodist church and in fine neighborhood.
$1,700 for the prettiest lot on Jackson street. It is 70x160 feet to an alley, elevated, and is next door to Mr. Al Greene's handsome home. A bargain.
$2,500, payable $500 cash and $500 a year, with 8 per cent interest for a new 7 room neatly finished, well built residence, one block from Whitehall street car line, good neighborhood, this side of Smith street, modern conveniences, lot fronts two streets, Rawson and Hood. Owner a non-resident and must sell.
$8,500 for a West Harris street home, with every convenience, a lot 100x200 feet, fruit and shade, stables, barn, etc. Easy payments. Very near Peachtree.
$6,000 for new 9-room West Baker street home, with water, gas, garden, large lot, alley—a choice place.
$5,000 for a new 7-room central Ivy street cottage, well built, in good taste, folding doors to double parlors, water, gas, side alley, veranda in front and on side, and rear porch, lot 50x118 feet, one door south of E. Cain, and has east front. Terms, $3,000 cash, balance easy payments.
SAM'L W. GOODE & CO.

A. P. TRIPOD,
PAINTS, OILS
—AND—
WINDOW GLASS
ARTISTS' MATERIALS
A SPECIALTY.
AGENTS FOR ANTI-KALSOMINE

The best and cheapest preparation for finishings, walls and ceilings of dwellings, churches, stores, etc. Send for color cards, testimonials, etc.

45 DECATUR ST.,
ATLANTA, GA.

MISCELLANEOUS.

OUR NEW WATCH

Has just been placed on the market, and we are now showing the Largest and Finest Assortment in the State.

Send for Circulars.

FREEMAN & CRANKSHAW, Jewelers.

Top 1 24 col 8p

THE WEATHER REPORT

Indications.

Indications for Georgia: Slight changes in temperature; fair weather; light to fresh, variable winds.

Daily Weather Report,

OBSERVER'S OFFICE, SIGNAL SERVICE, U. S. A. U. S. CUSTOM HOUSE, May 4, 9 p. m. Observations taken at 9 p. m.—Central time.

STATIONS.	Barometer.	Thermometer.	Dew Point.	WIND. Direction.	WIND. Velocity.	Rainfall.	Weather.
Mobile	30.08	74	72	SE	12	.00	Cloudy.
Montgomery	30.05	72	64	S	Light	.28	Cloudy.
New Orleans	30.02	68	66	S	Light	.02	Rain.
Galveston	30.06	72	68	SE	Light	T.	Clear.
Palestine	30.0	0 66	64	NE	6	.00	Clear.
Pensacola	30.10	72	68	S	12	.00	Clear.
Corpus Christi	29.94	76	70	SE	20	.00	Clear.
Brownsville	29.91	76	72	E	Light	.00	Cloudy.
Rio Grande	29.98	78	70	E	10	.00	Cloudy.
LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.
6 a. m	30.11	64	60	S	11	.00	Fair.
2 p. m	30.05	78	54	SW	13	.00	Cloudy.
9 p. m	30.13	66	60	NW	4	.T	Cloudy.

Maximum Thermometer	79
Minimum Thermometer	62
Total Rainfall	T.

Cotton Belt Bulletin.

Observations taken at 6 p. m.—Seventy-fifth meridian time.

ATLANTA DISTRICT.	Max. Temp.	Min. Temp.	Rainfall.
Atlanta, Ga	79	62	.00
Cartersville, Ga	82	64	T
Columbus, Ga	85	62	.00
Chattanooga, Tenn	73	61	.01
Gainesville, Ga	77	62	.00
Greenville, S. C	79	60	.00
Griffin, Ga	85	62	.00
Macon, Ga	88	64	.00
Newnan, Ga	84	62	.00
Spartanburg, S. C	80	58	.02
Toccoa, Ga	78	61	.00
West Point, Ga	82	66	.00

W. EASBY SMITH, Sergeant Signal Corps, A. S. Army.

NOTE—Barometer reduced to sea level. The T indicates the precipitation inappreciable. *Condensed fog.

EXIT Paper Cigarettes.

'Social Whiff' Cigarros.

Absolutely pure, hand-made and all tobacco of choicest quality. For sale everywhere. Five in a package for 5 cents. Try them.

J. STEINHEIMER & CO., Wholesa leAgents, Atfnata. Ga

PILES, FISTULA AND ALL RECTAL DISeases treated by a painless process. No loss of time from business. No knife, ligature or caustic. A RADICAL CURE guaranteed in every case treated. Reference given.

DR. R. G. JACKSON, Office 42½ Whitehall Street, Atlanta.

un weth'r

Frank X. Bliley, F. B. Thomas.

FRANK X. BLILEY & CO., FUNERAL DIRECTORS, UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS, No. 61 Pryor street, Atlanta, Ga. Telephone 780. 1st col 8p un weather

LARGEST STOCK LOWEST PRICES

WATCHES

MOST IMPROVED TIME PIECES.

J. P. STEVENS & BRO., 47 Whitehall St.

P. J. KENNY. H. WERNER

KENNY & WERNER

Agents for The Only

No. 40 Decatur St. ATLANTA, GA.

Wholesale Liquor Dealers,

Telephone No. 160.

Goods Delivered,

All orders from a distance promptly attended to.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

BROCKHAM—The friends and acquaintances of Mrs. A. D. Brockham, J. C. Brockham and John Domini are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. A. D. Brockham today at 3 p. m., from 127 Ivy street.

MEETINGS.

Capital City Bank.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Capital City Land and Improvement company will be held in the council chamber, at the city hall, on Tuesday, May 8th inst., at 7:30 p.m.

JACOB HAAS, Secretary.

td

Traveling Men, Attention.

All traveling men of Atlanta are respectfully requested to meet at the Kimball house, Saturday next at 8 o'clock p. m. Object of the meeting is to reorganize Post A Travelers Protective association, elect officers for the coming year, appoint delegates to the state convention to be held in Augusta, and transact other important business. A full attendance is requested.

J. M. SKINNER, Secretary.

2t

OFFICE MARIETTA AND NORTH GEORGIA RAILWAY CO., MARIETTA, Ga., May 1st, 1888.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Marietta and North Georgia Railway company will be held at the company's office in Marietta at 10 o'clock a. m. on Thursday, the 17th day of May, inst.

H. M. HAMMETT, Secretary M. & N. Ga. R'y Co.

2w

Plats Now Ready at Our Office

for the auction sale next Friday, May 11th at 4 p. m. of one of the prettiest homes on Peachtree.

SAM'L W. GOODE & CO.

TWO BUTTIN' KIDS.

The Inside Troubles of a Famous Minstrel Firm.

The Theatrical Season is at an End and This the Parting Shot—Some Points About Eminent People.

"Two Buttin' Kids" would just now be an appropriate name for the McNish, Johnson & Slavin aggregation of cork artists. And these kids discount Ezra Kendall's famous pair.

The kids? Why the kids are Frank McNish and Carroll Johnson. There would be "three of a kind" if Bob Slavin were not sick in Baltimore.

When the company showed in Atlanta there was a profuse airing of the internal troubles of the company.

"It's a clear case of big head on their part," said Frank McNish, as he discussed the troubles with his partners, "and I am, in consequence, handicapped in everything I do. The advance man and business manager of the present company go with Johnson & Slavin next year, and both are doing all they can against me. Why, right here in your own town the manager paid negroes to applaud Mr. Johnson. You don't believe it? Well you just ask the opera house authorities and the policeman who was on duty there and see. We investigated and found that to be true. And that's the kind of work they have been doing against me everywhere. Thank the Lord the season will soon be over."

"Oh, McNish wants to run everything his way," was Carroll Johnson's reply to a question concerning the trouble. "He insists on keeping people who are incompetent. Then his act is a chestnut We dissolve on the 12th of May, and next season we will visit you with the best and most complete minstrel organizations ever put before the American public. Bob Slavin will be with me again next year, and we will make things hum."

And then McNish and Johnson damn each other.

The trouble dates back to the early part of the season, and seems to be due as much to incompatibility of temperament as anything else. Slavin has been sick during the entire season, and McNish and Johnson have been fighting it out between themselves.

The public doesn't care much for their rows, but it will be interested in learning that the result will be two first-class minstrel organizations.

Frank McNish, who is one of the foremost all around minstrel men in the country, as well as the pioneer in the acrobatic features, has associated with him two fine young comedians and specialty men—Frank Ramza and Charlie Arno. This will be known as "McNish, Ramza & Arno's Refined minstrels." The principals are all well known, and they have engaged a company of forty artists, a number of those with the present company going with them. They will make a specialty of novelties, which are the most taking portions of minstrel shows. The three proprietors are young men who have worked their way from the bottom of the ladder and now stand the peers of any.

Carroll Johnson and Bob Slavin will be at the head of the other company, and it will bear their names. Mr. Johnson is authority for the statement that they have secured all of the present company, except four or five whom they did not want. "We will make our comedy element extraordinarily strong," continued he. "One or two comedians are not enough, and Mr. Slavin and I know it. We have engaged Hughey Dougherty, the highest priced man in the black business; Richard Knowles, Jay Quiggle and W. Spader, who with Mr. Slavin and your humble, will endeavor to make the fun. We have the Selvini family. Our first part will beat the world, and our afterpiece will be way out of the usual routine. "The Lost Ace, or the Island of Polkah." In the fall we go to England to play three months in the Princess' theater. Slavin is well now. He has had a tough winter—the same trouble that killed Roscoe Conkling—but he has been spared to us, and together we will make things hum."

Theater goers will watch with interest for the arrival of both of these companies.

The dramatic papers have no love for Sam Small. The Dramatic News, for instance, says:

We observe with some satisfaction the self-appointed "Reverend" Sam Small has announced himself as a candidate for the governorship of the state of Georgia. Mr. Small is a revivalist who goes about the country demanding the prohibition of the use of tobacco, liquor, personal liberty, the theater and pretty much everything else, excepting Sam Small. He is particularly venomous regarding the theater, which he pretends to regard as a device of the devil. Mr. Small is temporarily raised to a position of notoriety in the line of revivalism. It is pleasing to know that he intends to try for the gubernatorial chair, for the reason that it will thus be shown what exceedingly Small potatoes he really is.

Young Edward Sothern, although he has sprung into reputation only lately in this country, was a junior member of John McCullough's company eight or nine years. He tells a story of McCullough that is worth printing. The tragedian was playing in Texas and in one town where he was billed to perform Ingomar, by some accident on the railroad part of the necessary costumes were delayed. The manager, however, was equal to the situation. He went to every butcher's shop in town and hired all the sheep's and cow's hides he could get to dress his supes in. When McCullough came on the stage that night he fell back appalled by the stench of the hastily improvised clothing worn by the barbarians. "You neither act like, look like, nor talk like barbarians," he growled after the curtain was down, "but, by G—d! you smell like them."

Notoriety pays.

Look at Pauline Hall!

A handsome woman with a good figure and a fair voice became known in New York as the "Queen of the Dudes." A very bad case of enlargement of the head caused a row with the Casino management, and now the fair Pauline goes to Philadelphia at a salary of Five hundred dollars a week!

Five hundred dollars in hard cash each and every week, with all necessary costumes thrown in.

That's money.

An enterprising Atlanta gentleman is figuring on a grand combination—one that will share the laurels with the Booth and Barrett company.

His plan is to embrace James Owen O'Connor, the great New York tragedian; Dr. Landis, who has a similar hold upon Philadelphia, and our own Scott Thornton, and "Colonel" Mike Norris, the Greensboro tragedian.

With Mrs. James B. Potter as leading lady, what a combination that would be!

Manager Jake Tannenbaum, of Mobile, was in the city on Wednesday, on his way to New York, where he will spend the summer looking out for the interest of the southern circuit.

At the benefit to Lester Wallack, to be given May 21st, "Hamlet" will be presented with this wonderful cast:

Booth will be Hamlett; Barret, Laertes; Couldock, the Ghost; Frank Mayo, the King; John Gilbert, Polonious; Jefferson, First Grave Digger; Florence, Second Grave Digger: Lawrence Hamley, Rosencrantz, Charles Hanford, Guildenstern; Steele Mackaye, Marcellus; Herbert Kelcey, Bernardo; Osric, Nellie McHenry; Harry Edwards, the Priest; Mme. Modjeska, Ophelia; Mrs. D. P. Powers, the Queen; and Rose Coughlan, the Play Queen.

And the curtain falls on the last act of the season of 1887-88.

Everybody knows that the spring is the besseason to take a good medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most popular and successful spring medicine and blood purifier. 100 doses one dollar.

PURE RYE WHISKY.

Guckenheimer Bros. Straight 8 years old Rye Whisky can be had ONLY at Philip Breitenbucher's by the quart, gallon and at the bar. This whisky needs no recommendation. Try it. Free from fusil oil. Philip Breitenbucher.

LAID TO REST.

Mr. George Schaeffer Buried by the Knights Templar of Baltimore.

The remains os Mr. George Schaeffer were laid to rest at Greenmount cemetery at Baltimore on the 30th of April. By special request of Eminent Commander Sir Park Woodward, of Cœur de Lion Commandery No. 4, of this city, the body was buried by the Knights Templar of Baltimore.

The following notices of the funeral of Mr. Shaeffer were clipped from the Baltimore papers. The American of May 1st says:

Mr. George Schaeffer, formerly of Baltimore, but lately of Atlanta, Ga., died in that city last week. At the request of Eminent Sir Park Woodward, eminent commander of Cœur de Leon commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, of that city, the body was buried yesterday by Modumental commandery, No. 3. E. Sir Wm. Dochterman, eminent commander; E. Sir John H. Miller, captain general, and E. Sir James P. Clark, prelate. Prof. Charles E. Wright furnished the music.

The Herald of the same date has the following:

The funeral of Mr. George Schaefer took place from his late residence, 7 East Center street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Schaefer was a member of Cœur de Lion Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, stationed at Atlanta, Ga. By special request of Eminent Commander Sir Park Woodward the body was taken in charge by Monumental Commandery, No. 3, of this city, which was represented at the funeral by a delegation. Rev. Mr. Langdon, of Grace Protestant Episcopal church, conducted the funeral services. The pall-bearers were General Robert Ober, Clinton P. Paine, J. H. Cottman, J. McKenny White, Dr. J. H. Hartman, William H. Graffin, G. S. Norris and G. K. Ober. Many floral tributes were laid on the casket by his friends. The interment was in Greenmount cemetery. Professor C. Wright furnished a quartette of cornetists, who played solemn music as the casket was borne from the house, and again when lowered into the grave.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

Before buying your shoes inspect the new and complete stock just opened at the parlor boot and shoe store. Don't forget the place. John M. Moore, 33 Peachtree street.

Safe, permanent and complete are the cures of bilious and intermittent diseases, made by Prickly Ash Bitters. Dyspepsia, general debility, habitual constipation, liver and kidney complaints are speedily eradicated from the system. It disinfects, cleanses and eliminates all malaria. Health and vigor are obtained more rapidly and permanently by the use of this great natural antidote than by any other remedy heretofore known. As a blood purifier and tonic it brings health, renewed energy and vitality to a worn and diseased body.

Potomac Roe Shad, large arrivals and cheapest yet, at Emery's market. 2t

Flowers.

Thousands of coleus and ornamental bedding plants for sale at 57 Pulliam street. Mrs. L. D. Carpenter. tu th&sat

Notice.

We have the largest dye house north of Boston, at Concord, N. H., and also the largest works of the kind in the south, 24 Walton street.

Kid gloves cleansed or dyed, at the Southern Dye house, 24 Walton street.

The Queen and Crescent Route

(Cincinnati Southern) is the only line running Through Sleepers Atlanta to Cincinnati. Don't forget this. sun wed sat

Smoke "Nicolini" Cigars if you want to cultivate a taste for something good at a reasonable price.

HARRALSON BROS. & CO. Sole Agents.

By calling at Hughes & Law's you can have the pleasure of examining one of the finest and most complete line of Hats and Furnishing Goods in the State.

Nashville vs. Atlanta.

Our Jersey butter at 35c per pound continues to please the most fastidious taste. The success we are having is wonderful. Our Nashville ice cream is a finer quality of cream than is sold elsewhere. We get it fresh every morning in Porcelian-lined cans. Fresh strawberries every morning from Hapeville, the best on the market.

In fish, we have extra fine James river shad, Pompano fresh water trout, perch, black fish, whiting and every other variety the market affords, wholesale and retail. Fresher stock and the nicest and most accessible market in the city. Full stock of everything for Saturday's trade. Send us your Sunday orders for ice cream. Prompt and personal attention to all orders.

E. F. DONEHOO & CO., 9 Alabama St. Telephone 266.

SIXTY SUBERB LOTS! AT AUCTION.

Monday, May 7th—Grand Picnic at West End—W. M. Scott, Auctioneer.

WE WILL SELL ON THE PREMISES MONDAY, May 7th, at 10 o'clock a. m., 60 half acre commanding lots at West End, one block from the "dummy line." These lots face on Holderness, Greenwich, Atwood and Hopkins streets, and on the New Green's Ferry and Sells Avenues. The situation is a grand one, overlooking the city and surrounding country for many miles, taking in Kennesaw, Lost, Stone and Blue Ridge mountains. No where else about Atlanta do we know of so many beautiful sites as are found right here. No one can visit this ground without being struck with the situation as being the place to buy.

The situation and surroundings guarantee a rapid growth and steady enhancement in values. No sensible man or woman can go out and fail to agree with us that this is the most desirable property ever put on the market for homes. West End is growing more rapidly than any other portion of Fulton county. More new houses under contract by 33 per cent than in any other section about the city.

The long time given on these choice lots will enable any one to secure a nice home, or an investment that will double in value before the last payment becomes due. No one should neglect this opportunity—such another may never be offered.

To such as have not been to West End of late, we say to you, go with us and see the advantages we offer you. No objectionable neighborhood to go through. You can drive in over macadamized roads. NO CITY TAXES. Good water and pure air. Good school and church facilities. No such property—grand, large, beautiful lots—ever offered in a locality surrounded by good neighbors, where there is no chance of being encroached upon. These and many other reasons should at least induce you give us this one day.

Only a few weeks ago we took a party of shrewd northern capitalists over this property, who asked us to name our price for it. We told them it was not for sale. They went half a mile further out and invested a large sum, buying nearly 200 acres, which they are to beautify and lay out as an elegant residence park, to be known as "Westwood." This property, when put on the market, will bring fancy prices. With the United States government spending a million dollars only a mile south, nothing can keep this property from quadrupling in value in two years. Free Ride! Grand Barbecue! Grand sale of '88. Ladies Expected to go! We want the ladies to understand that we have had every arrangement made to give them a day's outing. We will picnic in a beautiful grove on the dummy line. After looking over the ground, the sale will open at 10:30 promptly, and continue until the lots are sold, after which Bob Pause, so well known as the boss caterer, will be ready to dish out the barbecue and do the honors as mine host. Take the cars at Broad street bridge—Free ride. Cars run every half hour. Plenty lemonade.

TITLES PERFECT. TAXES ALL PAID.

TERMS: One fourth cash, balance 6, 12 and 18 months, 8 per cent interest.

SPECIAL—To such as will build homes this year, we will extend the payments to any time within three years if desired. Call at our office for plats and further information. Sale at 10:30 a. m.

W. M. SCOTT & CO., Real Estate Agents, may4—4t 8p 9 Kimball House.

PRICE'S BAKING POWDER.

Its superior excellence is proven in millions of homes for more than a quarter of a century. It is used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the Great Universities as the Strongest, Purest, and most Healthful. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Amonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in Cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK. CHICAGO. ST. LOUIS

5 or 8p fol and n r m last p wk.

G. W. ADAIR, REAL ESTATE.

I HAVE FOR SALE A 10-ACRE LOT WITH A 10-room brick house, in West End, at a bargain.

I will sell or exchange for central business property a 10 acre lot and well built, conveniently constructed 2-story brick house; has windmill, stables, barns, out houses, orchard, vineyard and every convenience. A gentleman's home. Call and examine it.

I have a large, beautiful corner lot on south side of city.

Small cottages and vacant lots in every ward in the city.

I have 60 splendid lots in east Atlanta, near new piano factory, that I will sell cheap and on long time. A good opportunity to obtain a house on easy terms.

I will sell the Peck property, on Peachtree street, at auction on May 10th. Call and get a plat.

I have a customer for a nice cottage near in at about $3,500. Call and leave description, if you have one for sale.

If you want property sold at auction call and see me. G. W ADAIR, 5 Kimball House, Wall street.

8p

PECK PROPERTY!

PEACHTREE STREET.

I WILL SELL THAT SPLENDID RESIDENCE property on Peachtree, Cain and Spring streets, across the street from the Governor's Mansion, as per plat, on

MAY 10, 1888,

For the Peck heirs, with perfect titles, terms ⅓ cash, 6, 12 and 18 months, 7 per cent. Look out for advertisement and plats. G. W. ADAIR.

Dr. Woolley's INVIGORINE

For Weak NERVES, KIDNEYS, BAD BLOOD, Nervous Prostration, DYSPEPSIA, and all Languid or Debilitated Conditions,

For Loss of NERVE POWER from what. ever cause, FEEBLENESS from old age, WEAKNESS from Excesses. In stages of Puberty & Change of Life, INVIGORINE regulates, strengthens & quiets

Take INVIGORINE

PRICE $1.00. Sold by your Druggist. Manufactured by B. M. WOOLLEY & CO., Atlanta, Ga.

At wholesale by Lamar, Rankin & Lamar Smith & Bradfield, A. G. Candler & Co., and A. J. Haltiwanger. 8p

J. C. HENDRIX. J. L. HARRISON

J. C. HENDRIX & CO.

Ivy street lot between Cain and Ellis.
Lot on Wheat street, $900, 50x200.
New 5 room house Jones st., $1,900, 50x200.
East Fair street lot 50x196.
Good lot West Pine street $750.
50x200 Capitol avenue $700.
2 room house, 40x140, $350, Howell street
7 room house Irwin street, $3,159.
118 Nelson street, $1,200.
15 Walker street, $2,500.
4 acres, Washington street, cheap.
50x160, Formwalt street, $600.
6 room house Hood street.
Lot 50x150 Hood street.
30 shares Atlanta Manufacturing Co. stock.
5 room house, 45 Plum street, lot 44x100, $1,000; must be sold.
6 room house, 165 Magnolia, lot 42x120, fronting on two streets, $1,000.
9 Capitol avenue lots which will be sold together at a bargain. Call and make us an offer.
2 shaded lots on Gartrell street, beauties, at a bargain.
Large lot on Richardson street, near Pryor, fine location.
Beautiful building lots, well shaded, near E. T. shops and glass works; $200, ¼ cash.
Large lot on Boulevard, corner lot, 100x185, $1,800, easy terms.
Several blocks on Ponce de Leon avenue.
Ten lots on Boulevard and Jackson street, 60x300, $2,500, easy terms, overlooks city and country.
9 room house, acre lot, beautifully shaded, every convenience, all sorts of fruit, one of the prettiest homes in the city.
Several choice lots on Pryor street.
Lot on Luckie, between Simpson and Alexander must be sold.
Some choice blocks in West End.
All classes of property for sale.
We can rent a number of cottages from 5 to 8 rooms to good permanent tenants.

J. C. HENDRIX & CO., 8p 31 S. Broad St.

OFFICES FOR RENT.

TRADERS BANK BUILDING.

OFFICES AND BUSINESS ROOMS, SUITABLE for physicians, lawyers, brokers, etc., can now be secured in the Traders Bank building, on Decatur street, opposite Kimball house. These offices will be ready for occupancy May 1st, and are fitted with every modern convenience and appointments—elevator, gas, electric lights, etc. A few offices can be finished at an earlier date if necessary. Desk room can be had in a large room on second floor at a low rental. For terms apply to

E. F. GOULD, Kimball House, 8d or at building.

CLOTHING, FURNISHING GOODS, ETC.

Our Store Booming With Spring and Summer Novelties

CLOTHING FOR MEN. - - CLOTHING FOR BOYS

CLOTHING FOR CHILDREN.

IMMENSE STOCK. LOWEST PRICES.

In our Tailoring Department we are showing an unusually large line of the choicest fabrics of the season. Your inspection is invited.

HIRSCH BROS., Clothiers, Tailors and Furnishers

42 and 44 Whitehall St.

GENERAL MILL SUPPLIES, ETC.

BROWN & KING, MANUFACTURERS OF AND DEALERS —IN— COTTON, WOOLEN AND GENERAL MILL SUPPLIES, MACHINERY AND TOOLS, LEATHER AND RUBBER BELTING, HOSE, PACKING, ETC., PORTABLE FORGERS, PRESSURE BLOWERS AND EXHAUST FANS, WROUGHT IRON PIPE FITTINGS AND BRASS GOODS.

We are the only house in Atlanta that carry wire rope in stock, for general hoisting purposes, transmission of power and guy ropes.

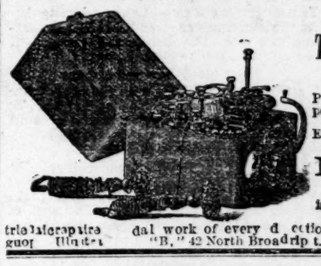

Send for Prices and Discounts.

67 S. BROAD STREET.

8thjunHirsch

HOLLIS BROS.

—DEALERS IN—

Telegraph & Electrical Apparatus & Supplies,

Sole agents for the J. RANDOLPH HARD PATENT IMPROVED ELECTRO MEDICAL APPARATUS, the most perfect and durable Battery in the market. Special agents, Georgia, Alabama and Florida for HESS ELECTRIC GUEST CALL and FIRE ALARM for hotels.

ELECTRO-PLATERS.

Chandeliers and Brass Goods of every description, polished and lacquered equal to new. Medical Batteries and other Electrical Apparatus repaired and dal work of every description promptly attended to, in the city or out. Send for quotations. "B," 42 North Broad st. 8p 101 B & K

SCIPLE SONS

ATLANTA, GA.

WRITE FOR CATALOGUE AND PRICE LIST

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

EISEMAN BROS.,

17 and 19 Whitehall Street,

HEADQUARTERS

—FOR—

FINE CLOTHING!